

Correspondence

(CONTINUED.)

HOWARD.

It is unfortunately true that the fruit of discord is frequently preserved in family jars.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach at Port Matilda at eleven o'clock, and at Unionville at half past seven.

Reformed—Pastor E. J. Zechman will preach at Jacksonville at half past ten, at Marsh Creek at half past two, and in Howard at half past seven.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Marion at half past seven in the evening of Saturday, Oct. 4, and the following Sabbath will preach at Snow Shoe Intersection at half past ten, and at Curtin at half past seven.

The Union Prayer Meeting.

The fourth of this interesting series of meetings held in the Reformed church last Thursday, was the most successful, if we may judge from the number in attendance and interest manifested, so far had. The fact that numbers and interest have increased from the first, with each succeeding observance, has given great encouragement to the pastors of the several churches interested, and the meetings will be continued indefinitely, practical without change of plans the meeting for this evening being in the Methodist church, because of some renovation to be made upon the United Evangelical church, in which it would otherwise have been held.

For some weeks the Ministerial association has been earnestly considering the possibility of holding a series of general evangelistic meetings, to last two weeks or more, as may seem advisable, in which all the pastors and congregations should labor together for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom, aided by some one or more ministers from outside the limits of our parishes, who have had large experience in conducting such special work. At the meeting of the association on Monday it was the consensus of opinion of those present that the gratifying success of the Union prayer meetings indicate that the time is near at hand when such a continuous meeting can be launched with bright hope of good to the community; and that the considerations and discussions of the subject already had should crystallize into well defined preliminary work. As the logical outgrowth of this thought, the following outline of plan was tentatively agreed upon: Time, the first and second week of January 1914, thus giving three months for preparatory work. Place, whichever one or more, or all of the churches, as conditions may indicate. That the union meetings might be considered, conducted and utilized as leading up to this evangelistic meeting as a climax of earnest effort for the saving of souls and the glory of God in our community. The details of arrangement for the filling out, getting into workable condition and putting into execution this outline of plan was left to a committee of the three resident ministers. This will involve the securing of an evangelist; the organization of a union choir; the raising of a small fund which will be required to meet the small, but necessary incidental expenses, and such other minor matters the need for which may develop as the work progresses. If the careful, thoughtful work of the pastors is backed up by the sympathetic and energetic work of all the membership of all the churches of the town this effort for the development of the Christian spirit of the community should prove an inspiring success.

Robert Bower Holter Dead. At six o'clock in the evening of Thursday, Sept. 25, at his home in Bellefonte, Bower Holter came to the end of a life which was all too short, but the last years of which had been filled with such bodily ills that the end was to him a longed for relief. He was born here in Howard, Jan. 19, 1879, the son of Capt. H. C. and Mary Hall Holter. He received his school training here, and was a graduate of the High school. Later he became familiar with the trade of printing, and took part in the work of editing and publishing the Howard Hustler. On the fifth of October 1905, he married Julia D. Steele, of Bellefonte, since which time he has been largely a resident of this town, and, as his frail health permitted, assisted in the local and correspondence work of the Bellefonte Republican.

He leaves his widow and one little son, William, his father, six brothers who bore him the sadness to the grave, and three sisters. In early boyhood he joined the Methodist church, and during all his subsequent life, served his church and his Maker with all the faithfulness his physical ills permitted. The funeral occurred in Bellefonte last Monday, and he was lain beside the little son who preceded him a few years ago. He was a good boy, a good man a good citizen and always did his best as he was given strength to do. In addition to this widow, little son and father, he leaves behind the following named brothers and sisters: Daniel W. Howard; Mrs. L. C. Thompson, Orviston; Mrs. W. I. Gordon, Columbus; John S. Johnsonburg; Mrs. J. A. Kundt, and David A. Columbus; Philip C. Howard; Cameron B. Altoona; Walter H. Howard. The friends from here who attended his funeral at Bellefonte are: the Misses Laura and Idella Williams, T. A. Fletcher, Mrs. C. B. Schenck, Mrs. J. Z. Loder, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holter, Eugene W. Kline, W. F. Hall, Shuman Holter, Mrs. Lon. Holter, Mrs. Jno. H. Wagner, F. S. Dunham, H. T. McDowell, James Holter and William Weber.

A High Standard. The public school should produce men and women who are uniformly courteous; who always respect truth, honor and purity; who are happier and healthier because of their attendance at school; with power to adjust themselves to new and unusual demands of energy; to read to spell ad to use arithmetic for the every-day needs of life; to desire to grow, to enjoy good reading, and to think pure and ennobling thoughts.

