HOWARD.

"Our worldly laws punish us for our actions; God punishes us for our intentions."

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will preach at Mt. Bethel at half past ten and Salona at half past two.

Presbyterian—Pastor absent on vacation.

Methodist Episcopal—This will be the following appointments: Howard, half past ten, Kennedy, half past two, and Beech Creek, half past seven. The Rev. Dr. Charles S. Keller, of Johnstown, will speak in the interests of the league at each place.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Fairview at half past ten, at Jacksonville at half past two, and in Howard at half past ten.

Cleaning Up.

Several members of the Methodist church gave a pleasant evidence of their public spirit last Saturday morning, when they got together with scythes, lawn mowers, hoes, grub-hoes, brooms and shovels, and gave their church lot, including the sidewalks, gutters and berm banks such a cleaning up as it has not had in many a day, and as was badly needed. They were L. H. Neff, Frederic Leathers, George E. Pletcher, George Foreman, Gilbert Neff and Sammy Pletcher. More of this sort of public spirited work is being done this summer, both by private individuals and organizations than ever before. Even council has taken a hand, and employed a man to take a scythe and mow the weeds on the sides of the streets where they have been neglected, and have even gone so far as to do it for private individuals who have heretofore neglected it. As an instance, while the church people were doing their work, Israel Greninger, employed by council was at the same time trimming the weeds from the steep bank in front of the cemetery, just across the way. William Weber gave a good example of thorough neatness in the care of the street margin in front of his residence, doing much personal work upon it. The school board has shown a most commendable thoughtfulness in this matter by having the school lawn mowed, and in front, where it is much used as a playground, covered it with a well graded coat of finely crushed limestone. Many others could be named if space permitted, who give great care to this portion of their surroundings; though there are a few who make the mistake of sweeping the litter of leaves, sticks and other matter which always accumulates in public places, into the middle of the street, where it becomes only the more unsightly by contrast with the resulting neatness of the premises from which it has been removed. Better burn it in the garden, or make a compact heap of it, either method of disposal making valuable fertilizer. Too much commendation cannot be given to citizens who give attention to this matter of tidiness on their own premises and the adjoining streets and alleys. Every effort in this direction is a contribution to the general sightliness and attractiveness of our town. Even now strangers and visitors are frequently heard saying complimentary things of our pretty village, and the growing interest of our people in the matter gives encouraging assurance that our visitors will find good ground for more emphatic approbation in the future.

Outings and Campings.

Many of our people have been seeking recreation and relief from the rather unusual August heat in picnics, camps and the like, and last week several such parties were held. The following have come to my hearing: A quartette of young men from Johnstown, are in camp on the south side of the creek, below the power house of the Center Electric Co. Daniel Owens, William Butler, George Jenkins and Joseph Eickensher.

On Thursday, the Sewing Circle, of which Miss Minnie Robb was a member when she lived in town, accepted her invitation to spend the day with her in her farm home in Curtin, and these members secured the services of Charley Robb to take them out in his fine big carry-all, and had a thoroughly good time of it. The Misses Nellie Weber, Josephine, Mollie Yearick, Flora Pletcher, Emma Pletcher and Anna Holter, and Mrs. Lovan Smith and Mrs. Zelma Jordan.

On Saturday the Five Hundred Club picniced all day at Schenck's Ridge, having both dinner and supper on the grounds, and the usual ordinary attainments of the ladies in charge will envy the feasters. Following is the list of those who participated: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Leathers, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Kurtz, Mrs. John Ruch of Northumberland, Mrs. C. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weber, Mrs. J. L. DeHaas, Miss Dorothy Weber, Miss Charlotte Kurtz, Miss Marion Cooke, Miss Annabelle Leitch, Fred Leathers, John Stevenson, Walter H. Kurtz, Willard Neff and Miss Edith Butler.

The W. C. T. U. had a delightful outing, taking the whole day for it, at the home of one of their active members, Mrs. Peter Robb, Jr., at Romola. Two big spring wagons conveyed them with their well packed baskets, pots, pans and packages, in the early morning, and returned them in the cool of the evening. This party was composed of the following named ladies: Mrs. Silence Pletcher, Mrs. Clara Reber, Mrs. Viola Hastings, Mrs. Hettie Loder, Mrs. Catherine Lanzetta, Mrs. Kate Weber, Mrs. Alice Holter, Mrs. Clara Dunham, Mrs. Lizzie Schenck, Mrs. Cora Strunk, Miss Emma Robb, Miss Mary Allison and Miss Edith Pletcher.

Harold Hunter Dead.

