Spring Mills, Pa., to Mr. William H.

She is a sister of Mrs. Wilbur F. Burkholder, of this place.

Turner-DeHass. The parsonage of the M. E. church in Bellefonte was the scene of a pret-ty wedding on Wednesday of last week in which the pastor, Rev. Yocum, united in holy bonds Mr. John De-Haas, of Eagleville, and Miss Sara A. Turner of Julian. Following the cer-emony Mr. nd Mrs. DeHaas departed on a brief wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and Canada, and upon their return will reside in Eagleville. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Turner, of Julian, and is held in high esteem by hosts of friends in her home community as well as in Pittsburg where she has been employed for a few years. The groom is an upright young man, in the employ of the Penna. R. R. Co. at Eagleville, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. DeHaas. Gates-Shutt.

A very pretty wedding ceremony was celebrated in St. John's Reformed church this morning at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Martha Adaline Shutt, became the bride of Edward L. Gates, local editor of the Keystone Gazette. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt, pastor of the church, in the presence of the Immediate families of the contracting parties. The happy young couple were attended by Miss Lucile Wetzel, as bridesmaid and Mr. Charles E. Gates, a brother of the groom as best man. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Salinda A. Shutt of east Howard street. She was attired in a brown traveling suit and looked very pretty and attractive. For some time past she has een employed as a linotype operator at the Gazette office and is one of our town's most estimable young ladies. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gates, of east Lamb treet, and besides being local editor of the Gazette is a member of the board of Boro Auditors. Imme-diately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gates left on a wedding tour which they will spend in Altoona, Johnstown, Warriorsmark and Huntingdon. On their return to Bellefonte next week they will go to housekeep-ing in their own cosy little home on east Lamb street which the groom has already furnished for his bride. Both are very popular young people who have hosts of friends who will wish for them a happy and prosperous voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Just back of this building an excellent stone quarry has been opened and here quite a number of men are at work quarry. ing a fine grade of lime stone. The stone was reached close to the surface and is the famous blue lime stone. Other buildings erected in close proximity are a boiler house own light, and water piped from an intake in McBride's Gap supplies them with 350,000 gallons of pure water every day. In the rear of the intake Ishler house they are now erecting a building 108x20 feet of re-inforced concrete, two stories in height. On the second floor there will be accommodations for 120 men. The first floor wid contain a kitchen, dining room and recreation room and shower baths. Most of this work is be-ing done by the prisoners, who are in charge of the boss carpenter, Ammon Karstetter, of Pleasant Gap.
Next in authority to Supt. Francies is Deputy Warden William Daufenbach, who on the 8th of September, 1912, came here with eight prisoners and began the work of preparing the building for the reception of more men. To his indefatigable efforts much of the work accomplished is due. He is a big, genial, able offi-cial, who has the success of this big venture at heart and who is, at the same time, kind and thoughful for the men under him. The prisoners are dressed in black suits, except those having indeterminate sentence, who wear a blue suit with a small gold braid. The men all seemed con-tented and cheerful out in God's sunshine, and unless you had been dif-ferently informed, you would never suspect they were men under the restraint of prison authority. The officers in charge are William Daufenbach, Deputy Warden; Joseph W. Herron, chief engineers; David Yoder, mechanical engineer; E. E. Dr. Hill made the demonstrations and lectures of practical value and personal interest to his hearers. The women of the county felt for the first time that their problems on the farm had been thought worthy of attention by the state.

Hygiene of the farm, so long neglected, was emphasized. Mothers listened at the morning session to a scientific talk on the preparation of food for children. In the afternoon simple methods of canning were demonstrated and various helps in this home industry were displayed. The use of the fireless cooker was shown and a vacuum washer was exhibited. The women had a new and encouraging aspect of farm work revealed to them and at the close of the sessions realized that they had been brought in contact with hitherto unknown in-fluences which are working to system-