This unquestionably high standard of accomplishment for the public school is set by Prof. Roacka, of Kentucky, and while it is, perhaps, in its fullest development, out of reach, it is well worth the setting, and may be adopted by the teaching profession and the directing bodies of our schools as a goal to earnestly strive for. What a community could be built up within a generation or two, if every teacher and director in Howard were to accept this as the standdard by which their efforts were to be measured.

Teachers' Meeting. At the close of last Friday evening exercises Prof. Fletcher announced that at half past seven in the evening of next Friday (to-morrow) a teachers' meeting will be held. All teachers within convenient distance are earnestly urged to be present, and all patrons are cordially invited. Only good can come to the communities from such meetings as this, and the house should be filled with earnest teacher-workers, and interested parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kane, of Zion, were guests of Miss Annie Kane over Sunday.

Miss Alice Rickard, of Milesburg, is the guest of Miss Emma Robb, this week.

Mrs. John H. Wagner and daughter, Miss Hilda, were Lock Haven visitors last Friday.

Miss Ella Butler and brother Frank visited Mrs. Clark of Mill Hill, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Yearick spent the week-end with friends at State College.

Mrs. Amanda McClure, of Mill Hill, visited Mrs. William Quay, the last days of last week.

Miss Mitchell Weaver and Mrs. Alonzo Henderson were eastward passengers Thursday morning.

Mrs. R. S. Taylor and son Rollin, of Charlton, are guests of postmaster Wilmer F. Hall and family.

Mr. Lewis Carr and little daughter, of Altoona, spent Saturday last with grandpa and grandma Weirick.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensyl Johnson came up from their new Jersey Shore home to spend Sunday with relatives here.

Miss Florence Gardner left last Saturday for Altoona where she will attend school during the coming winter.

Mr. Peter Robb left Friday morning for a week or two of visiting among friends in Huntington, Carlisle and Jersey Shore.

J. F. C. Lucas, chief clerk of the Bellwood division, with his family, spent Sunday with his father-in-law, Thomas Daughenbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Cincera E. Yearick, of Philadelphia, and formerly well known here, are happy over the advent of a dear little girl in their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ritzman entertained Mrs. P. P. Rittman of Lock Haven and Mrs. Frank Richardson, of Chicago, sisters of Mrs. Ritzman, last Thursday.

Mrs. Katherine Hastings, formerly of Beech Creek, and now residing with her daughter in Williamsport, is a guest in the homes of W. L. and Robert E. Cooke.

Miss Iva Woodring, of Port Matilda, is visiting friends here this week, and with her friend, Alfred Confer, spent Monday with the family of Mr. Frank Confer.

The Misses Florence Confer and Trenea Fletcher, accepted an invitation to a handsome supper in their honor, extended by Miss Ethel Bitner, of the west end.

Miss Bennisson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henderson, Mrs. Charles Bowes, A. A. Fletcher and Mrs. John Boon, were eastward passengers on No. 59 Saturday morning.

Thomas Berry and James Kipple, of Altoona, came on a motorcycle from Altoona, for a Sunday dinner with Miss Rebecca Lucas and family, returning in the afternoon.

Miss Ruth Kerstetter, of Pleasant Gap, escorted by her friend, Samuel Noll, came by way of the motorcycle, Sunday afternoon to call on their friends, the Misses Hilda Wagner and Florence Confer.

John F. Lucas and family, and James Lucas, of Moshannon, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson Lucas, of Washington, D. C. came in their car Thursday last, for a few days with C. C. Lucas and family.

Mrs. Anna Crawford, sister of Edward Welsh, of Romola, who has been keeping house for him since the death of his wife, with her daughter Sarah, have gone on a month's visit to friends in Lock Haven and Jeffersonville.

Mrs. Caroline Commerford left on Sunday morning with her two sweet little granddaughters, Josephine and Caroline for Pittsburg, where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Harger, returning here in the early spring.

A card from our good friend, Miss Emma Fletcher reports that she is greatly enjoying her visit in the big Jersey City of Trenton, and the home of President Wilson, Princeton, and she does not even mention the renowned New Jersey muskito.

Editor F. E. Dunham's "movies" are proving enough of a success to encourage him in building on his home lot, a permanent building, thirty feet wide and fifty feet long, to accommodate the picture loving public. Here's wishing him all sorts of good luck.

