

The Home Circle

Pleasant Evening Reveries Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

A Time For All Things.

Timeliness is as important as fitness. The right thing may become wrong unless it is done at the right time. Look well to the time of doing anything. If your wife looks worried and worn out, be sure it is not the time to tell her that dinner is not hot or that the bread is sour. Comfort her; cheer her up. Use the ten thousand little stratagems you were wont to handle so skillfully in the old days to bring out the smiles around her lips. If you're annoyed or vexed at people, just remember it is not the right time to speak. Close your mouth. Shut your teeth together firmly, and it will save you many a useless and unavailing regret, and many a bitter enemy. If you happen to feel a little cross, and who among us do not at one time or another, do not select that time for reproving your noisy household flock. A word spoken in passion will make a scar that a summer of smiles can hardly heal over. If you are a wife, never tease your husband when he comes home, weary from his day's business. It is not the right time. Do not ask him for expensive outlays when he has been talking hard times. It is, most assuredly, the wrong time. If he has entered upon an undertaking against your advice, do not seize on the moment of its failure to say, "I told you so." In fact it is never the right time for these four monosyllables. Oh, if people only knew how to discriminate between the right time and the wrong, there would be less domestic unhappiness, less silent sorrow, and less estrangement of the heart. The greatest calamities that overshadow our lives have sometimes their germ in matters as apparently slight as this. If you would only pause, reader, before the slinging taunt, or the biting sneer, or the unkind scold passes your lips just pause long enough to ask yourself, "Is it the right time for me to speak?" You would shut the world against many a heartache. The world hinges on little things, and there are many more trivial than the right time and the wrong.

Advice to Boys.

See here, boys! Whatever you try to do, do it the very best you can; do it better than it was ever done before. Don't yield to the temptation to slight your work. And above all things, do what is right, every time. Never mind the scoff and leers of others, but go ahead and do what is right. Be brave about it too. Everyone hates a coward. And another thing, don't be afraid of doing right for fear you will make enemies. Enemies are as necessary to success as vinegar is to pickles. Don't be afraid to be a hypocrite. The thief may steal our property, but the hypocrite betrays one's confidence and only waits an opportunity to stab him in the back. If you have a mind of your own don't be afraid to express your opinion, and if you feel that it is right, stand by it. People will talk and fools will turn gristlestones for others to sharpen their axes on. Think for yourself. Lay your course of action in accordance with the idea that some day you will be a man and called upon to take an active part in life's great battles. Don't imagine for a moment that you can please everybody, not yourself. Few people care for you and you must care for yourself or be left in the cold. Also but few people will love you although they may profess to. They love you merely for what they can make out of you. Society looks upon you as an orange, to be squeezed for its benefit. When you are squeezed dry you will be thrown to the dogs and another orange will take its turn. Think of these things and resolve to act with wisdom.

Every habitation is not a home. Alas! No! We have seen a beautiful house, richly appointed, supplied with every luxury, whose beautiful tapestried walls and lovely carpets, all flower-strewn, handsome furniture, exquisite china, sparkling cut-glass and silver, beautiful flower yards, made a picture of lovely beauty, and would suggest a real "fairy land," everything wealth, skill and taste command, whose inmates were highly educated and considered very refined, and yet that was not home, and the Christian father of that family would go from a daintily spread breakfast table; and a cross, ill-tempered, silk-robed wife, and not one kind word, not a single ray of sunshine to chase away the gloom of a busy business man's long days. The boys were glad to get off to school, out of the reach of mother's scolding tongue, and the "beautiful fashionable" daughter fretted the day away over novels that didn't turn out like she wanted them to, and dressed that didn't hang just right, and spent the evening and a goodly part of the night dancing and saying silly things to a silly young man. Why was this home so unhappy? Because the mother was not in sympathy with the father and children, and the children were uncongenial with each other. So wealth alone cannot make a happy home.

What is the use of hurrying? There is time enough for all work and they who worry and scurry through day after day, vainly endeavoring to do a little more than any mortal ought to do in a day, are injured physically and mentally and do not in the end accomplish as much as the quiet, steady worker who keeps on serenely hour after hour until weary and then has the good sense to rest.

OVER THE COUNTY.

James Bartholomew, of Mackeyville, was admitted to the Lock Haven hospital as a medical patient last week.

The Tussey mountains near Centre Hall were on fire during the past week causing considerable destruction to timber.

Harry Harvey, of State College, who is undergoing treatment in Harrisburg for tuberculosis of the bones, is reported as improving.

R. M. Gardner, of Bloomsburg, in connection with Harry N. Koch, has taken over the Grabe undertaking establishment at State College.

Elmer Miller, who just closed a successful term of school in Potter township, will take the civil service examination at Altoona next month for railway mail clerk.

Miss Mae Musser, who had been spending some time in Philadelphia, returned to her home at Millheim last week on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. A. C. Musser.

