TREATY RIGHTS.

That California acted whelly with-In her rights in respect to Japanese aliens owning agricultural and fruit lands admits of no doubt. The claims of Japan on behalf of her alien immigrants in California, to enjoy immunities in such lands, under the treaty of April 5, 1911, are entirely unfounded. A copy of that treaty furnished us by the state department not to internal affairs disconnected

Article 1 of said treaty provides: The citizens or subjects of each of High Contracting Parties shall have liberty to enter, travel and reside in the territories of the other to carry on trade, wholesale and retail, to own or lease and occupy houses, manufactories, warehouses and shops, employ agents of their choice, to lease land for residential and commercial purposes, and generally to do anything incident to or necessary for trade, upon the same terms as native citizens or subjects, submitting themselves to the laws and regulations there established.

"They shall not be compelled, under any pretext whatever, to, pay any charges or taxes other or higher than those that are or may be paid by native citizens or subjects.

"The citizens or subjects of each of the High Contracting Parties shall receive, in the territories of the other, the most constant protection and security for their persons and property, and shall enjoy in this respect the same rights and privileges as are or may be granted to native citizens or subjects, on their submitting themselves to the conditions impossed upon the native citizen or subjects."

This is the vital article in respect the ownership of domiciliary realty and it restricts such ownership to purposes of trade and commerce, ostensibly between the two nations and not, to the leasing or ownership of lands for rural or agricultural pur- and missing brother, seeming not to The treaty further expressly avers that its ratification by the U.S. Senate depended upon the under- ly and is in perfect health. standing between the High Contracting Parties, that the Act of February 20, 1907, regulating the immigration of aliens should not be repealed or af-Sected by this treaty.

The state police powers of both countries were in no wise curtailed this treaty. The legislation of California, therefore, is in no respect an infringement upon any treaty rights of Japan, since it relates whol-By to the leasing and ownership of lands other than for navigation and therefore, also a It is, mational affront for Japan to make any such claim and couple it with a threat of a trade boycott. Obviously, there is concealed in this move a pre-text for an international quarrel, and It is not difficult to see the objective. Ever since the United States has obtained Hawaii, and later the Philippines, Japan has nursed the purpose to seize them all. A large proportion of the inhabitants of those Asiatic islands are Japanese or Malay. The outcome of the Russo-Japanese war was such as to cause Japan to entertain the conceited belief that she can eas-Ity overpower the United States in se far away alien domains. Nor is this quite foundationless. If Japan proceeds with the same alacrity whilst kotowing and treachery, as she did with Russia, pretending she may swoop down upon islands and surprise even a like Uncle Sam. In "world-power" due course of time, however, she would learn that the war vessels of the United States are not manned by competents and drunkards
