HOWARD.

It is a noble art, better worth cultivating than many a showier one, to make the most of things that are. Leigh Mitchell Hodges.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.
Methodist Episcopal—Pastor James Edwin Dunning will preach in Howard at half past ten; at Kennedy at half past two, and at Beech Creek at half past seven.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Fairview at half past ten; at Jacksonville at half past two, and in Howard at half past seven.

Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach at Jacksonville at eleven o'clock, and in Howard at half past seven.

Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will preach at Salona at half past ten, and at Mt. Bethel at half two.

Union Pray Meetings.

For several months our Ministerial association has had under earnest and careful consideration the project of a consolidation of the weekly prayer meetings of our several churches. The thought behind the movement is found in the old copy-book aphorism, "In Union there is Strength," and at the same time an exhaustive study of the conditions, dispositions and surroundings of our community, including those who may not be strongly religiously disposed the members of the association are unanimous in bringing the matter before the public in concrete form and have prepared the following schedule of series for the month of September: Sept. 4. United Evangelical church, subject: "The Meaning and Value of Prayer." Sept. 11. Methodist Episcopal church, subject: "The Tower of Babel." Sept. 18. Christian Chapel, subject: "Meditation an Aid to Prayer." Sept. 25. Reformed church, subject: "Prayer That Prevails." The services will begin promptly at 7:30 and are limited to one hour. They are for the entire community, and you are urged to attend.

Mrs. O. W. McEntire Dead.

The long continued illness of Mrs. McEntire, which has been referred to several times, came to its fatal termination about six o'clock last Monday morning. She was born Frances Amelia Sellers at Fillmore, June 14, 1859, married to Dr. O. W. McEntire, Feb. 2, 1886, settling at Mill Hill, and moving from there to Howard in August 1891. An only child, Miss Josephine Katherine, was born to this union, who, with the husband, remains to mourn her. In addition she leaves a brother and sisters, Mrs. George Musser, of Warriors Mark, A. M. Sellers, of Fillmore, and Mrs. Benner Way, of State College. Mrs. McEntire was of quiet and home-keeping habits, retiring disposition, and an active and consistent christian life, having been a member of the Christian congregation here for many years. The funeral service was held at her late home conducted by a former pastor, Rev. W. A. Burcher, now of Pennsylvania, Ohio. The body was taken to Bellefonte on the noon train Wednesday and interment made in the Meyer cemetery near Fillmore, the place of her birth.

Blaine Hayes, of Beech Creek, was a home visitor, Thursday.

B. Frank Strunk visited with relatives at State College last week.

Clayton Gardner was a business visitor at Lock Haven, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Dunham and her little daughter are visiting relatives in Jersey Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gardner, of Altoona, came Saturday for a Sunday vacation.

Joseph G. Fletcher, wife and son, of Bellefonte, are among our visitors this week.

Miss Edith Robb, of Avis, is visiting with the family of her uncle, Mr. Frederick Robb.

Miss Catherine Hoy, of Bellefonte, was a last week guest of her friend, Miss Mabel Loder.

Mr. Paul E. Bennetch, Professor of Dairy Husbandry at Morgantown, Va. is in town for a brief stay.

Mr. H. M. Spengle, of Altoona, spent Friday here as the guest of his friend, Rev. J. E. Dunning.

Mrs. Mabel Mann and sister, Miss Emma Fletcher, are spending the week with relatives at Lovelife.

Mrs. Zelma Jordan and Miss Mollie Yearick are spending this week and next with friends at Emporium.

The Misses Alma Fletcher and Nancy Schenck were between trains visitors at Lock Haven, Saturday.

Gilbert and Comer Shope have taken employment at State College, where they have a sister, Mrs. Wm. Markle.

Miss Minnie Robb returned last Saturday to Pittsburg, where she helps make the great Horne store a success.

Forrest Schenck, of Beech Creek, came up Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his sister, Mrs. T. A. Fletcher.

Mrs. Bollinger with her son and daughter, of Altoona, were guests at the Mrs. H. T. Lucas home for the week-end.

Mrs. Alonzo Henderson with her little daughter, and Miss Annie Confer, were Lock Haven visitors on Wednesday.

Ralph Cornwell, of Northumberland, spent a few days of last week with his grandmother, Mrs. S. F. Kline and uncle Eugene.

Miss Mayme Long, daughter of Rev. William M. Long, of Clarksburg, W. Va., is the guest of her uncle, Clyde Long and wife.

At one o'clock next Saturday, Aug. 30, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Gardner will offer for sale, at her residence on Main St., Howard, all her household goods.

Rev. R. H. Sawtelle, of Altoona, delivered a strong plea in favor of the purposes of the Anti-Saloon league, in the Christian Chapel, Sunday morning.

Mrs. A. C. Dorman, of Altoona, came home Saturday to pay a visit of condolence to her brother, Charles Pifer, who is down with typhoid fever, but improving.

