The Lutheran church at Millheim is being made resplendent by a new coat of paint. Repairs will also be made to the interior.

The elk placed in the Paddy Mountain game preserve are said to be in fine shape. The herd consists of two males and eight females.

The E. L. Graham grocery store at State College has changed hands. The new proprietor is J. H. Musser who will take charge June 1st.

The roads over the Seven Mountains and through the Penns Valley Narrows to Union county are said to be in a very poor condition. The State has been repairing this road.

Miss Sarah J. Keller, of Boalsburg, who has been spending the past few months with her sister, Mrs. Hall in Wilmington, Delaware, returned to her home during the past week.

J. W. O. Housman has been appointed collector of Millheim borough by Judge Ellis L. Orvis to succeed Frank Knarr, deceased. Mr. Housman has taken the oath of office and is ready for business.

The public sale of a 14-acre tract of timberland, situate in Penn township, was held at the Coburn hotel by W. H. Eriel on Saturday, May 17th. The tract was sold to Decker Bros. for $2,900.

David Shull and Orvis M. Shull one day recently planted 425 choice peach trees on their tract of cleared land on the mountain northwest of Millheim. A strawberry patch on the same tract promises to yield a fine crop this year.

Mrs. Nancy Michael, who makes her home with her son, George Michael, at Spring Mills, had the misfortune to fall while walking through the kitchen, and in doing so struck her arm in such a way as to break one of the bones in the wrist.

W. Gross Mingle, formerly of Centre Hall, but more recently in the offices of a large commission house in Wilkesbarre, is leaving that city, and will locate in Chestertown, Kent county, Maryland, to become the sales agent for a co-operative farmers association.

Miss Bettie Kimpert, who several weeks ago underwent an operation in an Altoona hospital at which institution she is being cared for at present, is said to be improving. She is a resident of Linden Hall and a sister of former Prothonotary A. B. Kimpert, of Bellefonte.

Jerome Brungart, while working in the lumber woods near Wolfs Store, was struck by a falling tree. When picked up it was thought he was severely injured and Dr. J. A. Hardenbergh, of Millheim, was summoned, who upon examination found no broken bones or any internal injuries. Quite a fortunate escape.

At an informal dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deal at State College on Friday, May 9th, the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen, to Lloyd H. Rogers, of Beaver Falls, was announced. No date has been set for the wedding. The Deals were formerly residents of Bellefonte and resided on North Third Street.

A spark from the smoke stack at the Brishin & Company saw mills, on Egg Hill, at Sprucetown, one day last week set fire to a decayed linn tree, and for some time the mill hands and neighbors were kept busy keeping the fire from spreading, and they finally succeeded in keeping the flames in a small area. The old tree stood quite a distance from the mill.

William C. Farmer, of Colyer, is growing four-legged chickens, the additional legs being set back on the body farther than those of the common birds. It was a plump peep that emerged from the shell with this surplus of legs, and Mr. Farmer things that had he thought to hobble the little critter, it would have finally learned to use its extras, and not scratch itself to death as it did.

Real, genuine Chinese baseball players pitted against the Penn State variety will be but one of many interesting features at the annual commencement exercises at the Pennsylvania State College, to be held this year June 6-11. The visiting baseball players constitute the team of the Chinese University of Hawaii. The game will be played on Beaver Field at 3:30 p. m., on Tuesday, June 10.

A rooster pheasant serenaded Lyman Smith as he was crossing over Nittany Mountain one day last week says the Centre Reporter. The pheasant was on the roadside and strutted and drummed as unconcernedly as though men and automobiles were all in Egypt racing around the pyramids. The bird was an unusual fine and large specimen and was observed in the vicinity of Adam's road, near the mountain top. For more than thirty years pheasants have made that locality a sporting ground.

Early Saturday morning two brooders, which contained seventy-nine fine young chicks, were burned for Henry Breon, of Millheim. Mr. Breon had gone to look at the brooders at midnight, and the light of one lamp had gone out and he relighted it and went to bed. It is thought the lamp exploded and set fire to the brooder and communicated to the other, and both were in ashes when Mr. Breon made his appearance at 5 o'clock. The brooders were within a few feet of the woodshed, and it is a miracle that it too was not burned.

