

FEMININE FADS.

Decidedly New Is This Four Sided Watch.

THE SQUARE JEWELLED WATCH.

The watch bracelet is a fad which has the merit of being admirably utilitarian.

A new bracelet is pictured here, the tiny jeweled timepiece having a square instead of a round shape, so that it fits the wrist daintily and gracefully.

What Women Are Doing.

Mrs. Joseph Linden Smith is the secretary and moving spirit in a handful of Bostonians who about a year ago banded together for the purpose of reducing the cost of living for their immediate families. Their plan was very simple, consisting only in buying in quantities and directly from the producers. Immediately after their return to town in the fall of 1911 the promoters of the scheme met at one of the homes and a systematic plan was worked out.

The first step was to offer to the farmers in a New Hampshire neighborhood where one of the promoters had a summer home a flat price for all their dairy, poultry and farm products during the winter. This price being somewhat in advance of current prices, the farmers accepted the offer. At first all shipments of supplies were received by one of the thirty members of the cooperative club; then gradually as things took more definite shape a small store was found. To the eggs, chickens, butter, apples and potatoes with which the club started other necessities were added.

Mrs. Edith De Witt Vreeland is said to be the only woman in this country at the head of a shipyard. Mrs. Vreeland's shipyard is off Sandy Hook, and she became managing director on the death of her husband. Mrs. Vreeland is said to have learned every detail of the business.

The very latest cry in Parisian underwear is seen in the cut. This pretty petticoat and brassiere combination fits the figure smoothly, though its peculiarly placed insertions of net and fine machine embroidery suggest a swathed draped effect.

The Delight of Soap Bowls.

The soap bowls have become almost as much of a necessity here as in dear old England, where they originated, for it is said that "dampness, soap and salts" are responsible for the beautiful complexion of the English women. There are, however, soap bowls and soap bowls. In some of them the soap is only of a mediocre quality; in others it is of the best. In the latter class there is a soap bowl containing a soap which has won great favor with fastidious women. It is delightfully perfumed, not too strongly, but subtly and delicately, with a sweetness which is most appealing. These soap bowls, with a whisk, sell for $5, $7.50 and $8.25, according to the size of the bowl.

Electric Motion Signs.

The junior member of a big electrical sign construction company was walking along Broadway with a friend after the theater. He nodded his head toward one of the blazing advertisement displays in which a horse appears on the gallop. "Has it ever occurred to you how detailed must be the work of the sign builder to represent the movements of living beings in bulbs and make them artistically realistic? We have to go far afield sometimes to obtain the life-like effect. That horse, for example, plants his hoofs just as in real life; otherwise that sign would be an animated cartoon. Now, to get the individual or disjointed movements of the legs in their order of sequence the builder minded that the eye of the camera is keener than man's, procured the motion picture film of a galloping horse and examining each snapshot, drew his plans in duplicate. Flashing his bulbs on and off with the same speed employed by a movie operator, the designer has produced the effect of smooth and continuous motion."—New York Sun.

Force of Habit.

There is at Princeton an instructor in mathematics who was country bred, a fact that is frequently betrayed by some homely saying of his. One day an undergraduate had performed some peculiarly useless and complicated process in arriving at the solution of a problem when the instructor said: "This reminds me of a colt once owned by an old friend of mine down east. This colt was put out to pasture after having been fed from its birth in a box stall and watered at a trough in the yard. The pasture lay across a small river, and in the middle of the day the colt would swim the stream to go up to the barn for a drink of water."—Harper's Magazine.

Cause of Many Accidents.

In sentencing a youth who "borrowed" a motor car from its owner's garage without permission to a month's imprisonment the judge declared that men who take automobiles must be punished. This is the cause of a great many accidents. That is where the public interest in the suppression of the practice comes in. Those who do not look below the surface may think that joy riding in a "borrowed" automobile affects only the owner of the car. In this case, as in most others, the next step of the joy rider is to exceed the speed limit. The reckless driving that results in so many accidents to pedestrians, to vehicle drivers and other motorists is seldom done by car owners or responsible chauffeurs. They have consideration for the machine, but the joy rider has no such deterrent. The recklessness that leads him to do this spurs him to disregard the property and safety of others. Not only must such offenders be punished, but in the interest of public safety they must be punished exemplarily, so that, as the judge indicates, their fate may prove a warning to all others.

