HOWARD

There is no use in arguing with the inevitable; the only argument with an east wind is to put on your overcoat.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will preach at Salona at half past ten and at Mt. Bethel at half past seven.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach and conduct communion service at Fairview at half past ten, at Jacksonville at half past two, and in Howard at half past seven.

Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach at Jacksonville at eleven o'clock, and in Howard at half past seven.

Methodist—Episcopal—Pastor James Edwin Dunning will preach in Howard at half past ten, at Kennedy at half past two, and at Beech Creek at half past seven.

A Religious Census.

Among the activities of the Howard Ministerial Association—the first important fruit of their fine fraternal team work being the union prayer meeting which is so deservedly growing in popularity—is a proposed religious census of Howard borough and its immediate vicinity, to be taken at some date in the near future yet to be decided upon.

This means simply a call at each home within the prescribed limits by properly authorized persons to ascertain what are the religious, or perhaps denominational would be a better word, relations, affiliations or preferences of each inmate of that home, in order that the Ministerial Association, as a body, may have an accurate knowledge of the community at large, in this regard, as will guide them in their associated work; and that each individual pastor may have a more intimate acquaintance with the personnel of the families of all his own membership.

Outlines of the plan, so far as now worked out, contemplate that each of the congregations in town shall be equally represented upon the corps of census takers, and that this corps shall be large enough to complete the work assigned them in a single day or less, the territory to be so distributed as to accomplish this; and it is proposed that the work shall be done as thoroughly as that of the United States Census Bureau. Such a classification of all the people as can be made from the data thus obtained regarding the church preferences and relationships, will be of great use to the several pastors, and interesting to everybody.

As the details of the plans are worked out, due note will be made of them from time to time, that everyone may be familiar with the scheme and ready to heartily co-operate in its successful accomplishment.

Bad Eggs.

The Agricultural Experiment Station of Kentucky is sending out a bulletin of rules for the guidance of all who produce or handle eggs, that they may avoid the penalties of the somewhat stringent pure food law of that State. Our own State laws are not less stringent, and with the purpose of being helpful to those who produce and handle the many eggs which constitute a goodly portion of the farm products of our Howard community, the paragraphs which are addressed to farmers, country merchants and hucksters, are here reprinted:

For Farmers: (a) Take away mature cocks as soon as breeding season is over. (b) Keep the nests clean, with plenty of straw. (c) Gather eggs every day; in hot weather, twice a day. (d) Store in cool, dry place, not a cellar, but in a cool, well-ventilated room. (e) Market eggs once a week; in summer, two or three times a week. (f) Establish a reputation for handling eggs in this manner.

For Country Merchants and Hucksters: (a) Insist on clean eggs. (b) Candle all eggs received, and buy "loss off" instead of "case count." (c) Store in cool, dry place, away from odors, and in orderlies cases. (d) Keep eggs on the move to the commission merchant or packers. (e) Establish a reputation for handling selected and tested eggs.

Forest Fires.

J. Morris Hoffman, of Johnstown, Forester and organizer of the Central Pennsylvania Forest Fire Association, was in town Wednesday, having been for several days in the woods territory by which we are surrounded, in connection with the work which his title suggests. No more important work confronts us, as Pennsylvanians, than the preserving and rebuilding of our forests, and every agency which can lend a hand in this important work should be heartily encouraged. This association is composed of private and corporation owners of large bodies of land and its "object, business and pursuit is the preservation of our forests," and it cheerfully acts in conjunction with the several State Forestry authorities. Any individual, co-partnership or corporation owning or agent for timber lands in the State of Pennsylvania is eligible to active membership; and all foresters may become honorary members.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting last Friday evening, of the junior group of this organization, organized a few weeks ago, under the leadership of county secretary H. R. Austin, was a very successful one, and the boys are growing quite enthusiastic in the work. While here Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Mr. Austin made arrangements for a general meeting of the young men of the town, (and for this purpose all the men of the town will be classed as "young") for the purpose of affecting the senior or regular working organization upon a permanent basis. The place for holding this meeting has not yet been fixed upon, and further notice of it will be given. A goodly number of the young men were seen personally by Mr. Austin, and the time set thus long ahead in order to pre-empt the date and avoid conflicting with anything else. Keep it in mind: Friday, Nov. 21.