While walking through the woods above Centre Hall in company with several others, William Kerlin saw in an unusual attitude a large black snake. The reptile was climbing the trunk of a large tree and was making a good headway at a height of about six feet. The snake was going in as straight a line as a snake can travel, and not circling the tree as one would suppose. Fearing the cursed thing might climb too high and not be able to return to bite the dust, it was killed, but it did not loose its hold until its back was broken, and while Kerlin was practicing in hitting the mark, the snake climbed higher and higher.

A school teacher recently received the following note from the mother of one of her pupils: "Dear Miss: You writ me about whippin' Sammy. I giv' you permission to beat him up any time he won't lern his lesson. He is just like his father, an' you hev to beat him with a club to lern him anything. Pound noddle into him. A GREAT SHOW.

Combining three of the biggest amusement offerings into one enormous show, the Wild West, headed by the world renowned Annie Oakley, champion rifle shot of the world, and hundreds of cowboys, cowgirls, vaqueros, rurales, scouts and plainsmen and many tribes of Indians will be the wild west portion of the programme, offered by Young Buffalo Wild West, Vernon C. Seaver's Hippodrome and Col. Cummins' Far East, more interesting than ever this year because every scene depicting life on the early frontier is entirely new and original.

The Hippodrome, gigantic in scenic proportions, replete with the characteristic details of the "Circus Maximus" will enact a number of superb spectacular episodes that are full of wonder as they are awe-inspiring. The Far East section of the programme is considerably augmented this year. The flower of foreign performers from every Far Eastern shore is here represented by the most talented and able representatives, a census revealing the fact that traveling with this big show are representative of eighteen foreign flags, each owing allegiance to a sovereign. Intermingling with the foreign performers—and they are legion—will be presented many funny incidents, it is said, that are also new. They consist of the "Dance in the Jungle" a terpsichorean revel on the African veldt; "The Taximetre," a laugh producer of Class A. "The Bounding Hayrack" is mirth provoking contrivance, as unique as it is original and contains many surprises. Taken all in all, with its fifty cars requiring three distinct locomotives, with its six hundred and fifty people who are connected with the show, it is safe to say that our people will turn out en-masse to see the big street parade which will leave the show grounds promptly at 10:30 a. m. on the day of the show, Saturday, May 24th.

Wanted the Contract.—Mark Twain used to tell the story of a minister who had a call in the country. He had to ride nine miles over a rough road. The horse was spirited and the cart had no springs, and the dominee was jolted up and down until he wished he was dead. Finally the horse ran away, and the dominee was dumped in the ditch. When he was picked up, with his collar bone broken, he said: "If ever I go to hell I want to ride over that road, as I shall be glad when I get there."

The Perfect One.—"There was one man whose life was perfect," said the Sunday school teacher. "What one of you can tell me who he was?" Little Mary Jane's hand went up, and the teacher nodded to her. "He was mamma's first husband," she said.

INDIGESTION FIVE YEARS

Relieved by Vinol.

Strength and even life itself depends upon the nourishment and proper assimilation of food, and unless digestion is good, the whole body suffers.

Mrs. L. D. Cook, Vineland, N. J., says: "I was sick five years with indigestion. My stomach seemed to have a heavy load in it, and at other times it seemed to be tied in knots. Nobody knows how I suffered."

"I tried a great many doctors and a great many kinds of medicine, but nothing did any good until I took Vinol. It has helped me wonderfully. I am improving fast, feel better and am getting my flesh back again. Vinol has done me a world of good."

We know the great power of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in curing chronic stomach trouble and building up all weakened, run-down persons, and that is why we guarantee to return your money if it does not help you. C. M. Parrish, Bellefonte, Pa.

WILD WEST COMING.

A gratifying piece of news to the readers of the Centre Democrat is the announcement that the Young Buffalo Wild West, Vernon C. Seaver's Hippodrome and Col. Cummins' Far East will exhibit in Bellefonte, on Saturday, May 24th, for two performances.

In response to the insatiable desire of the American public for something new and different, three of the most diversified forms of entertainment have been combined in one vast arena. The Wild West, replete with its picturesque environment and the Hippodrome with its numberless new improved novelties, coupled with the Far East contingent of premier performers from foreign lands, forms a programme of amusement never before surpassed in a single performance.

Joyous games and feats of skill, roping wild horses, lariat exercises, quadrilles on horseback followed by other ranch scenes and incidents, illustrating the career of the hardy pioneer, will be shown in the Wild West Section. Annie Oakley, the peerless wing and rifle shot, will twice demonstrate her wonderful skill with the rifle.

