HOWARD.

"To seek to be true to our best insight, to express in personal life the noblest ideal we know, is the best possible service in the problem of social reconstruction."

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.
Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach and administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at Jacksonville at half past ten, postponed from Nov. 9 on account of bad weather—and will preach at half past seven in the evening in Howard.

Reformed—Pastor E. H. Zechman will conduct preparatory service at Mt. Bethel at half past two Saturday afternoon, and at Salona at half past seven, Saturday evening. He will preach and administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at Salona at ten o'clock Sunday morning, and at Mt. Bethel at half past two, Sunday afternoon.

Methodist Episcopal—There will be preaching and the observance of the Holy Communion at Howards at half past ten. In the evening at half past seven a Union Thanksgiving service will be held in the same church, at which all the resident ministers will be present. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Walter Fay Carson. Preaching at Beech Creek at half past ten, at Kennedy at half past two, and at Curtin at half past seven.

The Union prayer meeting this evening will be held in the Reformed church.

Bad Manners.

It is observed with regret and mortification, that the habit of holding private conversation in whispers or subdued, rumbling tones, in public meetings, and even in church services, seems to be growing among some of our thoughtless people; and the word "thoughtless" is used advisedly because it is beyond belief that anyone would purposely commit such a breach of decorum. It should be carefully borne in mind that it is as rude to disturb speaker and audience in a public meeting of any kind, by such conduct, as it is to break in upon a companion who is speaking in private conversation. Both are discommensurated by polite usage, and those who indulge in either soon acquire a reputation for bad manners and ill-breeding which is always a handicap. It is ill-mannered because it is an interference with the rights of others. Only a small minority of people go into public audiences for any purpose other than to hear what may be said from the rostrum or pulpit, and each individual auditor has a right, an equal right, to the full enjoyment of this privilege, without any interference from his neighbor. To hold a private conversation in whispers, is an infringement of this right, and is not permitted among people of genteel manners. When this sort of thing occurs in church or prayer meeting it is far worse than rudeness or bad manners—it is irreverence; and when it is indulged in while prayer is being offered it is an offense against God and man and cannot be frowned upon nor reproved too severely. Let us cultivate better manners in this one matter at least, and to this extent deserve not only the respect of thoughtful people, but maintain our own self respect. This is plain speaking, to be sure, but is addressed in all kindness to a very small proportion of young people, who in after life will be grateful that their attention was called to an impolite habit which is surely to be attributed to thoughtlessness, rather than to intentional disrespect.

Elk and Texas Ticks.

Searching in the mountains for a few of their stray cattle last Monday, Messrs. J. M. Mayes and A. M. Butler came across six of the carcasses of hunters with whom the mountains are filled and saw six deer lying. Both the visitors and the campers were surprised to find leaving the bodies of the deer, and on the ground under them as they hung hundreds and thousands of Texas Ticks, of all sizes, specimens of which they brought home with them, and which the writer saw, and it is no exaggeration to say that the largest specimens were very nearly as large as the Colorado Potato Beetle. It will be remembered that a year or more ago, a number of elk were brought into this region and placed in a stockade to become somewhat acquainted with their new surroundings, and that a number of them were turned loose. It will also be remembered that some of them were found dead. Afterward it was decided that they were the victims of hordes of this vermin. Now the hunters surmise that the deer in the section were fated with the ticks from the bodies of the elk, and are much perturbed by the possibility that the infesting pest may destroy them as it did the elk. It is to be earnestly hoped that the well intentioned introduction of the tick, thinking that they might flourish in our mountains, and even, by crossing mating, increase the size of our deer, will prove to be a disaster. The possibility of even our domestic cattle and sheep ultimately becoming infested has been suggested.

Confirmation.

Last Sabbath was an important day with the Roman Catholic congregation here. High mass was celebrated in the morning, accompanied by the sacrament of the Holy Communion, and in the afternoon, the dignified and solemn sacrament of confirmation was administered to a class of sixteen by the Right Reverend Bishop Garvey, of Altoona, assisted by Rev. Pastor P. J. McArdle, of Bellefonte, and Rev. S. P. Caprio, pastor of St. Bernard's church here. Bishop Garvey preached the confirmation sermon, delivered an address to the class of first communicants, and pronounced the solemn benediction. Bishop Garvey's well known dignity of manner lent impressiveness to the occasion. Those confirmed were Mrs. John Shay, with her three sons Donald, Walter, Charles; Esther, Mildred, Mae, Theodore, Paul and Norris Shay; Harry Dearthmont, Mrs. P. J. Kelly and two daughters, Eva and Alice; Carl McGinley and son Francis.

Meeting Friday Evening.

