—What gives to the Sayre-Wilson wedding a particular interest for Bellefonte people is the fact that Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, of Princeton, N. J. who performed the thirteenth wedding in the White House, is quite well known here, being the husband of a former Miss Orbinson, a daughter of the late Mrs. Nannie Orbinson, of this place. Rev. Beach is a frequent visitor to Bellefonte and has often occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church. He is now pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Princeton which was President Wilson's church prior to going to Washington.

—The opening exercises of the enlarged Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, took place on Friday evening, and were quite successful and largely attended. There was an interesting exhibition of swimming by Tyrone, State College and Academy athletes, an exciting game of basketball between the Tyrone team and Bellefonte, which was won by the former, by the score of 20 to 7. Short addresses were made by Secretary Weston and Rev. Ralph Illingsworth, the latter secretary of the Tyrone Y. M. C. A. The Tyrone Pennsylvania Railroad band was present and gave one of their high class concerts, which was greatly appreciated by the large audience present, who manifested their approval by the most hearty applause. During the evening choice refreshments were served by the ladies auxiliary, and altogether it proved a most enjoyable occasion.

Hanna, of Harrisburg, passenger solicitor for the Pennsylvania Railroad, was in Bellefonte and State College this week arranging for the transporting of the students to Pittsburgh to see the State-Pitt game. He accompanied the special train to Pittsburgh Wednesday to see that everything passed off satisfactorily.

—On Monday a double butchering was held at the residence of S. W. Bryan on North Spring street. Four hogs were killed weighing in the aggregate 170 pounds. Two of the hogs belonged to S. W. Bryan and two to his brother Elmer Bryan, of Lamb street. In honor of the event a big dinner was given at which thirty-three people sat down to tables which fairly groined under the weight of good things. As a result of the butchering there were ten cans of lard besides hams, bacon and shoulder galore for the lucky Bryans to divide.

—On Saturday last our good friend Col. Emanuel Noll, the popular and efficient baggage master at the Pennsylvania Station, was sixty-six years of age. In honor of the event his daughter, Miss Rebekah Noll invited six of his old friends and cronies to a chicken and waffle supper at his home on North Allegheny street on Saturday evening. Those present were Rev. John Hewitt, Monroe Armor, Henry Taylor, Amos Garbrick, Henry Walkey and Robert Seclier. It was a complete surprise to Col. Noll who never-the-less enjoyed it immensely and played the host to perfection, and the way those old soldiers stowed away the chicken and waffles was a sight to do your heart good. During the evening they presented Col. Noll with a present, but the Colonel was too modest to tell us what it was, but by the smile on his face we know it was something appropriate and highly appreciated by the Colonel. Here's hoping he may live to see many more happy returns of the day.

They were just nine months and one day old, and tipped the scales at 713 pounds. We believe is a record had been made.

—Movings throughout the borough have been quite frequent during the past month, more than have been noted for a number of years past at this season of the year. Several of the more recent change of residence have been: Mrs. Sarah Jane Leathers, widow of the late Samuel B. Leathers, deceased, and a highly respected lady of Howard township, moved to this place from the farm, 65 years, 5 months and 13 days. She was born May 28, 1828, and for the past 65 years had been a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Deceased was a woman who had loved and made it her business to know her; she never seem to tire visiting the sick in her community or helping those in distress. The following children survive: Mesdames Emma and Bella Sents, Williamsport; Mrs. Alice Leathers, York, Pa.; Mrs. Witherite and Harry E. Leathers, of Snow Shoe; Mrs. Bertha Wooster, of Yarnell; Mrs. Esther Lucas, of Clearfield; Joseph and Wilbur at home; one son, J. P. Leathers, preceded her in death, he died at the age of 13, and her husband died April 12th, 1913. She was carried to her last resting place by six of her grandsons, namely: Samuel, Arthur and Thos. Budinger, Jr., Thurman Witherite, Heloise Leathers and Justice Leathers. Interment was made in Curtin cemetery.

