A Neat Pun.

Jean de Reszke was once a guest at a large party given to a number of distinguished musicians. In the course of the evening one of the company put the somewhat tactless question: "Who is the most popular artist on the musical stage?"

"Pas de Reszke!" flashed back the famous singer, thus punningly denying his own claim and in its stead asserting that of the great Paderewski .-Boston Post.

Futile Flattery.

"Even with flattery." said Mark Twain at a dinner. "you can't please some men. I remember when I was a reporter in Virginia City there was a doctor I liked—I had camped once on Lake Tahoe with him—and in an obitu-ary I decided to give him a card. I wrote 'Dr. Sawyer was called in, and wrote, 'Dr. Sawyer was called in, and under his prompt and skillful treatment the patient died Monday.' But Dr. Sawyer somehow wasn't pleased."

Attending a Chautauqua.

Ralph Bingham is telling this good one: The citizens of a thriving town of about 10,000 people arranged for a chautauqua assembly last summer. They held the meetings in a big tent about a mile from town, and the attendance was large from the first day. An enterprising circus man heard of the large crowds and landed in the town on the third day with a steam merry-go-round, which he located halfway between the town and the chautauqua grounds.

Along in the afternoon a young man from the country, coming from the direction of the Chautauqua, was accosted by a citizen of the town who knew

"Well, Ezry, I suppose you are in to the chautauqua?" "I shore are. Just come from thar now. "How'd you like it?" asked the townsman. "Fine ez a fiddle! I rode on the durn thing nine times!"

A Spring term of eight weeks will be held in the Academy, beginning April 7th, 1913, for the purpose of reviewing the normal studies, and such other branches as the school will determine.

The quickening of one's knowledge in the elementary branches so fundamental and of such vital necessity for higher education should appeal to every youth so strongly as to cause him or her to join a good Normal class this spring somewhere in the county.

The teachers' normal class do ex-cellent work. In such an organization there are usually quite a number students who have experience teaching and who pursue topics for study very assiduously with superior research, whose membership not only adds a very desirable educational tone and color to the recitation but also arouses latent talent in others to developing activity. A review of the so called "common