At half past seven o'clock tomorrow evening, Mr. Frank N. D. Buchman, Secretary of the great Young Men's Christian Association at State College, will deliver a free address to young men, and all the older men who are interested in young men, in the Methodist church. To this meeting all men are cordially invited. Mr. Buchman is so greatly interested in young men, and in their welfare, that he is devoting his life to helping them help themselves, and has located himself at the Pennsylvania State College, where he can get into intimate touch with more than two thousand of them and aid them in correct character building, which is the real, boiled down purpose of all college life, and the foundation upon which all true success in life must be built. Come out and hear him. There will be no admission fee, and no collection will be taken.

A Home Wedding.

Miss Susan V. Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Fletcher, was married at noon, Saturday, to Mr. Ray Martin, a successful young business man of Lancaster. The wedding was one of the quiet home affairs, in the presence of about forty relatives and chosen friends, without ostentation of any kind; the ceremony being performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. James Edwin Dunning. Those present from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Gledhill, of Tyrone, Miss Grace Schenck, of Milesburg, and Miss Lulu Stover, of Mill Hall. The happy pair took leave on No. 52, direct for Lancaster where they will be at home in the future. Miss Susie was one of the best of our Howard girls, and deserving of the best man in that fine city. Here are congratulations and best wishes.

Dr. Kurtz and family enjoyed a visit with the home people last week.

Miss Miriam Lucas was a Lock Haven business visitor Thursday of last week.

Charles E. Lucas entertained his sister, Mrs. Kling, of Altoona, one day last week.

Mrs. R. E. Cooke and daughter, Mrs. Joseph Rathmell were Lock Haven shoppers, Tuesday.

Mrs. M. J. Snyder, with Miss Louella and Kenneth, were Lock Haven shoppers last Saturday.

Mrs. George L. Williams and daughter, Miss Lorence, were Bellefonte visitors Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hickey, of Lock Haven, were Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Shay.

Mrs. Oscar Faust, of Milton, was the guest of Miss M. H. Lucas, during the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkes, of North East, Pa., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

Mrs. Matthew Rogers, Jr., left for Harrisburg Tuesday evening to spend a week with an invalid sister-in-law. The latest reports from the Weaver-Confer-Pletcher camp of hunting veterans give them three fine bucks and two bear.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Loder, of Pittsburg, came in to spend the week-end holiday with their invalid nephew Joseph Loder.

Paul Wagner has undertaken to prepare himself for college under the direction of Prof. Hughes at the Bellefonte Academy.

Miss Woodward is spending a month or more with friends at Bryn Mawr, Philadelphia, Princeton, Easton, and other points eastward.

Look out for changes in the time of arrival of trains next week. The company advertises a new schedule to go into effect next Sunday.

"Squire and Mrs. Joseph L. Holter are spending a few weeks with their children, Harry and Miss Nellie, and other relatives in Pittsburg.

After spending a week or two with Dr. George Hensyl at Mahanoy City, Mrs. W. H. Kurtz and children, returned home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stutzman, of Williamsport, came up for a Sunday visit with Mrs. S. I. Reber and Mrs. C. M. Fox, sisters of Mrs. Stutzman.

Street Commissioner Samuel Shay gives manages to keep the street crossings in fairly good condition notwithstanding he is long on need and short on finances.

Young Mr. Charles Dougherty, president of the Lagmont Junior Y. M. C. A., assisted County Secretary Austin, in conducting the meeting and exercise of our juniors last Friday.

The Conley wedding at Bellefonte, had a live interest for several of our people, and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lucas, Mrs. W. I. Harshbarger, the Misses Nannie and Nettie Lucas, Mrs. Shuman Pletcher, Miss Emma Pletcher, and Mrs. Hoffman.

Miscalculating the distance, or some other and equally good reason, caused the axe of lumberman John Lyon to miss its aim the other day and strike the left side of his left foot, slicing off an uncomfortable large bit of it, causing him to lay off a few days for repairs.

Ward Schenck, chief assistant at the Hotel Howard, was one of a party of a party of six, Samuel Bowman, Joseph Baumgardner, Charles Kunes, Philip Kunes and Richard Moran, constituting the other five-sixths, who spent a portion of last week on Twin Run, and came home with seventy-three rabbits and two pheasants.

The Ladies Social club celebrated their seventh anniversary in the vacant house on Maple street of Mr. William Weber, and made an even more enjoyable time of it than usual. Their husbands were present of course and the number present was twenty-four. Mrs. Oscar Faust, of Milton, nee Miss Annie Jenkins, who is visiting with Miss Mittie Lucas, was the only out of town guest. The feast is said to have been one of the best ever prepared in town, and what wonder, with all those experienced home cooks to engineer it!

