-BRIEF EXTRACTS.
From Missioner Crittenden's Farewell Address.
It is with a feeling of grateful thankfulness, we can truthfully report that the Olive Branch movement in Coleville gives manifest proof of a progress in the highest moral and religious interests of many families in this suburban village. Beautiful for situation. With a correct knowledge of the situation, as it is here, at the present time any one can unmistakably discover in this thrifty little hamlet by the mountainside, a bright hope for the future, and a peaceful and increasing enjoyment of peace and happiness by parents and children cheerfully co-operating in our united endeavors with no sectarian intent.
It will always afford me much pleasure to recall the gratifying fact that all branches of the church in Bellefonte, Protestant, Catholic, Jew and Gentile, have contributed in aid of the construction and equipment of this neat little chapel. This helpful material assistance has been given because the object for accomplishment was well known to be the giving to the children and young people of this village a knowledge of the Holy Scriptures, given by the inspiration of God and profitable for instruction in righteousness for their development and preparation for christian living, and all done "in the name that is above every name."
OPPOSING NEW BILL.
Penny Officials Fear Power It Would Give Employes.
The Pennsylvania Railroad company is vigorously opposing a bill which met with the approval of the railroad committee of the Pennsylvania state legislature last week.
The bill provides that no person shall be employed as conductor on any of the Pennsylvania lines unless he has had 18 months' experience as a brakeman or switchman, and that no engineer shall be employed unless he has served the same length of time as a fireman and has served at least three months preceding his appointment for the same company.
The railroad claims that with the enactment of this bill the road would be virtually in the power of the employes, as it would be prevented from hiring men to take the place of those who are usually served from six to eight years as firemen before they are promoted to engineers and that freight flagmen serve from six to seven years before they are made conductors while passenger brakemen must serve as long as fifteen years.
Cash Prizes for 12th Crack Shots.
It is proposed to have the annual rifle shooting competitions in the Twelfth regiment, N. G. P., held at Sunbury about June 17 to 18, shortly before the camp. The several matches on the National Guard range, east of Sunbury, will be the same as last year, but an effort is to be made by Captain George Deppen, of Sunbury, inspector of small arms practice of the Twelfth regiment, to have every company in the regiment represented.
In addition to the medals, trophies, etc., this year, cash prizes are to be offered. The teams making the best aggregate scores throughout the contests, are to be given an amount in cash.
The final negotiations for the leasing of the rifle range in East Sunbury have been completed and within a week they will be put into shape.
Opportunity.
The people of Bellefonte who realize the need of good books, now have the opportunity to show their support, for the new library, at the Hall music store. Forty more guaranteed patrons will secure it. All the late books at 25c a day. Books to be selected by committee from among the patrons who pledge it their support.
Now is the time, give in your name and Mr. Cummings will call and give the details.

THE ACADEMY MINSTRELS.
Bellefonte music lovers may prepare for two evenings of solid enjoyment, on Thursday and Friday, May 15 and 16. The fun and music will be furnished by the Bellefonte Academy boys at their annual appearance in the opera house. An innovative and two no doubt will prove highly appreciative by those who attend, will be a continuous overture during the entire performance. Instead of producing tiresome afterpieces, the boys have decided to present the whole performance in a happy and interesting way. The curtain will ascend at 8:15 sharp, which should give all an opportunity to be there on time. The State College band will head the parade each day.
After the performance a dance will be given by Mrs. Garber in Bush's hall, which should prove a delightful social event.
Interesting Meeting of Woman's Club.
The Study Class of the Woman's Club will meet on Monday evening, May 13th, at 8 o'clock in the High School Building.
The subject for discussion is "The Trusts," and will be opened by a paper by Mr. Charles M. McCurdy, president of the First National Bank.
Inasmuch as the subject for the evening bears largely upon finances and the cost of living, Mr. McCurdy will be at home in it and will treat it in his usual able manner. The discussion will then be open to all.
These meetings have been very interesting and the public is cordially invited and earnestly requested to attend.
Shipped Building Materials.
Charles Johnston, of Blanchard, loaded a car at Eagleville station Friday with lumber, slate, and other material for use in the erection of his handsome new residence in State College. The timber was cut from his tract on the Bald Eagle mountain and prepared at the mills located in the vicinity. Another car with more material will be shipped a little later. Contractor Charles V. THE OHIO FLOOD SUFFERERS.
Bellefonte Choral Society's Efforts to Relieve Appreciated.
That the efforts of the Bellefonte Choral Society, under the direction of Miss Mary Bradley, to relieve the stricken people of Ohio, who lost so much by the recent floods, reached the proper source and was duly appreciated, is shown by the appended letters from those through whose hands the money passed. It will be remembered that the money was raised at the concert given by Miss Bradley and the Choral Society, in the opera house recently. The letter from Governor Tener is as follows:
April 11, 1913,

Must Reduce Rate.
The state railroad commission has recommended to the Central Railroad Company of Pennsylvania that the rate for the transportation of lime--$5 per car--from the plant of the Empire lime kilns to Pennsylvania railroad junction at Bellefonte--a distance of 7.976 feet--be reduced to such a sum as will constitute a reasonable charge. The rate charged by the defendant for hauling limestone from the American Lime and Stone company's pipe plant to the junction, a distance of 3.953 feet, is but $2 per car, and it is the judgment of the commission that this is a greater difference of rate than the difference in distance and material would seem to justify.