A most enjoyable family picnic was enjoyed last Saturday by the several families of the Leathers Brothers, all the more enjoyable because none but relatives were invited.

G. Wash. Reese and banker "Cheney" Hicklen looked over our town,

Tuesday, and concluded that it is about such an one as they would like to buy if it were for sale.

Miss Grace Gettig, of Howard, and George Rebers, of Bellefonte, were married on Thursday, Aug. 21, at the United Evangelical parsonage here by the pastor, Rev. M. J. Snyder.

Mrs. John B. Holter, Mrs. and Rev. H. V. Bergen, and Miss Carrie Holter left Friday evening for Birmingham where they will be the guests for some time of Miss Maud Hopkins.

Mrs. C. C. Lucas and daughter, Miriam, left Sunday morning for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Zimmerman, and incidentally to attend the Isenberg family reunion of which they are members.

Mrs. J. G. Rathmel, of Hublerburg, a frequent visitor and well known in our community, left Friday for Philadelphia, where he will take a place in the purchasing department of the Pennsylvania railroad company.

Raymond Hopkins, son of Charles Hopkins and wife, who was Miss Caroline Fletcher, both of whom are well remembered here as belonging to the last generation of our boys and girls, is a guest of his parents' friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Young and Mrs. Reuben Wynan, of Williamsport, were last week guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Long and, using their own motor car, greatly enjoyed much of the beautiful scenery in the vicinity of our town.

Mrs. Melvina Bulkley and Mrs. A. J. Streeter, a sister of George H. Hukley, were his guests last week, returning to their home at Westfield, one of the brightest and prettiest little northern towns of our state, Saturday.

Venerable Henry Ziegler, of Marion township, was in town last Saturday carrying his eighty-seven years with ease and looking and seeming as if he might add many to them, notwithstanding a fall he had while on his way here.

Thomas A. McCallion, with his youngest son, Thomas E., of Rochester, N. Y., was a guest of his brother, T. J. McCallion and family. Mr. McCallion left here twenty-eight years ago, and judging from his appearance, has prospered.

W. H. Neff and son, who have had much difficulty in finding a horse to take the place of the handsome black they recently lost out of the fine horse team, have at last succeeded. Last week they purchased near Millheim, a fine youngster which promises to fill the bill when a year or two older.

Henry M. Confer is at home for a week or two of rest from his hard woods work. He brought with him the rattle of three big fellows he killed one at a time within twenty-four hours. The combined length of the snakes was twelve feet and four inches, and the total number of rattles on their three tails was forty-six.

Miss Florence Leathers, of the West End, who has made an enviable reputation for herself at Perch Ambury, N. J., in the several terms she has taught in the schools there, has yielded to strong pressure and left Wednesday, yesterday, to take up the work for another term. She will be accompanied by her mother, who will remain with her during the winter.

All Howard is interested in the recent purchase of the Joseph Furt mill at Mackeyville by G. Reed Worrick, because he is the husband of one of our nicest Howard girls, Miss Jennie Bennisson. Mrs. Worrick came up on Saturday to spend the day with her mother, Mrs. S. H. Bennisson and brother, McDowell Bennisson, who is spending his vacation from Pittsburg business with his mother.

Because of an illness of the regular teacher, Miss Helen Tipton, last winter, H. Walter Holter was called upon to temporarily teach the Mann's school in Curtin and made good. Miss Tipton having moved with her family to McKeesport, Mr. Holter was so earnestly urged by the Directors to take the school for the coming term, that he has resigned his place as secretary of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Y. M. C. A. at Juniata, and accepted the place.

The best improvement made in town during the week is that of C. M. Fox who has torn away the old fence in front of his place, and is making arrangements to put down a first class concrete walk the whole width of his lot. This will add much to the dignity of his home and as his is the first place travelers see as they approach town from the west it will go very far to making a good "first impression" upon those who have never seen us before.

An old fashioned "straw ride" in a big springless, two-horse wagon, one of the most enjoyable stunts of young days, was directed from here to the hospitable home in Marion township, of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Yearick, last Wednesday, and here's the list of the enviable folk who were of the party: Rev. and Mrs. Benson, Emma and Flora Fletcher, Anna and Josephine Muffley, Zelma Jordan, Mollie Yearick, Nelle Weber, Lauretta Weber, Lulu Schenck, Charley Bowers, Ronald Welch, Harry Muffley, Jason Snyder, William Leach and Minnie Robb.

Pearl Confer and Charlotte Kurtz gave a joint party at Pearl's home on Friday evening, making a delightful evening for their little friends. Mrs. Confer, with her older daughter, Miss Florence, looked after the refreshments, and this means that they were the best of their kind. The ice cream was of the home made brand and was the genuine article, as the Howard letter knows by the sample which reached him. The participants in the glad evening were: Marion Cooke, Rosetta Schenck, Esther Strunk, Pearl Gardner, Mary Rogers, Jennie Quay, Gladys Snyder, Vonda Johnston, Elizabeth Wolf, Walter Donald, Charlie and Tomie Shay, Leo Welch, Walter Kurtz, Dorothea Weber, Mrs. D. L. Welch and Mrs. John Shay.

