HOWARD.

We communicate happiness to others not often by great acts of devotion and self-sacrifice, but by the absence of fault-finding and censure, by being ready to sympathize with their notions and feelings, instead of forcing them to sympathize with ours.—James Freeman Clarke.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Catholic—Pastor S. P. Caprio will pronounce mass in St. Bernard's church at ten o'clock. Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach at Jacksonville at half past ten, and in Howard at half past seven. Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will preach at Salona at half past ten and Mt. Bethel at half past two. United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Fairview at half past ten, at Jacksonville at half past two—at which time the Children's Day service will also be held—and in Howard at half past seven. Methodist Episcopal—Assistant Pastor M. C. Phip will preach in Howard at half past ten, and at Kennedy at half past two. Pastor James Edwin Dunning will preach at Curtin at half past ten. At Beach Creek at half past seven the annual Children's Day service will be held.

Joseph Schenck is building a new concrete walk, in front of his place. The Misses Mae Dietz, Emma Bowes and Jennie Keagle, of State College, were Memorial Day visitors. Miss Mary Johnson, of Beech Creek, year, came up on Memorial Day to see how we celebrate.

William M. Lucas and family, of Orviston, spent Memorial Day and Sunday with Mrs. Lucas' father, Isaac R. Williams, and family. Mrs. John Habaker and her aunt, Mrs. Dunn, of Wilkes-Barre, were week-end guests at the home of Capt. H. C. Holter and family.

H. Walter Holter, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Juniata, spent the week-end with his friends here. Joseph Rathmell, of Hublersburg, drove over to look in on our decorations and became so interested that he remained over Sunday.

C. C. Lucas and family, accompanied their brother Clarence to the Moshannon homestead, Sunday afternoon, returning on Monday. D. W. Fletcher and granddaughter, Genevieve, are visiting Walter Fletcher, at Philadelphia, and Howard at Newark, N. J., for several weeks.

Miss Della Bowes was interested enough in our Memorial Day observances to come up from Lock Haven and enjoy the day with her friends. Rev. Dunning spent the early days of the week in attendance upon the annual meeting of the ministers of the Altoona District at Philipsburg.

The Misses Catherine and Eleanor Ecard, of Lock Haven, spent a few days of last week with their sister, Miss Mame, assistant to Mrs. Ward Schenck. Charles Bowes, who is lumbering in the woods in the Adirondack region,—Herkimer county, N. Y., to be specific—is spending a few days at home with his little family.

Chester A. Lucas, who will be remembered as a schoolboy here only a year or two ago, having a short visit here, after which he will return to his work on a farm near Warriors Mark.

Rev. E. H. Zechman left on Monday for a week with his home people at Sinking Springs, Berks county, expecting to be back in time to fill his appointments, in the "east end," next Sabbath.

Mrs. Samuel Davy and Mrs. A. S. Williams, of Philadelphia, are enjoying the fine water, salubrious air and other delightful conditions of our snug little burg as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Holter.

Knowing that it was the "nth anniversary of her birthday," Miss Hailie's young friends dropped into her home Friday evening by twos and fours and groups, and made, for her and themselves a joyous time of it.

Rev. M. J. Snyder, pastor of the United Evangelical church which centers here, was called to York over Sunday, and his appointments at Snow Shoe Intersection, Curtin and Marion were filled by Rev. C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte.

George Thompson took advantage of Memorial Day to secure a "day off" for Thursday and come in from his Orviston home Wednesday evening, and secure a four-day visit with his friends here. He brought with him his friend, Roger Poorman.

Mrs. Frank Casselberry spent last week in Lock Haven, caring for the family of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Casselberry, whose infirmities required a surgical operation which detained her at the hospital. It is learned that she is recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baney were among the purchasers of the twenty-one tickets sold here last Thursday morning for the Gettysburg special, which passed at an hour altogether too early for a net gathering "across the bridge" to secure the names of the other nineteen.

Rev. Louis E. Robb, D. D., came in from his charge over the Reformed church at Wilkesburg, to have a brief visit—between trains, from 10 until 4:15—Saturday, with his venerable parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robb, each of whom is approaching the eighty-third milestone in years, and gives good promise of reaching it.

Mrs. Thomas Decker, formerly of Miss Alice Kline, with her husband, were guests at the home of Jackson Kline over Sunday, having come from Sinking Springs, Md., where Mr. Decker is employed in running a steam shovel for the A. L. Anderson & Brother Contracting company, as he was here during the winter when he wooed and won his pretty wife. Mrs. Decker will remain at her old home for a few weeks while her husband helps finish the contract in Maryland.

