HOWARD.

"It is heroic to meet and resist temptation."

In Our Churches.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Fairview at half past ten, at Jacksonville at half past two, and in Howard at half past seven.

Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach at Jacksonville at eleven o'clock, and in Howard at half past seven.

Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will preach at Mt. Bethel at half past ten, and at Salona at half past seven.

Catholic—Pastor S. P. Caprio will conduct service at St. Bernard's church at ten o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal—Pastor James Edwin Dunning will preach in Howard at half past ten, at Beech Creek at half past seven, Rev. M. C. Piper will preach at Curtin at half past ten.

A Good Suggestion.

However much the intellectual development of the child may be the task of the common school, moral training is even more so, since the former without the latter is not only of "doubtful value," but may become actively detrimental to the public weal. Yet, in our own State, as in Ohio and Colorado, "Ethical culture has little or no place in our public school curriculum—a fact to be all the more deplored, since it is equally neglected in the majority of homes." I have quoted thus liberally from the introductory paragraph to a little story giving an example of how good work, invaluable work in this direction, can be done by the thoroughly competent teacher, notwithstanding the deficiency of the curriculum, and further quote the story in full, as it appeared in Saturday's Philadelphia Record, with acknowledgment to Miss Brownlee, and the correspondent, "F. M. C." of Denver, Col. Nowhere in our own State, or either of the others referred to, would such work as this bring forth better fruit, and nowhere is it more needed, than here in Howard.

This problem is now engaging the attention of some of our foremost educators, none of whom have solved it more successfully than Miss Brownlee, principal of the LaGrange public school, in Toledo, O. In this school one of the moral virtues is selected for study each week. The subject is written on the blackboard of each classroom, with appropriate quotations, and also displayed on a large banner in the main hallway. Every morning there is a five-minute talk or story pertaining to the theme, followed by discussion. The children are taught the power of right thoughts, desires and acts to mold the brain, embody the character and promote the highest happiness. They are inspired by stories of deeds of moral heroism. In all the life and work of the school the moral instruction is practically exemplified. The results have been most encouraging.

Old Coins.

Fearing out some of the window casings in the renovating of the old H. C. Holter house, brought to light several little things which had hidden themselves away during the many years through which the old log structure has stood. Perhaps the most interesting is a specimen, in an excellent state of preservation, of the old U. S. cartwheel copper cent, with the wreath on the obverse, and the labelled head of Liberty on the reverse, and dated 1817, found by P. C. Holter. Though lacking but four years of being a century old, this is one of the last authorized issue of copper cents, (Act of 1796) and of the lightest weight, one hundred and sixty-eight grains. The first cents, made under Act of 1792 weighed two hundred and sixty-four grains, which was reduced by act of 1793, to two hundred and eight grains. It is something of a coincidence that the only other coin found by Mr. Holter was another cent, dated 1853, issued under act 1857, (the act which abandoned all the copper cents) a compound of eighty-eight per cent of copper, and twelve per cent nickle, weighing but seventy-two grains, and which, by reason of its light color, owing to the nickle in its composition is sometimes known as "the white cent." The writer remembers very well the interest with which the advent of these new light weight and light colored cents was awaited, when he was a "printer's devil" on the old "Lycoming Gazette, founded 1801" in Williamsport and the first of which he ever saw were a small number placed in his hand by the then most distinguished citizen of the town, William F. Packinney, who had been elected governor in the same year in which the coin was authorized.

Council Meeting.

Messrs. Fox, Mayes, McDowell, Pletcher and Schenck were present, and minutes were read and approved. Street committee reported that the sidewalk on the Black street side of the Hayes Schenck residence had been laid by the committee at a total cost of $52.17. Authority to raise to a proper level the crossing between the residences of M. L. Beck and Norman Lighthammer was granted. Secretary was directed to notify Rev. C. L. McKinney by registered delivery letter, to put down a new sidewalk at his Main street home within ten days; and to notify H. A. Moore to raise to the proper grade the short piece of sidewalk fronting his house within fifteen days. Secretary was also directed to notify Kline and Wolf to provide better drainage for the water that collects in front of their store. Water committee reported reservoir leaking, and methods of stopping it were discussed, but no action taken. Nuisance committee was instructed to prepare an ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks within the borough. Complaint was made of the increasing rowdiness too prevalent upon our streets in the evenings, and particularly Saturday evening, when it sometimes lasts until the early hours of Sunday. Special mention was made of a few young men from neighboring localities, who come here drunk and make themselves very offensive. Methods for stopping it were discussed, but no action taken. Bills to the amount of $114.99, including the light, rent and costs of the Hayes Schenck pavement, were ordered paid.