Our Business Men's picnic, on Thursday last, notwithstanding it was very hastily organized and inadequately advertised, was a most satisfactory success. Practically all our business places were closed, and kept closed in good faith, and the town was almost entirely deserted. It is hard to estimate numbers in such a place, but the ground was well filled, the day was fine, everybody was in a good humor, and all seemed to enjoy themselves all the time. The very brief time for arrangements prevented the thorough organization of a programme of amusements, but the ball games, races and trap shooting afforded all the interest of that sort that was necessary to keep the crowd going. The whole affair was creditable to the parties who took the lead in its organization, and it is to be hoped that it may be often repeated. How would it do to make it a regular biennial affair, alternating with the Schenck family reunion? Get together young fellows! Make a regular organization, give it a good local name, choose active men for officers, make the thing go with a vim two years from this. A great big, general, really public picnic to which everybody is invited, is a first rate get-together sort of an institution for any community and Howard's central location for this corner of the county makes it the very place for a good one. The Howard letter votes aye.

Mrs. James Tyson, whose home is on a farm just north of town recently arrived at the fifty-eighth milestone of her life journey, and her family and friends made merry over the occasion in a delightful way, assembling at her home, and with congratulations, presents and feasting demonstrating their own pleasure and greatly adding to Mrs. Tyson's enjoyment. They were: Ed Tyson and son Gordon, from Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Miller and son Cecil, of Ruffsdale; Mr. and Mrs. James Acton, of Phillipsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butler and three children, Clara, Violet and Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Herr, Mrs. James Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Lucas and daughter Beulah, Russel Confer, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garret, Mr. and Mrs. James Gault, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson and two children, Mrs. Daniel Sullenberger, Mrs. Lem. Poorman, John Roberts of Millersburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas and three children.

SCOTIA.

Mrs. Adolphus Fields and two small children, Mildred and Carl, are visiting relatives in Tyrone for a few weeks.

Miss Myra Hicks and sister Edith visited over Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Geo. Harper at State.

Samuel Estright and sister, Beatrice, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. William Bottorff. They are also visiting relatives at State, in company with their cousin, Ethel Bottorff, of this place.

Our genial merchant Lyman Emerick accompanied by his son Paul departed for Pittsburgh Saturday, to visit his sister for a few days.

William Laufer left last Wednesday for Altoona, enroute for Jersey Shore and took in Old Home Week and the Firemen's Convention which was held at that place. He is stopping with his brother, J. E. Laufer, and sister, Mrs. Wm. Young, both whom reside there.

Chester Hassinger, who is successfully employed at Mahoffy, Pa., was home greeting his many friends from Monday until Tuesday.

Mrs. P. E. Hicks was a Tyrone shopper one day last week.

Miss Viola Laufer recently spent a few days with her brother, O. P. Laufer, of Altoona.

Mrs. Edward Markley and young son returned last Monday from Wingate, where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Mabel Estright also her uncle, Harry Bottorff, at Runville.

Mrs. Meese, of Lovelife, returned home Saturday after spending a week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilson Ghaner.

Miss Beulah Wilson, who has been spending the summer at the Branch, returned home to go to school.

Carl Cronmiller, of Bellefonte, is visiting relatives and friends at this place.

Ray Showers, of State, was seen in our town Saturday evening.

Thos. Haugh and wife, of Wilkinsburg, are visiting their respective homes at this place at present days.

Mrs. Haugh was formerly Miss Grace Farber.

Miss Marie Haugh arrived Tuesday from New York City. She is playing in the Pittsburgh Ladies' Orchestra, also teaching music in East Pittsburg, and Wilkinsburg.

Miss "Tot" Lykens who has been at Bellefonte for the past two weeks with her sister Eva, who has been ill, returned home Monday evening.

P. E. Hicks spent a very pleasant day at State College on Sunday last. Monday night found a very merry crowd of young men and maidens assembled near the school house to indulge in a corn roast. About twenty being present. Every one reported a delightful time and said would be ready to go back again.

JACKSONVILLE, No. 2.
The Jubilee Historical series, commemorating the 35th anniversary of the Heidelberg catechism adoption was held at the Jacksonville Reformed church on Sunday morning, August 24th, by the Rev. Zechman, assisted by Supt. G. M. Harter. The services consisted of responsive reading of the catechism and music. The audience was favored by two rare treats, first by Rev. Zechman's most able explanation of the circumstances and events that led up to the adoption of the catechism and secondly, Mrs. E. L. McClintic, in her magnificent alto voice sang, "Holy Bible Book Divine" to the extreme satisfaction and delight of the entire audience. Would that we could celebrate this event every Sabbath if this is the only way to induce Mrs. McClintic to give us the benefit of her highly developed musical talent. Miss Verna McClintic presided at the organ.