Memorial Day was generally observed by our citizens, there being a parade and the usual honors paid at the cemetery, by the S. of V., according to G. A. R. regulations. The memorial services in the church were well attended and inspiring. Rev. James Edwin Dunning presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. H. Zechman. The address was delivered eloquently by Rev. A. W. Hicks, of DuBoistown, a former pastor. The occasion was reverently and quietly celebrated, happily free from former boisterousness, which was noticeable and commented upon.

Now that the electric lights for the streets are being located, and the new overhead crossings of the new line of railway are approaching completion and will soon be opened to traffic, it is apropos to suggest that each of the bridges should have a light placed in the center of it, or what would be better, one at each end. At the Walnut street bridge this can be done without question by the borough, because the bridge is practically all within the borough lines. In cases where the bridge is a short distance beyond the borough limits, but the State authorities could, doubtless, be persuaded to have the lines extended that short distance. The lighting of these bridges is important enough to be asked for and worked for.

Mr. J. Green Williams, who has been an invalid for many months, and has for some time back made his home with his brother, Isaac R. Williams, died at 4 p. m. Monday. He was born near New Milport, Clearfield, June 16, 1842, and lived in that county and Blair and Centre counties all his life, except while serving in the war as an original member of Co. B. in the famous old Bucktail regiment, in which he served with honor, receiving at Gettysburg a wound in his right knee, which troubled him to his last day. He was twice married, both his wives preceding him to the Great Beyond, leaving him childless. It was his request that his body be laid to rest beside his second wife whose body is entombed at Tyrone. General services were held at the house at 10 o'clock, Wednesday, conducted by Rev. M. J. Snyder assisted by Rev. S. S. Black, of Milesburg. The body was taken on train No. 53 to Tyrone for interment.

Children's Day services were held last Sunday by the Christian Chapel congregation, with profound interest, the result of earnest preparation by Miss Nannie Lucas, Mrs. W. M. Cooke, Mrs. W. I. Harvey, A. A. Fletcher, Esq., and others. The young people, too, had put much enthusiasm into the work. An enlarged choir led by A. A. Fletcher, with Miss Treva Fletcher as pianist, supplied notably good music. A tenor duet by A. A. Fletcher and Samuel Kline, with choruses, was greatly appreciated. "In the Golden Evening," a vocal solo by Miss Rebecca Lucas, accompanied by Miss Rosetta Cooke, was greatly praised by a pleased and discriminating audience, for they excelled in artistic rendition. Perhaps the number which most touched the emotions of the audience was the recitation by Miss Mary Richman, entitled "The Last Hymn," in which she was assisted by Mr. Fletcher, who represented the drowning sailor, at intervals singing parts of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The team work of the children reflected the most careful training by their teachers and they all so well performed their parts that we accorded equal praise without distinction. The following are mentioned: Genevieve Fletcher, Anna Leitch, Mame Cooke, May Katharine and Edella Henderson, Jeannette Allison, Madge Allison, Ray Diehl, Gilbert Strunk, Mary Rodgers, Joseph Weller, Marie Confer, Virginia Weber and Lola Walizer. The collection amounted to fourteen dollars.

UNIONVILLE. H. E. Holtzworth, terra tenant, is superintending the painting of the Presbyterian parsonage. Ed. Haugh and John Resides are the artists. The taste in the beautiful blending of the colors of the body and trimmings are to the credit of Mrs. Margie Holtzworth.

Did you ever see the back of your neck? Listen! Last fall Mrs. John W. Biddle put away, among other vegetables for future use, a large Hubbard squash. Last week she concluded to make a squash pie and when she cut it open she found the seeds in it had sprouted to the length of several inches. The squash was as solid and firm as the day she laid it away. Almost incredible, but true!

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stover with their cute little twin boys, of Tyrone, were Memorial Day visitors at the home of Henry Parsons.

Mr. Budd Thompson, of Martha, attended communion services at the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Miss Mary Turner an expert stenographer of Philipsburg, was a home comer on Decoration day.

Col. John L. Rich, of Tyrone spent Memorial day in town. Mrs. John Fisher and son, of Loveville, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abednego Williams.

Toner Irwin, of Altoona, was another Decoration day visitor. W. A. Morrison, of Altoona, came down to see our boys "do" the Waddie team. He didn't see it.

Mr. N. M. Scott left on Sunday for Dunbar, where his family has been visiting for several weeks; and after a week stay at his old home, will chaperone his family back to Unionville. Mr. Scott is an expert checker player and is after Domino's scalp. He hasn't captured it yet.

Blair Alexander, on Monday razed the large barn on the Jesse Cleaver property, and will rebuild on the George Hoover farm, east of town. This is one of the oldest land marks in town and was built by Dr. Wm. Underwood many years ago.

An old adage says that misfortunes seldom come single. This has been truly exemplified in the case of Elery Spotts. Within the last three months, his large barn was destroyed by fire, he lost a valuable horse and while roofing on a building he fell to the ground and stove his hip so badly that he cannot walk. Dr. Russell was sent for and did all he could to relieve his suffering.