A Former Howard Man Dead.

The Mr. Tebbs, mentioned in the following note taken from Monday's Gazette and Bulletin, of Williamsport, was one of the sons of John H. Tebbs, several years ago owner of the farm on the north side of the creek, now owned by Clair Leathers, and was well and favorably known here as a boy: "Albert H. Tebbs, a well known farmer and truck producer, who resided on the Montourville road, died yesterday (Sunday) morning, at six o'clock, at the Williamsport hospital.

On Saturday, October four, Mr. Tebbs was picking apples. His son, Herbert was with him and was on the ground picking apples. The father slipped and fell with a crash. He was taken to the hospital and there given attention, but could not be saved, although it was believed for a time that he was recovering."

The Union prayer meeting for this evening will be held in the Reformed church. There is no bell on this church to give notice of the time, but keep watch on the clock and be on hand at half past seven.

Miss Maud Daley was a Bellefonte visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Lionel Walker, of Jersey Shore, was in town Friday and Saturday.

Phillip C. and H. Walter Holter were week-end visitors with their brother, S. Cameron Holter, at Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, of Lock Haven, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wilson.

Mrs. Benj. Welland, with her little daughter spent Sunday with an older daughter, Mrs. Kunes, at Eagleville.

Miss Josephine Muffley, now teaching in our neighboring city of Clearfield, was a home guest over Sunday.

Carrie Holte and Esthe Gardner, of State College, were among those who came to our town for a week-end visit.

A brand new boy appeared in the home of the Condos Monday last, and "Yoney" holds his head a little higher than ever.

Lloyd Daughenbaugh, filling an important part as stenographer in the R. E. Co's office at Altoona, was at home over Sunday.

M. E. Grove and wife and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Mayes autoed from Lemont Sunday to spend the day with the family of J. Will. Mayes.

At the Reformed parsonage, Miss Lillian Ziegler, and Mr. Hoyt Royer, of Alders, were married, Monday last, by Rev. E. H. Zechman.

A consultation of physicians resulted in pronouncing the case of Joseph Loder so serious that his friends are greatly anxious concerning the outcome.

C. M. Muffley has returned from a somewhat extended trip through western and northwestern States, during which he enjoyed a visit with his son Walter.

Expert steam-fitter John Baker, of Landisville, Pa., is here in the employ of A. A. Schenck, putting in the combined steam and water heating plants of W. L. Cook, W. H. Thompson and Alfred Pifer.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lucas, Mrs. H. T. Lucas, the Misses Nannie and Rebecca Lucas, Mrs. W. I. Harvey and Oscar M. Lucas, constituted the Howard contingent of the company assembled last Friday at the home of Mrs. William Miles at Milesburg, a family gathering which Mrs. Miles holds annually.

Indications, as furnished by the strings which early hunters bring in, are that small game is plentiful this season. John Lyon's first day produced six gray squirrels and one pheasant; Merrill Smith brought six grays and two pheasants and Clair Lyon also got his full quota of the gray beauties.

Departing Wednesday, yesterday, morning, on No. 57, for Jenkins, Kentucky, were Mr. and Mrs. Shuman Holter, with their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sherman Holter. Mr. Sherman Holter is already there, established in business, and as he is the only child, it is not improbable that the parents will make that their permanent home, indicating what Howard loses, of good citizenship.

Harry J. Leathers, one of the pair of twins, "Harry and Dan" who were bright and enterprising boys in Howard twenty or more years ago, and who is now one of the substantial citizens of Curwensville, has been touring for a fortnight or more among his friends in several counties, accompanied by his wife and son, spent Monday and Tuesday with those of them who live here. Dan, the other half of the pair, is one of the industrious fellows of Juniata.