Week's Improvements.

A double coat of white paint, administered by Z. T. Welrick and A. Confer, to the old A. W. Gardner house and the new porch which William H. Thompson has added to it, and the removal of the front fence, make a very bright, clean spot where a much faded one has heretofore offended the eye. C. M. Fox has removed the fence from the front of his lawn and is now putting down a new class concrete sidewalk four feet wide, the hole width of his lot. As his home is the first one on the south side of the street as the town is approached from Bellefonte, this will help give a good "first impression" to the rapidly growing number of automobilists who drive our way. George S. Williams has already torn out one or two of the timeworn back buildings of the Mahaffey house, which he now owns and is building a new kitchen, with bath room and clothes room above, and re-arranging the main hall and stairway. While this will not appear on the face of things, it will materially add to the comfort and convenience of the residential portion of the "Green Front" property.

Mrs. James Heverly Dead.

Mrs. Heverly, who died about four o'clock Wednesday, yesterday morning, was born Miss Alice DeLong at Blanchard, Sept. 6, 1855, a daughter of James I. DeLong, by his first wife, Oct. 8, 1877, she was married to James H. Heverly, and came to Howard to live, making this her home ever since. To this union were born four children, Mary E., now Mrs. John Beck, of Easton, Pa.; Alta A., now Mrs. Adam H. Kline, Charles L., and Mand Ellen, at home. Mr. Heverly passed away some years ago, but all the children live to mourn the mother. In early life Mrs. Heverly united with the old Disciple church under the ministry of elder Nathan L. Mitchell, and lived the remainder of her life rigidly adherent to her faith and hopes. Mr. Mitchell received her into the church by immersion, and later performed the marriage ceremony for her. The funeral will take place at her late home, Sunday at two o'clock, and interment will be made in the Methodist cemetery.

Y. M. C. A. Organized.

Note has been made in this letter of one or two meetings which have been held preliminary to the organization of a Y. M. C. A. for Howard, and it is pleasant to be able to announce that such an organization effected Friday afternoon, by Mr. H. R. Austin, County Secretary. As will be seen by the list of names of those who constitute the membership of the section already started in the good work, these are our very young men, but they are old enough to feel the need of it, and have taken it up with splendid energy and a good fellowship and service which will win out, and work great good in the community. Thomas Kessinger, Pres.; Willard Holter, Vice Pres.; Ralph Mayes, Sec.; Gregg Wensel, Treas.; Richard Smith, Richard Hoffman, Willard Neff, Harold Mayes, Roy Delh, Paul Shay, Donald Shay, Lee Tice, Stanley Wagner, Walter Kurtz, Kenneth Snyder, Edwin Robb, Jason Snyder, leader.

Chicken and Waffles.

With ice cream and cake, at cetera, etc., will be served by the ladies of the Methodist church in the evening of next Saturday, Oct. 11, in the new vacant house just across the alley from the post office. Go and get a good supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Walker were Bellefonte shoppers last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Mathias Walker and young son were Bellefonte passengers Saturday morning.

Miss Sue Irvin, of Pittsburg, was a guest last week of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Mayes.

T. A. Pletcher was a business visitor at the Clinton county capital, Thursday.

Mr. Thomas Mayes and wife, of Bellefonte, were Sunday guests of Mr. J. Will. Mayes.

Joseph Loder has returned from his trip in search of better health, somewhat improved.

Mrs. Moore, of Flemington, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Wister, Friday last.

A. W. Good, of Williamsport, visited at the home of Charles E. Yearick one day last week.

Thomas Burns, a former Howard township boy, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. J. L. DeHass.

Mrs. Heaton, of Clearfield, formerly Miss Clara Bowes, is a guest of her uncle, Thomas Bowes.