We have seen two boys smoking cigarettes since the passage of the late act relative to cigarette smoking by boys under 21 years of age. We would caution our constable to keep his eyes open tight for those violators of the law and make an example of some of them.

Three of our bright and most attractive young ladies are members of the graduating class of the Bellefonte High School. They are: Misses Ruth Parsons, Margaret McDonnell and Margaret Eckenroth. Congratulations, girls.

As usual, a large number of citizens of Unionville and vicinity including many persons from a distance attended the Memorial services on Decoration day, and the beautiful ritualistic ceremony was very impressive. The ten minute addresses at each of the three cemeteries by the Rev. H. K. Ash were pointed and impressive and were well received by the old soldiers. The music by the choir was beautiful and inspiring. Six little girls, to wit: Evelyn McClellan, Mildred Hoover, Margaret Haugh, Ida Jones, Ellen Hoover and Elvora Holt each in turn recited an appropriate piece. Ten honored veterans were present to wit: Dr. E. A. Russell, E. E. Erhart, Tommy Senner, John W. Biddle, W. R. Potter, Wm. Resides, Fred Senner, Fox, of Mill Hill, Wm. Sanderson and Geo.

W. Morrison. The grand old Soldiers, baring the sadness of the occasion, were highly pleased with the entire proceedings and unanimously tendered a vote of thanks to all who so kindly assisted them in their Decoration day services and especially to the Rev. H. K. Ash for his encouraging and impressive addresses. The game of base ball played here on Decoration day between our home team and Waddie nine resulted in a score of 9 to 3 in favor of Waddie.

MARRIAGES. Lange—Slocum. Wednesday afternoon, May 28th, at the Reformed parsonage, Bellefonte, Mr. Charles W. Lange, of Lock Haven, and Miss Grace Slocum of the same city, were married by the Rev. Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt.

Gordon—Miller. On Monday, June 2nd, at 8 p. m., at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. Miller, Rev. A. F. Weaver of the U. E. church, united in matrimony John F. Gordon and Miss Agnes Milpotts, of Bellefonte, who received the congratulations of their many friends.

Haugh—Farber. At Pittsburg, May 17th, Thomas G. Haugh and Grace Farber were married. The bridegroom graduated from the Bellefonte High School, class of 1906, and is son of John Haugh, of Scotia. Many friends join in wishing the couple a long and happy matrimonial voyage.

Buzzell—Taylor. At Philipsburg, on Tuesday, June 3, Edgar R. Buzzell, of Curwensville, was united in matrimony with Martha Taylor, of Philipsburg. Rev. George M. Glenn and Rev. Geo. Ledy officiating in the ceremony. The bride was arrayed in a blue traveling suit, and after congratulations the happy pair sped away to Niagara Falls and other points of bridal interest. They will reside in Curwensville, where Mr. Buzzell is engaged in pharmacy.

Wells—Fleck. Mr. Ray Wells, and Miss Mary Fleck both of Niagara Falls, were married at Niagara Falls, on May 30th. The groom is an industrious young man employed with the Shredded Wheat Tactory at that place, while the bride is a daughter of Stuart Fleck, formerly of this place. On their wedding tour they stopped in Bellefonte, Monday with Mrs. Fannie Hazel and in the evening were serenaded by callithers, returning home on Tuesday. They will visit friends at Axemans.

Johnstonbaugh—Eckley. On Friday morning at 8 o'clock, at the United Evangelical parsonage, Centre Hall, Rev. H. F. Foss performed the ceremony that united Alvin Johnstonbaugh, of Linden Hall, and Lulu Eckley, of Centre Hall. After the vows had been taken they drove to Linden Hall to the groom's home, where he is assisting his father on the farm. The groom is a young man of ability and is highly respected by his many friends. The bride is the second eldest daughter of John R. Eckley, and is very well fitted for the position she has chosen.

Gates—Harpster. On Thursday evening, May 29th, Miss Dora Harpster, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Harpster of Stormstown, and William Willard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Gates, of Gatesburg, drove to the M. E. parsonage at Stormstown, accompanied by Chas. Lytle, Miss Edna Gates, Boyd Johnson and Miss Nora Gummo, and were there united in marriage by Rev. M. J. Runyan promptly at 8 o'clock. The bride was attired in a lovely blue messaline dress. After the words, which pronounced them man and wife, they drove to the bride's home where the relatives and a few close friends had gathered. A sumptuous supper was served at 8 o'clock. After many hearty congratulations the guests returned to their respective homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gates a long, happy journey through life.