The venerable Isaac Frain, of Nittany, experienced a most enjoyable home coming of a portion of his flock last week and jubilates as he tells of it, just as a good "father in Israel" should do. Claude E. Frain, a grandson whom he had not seen in nine years, and whose home is in Salina, Kansas, spent last week with him. Mrs. Katherine Mark, a daughter, with her son, Frain Mark, of Johnstown, and Cephas W. Frain, a son, of Altoona, learning of the young man's home, came from their respective homes to spend the week-end with him, and the home folks.

While driving a heavy load of short ties toward Eagleville station last Saturday morning, David Sullenberg, who lives a couple of miles north of Howard, fell from the top of the load immediately in front of the wheels of the wagon, one of which passed over him at the thighs and hips in a diagonal course. It was thought at first that both thighs were crushed, but fortunately this proved to be untrue, no bones were broken, and so far no internal injuries of great importance have manifested themselves. Of course the flesh is badly crushed and he suffers great pain from these bruises, but at the present writing it seems altogether that he will soundly recover.

Excursioning to Washington, D. C., proves as popular at Howard as elsewhere in this section. Last Sunday's special took twenty-seven from Bellefonte, twenty-seven from Milesburg, including several from Unionville who were obliged to come to Milesburg for their tickets, and twenty-six from Howard. Always look for Howard near the top of the list when there's anything doing. Those who took passage here were: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Yaudes, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Confer, Mrs. Mary DeHaas, Mrs. Claude E. Moore, Harry Bechdel and friend, Mrs. William Weber, Howard Kline, W. H. Thompson, Miss Nannie Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shay, Mrs. Mitchell Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cooke, Mrs. Catherine Bechdel, John H. Diehl, Miss Annie R. Fisher, Joseph D. Diehl, Blair Pletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Tice, Samuel Pletcher and Marius Miner.

Charles F. Leathers left here about June 1 for a trip among his relatives scattered through that part of our country, rather indefinitely described as the west, and has just now returned. During the nearly five months of his absence he has seen much that he never dreamed of before, as the following brief resume of his trip will indicate. He traveled with his eyes wide open, and tells many interesting yarns. His first stop was with his brother James, a farmer, near Decatur, Ill. Leaving there he made his next visit with a sister, Mrs. James Bolan, at Little River, Kansas. He next journeyed to Sterling, Kansas, where his hostess was another sister,

Mrs. Shelby Lighter. From there he went to Hutchinson, Kansas, for a visit with one of his old chums, Frank Hogan, and spent many days in exchanging Howard reminiscences. Pond Creek, Oklahoma was his next stop, and really that was the objective point of his trip, for his father, William Leathers, lives there. After a good home visit they went together to Seeling, Oklahoma, the home of Mrs. Charles Turner, another sister; and from there they went, still together, to Wichita, Kansas, where they were guests of two of Charles' nieces, Mrs. William Benedict and Mrs. Henry Freeman. From there he started homeward, stopping at Kansas City to visit another brother, Howard Lloyd Leathers.

STORMSTOWN.

J. Green Gray is very ill, suffering from a stroke of paralysis. His children are all at home.

Quite a number of our boys attended the dance at Reese Hollow on Saturday evening. Among the successful fellows were Victor Way, Luther Rider and Arthur Rider. Victor seems to make a hit in that place.

Hugh McAfee got as far as the chicken and waffle supper. Just the same it was too bad, Hugh, that Bessie couldn't entertain you.

James Hunter, one of our best dancers, made a hit in dancing the Cream City Dance with Miss Rachel Williams. Quite a crowd stood back and looked on. How about it, Vic?

C. W. Hunter is getting ready for the oyster supper to be held for the Altoona crowd on Friday evening. The five autoes are expected here about 6:30.