—STOVER.—Frank R. Stover, a former well known business man of this place but a resident of Altoona for the past eight years, died at his home in that city, Tuesday evening at 5:20 o'clock, of a complication of diseases, after an illness of four months. He was born in Hartleton, Union county, December 7th, 1836, and was therefore aged 76 years, 11 months and 18 days. He was the son of Samuel H. and Catherine Stover and with the exception of three years spent in Hartleton, Union county, the greater part of his life was spent in Centre county. He was educated in the schools of Rock Springs and at Pine Grove Academy. Later he took a course at the Central Academy in Juniata county, Pa. After leaving school he worked for some time on the farm and in his father's hotel at Rock Springs and then entered business life as a clerk in a dry goods store. At the beginning of the war he joined in the emergency service. He clerked in Harry Hick's hardware store in Bellefonte for several years and in 1881 he engaged in the meat business in Bellefonte, occupying for many years the room now occupied by the Centre Democrat office. Mr. Stover continued in this business for twenty-seven years, after which he sold out and took up his residence in Altoona. He was a member of the Second Lutheran church of Altoona, and a pillar was always a staunch republican. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Musser, of Pine Grove Mills, in 1861, the couple having celebrated their golden wedding several years ago. Besides his wife, two sons and two daughters survive. A. H. Stover, of Juniata; S. H. Stover, of Hararstown, Md., and Miss Elsie at home. Four sisters also survive. They are Mrs. Maud Musser, of Altoona; Mrs. Joseph Kaup, of Boshsburg; Mrs. Ellen Ginterich, of Linden Hall and Mrs. Sadie Garbrick, of Bellefonte. Funeral services will be held at his late home Friday afternoon. Interment in Rose Hill cemetery.

A. H. Stover, of Juniata; S. H. Stover, of Hararstown, Md., and Miss Elsie at home. Four sisters also survive. They are Mrs. Maud Musser, of Altoona; Mrs. Joseph Kaup, of Boshsburg; Mrs. Ellen Ginterich, of Linden Hall and Mrs. Sadie Garbrick, of Bellefonte. Funeral services will be held at his late home Friday afternoon. Interment in Rose Hill cemetery.

RECENT DEATHS.

FIKE—Harry Fike died at his home at Reepsburg, Saturday at 1 p. m., after a brief illness from asthma. He was 53 years of age and leaves a wife and several children. He also leaves two brothers, Wesley, of Reepsburg, and Harvey, who resides near Bellefonte. The funeral took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. C. C. Shuey.

MILLER—Martin Luther Miller died at his home in Bellefonte, Centre County, Pa., November 19th at 3:30 P. M. after a protracted illness from a complication of diseases. He was aged 69 years on the 14th of March last. Deceased was a native of Centre county and for years followed the occupation of a woodsman. For the railroad line table which went into effect Sunday did not change the time of any local trains, and only affected main line trains.

—One dollar membership fee secures a Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet which will be delivered at once. Come only as early as 25 women can join the club. W. R. Brachbill.

—Maud Norwood and company at the opera house three nights next week, beginning Thursday, Dec. 4th. Matinee Saturday afternoon. Prices each night, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Griffith, of Axemann, spent a few hours in Bellefonte Tuesday while on their way to Philadelphia, where they will remain during the balance of the winter season.

—Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker left Bellefonte Tuesday for Philadelphia where she will spend Thanksgiving with her daughter, Martha, and later she will go to New York to attend the Army and Navy foot ball game.

—Miss Margaret Harbinson, of Saltsburg, Pa., who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Will Conley for the past two weeks, left Tuesday for her home. She was one of the bridesmaids at the Wallis-Conley wedding.

—Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wallis on returning from their honeymoon trip to eastern cities, stopped in Bellefonte over Sunday with Mrs. Wallis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Will Conley. They left for their home in Pittsburgh Monday morning.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a Christmas sale Thursday, Dec. 4, 1913 in the Woman's Exchange Building on High street, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. and continuing all day. Come and buy your specimens of porkers of the A-1 class. Mr. Garbrick always raises nice hogs, but the two killed last week were far beyond the usual kind. They were just nine months and one day old, and tipped the scales at 713 pounds. We believe is a record had been made.