The prospects for a good season of Lacrosse at Penn State are encouraging and a number of men are trying out for the team, which will play the University of Pennsylvania on Saturday, May 24.

The county commissioners have awarded the contract for building the new reinforced bridge over Elk creek, on the Peters road in Millheim, to the Curvsville Construction company. The contract price is $2390.

Monday evening May 5th, a class of seven will graduate from the Centre Hall High School. Class day exercises will be held Thursday previous, at which time the students will present "The Great Catastrophe."

It has been well proven that Millheim is not a good field for a pool table. The Journal announces that the party who conducted the pool table there for some time became disgusted with the place and left for pastures new.

Charles D. Bartholomew, the Centre Hall poultryman, sent a consignment of little chicks to North Carolina recently by parcels post. He will forward another package of five hundred chicks to Oklahoma in the near future.

F. S. Putney, professor of animal husbandry and dairy husbandry of the Rhode Island State College, has been appointed assistant professor of dairy husbandry at the Pennsylvania State College. He will take up his new work July 1st.

Our neighboring town of Centre Hall is badly in need of houses. That pretty little town is growing rapidly and there is not a vacant house in the town, although a number of new dwelling houses have been erected during the past few years.

Vestibule coaches, wooden cars formerly used on the big divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad, have been altered and are now being used on many of the divisions of the railroad. The Lewisburg and Tyrone trains will be equipped with the coaches.

William M. Bowser, of Phillipsburg, is the owner of a cow that gave birth the other day to a calf without eyes, but perfectly developed in every other way. There are eyebrows and marks where the eyes should have been, but the organs of sight are lacking. The calf is quite frisky, and Mr. Bowser has about concluded to keep it as a curiosity.

State College just now presents an animated appearance, says the Times, especially on College avenue where so much hauling is being done. No matter in what direction the observer looks new building operations greet his eyes. There are now under construction 60 or more buildings, and before cold weather sets in the number will have been increased to $0. Harry Witten, who conducted a clothing store in the Rossman store room in Centre Hall, about four years ago, has concluded to return to that town and will open a store as soon as he can get a suitable room. He was in Castello the time the Austin dam broke and lost considerable by the flood. Since that time he has been in Tyler, Clearfield county, with a brother.

Hon. Leonard Rhone, Capt. G. M. Boal and Dr. H. F. Bitner, of Centre Hall, appeared before a legislative committee to argue the claim of a state road from Lemont to Old Fort, via Linden Hall and Earlstown, then to intersect with the Lewisburg and Lewisburg state lines. Harris township citizens are making an effort to have the road extended from Boalsburg to Lemont, and from Boalsburg to "Potters Mills" by what is known as the "Loop" route.

Rev. Samuel Martin, pastor of the State College Presbyterian church, has been elected moderator of the Huntington Presbytery. State College was further honored by the same body by the election of Prof. Joseph Tudor to the general assembly which meets at Atlanta, Ga., on May 15th. Three branches of the church, the regular, Southern and United Presbyterians will meet in that city at the same time. An effort will be made to incorporate the three into one body.

Fire destroyed the old Fisher homestead in Boalsburg Thursday morning of last week while Mrs. Fisher was in Bellefonte. The fire threatened to assume alarming proportions and State College was telephoned for assistance and responded promptly. The fire broke out in the woodshed and was caused by some children playing with matches. It spread rapidly and the entire building was destroyed. Houtz's ice house was also destroyed.

YOUR RHEUMATISM

is probably due to uric acid in the system—the blood must be purified—the poisonous acid driven out and general health must be improved.

Thousands testify that Scott's Emulsion rids the system of poisonous acid by enriching the impoverished blood, and its concentrated nourishment is converted into red blood corpuscles which drive out rheumatism.

It is especially valuable to aged people.

Ask for and insist on SCOTT'S.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-00

so destroyed and a barn adjoining was on fire but was saved in spite of the fact that the snow was full of hay. The loss to the Fisher property could not be ascertained, but will probably reach several thousand dollars, which is partially covered by insurance.

The principal topic being discussed in Millheim these days is the building of a town hall, an institution that town is badly in need of. A proposition was made by Dr. G. S. Frank, who acted president of a town meeting held to discuss the question, that no doubt will bring favorable results. Dr. Frank advocates the sale of non-interest bearing bonds, and that the hall be built with the proceeds. The bond holders are, under his plan, to have all the income of the hall until the bonds are canceled. A committee of three, consisting of Dr. Frank, S. Ward Gramley and John H. Maize, are now canvassing the public spirited residents of Millheim to ascertain how much money can be raised under the proposed bond issue.

Fish Hatchery Must Go.

That the Spruce Creek fish hatchery is soon to be abandoned by the state fisheries department is indicated by the fact that Governor John K. Tener signed a bill providing for the sale of the land owned at that place by the state. For years the Spruce Creek hatchery has been one of the best known establishments of its kind in the country and each year a large number of trout were raised there and distributed to the different streams in this part of the state. Several years ago, a flood washed away the hatchery building and the structure was never rebuilt. However, the trout ponds on the grounds have been used in the growing of trout hatched at other points.