Robert Burket has secured his new home. He can weigh the sugar now. Mr. James Moore, who has been ill for some time, is no better.

Mr. Austin is having great success with his Y. M. C. A. Next Saturday afternoon a push ball game will be held in the auditorium, to which all are invited. Track meet will be held two weeks from next Saturday at 2:30.

VALLEY VIEW, No. 2.

Game seems to be plenty in this section. James Eckley came home with two gray squirrels, two pineys and a raccoon, and Peron got—how many was it Peron? I forget.

Mrs. Foster Houzel and Mrs. Robert Kelly were at Bellefonte shopping on Saturday evening and took in the State show, there.

Lowery Justice sold his young cattle this week.

Too bad it rained, Edward, after getting that nice horse and buggy. How about it, Bessie?

Mr. and Mrs. Bobb and family, Mrs. Wm. King, Mrs. Foster Houzel, Mrs. Hamilton and sister, Mrs. Robt. Kelley and daughter Pearl, all gathered at the home of George Hastings on Thursday evening and held a pear-paring party. The best part was the oyster supper after the work was done. Girls; don't make so much noise going home next time.

Fruit is very plenty in this section. This year, quite a lot of apples have gone through our town to the cider grays and are also very plenty. A. I. Garbrick had forty-one bushels in his orchard also a fine crop of apples on his farm.

Mrs. Smith is home on a visit with her parents, Wm. Shadle's.

SCOTIA.

Miss Ruth Lykens, of Westfield, Pa. is visiting relatives at this place. She expects to return here for some time.

Merrill C. Williams, of Bellefonte, spent a few days at his parental home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Showers, of State, visited over Sunday at the latter's home.

Wm. Bottorf, who is employed at State College, spent Sunday at home. A. C. Markley, who is employed at North Bessemer is at present at home with his family helping to get ready to move.

Birthday Surprise Party.

A birthday surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. E. R. Lucas at Curtin, it being her 28th anniversary on October 19th. The day was spent in conversation and music, the latter being rendered by Mrs. E. R. Lucas, Mrs. Julia Confer, Adelia Lucas, Libby-Switzer and Ruth Confer. Mrs. Lucas received many gifts. Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Caselberry and children, Eva, Ruth, Nannie, Walter, Nathan Caselberry; Mr. and Mrs. Jess. Lucas and daughter Mary; Mrs. A. J. Lucas, Mrs. Carrie Robinson, Miss Ella Lucas, Miss Carrie Bennett, Miss Pearl Lucas, Misses Mabel, Sadie, and Cleda Robinson; Misses Leona, Charley, Leonard, Ralph and Ira Robinson; Verna Elnora, Edith and Helen Lucas, Vincent, Fred, Doyle and Byron Lucas, and E. R. Lucas. All returned to their homes wishing Mrs. Lucas many more happy birthdays.

The Epworth League of the Milesburg Methodist church will hold a "Combination Social" on Saturday evening, October 26th, in the fire company's hall. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

UNIONVILLE.

Dr. and Mrs. Davidson left Friday for Annapolis, Md., where they have been sent for the next two or three years. Dr. Davidson, who has been a naval officer on the water for three years, expects to be placed in the naval academy of that place.

Laird Morrison and Charles Patterman, who have been home with the fever for about three weeks, are improving slowly, with the aid of trained nurses.

The Odd Fellows, of this place, will hold a private supper in their rooms, on Saturday evening, which we hope will be well attended by their order.

Charles Rowan, of Bellefonte, made a Sunday visit home to see his parents and in search of butter and eggs. Two of our prominent young men made a flying trip to Buffalo last Sunday.

Quinton Underwood arrived home Saturday evening with his bride which was quite a surprise to the people of Unionville.

Rev. H. K. Ash accompanied by John Askins went hunting one day last week and was so fortunate as to get two pheasants and a squirrel. Try it again, Rev.