Miss Etta A. Neese, of Blanchard, and Charles E. Clark, of Bellefonte, were married Thursday last, Oct. 25, at the United Evangelical parsonage, by Rev. M. J. Snyder, and the Howard letter wishes for the happy young people many years full of all good things.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Rogers entertained last Saturday, D. H. Kloss, wife and daughter, Samuel Wilson, treasurer of the Altoona Trust Company, and Samuel I. Stone, assistant District Attorney of Blair county, all of Altoona, and relatives of the Rogers family.

John Miller, of Romola, left Thursday morning for Harrisburg, with his three young orphan granddaughters, with the purpose of placing them in the Dunkard school at Grantham, Cumberland county, with which Enos Hess, formerly well known here as a preacher among those of his faith, and George Haagen are connected as teachers.

Miss Mittie H. Lucas, long time caterer to the exacting taste of the ladies of our town in matters of millinery, has just returned from Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia, where she closely studied the styles and materials of the coming season, and brought with her a large lot of carefully selected hats that are just "chic." Of course she will be delighted to show them to all her old friends and as many new ones as may be disposed to call.

The following paragraph taken from the Lancaster New Era will interest every Howard reader. Congratulations to the happy and handsome couple: "The home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Z. Hess, of New Danville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday noon, when their daughter, Miss Ada Mary, was united in marriage to Mr. George C. Haagen, of Howard, Centre county, Pa., by Bishop C. N. Hostetter. The attendants were Miss Emma Hess, sister of the bride; Mr.

L. W. Wingert, of Chambersburg; Miss Mary Murray, of Millersburg; Mr. D. Avery Hess, brother of the bride. The ushers were Miss Effie Eckman, of Quarryville, and Mr. Arthur Keene of Chistiana. After the ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served. The bride received many handsome and useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Haagen will make their future home at Grantham, Pa., where the bridegroom is a teacher."

Our genial friends, Mrs. and Franklin Confer, of the township held quite a family reception last Sunday. The following named were the favored guests: Mr. and Mrs. Strout, with their children, Lenora, Dolly and Earnest; Mr. and Mrs. Foster Gardner with the children, Lillian, May and Olive; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Confer and baby; Mrs. Hayes Schenck and son Merrill; Mrs. William Confer; Annie and Clair Confer; Russell Schenck and Carrie Smeltzer, of Chicago.

Mrs. John B. Holter, with her pretty little daughter Carrie, left Wednesday for State College, where Mrs. Holter rented a large house, No. 598 College Avenue, and will take rooms and table boarders. Mr. Holter specially requests me to say that he is not "keeping bachelor's hall" as reported, but is very profitably employed at present by the N. Y. C. railroad and cannot drop his job just at this time, so their handsome home will be locked up for the present, excepting when he can get here over Sunday, once in two or three weeks, until he can find a suitable renter or purchaser, with the idea of selling the family at State College. Thus we are losing another of our good, substantial families.

The first meeting of the Literary Society of our school took place last Friday evening, and is spoken of by those who were privileged to attend in terms quite complimentary, particularly with reference to the debate upon the resolution that "Curiosity leads men farther than necessity can drive them." The participants were well prepared and their work gave evidence of a good deal of earnest effort. Those who upheld the affirmative were Marguerite Kane, Anna Letch, Donald Gardner and George Foreman; while Pearl Fletcher, Geo. Pifer, Flossy Gardner and Miriam Lucas, as stoutly attacked. The judges whose decision in favor of the negative was approved by the audience were Charles Robb, Mary Richner and Ivy Pifer.

A live, untamed and untrammelled weasel, enjoying life in his own way, is not a frequent sight in the busy street of a town, but we had just that last Friday morning, on our most frequent piece of the sidewalk near the residence of J. Sumner Wolf, half way between the post office and the Kline and Wolf store. The little fellow was seen by a dozen or more people of whom the writer as one, coming up out of his hole in the sidewalk near the foundation of the house, again and again, looking right into the faces of the bystanders, some of whom were within five feet of him, boldly, curiously and steadily, as though they were there for his amusement. How long the pretty show might have lasted no one can tell, for mindful of his eggs and little chicks, Kline Wolf got his gun and—the weasel at once ran away.

Married at Howard. Edgar Clark, of Bellefonte, and Miss Ellen Neese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Neese, of near Blanchard, were quietly married at the Evangelical parsonage in Howard last Thursday, by the Rev. Snyder, pastor of the church of that denomination. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will make their abode at the home of the bride's parents, on the Crider farm, near Blanchard.

