

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Second week of Katz & Co's big Carpet sale. Read the Ad. Prof. J. Wood, M. E., of State College faculty, was a business visitor in Bellefonte last Friday. G. W. Young, one of Nittany's good citizens, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richards have returned home from a month's sojourn in Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Miss Annie Shank, one of Wintgate's successful young school teachers, visited friends in Bellefonte on Friday. Mrs. Mollie Valentine spent the past week in Philadelphia. While the trip was a business one, yet she found time to spend a day or two in Atlantic City also. Rev. U. A. Guss, of McKeesport, Pa., will preach in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning and evening, April 20th. All the members are requested to be present. The Huntingdon Presbytery at its meeting last week approved the recent work of the Presbyterian congregation in advancing the salary of Rev. G. B. Hawes from $2000 to $2500. Herbert McCoy and family, of Jersey Shore, were the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCoy, several days last week, returning to their home on Sunday evening. Roland L. Miller left last Thursday for Ford City, Pa., to take up his duties as limestone inspector for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. His family will leave next week for their new home. Mrs. David Barlet, Sr., of this place, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Page, and Mrs. Annie Noll, of Pennsylvania, departed on Friday morning for a few weeks' visit with relatives in Youngstown, Ohio. Bob Kline, the genial boss at the Armor Gap stone quarries, is rapidly acquiring a nice flock of "spring" chickens. Bob alone holds the secret of raising this particular variety of fowl and may some day apply for a patent. Miss Pauline Hayes, who is a student at the State Normal school, Lock Haven, visited friends in Bellefonte last week, on her return from State College where she had been the guest of her aunts, the Misses Sidonie and Pauline Bronco. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norris, formerly of this place, but now of Coatesville, Pa., are residing over the birth of a sweet little baby girl which was born to them Tuesday last week. Mrs. Norris is a daughter of the late Samuel Rine of this place. "Billy" Taylor, the popular milk dealer, hands us this one without a blush. Last week on Friday the rooster escaped from the pen, and while the owner was endeavoring to catch it, the boss fowl tripped on a basket lying in the yard and broke its neck. Al Zimmerman, formerly of Mingo, Pa., has taken the position of shipping clerk at the match factory, recently made vacant by William Sager leaving for Niagara Falls. Mr. Zimmerman moved his household goods to Bellefonte on Tuesday, and is occupying the Quigley house, corner of High and Thomas streets. List of unclaimed letters remaining in the Bellefonte postoffice for the week ending April 12th, 1913: Mrs. John L. Aurand, H. E. Boring & Bro., Miss Mary Bowman, C. J. Campbell, Glad Cross, Toner, Haistings, Mrs. Harriett Kline, R. E. Long, Mrs. W. H. Sheldon, Mrs. Seward M. Ward, H. C. Valentine, postmaster. William Doak submitted to an operation in the Bellefonte hospital on Friday for the removal of his left eye. For many years he has been blind, but has been subject for some time to reason of being deaf and sightless, resulting from injuries received in a burning accident when a boy. This is the second operation he has undergone for the removal of an eye. The season has now arrived when all waste materials have been allowed to accumulate about the premises, or in the streets or alleys adjacent to your home, should be removed to prevent sickness. A sense of pride should also prompt each citizen to adopt an early spring cleaning day about his home and business premises. The public in general assistance in improving the general appearance of our town. Next Friday, April 25th, a great gathering of Odd Fellows will take place at Jersey Shore, on the occasion of the celebration of the 94th anniversary of Odd Fellowship. Bellefonte lodges known as C. O. L. No. 153, will attend in a body, and have arranged for a special train to take them to and from Jersey Shore over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, leaving Bellefonte in the morning at 7:05, and returning in the evening at 10:30. The fare for the round trip will be $1.30. The public is cordially invited to accompany the lodge and join in the festivities of the day. On Saturday morning John Raymond, the meat cutter and all-around man in Hanna Township, met in market, met with the painful experience of having a meat hook thrust through his right hand. With one of the proprietors he was in the act of lifting a heavy quarter of beef onto a hook. Catching his hand on the sharp point, Mr. Raymond informed his companion that he was "hooked," and the latter thinking he referred to the end of the beef he was lifting, allowed it to drop, and the sharp iron forced its way into Mr. Raymond's hand, badly tearing the ligaments of the middle finger. Johnny, however, is still on the job, although he will have to go it one-handed for a few days. A recent visit to the Bellefonte foundry and machine shops shows a healthy and encouraging condition of affairs at the plant. There are now about twenty men employed, and this number will be added to frequently, if the present expectations of the management materialize. The work turned out thus far has included many castings for gasoline engines which are shipped to Warren, Pa., and assembled, and sold by the large mail order houses. Although the foundry has spacious floor area, it lacks the proper crane facilities for handling large castings. The proprietors are at present considering the plan of elevating the roof and installing an electric traveling crane. Should they do this, this industry, with its present force of skilled workmen, will be able to handle every class of work.