Morris—Barnhart. A quiet but very pretty church wedding was celebrated Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. John's Episcopal church, Bellefonte, which united in holy bonds of wedlock, Alexander G. Morris, Jr., an active young business man of this city, and Miss Ida Violet Barnhart, one of Bellefonte's prettiest young ladies. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Episcopal church was used and the ceremony was performed by Rev. John Hewitt, rector of the church. The bride was given away by her father, J. Willard Barnhart, while the groom was attended by his nephew, Budd Morris, as best man. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit and looked very pretty and attractive, while the groom wore the conventional black. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present. After the ceremony the bride and groom were taken to Unionville in an automobile where they boarded the train for a wedding trip to Philadelphia and eastern cities. The bride was the recipient of quite a number of beautiful presents among them being a set of solid silver from the parents and sister of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Morris and the Rev. J. Willard Barnhart. Other presents include a handsome clock, rug, cut glass, silver cake dishes, mahogany centre table and table linen. The groom is the youngest son of A. G. Morris, president of the American Lime & Stone company, an engineer in the coal and grain business at this place. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Barnhart, of this city. Upon their return from their wedding trip they will be at home to their many friends in their newly furnished home on north Spring street.

Foxes Migrating to Delaware County. The bright Lancaster correspondent of the North American observes: John K. Tener, as governor, and Robert McAfee, as secretary of this great state, have affixed their signatures, and doubtless the seal of the state an act which invites the foxes to seek Delaware county to live always. Foxes may be pursued by hunters and killed by hound dogs, but woe to the man who shoots, traps, snares or "pizen's" a fox in Delaware county, unless of course he is the owner of poultry. Detects Bre'r Fox in the very act of stealing chickens. There's no doubt that fox holes and habitations will be for rent in neighboring counties, and that a great movement will soon be made toward Delaware county. The state should furnish maps and blueprints to the foxes, lest they get over the line in Lancaster. "pizened" in Chester or shot in New Castle.

National Guard Encampment. National guardsmen will be interested to learn that grounds have been leased by Capt. George Deppen, of Sunbury, for the encampment of the third and fourth brigades, which will be held in July at Rolling Green, about midway between Sunbury and Beltingrove. He negotiated with seventy-eight farmers for a camp field.

HUBLERSBURG. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Minnich visited Zion. Mr. Fred Beck and daughters visited Bellefonte. Many cleaned up grass in the cemetery. Our music teacher will soon return home to Ohio. Mrs. Claude Kramer is keeping house for Adam and George Vonada. Adelaide and Russell Heckman visited Mr. Heltman, their grandfather, at Kridler's Siding. Miss Margaret Weaver entertained six of her friends from Aaronsburg. Miss Weaver is helping Miss Hubler. These youths had a great time at the festival at Mackeyville, Saturday night: Madeline Spady, Lulu Gloesner, Julia Decker, Bruce Beightol, Harold Hoy and Doyle Hoy. Mrs. Harvey Vonada, of Zion, Mrs. Kathryn Hoy, of Jacksonville and Mrs. Harrieh of Mingoville spent Sunday with Mrs. Kathryn Yocum. Mrs. Clarence Rossman, of Clintondale, visited Mrs. Frank Carner, on Sunday. P. O. S. of A. decoration exercises on Sunday were grand and the speaking fine. Reformed Children's Day, June 22. All come, and welcome. Mrs. L. E. Swartz was out of town, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Poorman and sons spent a few days here, during Decoration services. Mrs. Harry McClintoc and daughter, Mary, visited at the home of Jas. Watson. Decoration services were interesting. Rev. E. B. Somers made a patriotic address, and our new band gave excellent music, both at the services and the supper of the Ladies' Aid Society of Yarnell, Saturday night. The sympathy of all is extended to Pastor Rev. E. B. Somers, who received the sad news of the death of his mother, at Rosenhagen, N. J. She had reached the age of 89 years.

Getting The Most For Your Money IN CLOTHING

Spending, $10, $15, $20, $25, for a suit of clothes is easy, if you have the money to spend. But buying clothing to get the best returns for your cash, that's not such an easy matter as many men have found out to their sorrow. You go into a store and see a suit of clothes marked $15 or $20, it's a good suit, it looks well on you and you like the pattern and color, you buy it, you pay out fifteen or twenty dollars, hard earned money, without inquiring into the matter sufficiently to satisfy yourself that you are getting value received. The chances are five to four you are not because for that same money you can buy better clothes here, or the same clothes for less money. This is not idle talk, either. These two stores by special trade prices are placing before you the greatest clothes values ever seen. A little investigation and this will be apparent to you. Whatever your position in life, whatever your special requirements may be—as regards clothes—you'll find in this new first goods we are showing a suit exactly fitted to your special needs.

The sharpest critic; the most exacting style mentor can be suited from this immense stock and we guarantee a saving on these prices that makes it worth your while to investigate. Suits in all cuts $10, 12.50, 15, 18, 20, 22.50 25 and 30.
