

Good Roads, Not Graft Roads

Communicated.)

Centre county, and doubtless the whole state, is sufficed with the speech of Justice Elkin, whom Quay hecmen and now Penrose Procurator, which he made for this purpose at Harrisburg, Sept. 18. Orator and say; common herd look up with awe at the judges who wear judicial frocks of black and, when not snoring, look as wise as a perch of Hoo Hoos! But when a political judge descends from the bench and makes an oratorical argument to persuade and beguile the unsophisticated masses into voting to amend their constitution, so as to bond themselves and their posterity, on a false pretense, he thereby unrocks himself, and is subjected to the same criticism as ordinary men engaged in a gigantic scheme of state graft instead of state-craft. This gulfish address was made at the same time that addresses were made by pissiseway orators and oratorices, lured, engaged by "the Pennsylvania Good Roads Association," a flamboyant organization of rich and idle joy-riding and touring non-producers of corn and beef.

Why the pissiseway speeches were not also published by the Motor vehicle clan who are behind this scheme to inflict upon Pennsylvania, the outrageous public swindle in roads, exposed by Gov. Sulzer in New York, one can only guess. Probably the bond schemers thought that the judicial position of this once arch-conspirator of the old state treasury looters would appeal more mightily to a people who are prone to forget history. Every ninehammer is supposed to read his drill and go to his neighbor and say: "Judge Elkin says so and so," just as these "good roads" fakirs are now saying, "Why President Wilson has endorsed good roads," quoting from a speech he made in New Jersey when a candidate for governor.

But there are many intelligent and qualified electors who remember who John P. Elkin is and was. This is the same John P. who was Republican State chairman when Quay was not elected to the U. S. Senate and who, as attorney general under Stone, went to Washington and made the same kind of argument to the senate to admit Quay, although he had not then been elected. The argument of John P. went for naught, as this one should, because it was a dishonest speech. He served "the gang" faithfully, and now he verily hath his reward. It was at a time, when, as state chairman of the old gang, now marshalled by Penrose, he could call to Harrisburg, at reduced rates, the thousands of black-legs, hoodlums, white-slavers and panders, of Philadelphia to parade the state capital linked up with the negroes, and sing their defiant psalm: "Hail! Hail! the gang's all here!

What the hell do we care! This is the same John P. who was the "ploughboy of Indiana" rallied his gang hosts for governor, and had carried the state at the Republican machine primaries. But when he came up to "the old Master Quay," he was told, "not now; I want cousin Sam." Then John P. slunk away, and later put on a black gown and sits in learned judgment upon the people! It will be remembered how "Cousin Sam," allowed a $13,000,000 graft capitol to rise up, on a $4,000,000 appropriation, and never saw it. The same old Master Quay, who knew the kind of putty these gangsters were made of, predicted that every one connected with the capital building would go to the penitentiary. His prediction was terribly verified, for either died or went to the penitentiary because the people chose William H. Berry, treasurer, who refused to "go along," and exposed the whole conspiracy.

History will repeat itself! But, now to Elkin's speech. He stated, "Everybody wants good roads and everybody says so." But the "good roads" which Elkin's gang proposes to give the people are $20,000 a mile graft roads, under plans and with materials to be furnished by the contractor of the State Highway department. Elkin says: "This is a big question and should be treated in a big way." Certainly, it is $20,000 per mile big, with $5,000 per mile big for repairs every five years! It is also $20,000 big, per year, for interest on the bonds. He says he is not a "new convert" but "an old believer," in such "big" good roads! Of course, he is an old member of "the gang," who have long believed that the graft is in the air and everything in it belongs to them. Of course, he should be cognizant of what Ed. Bigelow's good roads jobs and his brigade of bummers have done in the way of map-making and route surveying; for, he says, "the last five years have witnessed enormous advances toward the accomplishment of the desired result." That is, for example, a road two miles long near Beaver, was recently let to a favored contractor of the gang, which is still here, at more than $50,000, and there were two lower bids, by responsible parties. This is an advance in "good roads," the kind he is arguing for, at the "big" rate of about $25,000 a mile! Wonder how many townships in Pennsylvania can afford such "good roads!"