"A Winning Girl," a new up-to-date musical comedy, at the opera house April 24, 25 and 26. Popular prices. Bellefonte is to have a show here in the near future. It is Young Buffalo Bill's Wild West and is due here May 24th. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey were guests for a few days last week of their daughter, Mrs. C. A. Donachy, in Williamsport. Edward Keichline, who holds down a good position in the railroad shops here, spent Sunday at his parents' home in this place. Charles Smith, of North Thomas street, departed on Monday for Renovo, where he has accepted a good position in the railroad shops at that place. Mrs. H. F. McManaway and daughter, Miss Helen, of Millheim, were from Danville, Pa., after an absence of almost a year during which time he had been taking special treatment for a nervous disorder. The United Evangelical Sunday school extends thanks to all who assisted them in the recent Piano Contest at Gilliam's department store. Dainty Daisy Mason, in "A Winning Girl," a big song show at the opera house April 24 and 25, with Saturday matinee. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents. H. S. Taylor, Esq., left Tuesday evening for Harrisburg to appear before the Board of Pardons on behalf of John Keeler, the convicted murderer of Clearfield. Scott Loe arrived home last week from Danville, Pa., after an absence of almost a year during which time he had been taking special treatment for a nervous disorder. Miss Ohnmacht, who has been in ill health for some time, left on Wednesday for Philadelphia where she will undergo treatment. She was accompanied by Miss Jennie Morgan. Miss Lulu Harper, who has been spending the winter in Bellefonte, left Wednesday afternoon for Lewisburg, where she will attend the wedding of a friend and will later go to her home in Scranton. Four big reels of the latest and best in motion picture plays at the Lyric each night in drawing large crowds. The orchestra is an added feature that makes the Lyric a popular place of amusement. Remember the free lecture on the Battle of Gettysburg, to be given by Mr. George L. Kieffer, in the Auditorium High School, on Thursday, April 17th, 1913, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Kieffer is a representative of the Chautauqua Association. William Sager, who recently resigned as shipping clerk at the Bellefonte match factory to go to Niagara Falls, will be in charge of the Rogers Silverware Co. William is a young man of sterling worth and is bound to succeed. H. Price and wife, William Burley and wife, Mrs. Mary Price, Mrs. Knapp, Mr. Braudt and daughter, and Mrs. Cox, all of Altoona, Mr. George Lohr, of Snow Shoe, and Joseph Prince of Tyrone, were among those from out of town who attended the funeral of Russell Price at this place Tuesday. Robert V. Lyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lyon, of this place, recently resigned his position as manager of the Rochester plant of the American Laundry Machine Company to accept the position as secretary-treasurer of a large laundry firm in Buffalo, in which he has a financial interest. Mrs. Samuel T. Shugart is ill with a broken hip, the result of a fall while moving about her house on Wednesday last week. Mrs. Shugart who is one of the oldest residents of our town lives with her sister, Mrs. Martha A. Johnson in the home on North Spring street since her return to Bellefonte several years ago. To raise funds with which to start building a new parsonage, the ladies of the Lutheran church will hold a social this evening at the home of Mrs. John Barthoff on Reynolds avenue. The ladies will continue to have sales the last Saturday of each month in the W. C. T. U. rooms in Petrikin Hall. The public in general is cordially invited to attend. You'll want to get in line for the big game of base ball on Friday afternoon at the Lyric. The Lyric of Carlisle and Bellefonte Academy get together on Hughes Field there is bound to be something happen, and the fans are going to get their money's worth. To those who don't know how to classify Dickson, let it be known that they play Penn on Saturday, and this should be assurance of their heftiness. Go out to the game and see Symes pitch. Game starts at 3:30. The lecture announced to be given in Petrikin Hall on Friday evening of this week in connection with the Y. M. C. A. Star Course, has been postponed for one week, owing to the inability of Dr. Hastings to appear here. In his stead Dr. Chas. E. Barker, of Washington, D. C., has been secured for Friday night, April 25th. He is a noted platform lecturer and will no doubt please the anticipated large audience. Dr. Barker will take for his subject, "How to Live to be a Hundred Years Old." In the Olive Branch Union chapel, Coleville, next Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. Missioner Crittenden