

OVER THE COUNTY.

The home of the late Dr. P. S. Fisher at Zion has been sold to Joel E. Royer for $3,875.

Farmer George Rowe, of Linden Hall, paid $2200 for the property in Boalsburg purchased from George Hosterman.

William Bradford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Bradford, of Centre Hall, will enter the Mercersburg Academy this week.

The fellow who does not subscribe for the leading home paper because he already takes more papers than he has time to read is invariably the man who borrows his neighbor's paper.

Announcements have been sent out of the marriage of Miss Jean Graham, daughter of E. L. Graham, of State College and a teacher in the borough schools at that place and Ralph Knight, of Philadelphia.

While adjusting the stacker on the Strunk threshing outfit, John Geary was caught by a set screw and was pretty badly squeezed. His blouse sleeve got entangled first, and drew his arm into the cog.

Two more cases of scarlet fever are reported from Lokantun, Harris Bierly, son of John Bierly and Charles Jackman. The county officer has placed the homes under strict quarantine in order to keep the disease from spreading.

Joe E. Platt, who graduated from Penn State with the class of 1910 and who has been acting as assistant secretary of the State College Y. M. C. A., will set sail for Nankin, China, on September 29, where he will enter association work as a mission secretary.

The crop from a young apple orchard covering one acre was sold by John G. Rossman to the Centre Hall Evaporating Company for $150. Last year $90 was realized from the same orchard, and two years ago $142. The trees were all sprayed two or more times.

Miss Mabel Allison gave a house party at her home in Spring Mills at which the following guests were present: Miss Helen and Marie Wingard, of Coatesville; Miss Alice Mann, of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Katherine Allison of Bellefonte and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison, of Toronto.

While ascending a hill near Millheim on a motor cycle, Ray Stover, of Aaronburg discovered a flame of fire shooting from the machine, and lost no time in dismounting. He acted just in time, for in a few minutes after he alighted, the gasoline tank exploded, and did considerable damage to the "Indian."

The Huntingdon county license cases have been appealed to the supreme court by the temperance people. It is generally believed that the action of the associate judges will not stand. It would be extremely hazardous to permit men not learned in the laws to overrule a president judge in license or any other cases.

James H. Smeltzer, of Centre Hall, has retired after a long service as section foreman. His place will be filled by Adam Krebs, of Milmont. Mr. Smeltzer began his service on November 12, 1878, and November 3rd, 1884, was made a foreman and continued as such until his resignation. He will continue to draw pay from the Pennsy under its system of age retirement.

John T. Gephart, of Clearfield, engineer in charge of state road work in Indiana, Jefferson, Centre and Clearfield counties, was recently appointed assistant engineer in charge of state highways. D. Wayne Myers of Bellefonte was promoted from superintendent of Centre county highways to succeed Gephart and George Bennet appointed superintendent for Centre county.

Frank Gfrerer, west of Centre Hall, was the first farmer to thrash his entire crop of wheat. The field from which the grain was thrashed contained thirteen and one-half acres, and the yield was three hundred and sixty bushels, or a fraction less than 27 bushels per acre. This crop was grown without petting, and is one of a succession of good yields reported by Farmer Gfrerer during the past fifteen years.

A Ford car owned and driven by A. J. Musser, of Clearfield, in which was his wife, formerly Miss Esther Durst, of Centre Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wetter and daughter Florence and H. J. Hinterleitner, turned turtle between Philipsburg and Clearfield on Sunday, August 31st. Mrs. Wetter's neck was broken, and the little girl sustained a broken shoulder blade. The others escaped with a few slight scratches and a good shaking up.

TUBERCULOSIS DAYS.

Churches, schools, labor unions, fraternal orders and other organizations to the number of 200,000 at least, will be asked to join the anti-tuberculosis workers of the country in the observance of the Fourth National Tuberculosis Day, which has been designated for December 7th, according to an announcement issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The movement will be furthered throughout the country by more than 1,000 anti-tuberculosis societies working through various state organizations and the National Association. Personal appeals will be made to clergymen, school principals and leaders of various organizations, urging them to set aside a definite time during the week preceding or the week following December 7th, for a lecture on tuberculosis.

Last year over 60,000 churches gave attention to this subject on Tuberculosis Day. It is hoped this year to swell the number of churches to 100,000 and to urge similar action besides in a large number of the schools and other societies. The Tuberculosis Day campaign will come this year during the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale. It is planned to urge the churches of the country to take a definite part in this movement.

The observance of Tuberculosis Day was endorsed last year by President Taft, Cardinal Farley, Col. Roosevelt and many other prominent churchmen and public officials. Proclamations calling upon the people to observe this day were issued by governors of more than a dozen states and by the mayors of a considerable number of cities.