Mrs. S. F. Kline and son Eugene W., are in Altoona, as the guests of Prof. and Mrs. George H. Robb.

Miss Kate Beldeman, of Harrisburg, as the week-end guest of her nephew, Rev. James Edwin Dunning.

Miss Martha Williams, of New York City, was a guest of her cousins, the George E. Williams family, Friday last.

William Pletcher, of Eaglesmere, visited his brothers, Charles and Chauncey, and other relatives, last week.

Mr. Ira C. Johnson is the representative elder in the Lick Run church at Presbytery, sitting this week in Altoona.

Charles E. Lucas, late of Gallitzen, came to town Monday evening, and it is possible that he will again make this his home.

E. Frank Williams left for Philadelphia Tuesday morning, purposing to stop off a day at Milton, and then on to the city of Penrose.

Mrs. Matthew Rogers, Jr., Mrs. T. E. Thomas and the Misses Maud and Gertrude Thomas were Lock Haven business visitors Tuesday.

Miss Mary Allison left Thursday afternoon for a stay of a few weeks with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Cincera Yearick in Philadelphia.

Mrs. and Dr. E. S. Dorworth, of Bellefonte, and Mr. and Mrs. William Dorworth, of Baltimore, spent Thursday calling upon old friends here.

Edward Manbeck, of Harrisburg, came up from a trip to Lock Haven Thursday, for a between trains chat with his friend, Matthew Rogers, Jr.

The Misses Eisie Haazen, of Beech Creek, and Carrie Smitzer, of Clinch, were guests of Miss Mollie Yearick and Mrs. Jordan, over the week-end.

William H. Neff, of Howard, and recently employed at Renovo, is one of that town's victims of typhoid fever, and is now in the Lock Haven hospital, seriously ill.

John Forsman spent a portion of last week painting the trolley bridge over Beech Creek, below Beech Creek town, with the Leathers Brothers' excellent patent paint.

Mrs. Bertha Robb Kunkle went to Lock Haven Friday to spend the day with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Howard Robb, who is a hospital patient, with good prospect of being home soon.

Mrs. John Baney, Mrs. William Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac R. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Thomas represented this community at the Baptist assembly at Eaglesville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Pifer with daughter, Miss Ivy, Miss May Richner, Miss Annie Confer, Mrs. Cyrus Tice, Mrs. Arthur Youtas and Mrs. Samuel Aloy were eastward bound passengers on No. 50, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tice, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pletcher, the three ladies being sisters, spent Sunday with grandpa and grandma, William R. Schenck, "out home on the farm."

John D. Hall, some years ago a husky farmer lad of our township, later conductor on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, and now a prosperous business man of York, spent a day or two of last week with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. "Christie" Schenck took their fine big, handsome baby to State College Saturday, to show her to some of their friends and relatives, and give her an early start toward the college education which they hope to give her.

As all his friends know, Mr. Charles E. Yearick has been sadly afflicted with rheumatism for many years. Last Wednesday Dr. Charles Neushaeffer, of Philadelphia, gave him an electric treatment which promises good results.

W. H. Holter, assistant in the C. C. Lucas store, took a vacation last week and spent the time with his brother, R. H. Holter and family in Rochester, bringing home with him some samples of the fine fruit for which that section is noted.

While working over the wheel pit at the Central Electric Company, Monday, Benjamin Wetland broke through the scaffold and fell to the bottom, about twelve feet. His injuries are a long scalp wound requiring several stitches, and a number of severe bruises. He is now resting.

Saturday last Mrs. Jacob Robb accompanied her mother-in-law, widow of the late Peter Robb, Sr., to Altoona, where she will, for some time, be the guest of her son, Prof. George Robb, principal of the High schools of the Mountain City. Notwithstanding her eighty-four years, the kindly old lady was active and bright, seemingly anticipating the visit with much pleasure.

The teachers meeting held last Friday evening was the first of a series of similar ones which it is proposed to be held every second Friday evening during the winter. The next will be Friday, Oct. 17, and will open at half past seven. Not many were in attendance and but little more was done than makes a preliminary organization, and arrange for the work of the one following. The subjects chosen were To Teach Reading and How to Teach the Principles of Arithmetic. The brief discussions that were had while selecting these subjects indicate that they may be made very interesting. Tardiness, the bane of school work, was touched upon and the remedies for it will probably constitute the subject of some of the future meetings. Miss Fisher, incidentally mentioned that she met with a considerable degree of success in overcoming it by opening the morning work with some entertaining story or recital, a foreknowledge of which tends to bring the pupils promptly.