A sad funeral in the afternoon of Friday last, was that of Harold Hunter, who was laid to rest in the Methodist cemetery by the side of his mother, (who had preceded him there by just eleven years and one day) in the dripping rain, with his lovely sister, the uncle and aunt who loved him, and a cousin, as the only mourners; while at the same moment his father, with slender chances of recovery was in the hospital at York, Pa., so ill that he could not be informed of the death of his son, though he died in the same room, and of the same disease, typhoid fever. His mother, Miss Laura Tipton, daughter of the well known Abieson Tipton, belonged to one of the oldest families of this section, was born and raised here, and became the wife of Mitchell Hunter, well known here as a leader in the beneficial organization of The Woodsmen of the World. When she passed away she left two fine young children, Harold and Frances, who were cared for by their aunt, Mrs. Edward McEntire, of Williamsport, when Harold acquired distinction as a student and athlete in the schools of the city. His father, whose business prevented him from establishing a permanent home, had Harold with him in York where he was temporarily staying, when they both came down with the dreadful fever, with the sad results above noted. At the latest accounts Mr. Hunter was yet in a critical condition. Harold was but twenty years of age, of fine character, unusually intelligent, and of splendid physique, with promise of a bright future, and his sudden taking off is a terrific blow to the young sister who remains.

Wedding.

In the evening of Tuesday last, at half past six, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McCallion, Miss Annie R. McCallion was married to Mr. Alexander Cresswell, of Lock Haven; the ceremony was performed by Rev. M. J. Snyder, of the United Evangelical church. It was a quiet home wedding, the only guests being the members of the families of the contracting parties, and a very few intimate friends. Those present were Mrs. Cresswell, Mr. and Mrs. Mariaville, of Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Strickland, with their three children. Mrs. Cresswell has been the chief cook in the Lock Haven hospital for nearly nine years, and won a reputation for excellence which extends over the central part of the State and made friends by the score. She received several valuable presents from inmates and employees of that institution. She expects to remain at home with her mother for about two weeks, when they will settle in a Renovo home, Mr. Cresswell being one of the expert machinists of the railroad shops there.

Mrs. J. N. Lauth is convalescent. Miss Minnie Robb spent Friday and Saturday in Lock Haven. Miss Mary Zeigler is vacationing with relatives in Renovo. Miss Nettie Swartz spent Saturday and Sunday in Lock Haven. Miss Nell Lyons spent last week with her friend, Miss Eva Neff. Mrs. Jacob Robb looked after business in Lock Haven, Wednesday. Miss Esther Bechdel, of Mill Hill, is a guest of Miss Margaret Butler. Mrs. Charles E. Neff, of Cartama, spent last week with her friends here. D. A. Irvin, of Ebensburg, came home Saturday for a few weeks' rest. Mr. and Rev. H. V. Bergen are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Holter.

Mr. and Mrs. Toner Robb, of Wilkensburg, are visiting among his home friends.

Mrs. and Rev. O. W. Hicks, of Williamsport, were home visitors over Sunday.

Miss Leah Bulkley, of the Altoona, hospital, is enjoying a vacation with her home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robb spent Sunday with Mrs. and postmaster Wilbur F. Hall.

W. E. Confer is improving his property by putting a new cedar roof on the kitchen.

Mrs. Higgler, of Pittsburg, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Shuman Pletcher.

Mrs. Henry M. Confer is on the sick list where it is hope she will remain very briefly.

Mrs. Jesse Leathers is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. John Ruch, of Northumberland.

C. A. Smith, telephone expert, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with Mrs. Smith and her family here.

Mrs. and Prof. Samuel Robb, of Eldred, McKean county, are home visitors for a part of their vacation.

Joseph Harvey, wife and children, of State College, were last week's guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson and little daughter, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson.

Prof. Shuman Williams, of Eagleville, with his family, had their Sunday dinner with the old home folks on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Aley, of Niagara, with their two sons, are spending this week with Mr. Aley's parents at Jacksonville.

Mrs. Susan Kane, of Renovo, and Miss Mary Kane, of Philadelphia, spent the week end with their sister, Miss Annie Kane.

Mrs. Susan Bodle and Mrs. Nora Bodle, of Julian, are guests at the suburban residence of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bulkley.

The Misses Bessie Welland and Ruth Thompson took a holiday Saturday and Sunday and spent it with friends in Eagleville.

morning, Friday, for Niagara, where they will visit for a couple of weeks with Joseph White, Mrs. Swartz's brother.

Venerable William H. Neff was taken seriously ill early Tuesday morning. He is improved at this writing and hope is entertained of his recovery, notwithstanding his more than 81 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean M. Bennet came up from their Mill Hill home Saturday afternoon, bringing their pretty little daughter Louise with them to brighten the home of grandpa A. M. Butler and wife.

Mathias Walker, Sr., who has been an invalid for several years, is failing so fast, that his four sons, John Mathias, J. Lionel and Frank, all of whom are railroad men, are watching at his bedside.

Malcolm Schenck closed his enjoyable vacation here and returned to his home at Niagara last Tuesday morning. He makes his home there with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Snyder.

Prof. J. C. Weirick, of Lock Haven, his brother, Alva Weirick, of Altoona, their nephew, Gilbert Neff, were seen early Saturday morning, coming in with a most appetizing string of eels, fresh from the Bald Eagle.