James McDonnell, who has obtained a license to hunt, has been making quite frequent visits over to the stone fence and along in the pines, for pine squirrels. He came home the first day with two little ones, just enough to make the family hungry for more.

"Domino," who has been quite ill for some time, is improving slowly, but we are sorry to say, has resigned his position as scribe. We miss his news very much and hope he will get well and write some more.

Geo. Rumberger, of DuBois, who has been home to see his father, returned home on Saturday.

Joe Resides has moved to Dix Run where he will make his home this winter.

Clair Burd has moved his family into the house vacated by Joe Resides.

Mrs. Wm. McEwen held a 6 o'clock dinner at her home last Friday evening in honor of her husband's 63rd birthday. The following friends and relatives were present: Those from a distance—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Comely, of Tyrone; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ritters and two children, Mr. Jones, of Blue Ball; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Crispin, of near Pittsburg; Mrs. J. F. Stover and daughter Nora, of Bellefonte; Mrs. L. A. Bricker, of Boalsburg. Those from Unionville—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parsons; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Rowan; Mrs. Frances Ammerman, Miss Sallie McGarvey, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. St. Clair and daughter, Mrs. Bullock. All reported having a fine dinner.

Mrs. Howard Holtzworth entertained a number of guests at her home Friday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Anna Blair, who is leaving for Florida, where she expects to spend the winter.

STORMSTOWN.

The snow flakes have begun to fly. They make us shiver.

Husking corn is the go now and we are afraid some will get cold fingers.

J. W. Wilcher and family are visiting at G. B. Gummo's.

Mrs. Wade Lytle is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Brumgard visited at the latter's home last week.

Mary Hartsock was a Sunday visitor at her home last week.

Those Who Know Correct Style Look Twice at a PRINTZESS

And the reason is that grace of line, that perfection of detail, that perfect fit at collar, shoulder, front and hip which mean so much.

That's the impression a PRINTZESS Coat or Suit creates---reil "Distinction in Dress," and the question in the minds of your admirers is: "Who can her Tailor be?"

Printzess Coats and Suits

Women who know appreciate the sterling quality of materials, the careful tailoring, and the two full season's guarantee of satisfactory wear embodied in each PRINTZESS Coat or Suit.

Since a PRINTZESS cost no more than a merely acceptable garment, can you afford to be without the social asset of a smart appearance?

We believe not, and inasmuch as we are the exclusive sellers of PRINTZESS in Bellefonte we invite you to visit our garment department and try on a PRINTZESS.

KATZ & COMPANY

The Sim Clothes

We could not, were we to take several pages of this paper and use the strongest words in their favor, do these clothes, the showing we are making, and do justice to them.

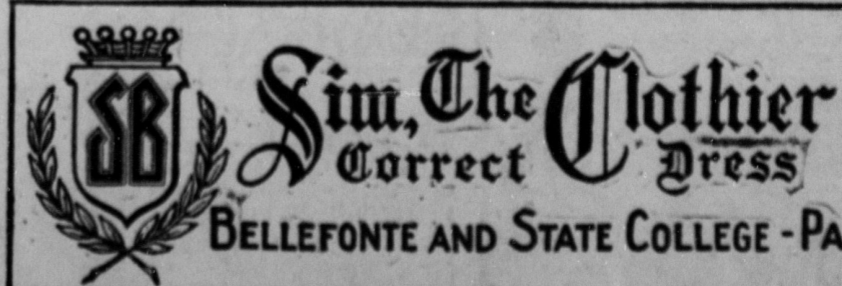

It would sound like boasting, to realize, to appreciate, you must see them.

Beautiful New Suits, Overcoats, Rain-coats, Mackinaw Coats, Sweaters, Gloves, Neckwear, Hats, and Caps.

Anything for Man or Boy's wearing shown in a profusion and diversity of new styles that is unparalleled.

To see where this showing excels, in goodness and newness of style, in dependability and quality, in the moderation of price, you should not miss seeing this Fall and Winter display.

Glad to show you.