Mr. Weber's vacant house near the post office seems to be in demand for the frequent church suppers, we are in Williamsport, and that a number occupied for the next Saturday evening and the evening of Dec. 6, for this purpose. "Chicken and waffles" will be served on both occasions. The Reformed ladies have possession next Saturday evening, Nov. 22, and their sisters who adhere to the United Evangelical faith, hold forth in the same place two weeks later, and as there are several noted cooks in each congregation, both suppers will be well worth the price—no matter what it is.

Because something went wrong with the steering gear of landlady Fitzpatrick's auto the other day, when he and Mrs. F. were starting out for a short afternoon spin, the machine undertook to run itself as they rounded the corner of Mrs. Ward Schenck's millinery establishment, got up on the pavement, knocked off an old lamp post which stood in its way, and bumped into the corner of the building in a most reckless way. Fortunately Mr. Fitzpatrick is one of the auto drivers who have respect for "slow orders," and never drives swiftly through town, and the speed was so low that little or no damage was done.

UNIONVILLE.

Mrs. Malissa Bing left her home Sunday morning for Philadelphia where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. McLeer. She was accompanied on her journey by Mrs. P. J. McDonnell.

Miss Margaret Miles, of Milesburg, is visiting friends and relatives in this place; she was also one of the guests of the birthday social, Friday evening.

Mrs. Ralph Richards and daughter, of Phillipsburg, and Mrs. J. F. Stover, of Bellefonte, dined at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Wm. McEwen, on last Saturday. Mrs. Richards and her daughter returned home the same day having been attending the teacher's institute at Bellefonte for the past week.

Miss Bess Pratt, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Howard Pratt and son left Saturday for Baltimore where she will spend the most of the winter, closing her school here until her return in the spring.

Toner Calhoun and wife, of Altoona, were Sunday visitors at the former's home in this place.

Charles Williams spent institute week visiting his grandparents. Charles was formerly a school boy of this place, but has recently moved to State College, where he will be brought up among the college boys.

The birthday social given in Grange Hall, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church, on last Friday evening, was a pronounced success. The entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitation and elocutionary readings. The music rendered by the male quartette was exceptionally fine. The singers were Messrs. N. M. Scott, Chapman Underwood, Lawrence Barton and Thurston Diehl. The vocal solo by Miss Laura Rumberger accompanied on the violin by Harry McEwain and on the mandolin by Mr. Diehl was also very fine. One of the greatest pleasures of the evening was the rendition of several intensely interesting pieces by Miss Bernice Miles of Milesburg, who is one of the finest elocutionists in the county. Then there was the 10-year-old elocutionist, pretty Miss Verna Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Peters, whose rendition of her experience with her visit to the doctor was given in such a natural, easy, unembarrassed way that would do credit to an expert elocutionist, and delighted the audience.

Then comes J. W. Smith, giving his experience with a performed cat which nearly "brought down the house." Wilbur has always been a favorite on our stage. At the close of the regular entertainment, Rev. Ash, Rev. Carson and Rev. Piper each in turn stepped on the stage and gave a delightful talk, all of which were highly appreciated by the audience, after which the climax was capped by the free distribution of lunch to every man, woman and child in the house. The lunch consisted of sandwiches, finest cakes ever had, salted peanuts, coffee, etc. The very best order prevailed during the entire proceedings. The evening's pleasure was concluded by exhibiting 12 lead pencil profiles of some of our citizens which were drawn by our home artists, which created much fun and amusement. The gross receipts were over $50. When our Unionville ladies undertake to do anything, they always "get there."

The Hose Company, No. 1, will hold an oyster supper in the Grange Hall, the evening before Thanksgiving. All are invited to come and help the good cause along. This is a cause which will be of a great advantage, and therefore everyone should take a special interest in it. Be sure and remember the date, Nov. 26th. Come and bring your friends.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Griest and daughter Marie left Tuesday for Florida, where on account of Mr. Griest's health, they will spend the winter.

George Brugger, who was married at Canonsburg last week, has gone to Florida on his wedding tour. George expects to arrive in Unionville with his bride some time in the near future.

Mrs. Elsie Calhoun expects to move into part of Mrs. I. G. Alexander's house for the winter. She has formerly been making her home with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Blair Alexander.

Centre Counties to Meet.
The board of directors of the Centre County Association of Philadelphia will hold a meeting at the home of the president, Ira D. Garman, 216 S. 3rd street, on Tuesday, Nov. 25th, at 3 p. m., to arrange for the coming mid-winter entertainment of the association.

pages, and so misses nothing. Nevertheless, lest some one may have failed to catch the note near the top of this column, it may be well to repeat that by arrangement of the Ministerial Association the usual Thanksgiving service will not be held on Thanksgiving day, but that it will be a Union service in which all the church and pastors will participate, at half past seven in the evening of next Sabbath, in the Methodist church, because that is the largest room in town, and will be needed to hold the united congregations.