John P. says: "This is not a political question in any partisan sense." No, there are a whole lot of so-called Democrats who stand ready to get a piece of the "good roads" pie, if the state machine will hand it to them! Of course, one of the imported "good roads" orators, from Massachusetts, who smelt the carrion, said the present crows and vultures at Harrisburg would not be in office when the $50,000,000 carcass is to be served up. This soulful pissiseway orator from "the old Bay state," don't know our hypocritical and lying, pledge-breaking state officers as well as we do. We know that if the bond steal goes through a special session of the legislature, the same servile bond-stealer passed the Jones township road law, will be called to pass a law authorizing the issuance of the bonds and providing for the expenditure of the money. It matters not what they say now. They lie. They have lied before. Their record for lying is made up. The people of Pennsylvania know they all lie, to a purpose. None of their pledges to the people have been made good.

John P. says these "good roads," at $20,000 per mile, according to Bigelow and Hunter's plans, cannot be had without bonding for $60,000,000. The current revenues are all taken up by high-priced officers, like himself, who do not earn their salt! The kind of junketing tourists that he wants "good roads" for, is indicated in his exordium. Bewalling the chance that there are honest men enough in Pennsylvania to defeat amendment No. 1, and thus putting off another vote five years, he makes this eloquent appeal to wage-earners, farmers, mechanics, etc. "This is the time for action, and we will never have a better opportunity to strike a decisive blow for good roads. Let us embrace it. A most estimable gentleman in the city of Philadelphia said to me a few years ago that he had spent a very pleasant summer in Europe, falling in love with his daughter, who was his traveling companion. What delightful summers the people could spend traveling over our wooded hills and beautiful mountains, and through our rich valleys and fertile fields, falling in love with Pennsylvania, if we had good roads to add charm to such a courtship."

Of course, now is the time! For next spring Penrose will be before the people for re-election to the U. S. Senate. The money is sorely needed! In the fall a new legislature and governor must be chosen. Of course, now is the time! Sure all our farmers, mechanics, laborers, etc., are profoundly impressed with the rosette depiction and they too, want "good roads," so they can go to Europe and tour over the mountains and every man of them "fall in love with his daughter," or perhaps some other man's daughter. What a beautiful pissiseway inspiration from the "gang" judge! Then, too, behold the autumnal splendor of a joy ride over the Alleghenies, when the summer torrents have washed out all the "good roads," along our "wooded hills" and "beautiful mountains," and as they bounce around and fall into each other's arms and tresses, how great "the charm to such a courtship," falling in love with Pennsylvania, and its denizens or the imported "good roads" fakirs, from New York and Massachusetts!

Verily, verily, our justice has unfrocked himself and, like the learned Dogberry, written himself down—well read it for yourself.

RECENT DEATHS.

YEATTER:—Benjamin Yeatter, of Lewistown, who only a couple of months ago was married to Grace Crawshaw, of Phillipsburg, died in the Lewistown hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 14, and was buried Thursday, Oct. 16. Deceased was a young man, aged about 23 years, and his death is a sad blow to the young wife, the mother of a child. The father of the latter, Emanuel Crawshaw, of Phillipsburg, attended the funeral.

VAN STREIN:—Mrs. Eleanor Elizabeth Van Strein, wife of Rev. David Van Strein, a Reformed church missionary in Japan, died in that country, Friday, October 10th. The information was received here through Reformed church circles, that the cause of death was not given. Deceased was a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Harris Orblin, of India, but a good part of her life was spent in Bellefonte with her grandmother, the late Mrs. Nancy Orblin. She was married to Rev. Van Strein in New York city on October 14th, 1912, by Dr. Beach, of Princeton, N. J., and early in November they sailed for Japan where both have been engaged in missionary work.

Young Folks Dance. A delightful dance was held by a score and a half young people last Wednesday evening at the home of Roy Crust, in Benner township. The music was furnished by John Jacobs, the well known fiddler, of Boalsburg. Refreshments were served in the guests at 12 o'clock. The following were present: Boyd Krape, Roy Hull, Lester, Fred and James Marshall, Jacob Dixon, Henry and Elmer Rokey, Howard and Malcolm Peters, Fred Bletcher, Frank and Glynis Walker, Lawrence Marshall and Leslie Walker, all of Fillmore; Allen and Thomas Wolford, of State College; Guy and Ray Stine, of Waddle; Jay Crust, of Pleasant Gap; Minerva Shuey, Agnes and Etta Marshall, Della and Edna Becker, Florence Hunter, Blanche and Florence Blair, Martha Benner, Mary Olive Resides, all of Fillmore; Miss Smith, of Waddle; Letha Crust, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Mattern, of Maternville, and Ruth Wetzel, of Bellefonte.