The viewers appointed in the damage case between Burdine Butler and the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Hon. John H. Wetzel, squire Herring and Toner Lucas, came on Tuesday and viewed over the land involved.

Mac Shaw acted as escort to the big steam shovel, which has been located here for the past year, to the Anderson Company's work in West Virginia, and has returned home in safety, after a week of interesting travel.

Miss Helene Tipton went to Williamsport, Saturday afternoon, to remain a day or two with her aunt, Mrs. Edward McEntire, and her cousin, Miss Frances Hunter, and from there to spend some time with another aunt, Mrs. Jeremiah Ryan in Buffalo.

Albert Confer came home for a week or two of rest and vacation from his painting work which he follows proceeding to put two coats of good paint upon his father's house, which adds even more to its appearance than to its durability.

Mr. Harry Yearick and wife, formerly Miss Annie Daley, of Romola, lost their infant daughter, Lois Maxine, one year, one month and twenty-seven days old, at their home in Ridgeway last Friday, Aug. 8th. The little body was brought here by train No. 57 Sunday afternoon, and buried in the Schenck cemetery.

Edward Confer came home from his work in the woods on Friday, a decidedly sick man, and on Saturday the doctors decided that it was a case of appendicitis, and pretty well advanced. Saturday evening his brother, Robert P., accompanied him to the Lock Haven hospital, and Saturday morning Dr. Ball performed the usual operation, with the most promising results. The latest reports say he is resting in much comfort, and making good progress to complete recovery. This sister, Mrs. L. H. Neff, and mother, Mrs. Michael Confer, went down Monday and are greatly pleased with his condition.

ORVISTON.

Mrs. Geo. High was called to Lock Haven by the sickness and death of her father, Mr. Daugherty.

Mrs. Charles Pletcher and son, Melvin, of Curtin, spent Thursday with friends here.

Mrs. George Heverly called on relatives here Thursday.

Mrs. Russel Schenck, of Howard, visited here Monday.

Margaret Humes was removed to the Lock Haven hospital on Saturday, also Irene Hartzel, the same day.

Mrs. Mac McCloskey and son, Huit, spent a few days at the Harvey cottage along Marsh Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart were seen on our streets on Saturday.

John Mann transacted business at Marsh Creek Monday and Tuesday.

Rev. Clark preached a grand sermon on Monday night.

Mrs. Wm. Heverly and son, Lloyd, attended the funeral of Lois Yearick, a niece of Mrs. Heverly, of Ridgeway on Sunday.

ZION, No. 2.

Philip Benner, Daniel Shuey and John Shuey helped Harvey Tressler haul in oats a day last week.

Grace Tressler was helping Ruth Benner sew a couple days last week.

Miss Benner went to Leeburg last Saturday for a week or ten days' visit with friends and relatives.

Henry Norris and friend made a business trip to State College last Saturday and attended the festival in the evening at Houserville.

The callers at Harvey Tressler's on Sunday afternoon were: Manna Kline and wife, Daniel Shuey and wife and son William.

Harvey Tressler and wife and two children spent Sunday with James Johnston.

ZION.

The Zion scrib has not been on a vacation but has been busy helping to gather in the crops.

Billy Smith and Harry Grove are in the neighborhood with their threshing outfits and report that the several grains are threshing out well.

The heat for several days last week was very oppressive. But the electric storms that passed over on Sunday afternoon and evening cooled the atmosphere considerably.

The most of the oats are away and the husbandman is busy preparing his ground for wheat seeding.

Corn and potatoes are very promising and with continued favorable weather until fully matured, will yield an average crop.

Mrs. Annie Emerick, of Centre Hall, spent her vacation with her sisters, Mrs. M. P. Musser and Mrs. S. H. Shafer.

Rev. Shultz, who is serving the Lutheran congregations at Zion and Snyderstown, will be installed in the Lutheran church in this place on next Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Russel Kessinger, who had been working for Ad. Reish, packed his bed and bedding on Monday morning and went home. Zion was not to his liking.

Mrs. Annie Emerick and Mrs. Harvey Shaffer accompanied by their niece, Miss Lizzie Peteroff, of near Centre Hall, were up to Winburne last week to see their sister, Mrs. W. D. Dukeman.

Those who expect to move out of our neighborhood next spring are R. M. Garbrick who bought a farm near Gregg station, Henry White who has an option on a farm near Penn Cave, J. A. Reish who is dickering for a farm near Millheim and John Yearick who expects to move to State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Stover, who went west and located in Kansas about twenty years ago, are visiting among friends and old acquaintances here and note many changes. They expect to stay east for some time and will visit Berwick, Altoona, Tyrone, Pittsburg and other places before returning to their western home.

On next Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock sharp, The Rev. Dr. E. P. Manhart, Dean of Susquehanna University, will conduct services in the Lutheran church at Zion, at which time the Rev. Wm. Shultz will be installed as pastor. A similar service will be held in St. Mark's Lutheran church at Snyderstown, in the morning at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. Manhart has a message for each one. Don't fail to hear him.