As a usual thing, real genius is done up in most peculiar packages. And the love that laughs at locksmiths usually sheds many tears before very long.

Harvest Home services will be held in the auditorium Sunday September 14th, at 2:30 p. m. The speaker will be Miss Anna B. Taft of New York State, who represents a country life association. She is a woman of large experience, an interesting and instructive speaker. The music will be furnished by a choir selected from local talent.

The Veterans' Club of Centre county, will hold their reunion on Tuesday, 16th. The addresses will be delivered in the auditorium.

MEMORIES OF THE PAST.

Can anything be more pleasant in the busy hum-drum of after years than to permit your mind to wander back to the days of school life the sweet memories and incidents that come up the smiling faces and pleasant countenances; the old school house door that has so often admitted you swinging back and forth on its great hinges; the very walls speaking forth of happy hours; while at your side stands the noble teacher who has watched your every move, and is as much interested in your success as you are yourself. As these pleasant recollections come back to one the eye is almost moistened as he realizes those days are gone forever and so many who took part in it sit and contemplate never again in this life will those days return that the participants who so joyously together in the school room and playground pledged loyalty and faith to their school, and whose memories are the most pleasant in our life scattered far and wide and some departed forever to their eternal home. When this is realized, sad, indeed, is the heart, and the sweetness with which the years pass by, make one understand that we are journeying toward the setting sun.

The Road Fund. The 1913 legislature passed a one million dollar appropriation which practically reimburses those townships having collected their road taxes entirely in cash for the year 1912 as a cash tax bonus. These payments will likely be made by the State Treasurer within the next few weeks.

Following is a list of the different townships in Centre county entitled to share in this deficiency appropriation, and the amount to be received by each.

Table with 2 columns: Township and Amt. Paid. Lists townships like Benner, Boggs, Burnside, College, Curtin, Ferguson, Greig, Haines, Halfmoon, Harris, Howard, Huston, Liberty, Marion, Miles, Patton, Penn, Potter, Rush, Snow Shoe, Spring, Taylor, Union, Walker, Worth and their respective amounts.

A Successful Woman Farmer. Laying aside her knowledge of Greek, Latin and French, acquired as an honor graduate of Blairsville college, Miss Mabel C. Taylor, of Reedsville, now devotes her undivided attention to scientific farming.

At the death of her father, Foster Taylor, the young woman became sole heir to his estate, which includes three of the most prosperous farms in the Kishacoquillas valley, Mifflin county. She drives over the three farms every day, directing her assistants, and her opinions are authoritative on agricultural methods.

Miss Taylor reads—not novels—but practically all the agricultural journals and is also in touch with the national and state departments of agriculture. Due to scientific treatment of the soil her three farms are all producing bumper crops.

Reinforced Concrete Telegraph Poles.

Telegraph poles made of reinforced concrete is the latest experiment of the Pennsylvania, which, according to the results of a test being made in New York have the effect of revolutionizing telegraph and telephone service among the railroads. On the New York terminal division of the Pennsylvania, a concrete pole line has been built along the right of way across a continuous five mile stretch of semitidal swamp land known as the Hackensack meadow. The ground surface is covered with a heavy growth of reeds and the top stratum is a peaty bog underlaid with clay and mud. It is a most excellent place for the testing out the new poles.

Sight Seers Stranded.

A party of Lewistown folk, thinking to enjoy a cross country tour to Penn's Cave, Centre county, and return recently chartered a motor truck and bravely set forth. When within three miles of the objective point the differential shaft went wrong and the party were compelled to walk back to the hotel at Centre Hall. A telephone message was sent to Lewistown and a truck and driver dispatched in relief. The second machine met with a mishap enroute and both cars, drivers and tourists were stranded many miles from home.

Well Known Minister Dead.

The Rev. Dr. William Hutton, one of the most prominent Presbyterian clergymen in this State, died Thursday, Sept. 4th, after a long illness. He was more than 70 years old and had been pastor of the Greenwich Street Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, since 1867. He was secretary of the Presbyterian Historical Society. Dr. Hutton was a graduate of Hamilton College and the Union Theological Seminary.

An optimist takes stock of what he has, a pessimist of what he hasn't.

FARM ADVISORS.