All departed for their homes in the wee hours of the morn, feeling that they had spent a joyous evening.

Accidentally Shot His Own Boy. John Gallagher, Jr., aged 15 years, of New Washington, is in the Clearfield hospital suffering from wounds in his face and arms, the result of a gunning accident while out hunting on Wednesday of last week with his father. The boy was sitting on a stump resting when a pheasant flew up. His father shot at the bird, which swooped toward the ground. A second shot was fired and to the horror of the father the leaden bullets struck the boy in the arms and face as stated, and he may lose the sight of one of his eyes.

Only One Judge to Be Voted For. An opinion was given last week to the secretary of the commonwealth by the attorney-general's department in which it was decided that voters may vote for only one candidate for superior court this fall. Four candidates were nominated, with the understanding that two were to be elected. This is in line with the ballot act of 1901 whose provisions are not interfered with by the non-partisan ballot act.

All the Penrose newspapers in Pennsylvania are supporting the $50,000,000 bond job.

The money that corporations pay to the state treasurer belongs to the people of Pennsylvania. For that reason it should not be squandered.

Consumption Takes 350 People Every Day in the United States and the surprising truth is that most cases are preventable with timely, intelligent treatment.

These appalling facts should warn us that after sickness, colds, overwork or any other drains upon strength, Scott's Emulsion should be promptly and regularly used because tubercular germs thrive only in a weakened system.

The tested and proven value of Scott's Emulsion is recognized by the greatest specialists because its medical nourishment assimilates quickly to build healthy tissue; aids in the development of active, life-sustaining blood corpuscles; strengthens the lungs and builds physical force without reaction. Scott's Emulsion is used in tuberculous camps because of its rare body-building, blood-making properties and because it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drug. Be sure to insist on Scott's.

Illinois Corn Crop Smaller. The corn crop of Illinois will be nearly 50 per cent less in 1913 than it was in 1912, and in nearly all other crops it will be a lean year in Illinois, according to the agricultural outlook for the year published by the department of agriculture. Very poor crops are also indicated for Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Kentucky, while there will be good crops in Florida, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Arizona. The estimated corn crop for Illinois this year is 284,300,000 bushels, while last year it was 426,300,000 bushels. The Illinois corn crop seems to have suffered more than in any other state.

Raised in a Day.—William had left home at the tender age of 13 to be a grocer's clerk. This was his first day. Mrs. Blaine came into the store and asked: "How much are these chickens?" "We sell them at 25 cents a pound," William replied. "Do you raise them yourselves?" "Certainly, ma'am. They were 22 cents yesterday."

A Little Rough, But True. "The mother who allows a 16 year old daughter to float around the township in a top buggy until 2 a. m. with a counterfeited sport of weak jaws and weaker morals, merely opens the front door to grief and disgrace," says an exchange. "If you don't know what company your daughter keeps, or what time of night she turns in, your jaws when gossip gets busy will sound about as pathetic as the wheeze of a Jew's harp. The girl who insists on spooning with everybody in the corporation limits ought to be taken back to the woodshed and relieved of her overflow of affection with a No. 11 slipper laid carelessly across the hiplets. We had sooner see a girl kiss a blind shoat through a barbed wire fence than have her change partners six nights a week in the front parlor with the lights turned low. It is harder to marry off a girl who has been pawed over by every boy in the community than it is to fatten sheep on pineapple ice. You can't goldbrick a sharp eyed suitor with second-hand goods any more than you can fit a bathing robe on a goat."

New Brand of Thieves. Farmer Clark of near Killnesgrove, has at last discovered the contemptible thief who has been milking his cows while they were out in pasture. He guarded the milk cows all day Sunday, and imagine his surprise when he saw a drove of forty small pigs following the cows until they lay down to rest and then proceeding to steal a meal. The pigs belonged to a neighbor.—Lewistown Journal.