Potato raising, apple butter making and house cleaning are all the go. Guests at the home of T. P. Beighol on Sunday were: Mrs. Anna Poorman and children, of Waddie, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kern, of Hubertown, and Jessie Kern, of Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beck, of State College, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Glossner.

Saturday and Sunday a home coming reunion was held at the old home, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Noll, when Mrs. Noll's five sisters and their families met. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Lridge and son Willard, of Jersey Shore; Mrs. Geo. Tate and three children, of Yeagerstown; Mr. and Mrs. Newton Dorman and children, of Avis; Mr. and Mrs. Russel Stamm and children, of east end of the township; Miss Sara Hoy, of Valpariso, Indiana; and their aunt, Mrs. Tillie Peck and son Ralph, of Huxton. Each one brought something with them to satisfy the inner man. After a sumptuous dinner to which they all did justice, the guests assembled in front of the Reformed church and had a picture of the group taken to remember the occasion.

Mrs. William Long, of Waddie, spent a few days in our town the past week.

Miss Alta Yearick spent Sunday at Bellefonte; some attraction. Ask Nevlin.

Alvie Confer, who is employed on the Central Railroad up Beech Creek, paid a visit to his family here the past week.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Friends of Spring Mills Man Surprise Him Last Wednesday.

October 1st, 1913, will be remembered by John Ebert, of Spring Mills, as one of the most delightful episodes in his lifetime. It was the occasion for a large gathering of friends and neighbors at his home in honor of his 55th birthday, planned as a surprise and, to the delight of all concerned, successfully achieved. Mr. Ebert quickly recovered from the friendly invasion of his home, and at once became imbued with the spirit of the merry-makers. Refreshments, in the form of ice cream, cake and candy was served at 10 o'clock, and was greatly enjoyed. A greater part of the evening was spent by the younger folks in dancing, at the home of A. C. Ebert.

All but four of Mr. Ebert's children were present. I. R. Ebert and Mrs. H. B. Wright, of Zion, could not be present on account of sickness. A. R. Ebert, of Renovo, and Miss Gertrude Ebert, of Kenne Bunk Port, Maine, were also prevented from attending by reason of adverse circumstances. Those who were present, however, spent a most delightful evening, and departing left behind many happy returns for their host. They were: Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Emil and son Victor, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ebert, son Kermit, and daughters Bernice, Opal and Adeline, of Northumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Soli and daughters Gladys and Janet, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ebert and son Lawrence, of Spring Mills; Miss Lydia J. Ebert, of Bellefonte; Edward, Clarence and Minnie Ebert, at home; Mrs. Fred Auman and son Andrew, of Coburn; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Auman, Helen Hetzel, Richard Dunning, John Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Breon, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smith and children Marion and Clarence; Ida Ripka, Mary Weaver, Carrie Weaver, Carrie Heckman, Laoni Snyder, John Heckman, Ambrose Wolfe, Clarence Breon, all of Spring Mills; Mrs. J. Eugene Wilson and daughter Pauline, of Renovo.

Another Church Rally.

Another one of those delightful church rallies will be held next Sabbath, Oct. 12, as follows: At Pleasant Gap M. E. church, at 10:30 a. m.; Coleville M. E. church at 1:30 p. m.; Weaver, 3:30 p. m.; Axemann, 7:30 p. m. Rev. C. C. Shuey and others, all of Bellefonte, will be present at each service and will address the meetings. Good music will be a feature of special interest at each service. Come everybody, and bring your neighbor, and enjoy the good things in store for each and for all who come. No special offering will be taken.

D. J. FRUM, Minister.

The Henderson school of Taylor township will have a box social in the school house, October 15, 1913. There will be a fishing pond. Ice cream and cake will be sold. Come and bring your friends. Proceeds go towards an organ and singing books. Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. James Huey and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Marshall, of Buffalo Run, spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's daughter, Mrs. Samuel Kelley, in South Philipsburg.—Journal.