—Movings throughout the borough have been quite frequent during the past month, more than have been noted for a number of years past at this season of the year. Several of the more recent change of residence have been: Mrs. Sarah Jane Leathers, widow of the late Samuel B. Leathers, deceased, and a highly respected lady of Howard township, moved to this place from the farm, 65 years, 5 months and 13 days. She was born May 28, 1828, and for the past 65 years had been a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Deceased was a woman who had loved and made it her business to know her; she never seem to tire visiting the sick in her community or helping those in distress. The following children survive: Mesdames Emma and Bella Sents, Williamsport; Mrs. Alice Leathers, York, Pa.; Mrs. Witherite and Harry E. Leathers, of Snow Shoe; Mrs. Bertha Wooster, of Yarnell; Mrs. Esther Lucas, of Clearfield; Joseph and Wilbur at home; one son, J. P. Leathers, preceded her in death, he died at the age of 13, and her husband died April 12th, 1913. She was carried to her last resting place by six of her grandsons, namely: Samuel, Arthur and Thos. Budinger, Jr., Thurman Witherite, Heloise Leathers and Justice Leathers. Interment was made in Curtin cemetery.

—STOVER.—Frank R. Stover, a former well known business man of this place but a resident of Altoona for the past eight years, died at his home in that city, Tuesday evening at 5:20 o'clock, of a complication of diseases, after an illness of four months. He was born in Hartleton, Union county, December 7th, 1836, and was therefore aged 76 years, 11 months and 18 days. He was the son of Samuel H. and Catherine Stover and with the exception of three years spent in Hartleton, Union county, the greater part of his life was spent in Centre county. He was educated in the schools of Rock Springs and at Pine Grove Academy. Later he took a course at the Central Academy in Juniata county, Pa. After leaving school he worked for some time on the farm and in his father's hotel at Rock Springs and then entered business life as a clerk in a dry goods store. At the beginning of the war he joined in the emergency service. He clerked in Harry Hick's hardware store in Bellefonte for several years and in 1881 he engaged in the meat business in Bellefonte, occupying for many years the room now occupied by the Centre Democrat office. Mr. Stover continued in this business for twenty-seven years, after which he sold out and took up his residence in Altoona. He was a member of the Second Lutheran church of Altoona, and a pillar was always a staunch republican. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Musser, of Pine Grove Mills, in 1861, the couple having celebrated their golden wedding several years ago. Besides his wife, two sons and two daughters survive. A. H. Stover, of Juniata; S. H. Stover, of Hararstown, Md., and Miss Elsie at home. Four sisters also survive. They are Mrs. Maud Musser, of Altoona; Mrs. Joseph Kaup, of Boshsburg; Mrs. Ellen Ginterich, of Linden Hall and Mrs. Sadie Garbrick, of Bellefonte. Funeral services will be held at his late home Friday afternoon. Interment in Rose Hill cemetery.

Splendid Company Coming.

Maud Norwood and company will open a three-nights engagement at Garman's opera house, next Thursday. Deceased was the romantic play, "Dora Thorne." Other plays will be given among them the military drama, "At the Cavalry Post." Popular prices will prevail, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

A St. Johnsville exchange says of this company: "Maud Norwood and company, opened here Monday night with the ever popular play "Dora Thorne" and were greeted with a capacity house. Miss Norwood as Dora, was charming, and holds her audience like a little magnet turning them from tears to laughter, as she wills. The vaudeville between the acts is worth the price of admission in itself. Paul Miller kept his audience in good humor for about twelve minutes with his songs and funny sayings. Baby Colton followed the second act. Her singing and dancing are one of the strongest features of the evening. She is a pretty little Miss and deserves the reputation she gets. There came those well known vaudeville artists "The Comedy Coltons," with their classy act of mirth and melody. This team was with "Three Twins" last season and the management of the company was more than fortunate in securing them. The play is beautifully staged and the scenic equipment is equal to any show ever held in St. Johnsville. The company gives a dollar show for 30 cents."