BOY SHOT BY COMPANION. Reed McGill, the 14-year-old son of Lewis H. McGill, of Lock Haven, was accidentally shot and killed Sunday afternoon while walking on the public road near the Burrell farm, in the east end of Nittany valley. On Saturday he and a companion went to the Burrell farm to spend the day and they remained over Sunday. On their way home McGill suddenly fell in a heap on the road, and two gentlemen who were passing at the time in a buggy picked him up. Before a physician could be secured the boy had died, and it was supposed the death was the result of eating too many chestnuts. While the undertaker was preparing the body for burial he discovered a bullet wound in the back. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that a .22-calibre bullet had struck the second rib, piercing a large artery which caused death by internal hemorrhages.

At an inquest held on Tuesday forenoon it developed that young McGill came to his death by a bullet from a gun in the hands of Edward Mayes, aged 14 years, son of William Mayes, who occupies the Snyder farm. The Mayes lad, in his own defense, testified that he did not see McGill at the time he fired the shot at a chipmunk. He was of the opinion that the shot glanced and then struck the McGill boy. Mayes was held in the sum of $1,000 for a hearing on October 7th.

—Paul Rainey's African Hunt pictures are thrilling and awe-inspiring. See them at the opera house tomorrow and Saturday, afternoon and night.

—International Opera Company opens Star Course this year. Five numbers, $1. 37-1f.

ORVISTON. Mrs. William Gray and two sons, John and Sheldon, are visiting in Lock Haven at the home of Mr. Gray's parents.

Mrs. James Heverly and three children spent a few days very pleasantly with Frank Long and wife, of Salona.

Mrs. Mary Y. Daley and daughter, Miss Maude, spent Saturday with William Heverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kelsey, of Flemington, spent a week here with their daughter, Mrs. Ives Harvey.

Mrs. David Confer is visiting at Romola.

Mrs. Jere Flack has been quite sick the past week and isn't much improved at this writing.

Mrs. G. T. Lomison is also numbered with the sick, and Charles Page has not been so well.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody visited their daughter, Mrs. Wellers, at Flemington, on Saturday.

Alvie Confer, wife and daughter Lois, spent Sunday at the home of Jacob Confer, at Romola.

Bert Morgeret spent Sunday with his friend, Sam Poorman, at Hunters Run.

Excitement ran high in Orviston Sunday morning when it was discovered that a man had been killed some-where Saturday night by a train. His head was severed and lay quite a distance from the body which was terribly mutilated.

Frank Bowes was called to Philadelphia on Friday to the bedside of a very sick sister.

A birthday party was held at the home of Ed. Welsh in honor of his daughter, Miss Gladys. Those who attended were Miss Charity Catherine Confer, Ruth Heverly, Annie Boon, Margaret Flack, Lillian Huey, Gladys Welsh, Clara Hastings, John Confer, Herbert Confer, Garland Patterson, John Knarr, William Ridge, Hammel Huey, Boyd Kellerman, Roger Poorman, Willis Thompson, Chauncey Welsh, Alton Poorman. They spent the evening in various games and music; delicious refreshments were served and after wishing Miss Gladys many happy returns of the day, all departed for their homes.

Miss Margaret Humes has returned to her home here; she has been spending some time in Lock Haven.

Harry Marshall and little son arrived in town Saturday and were the guests of Mrs. Carrol Brown.

Miss Annie L. Boon, of Howard, spent Sunday with Ruth Heverly.

Mrs. John Irvin did shopping in Lock Haven on Tuesday.

Mrs. Cora Burd was a caller at Frank Long's at Salona on Saturday.

Jacob McCloskey and wife are visiting in Fleming and Bellefonte this week.

Mrs. George Hebley spent Sunday at Lock Haven.

COLEVILLE. Beryl Stover is very sick with rheumatism. Hope he will soon recover.

Coleville is right in style. H. E. Garbrick has a concrete block in front of his store.

The people of this place are sorry to hear of Rev. Winey's removal.

Married at Howard. Edgar Clark, of Bellefonte, and Miss Ellen Neese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Neese, of near Blanchard, were quietly married at the Evangelical parsonage in Howard last Thursday, by the Rev. Snyder, pastor of the church of that denomination. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will make their abode at the home of the bride's parents, on the Crider farm, near Blanchard.

