NEW GAME PRESERVE.

Tract of 3,500 Acres Is Selected in Centre County.

A new state game preserve has beer located in Centre county by the state game commission, a fact that was decided upon last week by Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the state game commission, and John M. Philips, of Pittsburgh, a member of the commis-

The two men spent several days in Centre county looking over available sites, and finally selected a tract of state land in the eastern end of the county, between Cherry Run and In-gleby. It is a tract of 3,500 acres, in one of the wildest mountainous regions in Centre county. Two never-failing streams of water run through the tract and its dense covering of timber and underbrush will afford ample protection for all kinds of game.

At present there are many deer, pheasants, rabbits and squirrels in that locality, and it is the intention of the state game commission to procure a herd of ten elk from a preserve in Monroe county and place them on the site. They will also obtain wild tur-keys and all kinds of game, in the hope of making it one of the best preserves in the state.

The tract will be entirely surrounded with one strand of wire, so as to mark it against the depredations of hunters, as no hunting will be allowed upon the preserve, but any game secured outside the wire in its regular season will be the lawful product of any hunter. The preserve does not take in all the state land in that section, and a plot will be cleared off in close proximity, upon which a house or lodge will be built for the game warden, whose duty it will be to keep a close watch on the preserve and see that it is not ravaged by fires during the summer time and that hunt-ers do not trespass upon it.

Naturally, hunters of Centre coun-ty and this section of the state generally appreciate the advantages of having the new preserve in this re-gions, but any hunter in the state who pays for and takes out the required license will have equal rights here with other men.

NEARLY ELECTROCUTED.

Sixteen thousand five hundred volts of electricity passed through the body of Thomas A. (Patsy) Saxton, a lineman in the employ of the Northum-berland County Gas and Electric comhelping to string, grounded on a high tension wire in Sunbury Thursday of day, May 5. The Carl Hagenback and last week. Prompt action on the part Great Wallace shows will appear there of his fellow workmen saved his life. on Tuesdy, May 13. He was hurled backwards and was unconscious when a fellow lineman reached his side His breathing had sopped and he was believed to have been instantly killed.

Line Foreman Stout ordered the men to start artificial respiration and he summoned a physician. On his arrival five minutes later, Saxton had regained consciousness. He was still very weak but showed few signs of his terrible experience. The flesh was roasted from his fingers where he grasped the wire but his heart action was almost normal.

Child Comes to Life in Coffin. While members of the family and relatives were grouped about the open coffin of Mrs. J. R. Burney's 3years-old son, in Butte, Cal., listening to the funeral service, the body moved and presently the child, clad in its shroud, sat up and gazed about the room. His eyes caught those of his grandmother, Mrs. L. P. Smith, eighty-one years old. The aged woman stared at the child as if hypnodead. As she fell, the child dropped back into its coffin, from which it was quickly snatched by the mother.

A physician said there was no hope for the boy and death came a few hours later. Later there were two coffins in the Burney home. Double services were held and the child and its grandmother were buried side by side. To Dedicate a Granite Wigwam. McElhattan, near Jersey Shore, will be the scene of a big celebration on Memorial day which promises to surpass in elaborateness any of those previously given through the benevolence of Henry W. Shoemaker, of New York City, author of Indian Steps and Tales of the Bald Eagle, whose life is dominated by his love of humanity. At this time the handsome granite monument that will soon be erected to mark the site of the Indian village formerly known as Patterson's town, on he Gallagher farm, will be appropriately dedicated.

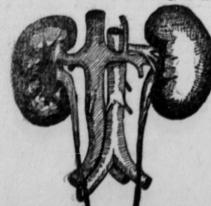

Rev. F. C. Buyers, of Dunstown. will deliver the principal address and Rev. C. J. Dick, of Lock Haven, will also participate in the exercises which promise to be especially interesting. The monument will be in the shape of an Indian wigwam.

tween High and Bishop streets. There are a number of vacant lots at the eastern end of this alley, where efuse of all kinds has been dumped Some places in Pike Alley also need attention. The hills along Water street, from Linn street to the Spring, are in a bad condition. Ashes, tin cans, gles and old brush have been thrown over the sides of these hills, which disfigure them in winter and prevent the foliage from growing well upon them through the summer. We hope Council will, as last year get the streets and alleys in shape and that ALL persons will look to their property, whether occupied or vacant. Much can be burned and the remainder should be carried away, in the early weeks of May.
