Bright, Newsw Letters From the Various Sections of the County.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

The Centre Democrat will observe its usual custom of taking a vacation during the week of the Fourth, therefore will issue no paper next week. Correspondents will kindly remember to withhold their letters until the following week, in the meantime keeping a sharp lookout for all important news in their vicinity. The office will be open every day for business or social visitors.

REBERSBURG.

This valley received its share of the destructive wind and rain storm which swept over the state last Friday evening. Considerable damage was done to fences while a number of trees were uprooted or otherwise damaged. It seems that the worst part of the storm crossed the lower end of the valley. The wheat in this section was lodged where it was heavy but it is believed that it will pick up alright. While it had been showering during the day and the sky was overcast, there was nothing to fortell the nature of the storm until it struck. However, it is thought that the benefit derived from the warm rain will greatly overbalance the damage wrought by the wind. The corn and oats and garden truck all took a new lease on life.

Rev. Alfred Houtz, of Orangeville, Pa., was a visitor here for several days last week. He was accompanied by his wife and they have been stopping at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Moyer. Mr. Houtz has been the pastor of the Reformed church at Orangeville for the past forty years. He is the author of numerous religious books among which are "Ties That Bind," "The Master's Call to Service," "The Triple Life of the Aged," "Hold the Fort," and "The Pastorale of Rev. Houtz." Rev. Houtz's long service in the work of the Lord has amply equipped him as an authority on the religious and social subjects treated in his publications.