New Counterfeit $5 Bill.

There seems to be an epidemic of counterfeiters and the United States secret service has redoubled its efforts to catch the offenders. On the heels of an announcement only a few days ago of the discovery of three new counterfeit national bank notes, Acting Chief W. H. Moran warns that the use of a new counterfeit $5 United States note. It is a poor photographic reproduction on paper of fair quality. The treasury seal has been lightly touched with pink ink and a slight attempt has been made to apply green coloring matter to the back of the bill.

Trainman Has Both Legs Crushed.

K. R. McCloud, an employee of the New York Central Railroad, had both legs crushed at Panther run, near Beech Creek, Friday evening, when he attempted to jump on the pilot of a locomotive. The wheels cut off one leg above and the other below the knee. The unfortunate man was placed on the work train and taken to Castanea where the Lock Haven ambulance was in waiting to convey him to the hospital. His condition is said to favor recovery. Mr. McCloud resides at Jersey Shore and is about 35 years of age. He is a married man and has a family of five children.

Burned While Making Apple Butter.

Mrs. James Reish, a farmer's wife living along Sugar Run, Clinton county, was badly burned on Friday afternoon when her clothing caught fire while she was making apple butter in the yard near her home. A young girl whom the woman had taken to raise heard the screams of Mrs. Reish and hurried to her assistance. She succeeded in tearing the burning dress from the older woman but not until Mrs. Reish had been painfully burned from the waist down. The corset which she wore protected the upper part of her body and probably saved her life.

Paid Passengers First.

The passenger conductors along the Pennsylvania lines are being instructed to enforce the rule that in the matter of seats in crowded trains, paid passengers are to be given the preference. As a result of complaints which have been made to the state railway commission within the past year or more, the Pennsylvania officials decreed that where a train was crowded, passengers who paid their fares were to be given seats even if it were necessary to ask passengers traveling on passes to vacate their seats.

Don't suffer longer with weak kidneys. You can get prompt relief by taking Electric Bitters, that wonderful remedy praised by women everywhere. Start with a bottle to-day, you will soon feel like a new woman with ambition to work, without fear of pain. CHALLENGES SCIENTISTS.

A. C. Gearhart Says He Has Discovered a New Calendar of Time. A. C. Gearhart, who formerly lived near Philipsburg, while in that town recently, made a visit to the Journal office, and during the course of conversation he advised them that after five years of unceasing effort in a special study of the Planetary system he is now able to present to the world a perfect calendar of time, dispensing with the short 28 day month, leap years, etc. Mr. Gearhart stated that all changes of the Planetary system occur at midnight. The beginning of the new day, new week, new month and new year, also new moon, first quarter, full moon and last quarter, all occur at midnight. He has discovered that the moon's time is precisely the same as that of the earth in her circuits, each traveling 3,000 miles per hour, 2400 miles per day, or 8,736,000 miles per year. The earth's body being round or circular, the sun produces precisely the same number of days in each month in her journey north as in each month in her return journey south thus producing 30 days in February the same as in November, as the earth's body in the one and same at this point and the same conditions prevail throughout the entire course north and south. In the dawn of creation, or rather at its close, at the end of six days, he states that the Creator set apart the seventh day for a day of rest and the eighth day or Monday was the beginning of time when this work had been accomplished, therefore Monday is the beginning of each new year instead of Wednesday as now recorded in our calendars. This accounts for the short 28th day month. Mr. Gearhart stated he was so sure of his arguments that he is willing to meet any body of scientific men in the world. He says that after a special study of the present calendar, through this long period, he is convinced that it is one continuation of blunders from start to finish, and that he is anxious to meet scientific men and prove these assertions.

3,000 Bushels at Chestnuts.

On his cultivated chestnut farm in Buffalo valley, C. K. Sober, of Lewisburg this year expects to gather 3,000 bushels of nuts. A western commission firm has agreed to take the entire crop at $5 a bushel. Mr. Sober now has a force of men at work spraying the trees for moths and the prevention of worms. If the yield proves as large as Mr. Sober expects it will be the biggest crop he has ever gathered.