will give his farewell service. For the most part it will be a Gospel song service, congregational quartette, duet and solo. Providence preventing, a few times he will be briefly spoken by Supt. James Rote and one of our Bellefonte pastors. The collection will be faithfully applied as the trustees shall direct. As always heretofore, a sincerely cordial invitation is given to any who find it convenient to be there and then at the time appointed, 2:30 p. m. Last Wednesday the friends of Howard Martin, who has been laid up for almost a year with a badly fractured leg, got together in his interest, and in a short time a generous donation of provender was un-der his home near the glass works. Mr. Martin is worthily entitled to all the good fortune that is going as his cup of ill luck has been decidedly full for many months. After having had his leg refractured for the second time, Mr. Martin is not yet able to leave his bed, although it is thought he may do so in a week or two. To the friends who have so kindly assisted him, Mr. Martin feels gratefully appreciative. Axemann furnished a case for Squire Musser's judgment last Thursday, and incidentally provided plenty of amusement for the spectators. Sophia Axemann, the prosecutrix, and a charge of assault and battery was brought against a young man named Harvey Shawley. Mrs. Daugherty's statement was to the effect that young Shawley had called at her place about 7 o'clock and induced her daughter to accompany him in a burglarious expedition. The prosecutrix resented and upon the couple's return she went to the home of Shawley's parents, about a half mile distant, and gave the young man her sentiments regarding his conduct. Shawley became incensed at her language, and slapped her in the face at the same time pushing her off the premises. The Squire would have been justified in placing a fine on the defendant, but was disposed to be lenient with him and allowed his discharge after paying the cost amounting to $9.60.

Frederick C. Heckman, of Reading, Pa., was a guest over Sunday at the home of Charles M. McCurdy, of East Linn street. G. Arcey and J. Will Kepler, two of Pine us from the well known citizens, were business visitors in Bellefonte on Wednesday. Samuel Guisewitz, one of the janitors at the public building on Howard street, had his right arm broken on Monday morning when one of the weights of the hoisting fire hose to the top of the tower, came loose and dropped on him. The weight weighs about one and a quarter pounds and narrowly missed striking Mr. Guisewitz on the head. At the scenic tonight Manager Brown will present as a special feature the two reel Lubin film entitled "An Adventure on the Mexican Border." This is an especially interesting picture and no doubt will draw a big house. Manager Brown is always anxious to provide the best there is give them four special features a week. Watch for them. A Sunday Morning Blaze. On Sunday morning about half past seven o'clock a fire broke out in the plumbing shop of George C. Johnson located in the McClure building on West Bishop street. It was first discovered by Mrs. J. A. Finkbinder, who lives just across the street from the shop. She noticed smoke coming out of the cellar way and called her husband's attention to it. He at once turned in an alarm and the fire companies promptly responded. The fire was found to be in the cellar under the store room. They soon had a stream playing upon the fire and in a short time it was extinguished. The fire started among some wooden frames for wash bowls, standing in one corner of the cellar, and burned up through the floor, into the store room. There was a hole burned in the floor about two feet in length. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Johnson's loss will be about $75. The grocery store of G. E. Harper next door was damaged by smoke to the extent of about $50, and the building owned by James I. McClure was also damaged to the extent of $25 or $50. All covered by insurance. Freeing the Market Basket. Lincoln freed the slaves; it is Wilson's duty in every indication that he will succeed. He is possessed of the strange political hallucination that platform promises were made to be redeemed.—Grit. HATES THE PREACHER. "I don't like preachers nohow." Said Billy to his chum. "When preacher comes a-visitin' I'm treated awful bum!" "My mother tells me 'fore the meal 'The chicken's most for him; I mustn't pass my plate for more. An' I must not chip in." "Well, father cuts the rooster up An' piles that preacher's plate With most of that big rooster." "An' I jist wait an' wait." "He gets the drumsticks an' the breast 'He eats about a peck. An' I that fed that rooster— I get the skinny neck!" Marriage Licenses. Thomas Nyrus - Toledo, Ohio Louis D. Bell - - - - - Boalsburg, Pa. James E. Waite - - - - - Bellefonte Edith L.