The farmers of Pennsylvania are determined to take advantage of the well meaning efforts of the Commonwealth and State college to advance their interests. The conference of the state farm advisors at Harrisburg last week brought out that the farmers are particularly interested in soils, drainage, and co-operation. Familiar with conditions under which they have toiled for years with indifferent success, and having cases repeatedly brought to their attention where the use of advanced ideas and methods have made success blossom where discouragement was the principal crop, the advisors called upon the farmers to show them. The advisory system has been in operation just one month, and the counselors reported that they are constantly receiving letters from agriculturists requesting appointments to visit so that the confusing problems of each may be discussed. It is the conclusion of the counselors, all of whom are men of practical experience as well as of theoretical knowledge, that farming for next year will be planned this winter upon different lines in many localities than was done this year. Many cases were reported where the farmers were skeptical, but they accepted the opportunity of the advisors a trial. This attitude is naturally representative of men who have been plugging along familiar trails, and are not willing to try any short cuts or new roads untried possibilities have been pointed to them. They are now seeing the light and are willing to investigate what it shines upon.

The NEWSPAPER JOB.

Many people believe that a newspaper falls together without work concerted action or plan. Rev. McLeod, a Presbyterian minister at Pasadena, was of the opinion, and asked to be allowed to edit an edition of the Pasadena Star. The editor had accepted the opportunity to go fishing, and the minister took up his duties in the newspaper office, says the Auxiliary. This is how he felt when he found himself at the end of the task, which it must be said, had been done quite suitably.

"My time is almost up as I pen this last line; my hand is almost paralyzed; my brain is befuddled and I am free to confess that I am right glad to vacate the holy spot. Such a jumble of potpourri; it strikes me as the effort to bring order out of chaos, and to do it lightning quick.

"I am reminded of the memorable words, 'The path was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the waters.' Never shall I criticize newspaper men more. I shall pray for them. They will have my heart's forbearance henceforth and forever. They are the hardest worked, short-lived, poorest paid brain workers on this weary old world of ours."

A Family of Teachers.

Harold Dumm, son of Dr. J. M. Dumm, of Mackeyville, who graduated from the Central State Normal school in 1912 class, has been elected to teach his first term in the Teaport New Jersey schools and left Thursday to assume his new duties. His brother Walter Dumm who has been a teacher for several years at Newark, N. Y., and who has been at his father's home spending his vacation period also left Thursday to resume his work.

Bullet in Cheek 49 Years.

Williamsport Sun and News: Russell J. Hutchinson, the Pine Street gunsmith and veteran of the Civil war is exhibiting a piece of lead which he received while in the battle of Resaca, Ga. On Wednesday of last week Mr. Hutchinson was shaving and when he pulled his razor over that part of his face where he received a bullet wound 49 years ago it stuck. Upon examination he found a piece of lead protruding from his face. After considerable trouble he removed the lead. Mr. Hutchinson was corporal of the color guard when he received the bullet. He is 71 years old and was a member of Company A, 107th, New York State Volunteers.

Life is filled with ups and downs, and with most people the downs seem to predominate.

Maybe some people's prayers are not answered to their satisfaction because they ask for too much.

Improving L. & T. Railroad.

When the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad was purchased several weeks ago by the Pennsylvania railroad following the petition of the bondholders for a foreclosure, the sole owner of the line now is giving its tracks and system some attention in the line of permanent improvements. A construction train with a large force of men has been at work under Supervisors Miller ballasting the road and several miles of new and heavier rails have been laid to replace the lighter steel that had been in use. During the past couple years there had been no little work done on the line in replacing wooden bridges with those of concrete, and when the river bridge at Lewisburg was completed with the erection of a fine steel structure a year ago, heavier engines and rolling stock was used. The present activity on the line indicates that the company may at a future date run some of its freight trains from Sunbury to Tyrone, a small stretch of the road remaining yet to be built between Lemont and Scotia, part of the original survey.

ERUPTION BEHIND CHILD'S EAR

Extended All Over Head, Red and Inflamed, Itched and Burned, Had to Have Hair Cut Off. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

1339 Stanley St., Philadelphia, Pa. — "When my daughter was three years old a raw sore broke out behind the ear which in a short time extended all over the head. It gave her very much annoyance and itching. It was red and inflamed and itched and burned and she lost sleep over it. It caused disfigurement. We had to have her hair cut off close to the head.

"I tried several remedies but of no avail and I had given up hopes of her being cured. So one day I read of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the papers, of what they had done for others, so I gave them a fair trial. I rubbed the Cuticura Ointment on her head and washed her in the morning with the Cuticura Soap. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and in two months she was completely cured." (Signed) C. C. Weik, May 8, 1913.

When you buy a fine toilet soap think of the advantages Cuticura Soap possesses over the most expensive toilet soap ever made. In addition to being absolutely pure and refreshingly fragrant, it is delicately yet effectively medicated, giving you two soaps in one, a toilet and a skin soap at one price. Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.