To Continue Fight to Save Keeler.

A. A. Shaffer, of Luthersburg, whose vigorous efforts to have John O. Keeler's sentence reduced were turned down by the Board of Pardons, will continue the fight to save the condemned man. An application will be made to the Board for a rehearing at its next meeting.

Fleming Proof that Vinol Creates Strength.

Over a year ago I suffered from a slight Shock of Paralysis from which I recovered, but it left me in a very run-down and weakened condition, so that I could only continue my work under great difficulties. I had no appetite, no strength and could not sleep, in fact I did not eat much more than an ordinary rabbit. After trying different remedies, which did not help me at all, Vinol was recommended, and I found that my appetite increased, I am stronger and improved in every way, all of which I owe to Vinol, and I shall be glad to recommend it to any one who is in a run-down, weakened condition.

TIME TELLS---or things that Words Won't tell

There are some things about a motor car that words won't tell. Words are simply labels—and it is one of the shortcomings of our language that words don't always express the difference between things.

For instance, the same words are used to describe motors and motor sizes. In words, two motors of "4 1/2 inch bore" and "5 1/4 inch stroke" are the same. But between them there may be a hundred differences. Differences in power; in economy; in smoothness; in reliability. Words won't tell those differences. Even blue prints won't.

And so on all through the car. "High grade bearings," "springs of finest quality," "channel section steel frame," "full floating rear axles." All cars have them. It seems from the announcements. But the differences which we know to exist in the cars themselves words won't tell.

are still running and giving satisfaction today. You will find among them lots of Chalmers cars.

Here are ten Chalmers cars which have been driven more than 1,000,000 miles—an average of over 100,000 miles each.

Owner	Address	Mileage
Fred Roberts...	Corp. Christi, Tex.	80,000
Geo. Stump.....	Independence, Mo.	140,000
Louis Pacheco...	Oakland, Cal.	122,000
Dr. F. S. Cuthbert...	Kingman, Ind.	75,000
A. D. Williams...	Buffalo, N. Y.	100,000
W. H. Caffery...	Kansas City, Mo.	125,000
J. H. Hand.....	Las Vegas, N. M.	100,000
E. Wat. Gardiner...	Amsterdam, N. Y.	78,684

not every year pay the difference for high quality, medium priced cars of various makes, if they were not worth the $300 to $500 extra which they cost.

You know, of course, you would rather have the better car. If its price and the price of the cheaper car were the same you wouldn't hesitate a minute.

The only thing that keeps you from signing the order for the better car is simply the writing of the check for a few hundred dollars more. That's all.

Difference in Price Doesn't Express Difference in Value

Once you have signed the check—made the decision—you will forget the money. Here's the proof. Just sign the check. Then the first question you will ask the salesman will be "How soon can I get the car? Just that. You'll forget the few hundred dollars as soon as you have placed your order.

But the car you buy you can't forget. You'll have that with you every day, and unless it is a good car you will have it mighty much on your mind every day.

The difference in cars is only partly expressed by the difference in price. The real difference is the difference in value. A genuine quality car will cost you only $300 to $500 more than a cheap priced car. It will be worth fully $1,000 more—in the service and satisfaction you get out of it. This isn't theory; it is a fact as any man who has owned automobiles for five years will tell you.

Do not let the supposed "saving" of $300 to $500 in the price of a cheaper car blind you to the greater value you can get in a Chalmers. Decide now.

But TIME Tells

Time is the great teller of truth. Time tells the difference between good things and ordinary things. Time gives the real verdict on books, pictures, buildings, men—and motor cars. Time brings out the differences that cannot be seen on the surface—the differences that words won't tell.

Please bear that in mind in choosing your motor car. You are not buying it for a year only—but for five, six, eight years—or maybe more.

Perhaps several cars look about alike to you now. Their specifications, motor sizes, wheels, tires, axles and equipment read about the same. But look for the unseen differences—the differences that will be apparent with use.

How will you know? Well, one way is to look over the list of cars built five or six years ago. Note the cars built then that

And at the Chalmers factory we have records of many more cars which have been driven 25,000 to 50,000 miles and are still giving satisfaction.

Time has told the difference between these cars and less efficient ones. And so you can feel absolutely safe in selecting a Chalmers.

Your Chalmers is Worth $1000 more but costs only $300 to $500 more Human ingenuity and ability simply can't build as good a car to sell for $1,000 to $1,500 as can be built to sell for $1,800 to $2,500.

You know you can't get an all wool tailor-made suit for the price of a ready made semi-wool suit. And you can't get a really good automobile for the price of a cheap automobile.

Values seek their levels—in automobiles as in everything else—$0,000 buyers would