The Far East, the land of the rising sun, with its caravans of horses, camels, elephants, donkeys and other beasts of burden, together bands of mounted Bedouins, accurately depicting a scene on the Sahara desert, with racial troops of Arabs, Moaris, Hindus, Dahomians, Persians and Cingalese, garbed in their native dress. There are Hindoo fakirs, whirling Dervishers, Arabian acrobats and a score of other performers introducing their native trained animals, including Tiny Muggins, the smallest elephant in the world.

Following the regular season will be seen the Hippodrome section, "Boss" like his vacation, answered the boss. "Yes, boss, I like haf vacation," repeated Tony. "What do you want with a vacation? If I give it to you, Tony, you will go back to the old country, blow all your money, and then come back broke. You had better stay here." "I like haf vacation, boss," stolidly repeated Tony. "I'm going to get married and I'd kinder like to be there."

Success is never obtained in a country like this without effort. If you fall once, try again. If you fall down, get up. If it is dark, strike a light. If you are in the shade move around; if there is shade on one side there is sure to be sunshine on the other. It takes longer to skin an elephant than a mouse but then the skin is worth something. Never be content with doing what another has done—excel him.

When a druggist recommends remedy for colds, throat and lung troubles, you can feel sure that he knows what he is talking about. C. Lowder, Druggist, of Marion, Ohio, writes of Dr. King's New Discovery: "I know Dr. King's New Discovery is the best throat and lung medicine I sell. It cured my wife of a severe bronchial cold after all other remedies failed." It will do the same for you if you are suffering with a cold or any bronchial, throat or lung cough. Keep a bottle on hand all the time for everyone in the family to use. It is a home doctor. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. M. Parrish, druggist, Bellefonte, Pa.—Adv. May.

Wanted to Be There.—Tony came over from the old country and obtained employment in America as a section hand. Some time afterward he went to his foreman and said: "Boss, I like haf vacation." "You don't need a vacation," answered the boss. "Yes, boss, I like haf vacation," repeated Tony. "What do you want with a vacation? If I give it to you, Tony, you will go back to the old country, blow all your money, and then come back broke. You had better stay here." "I like haf vacation, boss," stolidly repeated Tony. AGED PEOPLE cannot properly masticate solid foods and digestion is often upset—they do not receive the needed nourishment to make strength and preserve health, but if aged people everywhere could only realize the strength-sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion they would take it after every meal.

It possesses the nourishing elements of cod liver oil, the vital powers of the hypophosphites of lime and soda and the curative qualities of glycerine, all so perfectly combined that nature immediately appropriates them to create strength—nourish the organs and build the body. It relieves rheumatism and ailments due to declining years. It adds to the span of life. Refuse substitutes for SCOTT'S. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-03

COULD NOT PUT HANDS IN WATER

Red, Scaly Spots, Itched and Burned. When Scratched, Formed Into Sores, Spread Constantly, Unsightly, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Three Months.

672 Walnut St., Columbia, Pa.—"Early in the spring of last year I noticed small red scaly spots appearing on the palm of my left hand and on several fingers of my right hand. They itched and burned and when scratched or irritated in any way they formed into sores. The spots spread constantly and in a short time both hands were affected causing them to be very unsightly. After a time they became so raw that I could not even put them in water. It was pronounced eczema.

I tried various remedies but with no relief. After three months' trial of these remedies, I noticed the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and decided to try them. Every night before retiring I washed my hands with Cuticura Soap and warm water and applied a thin coat of Cuticura Ointment. I kept on with the treatment. In three months I was completely cured of my trouble." (Signed) Miss M. Katherine Carter, Apr. 20, 1912.

If you wish a skin clear of pimples, blackheads and other annoying eruptions, hands soft and white, hair lustrous and glossy, and scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin to-day the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. Hotel and saloon keepers declare that the present act covering this subject is unfair to them for the reason that the burden of proof is on the liquor dealer and they are greatly handicapped in dealing with the public. They declare that the passage of the act would operate to keep boys of uncertain age away from barrooms and that it would also stop the buying of drinks for young girls by men.

In the latter case it would make both the buyer and the consumer liable to prosecution.

Who does not feel more cheerful and contented for receiving a polite bow, a genial "good morning," a hearty shake of the hand? Who does not make himself the happier by these little expressions of fellow-feeling and good will? Silence and a stiff, unbending reserve are especially selfish and essentially vulgar.