BOY SHOT BY COMPANION. Reed McGill, the 14-year-old son of Lewis H. McGill, of Lock Haven, was accidentally shot and killed Sunday afternoon while walking on the public road near the Burrell farm, in the east end of Nittany valley. On Saturday he and a companion went to the Burrell farm to spend the day and they remained over Sunday. On their way home McGill suddenly fell in a heap on the road, and two gentlemen who were passing at the time in a buggy picked him up. Before a physician could be secured the boy had died, and it was supposed the death was the result of eating too many chestnuts. While the undertaker was preparing the body for burial he discovered a bullet wound in the back. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that a .22-calibre bullet had struck the second rib, piercing a large artery which caused death by internal hemorrhages.

At an inquest held on Tuesday forenoon it developed that young McGill came to his death by a bullet from a gun in the hands of Edward Mayes, aged 14 years, son of William Mayes, who occupies the Snyder farm. The Mayes lad, in his own defense, testified that he did not see McGill at the time he fired the shot at a chipmunk. He was of the opinion that the shot glanced and then struck the McGill boy. Mayes was held in the sum of $1,000 for a hearing on October 7th.

—Paul Rainey's African Hunt pictures are thrilling and awe-inspiring. See them at the opera house tomorrow and Saturday, afternoon and night.

—International Opera Company opens Star Course this year. Five numbers, $1. 37-1f.

ORVISTON. Mrs. William Gray and two sons, John and Sheldon, are visiting in Lock Haven at the home of Mr. Gray's parents.

Mrs. James Heverly and three children spent a few days very pleasantly with Frank Long and wife, of Salona.

Mrs. Mary Y. Daley and daughter, Miss Maude, spent Saturday with William Heverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kelsey, of Flemington, spent a week here with their daughter, Mrs. Ives Harvey.

Mrs. David Confer is visiting at Romola.

Mrs. Jere Flack has been quite sick the past week and isn't much improved at this writing.

Mrs. G. T. Lomison is also numbered with the sick, and Charles Page has not been so well.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody visited their daughter, Mrs. Wellers, at Flemington, on Saturday.

Alvie Confer, wife and daughter Lois, spent Sunday at the home of Jacob Confer, at Romola.

Bert Morgeret spent Sunday with his friend, Sam Poorman, at Hunters Run.

KATZ & COMPANY

We announce that every department in the store is now complete with all the New Merchandise and Novelties for the coming season.

KATZ & COMPANY

IF YOU HAVEN'T SEEN the New Suits and Overcoats we've got ready for you, don't wait any longer. The new models are better than you've ever seen, the prices are easy.

We've a great treat in store for you when you come here—we've a selection to offer, surpassing any of our former showings. Style goodness, style extreme, style conservative, in a diversity of materials and fabrics that is unusual.

For the fellow who wants to be a little ahead, we've New English Models, made especially to our specifications and ideas that are really advanced styles—styles other clothiers wont show until next season.

For the conservative dresser we've refined, handsome models that are absolutely correct without being extreme.

DISTINCTIVE, SMART EVERY ONE OF THEM.

Price range is $10, $12.50, $15, $18 and higher. You'll find a Suit or Overcoat here to measure up to your taste at whatever price you care to invest, and the fullest value at each price.

New velvet neckwear, new soft hats in the favored browns and blues. In this week.

STORE CLOSED SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11th—HOLIDAY.

SPECIAL SALE

Thursday, Friday and Saturday OF THIS WEEK.

	Our Reg. Price	Price $25 $75
5 gal. Kerosene Oil	1.25	.75
Loose Coffee	.19	.25
Flour, per sack	1.25	1.35
Rice, per pound	.07	.10
Seeded Raisins	.09	.12
Canned Tomatoes	.09	.13
Banner Lye, 3 for	.25	.30
Arm & Hammer Soda	.9	1.15
5-lb box Oat Flake	.21	.25
Dunhams Coconut	.08	.10
Walter Bakers Choc.	.19	.25
Federal Stock Food	.20	.25
Canned Salmon	.10	.15
Shred. Wheat, 2lb.	.23	.25
Blueing, per bottle	.07	.10
Corn Starch	5c

FOR CASH ONLY. Ask for coupons.

WE PAY BUTTER, per lb.30c. POTATOES, per bushel....65c. POTATOES WANTED

Gillen, the Grocer, Both phones. Bellefonte, Pa. (Next door to Ceader's bakery)