

OVER THE COUNTY.

Dr. C. S. Musser, of Aaronsburg, is driving a new car, an Overland.

Mrs. Lida Yost and Miss Elvina Yost, of Johnsonburg, are guests of Mrs. Oscar Miles.

Dr. W. H. Schuyler, the well known Centre Hall pastor, is away on his vacation and is spending the time in New York.

Frank Phillips, of Colyer, son of P. D. Phillips, is now the owner of a Ford car, and is taking his friends over the country to see the sights.

—Archie Allison, of Bellefonte, has secured the contract for installing the bath room fixtures and piping in the new Bartholomew building in Centre Hall.

Mrs. W. A. Magee is making her first visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett, in Centre Hall, since her marriage in April. She resides in Philadelphia.

A monolithic cement silo is being constructed for J. H. Detwiler, owner of Puritan Stock Farm, east of Old Fort, by Messrs. Rhoads and Knisely of this place.

The supper served by the Young People's Society of the M. E. church was quite a success. The proceeds go toward paying for having the church refrescoed.

Clyder Horner, who is employed in the Altoona shops, is enjoying a change from his work to the hay and grain fields on the farm of his uncle, John Horner, near Tusseyville.

Capt. James Patterson, who went west in the 60's is visiting his old home at Pine Grove Mills. He was a member of Company G, 148th P. V. I. General Beaver's old command.

Miss Sarah Wiser, of Conneaut, Ohio, was entertained recently by Miss Helen Bartholomew at Centre Hall. Miss Wiser is a trained nurse and school friend of Miss Bartholomew.

Hammil Holmes, of State College, has been awarded the contract for the new high school building to be erected at that place. The contract price is not given but it will probably reach $20,000.

Charles Ripka, aged eight or nine years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ripka, of near Spring Mills, was struck by a roller door that fell from the track with such force as to break one of his legs.

W. Frank Bradford, station agent at Centre Hall, went to West Virginia last week on business and pleasure. He is interested in one or more lumber operations in the south that are proving profitable.

Harry W. Potter, of Edmonds, Washington, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Potter, in Centre Hall. He has been in the west for the past six years and of late has been with the Brown Bay Logging Company.

David Mingle, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Myrtle, of Newport, were guests in Millheim a day or two, says the Journal. Mr. Mingle was born in Millheim and left there in 1862, this being his second visit to his old home.

A good spirit was shown by the neighbors of George W. Hosterman, of Penn township, when they harvested his hay crop. Mr. Hosterman, some time ago, had his collar bone and several ribs broken, and is not able to attend to his farm work.

Clair Kreamer, of Woodward, met with a serious accident recently. He was returning home on his bicycle and while descending the hill west of Woodward, fell from the bicycle and fractured his left arm in three places. He was brought to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment.

Potter township school directors have elected Luther Musser to teach the Plum Grove school. This school for several years has been considered a hard proposition, but the school directors feel sure that Mr. Musser, who at one time was a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools, will secure good results.

Snakes! That's what the trackmen on the L. & T. say when they are working in the vicinity of the fill below the Stover farm, near Spring Mills, says the Centre Reporter. The snakes are of the water sort, but the man who hates snakes hates the water snake kind, too. While working in that locality recently, J. W. Whitman, a railroad man, declares he counted at one time twenty snake heads protruding from the rocks.

Israel Rachau, of Farmers Mills, was obliged to kill one of his faithful work horses, and had considerable difficulty in doing so, says the Reporter. The animal took sick, and later "blind staggers" developed. The horse made a mad rush from the barn through fields and over fences, and finally got into neighbor J. K. Bitner's corn field, where it was not a bit sparing of the corn carefully cultivated by Farmer Paul Swab. In the course of time a man with a gun got within range, shot and killed the animal.

The representatives to the Odd Fellows Orphans' Home at Sunbury held their semi-annual meeting Tuesday 8th inst. The representatives from Centre county who participated in the meeting were Messrs. Joseph Lutz, Centre Hall; E. S. Ripka, Spring Mills; I. G. Burkett, Stormstown; C. L. Gramley, Rebersburg; M. E. Clevestine, Bellefonte; T. L. Ridy, State College; A. Lukenbaugh, Bellefonte. Mrs. T. L. Moore was the only Rebekah representative from this county, and was there in the interest of the Centre Hall lodge.

CURTIN.

Mrs. Rachel Glenn, of State College, visited her son Jerry, over Sunday.

Wm. Prince attended the funeral of the late Peter Robb, which took place on Friday at the home of his son Jacob on the homestead at Howard.

Mrs. Ray Lutz and son Paul, of Bellefonte, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bathurst, part of last week.

Mrs. Lou Pletcher and children and Miss Hannah Neff and brother Joseph, of near Curtin, spent Saturday at the home of Edgar Neff and wife in Milesburg.

Mrs. Ida Larson and son Eric visited at the Hanscom home near Curtin on Sunday.

Thos. McCartney, wife and daughter, of Snow Shoe, spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Prince.

Don't trust to memory to preserve the changing likeness of your growing boy or girl. Memory plays strange tricks sometimes.

A good photograph or so every year will keep an accurate record of the subtle changes in their development.

And what a satisfaction that little collection will be to you and to them in after years.