Will Lead to Ruin.

The boy who grows up on the streets, subject to no home discipline, knowing no law save the law of his own nature and unopposed will, is likely to develop into an expensive and dangerous member of society. If he escapes ruin it will be wonderful for all his surroundings will lead that way.

Mrs. Youngwife (speaking to grocer)—"I wish to complain about that flour you sold me. It was tough. I made a pie with it and my husband could hardly cut it, and I want some soap, too. Any kind will do, I guess—all soap's alike." Anty Drudge—"My dear young woman, you're a stranger to me, but I hope you will excuse me for speaking to you. I can see that you are inexperienced, and I must tell you to order Fels-Naptha Soap and never use any other kind. When you get as old as I am you will still be using it, too."

Fels-Naptha Soap saves money, time and strength. It does its work quickly, thoroughly and easily in cool or lukewarm water, thus saving the expense of coal or gas. Clothes washed with Fels-Naptha do not have to be hard-rubbed or boiled. Dirt disappears and stains of all kinds—even stubborn blood stains vanish. For all kinds of household use buy it by the carton or box. Follow the easy directions on the Red and Green Wrapper. Fels & Co., Philadelphia.

CONCERNING THE HUNTER.

Editor Centre Democrat:— I write you relative to the situation surrounding hunting in this Commonwealth, especially in that matter regarding the securing of the Resident Hunter's License and would say, the blank licenses and tags were forwarded to the several counties of the Commonwealth about the 1st of September; fifteen days have been given the sportsmen in which to secure the license and tag, and the several game protectors of the state in connection with the state police and others interested in the enforcement of the law will now be directed to arrest individuals who may be found hunting without the license, as required by the aforesaid act. These licenses can be secured only from the several County Treasurers, the Commonwealth or from Justices of the Peace who have been authorized by the County Treasurer to represent him in this matter. They may be secured either personally or by letter. A description of the applicant is necessary. The Game Commission has no authority whatever to issue these licenses to any other person than a County Treasurer. In this connection I desire to say, the law providing that a land-owning tenant residing upon and cultivating land, may hunt upon that land without securing said license; he may also hunt upon land immediately adjacent and connected with his land, without the license, if he secures permission to so hunt from those who control the adjoining land. This privilege covers only the property upon which the owner or tenant resides and cultivates; it does not include other tracts of land lying in different sections of the county or the commonwealth; it does not include the woodland or strip of mountain land that may be located miles away from such place of residence or cultivation. It does include the woodlot that is a part of the actual place of residence, a part of which is under cultivation. We believe we have treated the would-be hunter fairly in this matter, we have given fifteen days and grace after the license blanks and tags have been placed in position when they can be secured and we are now giving notice that those hunting without a license are very liable to be arrested if caught in violating the law. I hope you may see your way to give this letter publication for the benefit of those who may desire to hunt in your section. Respectfully yours, JOSEPH KALBFUS, Secretary, Game Commission.

But it May Be a Lie.

According to the following telegram from Huntingdon the candidates for associate Judge have an opportunity for a diversion from politics at least every 24 hours. Residents living near Fifth and Church streets have been astonished the last few nights by the spectacle of 20 or 25 rats walking on electric wires. The rodents make their home in a stable of the Adams Express company, and every evening, as soon as the shades lengthen, they begin their raid on a home a city block from the stable. Reaching the top of an electric light pole, they creep out on the wire and begin the procession, which is watched by a crowd. The reason the rats do the slack-wire stunt, it is supposed, is because they wish to evade the cats in the neighborhood.

'13' No Hoodoo to This Couple.

The "thirteen" superstition was thoroughly shattered at the wedding of Miss Gladys Bertelle Pettibone and Raymond Harold Bell, both of Chicago, Ill. Here is how the number figured in their lives. The bride was born on May 13 and the groom on Aug. 13. They were married Sept. 13 and the year is 1913. The groom's age is twice 13. At the wedding festivities there were two tables with 13 guests each. They have never considered the number an ill omen.
