HOWARD.

I saw the mountains stand
 Silent and wonderful and grand,
 Looking out across the land
 When the golden light was falling
 On distant dome and spire;
 And I heard a low voice calling
 "Come up higher, come up higher,
 From the lowland and the moor,
 From the mist of earth's desire,
 From the vain pursuit of self,
 From the attitude of self;
 Come up higher, come up higher."
 —James G. Clark.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath.

Presbyterian—Pastor Walter Fay Carson will preach at Jacksonville at eleven o'clock.

Disciple—Pastor A. Linkletter will preach at Blanchard at half past ten o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal—Pastor James Edwin Dunning will preach at Beech Creek at half past ten o'clock. Assistant pastor M. C. Pifer will preach at Curtin at half past ten.

Reformed—Pastor H. E. Zechman will preach at Salona at half past ten o'clock, and at Mt. Bethel at half past two. Dr. Wolfinger, of Philadelphia, will preach at Jacksonville at half past seven.

United Evangelical—Pastor M. J. Snyder will preach at Fairview at half past ten, and at Jacksonville at half past seven.

Evangelist B. F. Campbell will preach in the Christian Chapel at half past ten; his theme being "The True Church of Christ." At half past seven in the evening he will conduct the stated evangelistic service in the Methodist church preaching upon "The Immortality of the Soul." In connection with the evangelistic meetings held nightly by the Rev. Campbell a special Union Prayer meeting was held last Tuesday afternoon in the Christian Chapel. A similar meeting will be held in the Reformed church this (Thursday) afternoon at half past two, and the presence of every professing Christian within reach is earnestly desired.

Successfully Under Way.

The first week of the evangelistic meeting planned and inaugurated by the ministerial association, ended Friday evening, with the seventh session and encouraging evidence of progress. The first session was held Sunday morning in the United Evangelical church, with a moderately filled house. Sunday evening the session was held in the Methodist church, with little or no increase in attendance. From that time on, each session has exceeded the one before it both in number and interest, until Friday evening the church was full, and the interest fine. The meeting is conducted, under the general oversight of the ministerial association, by the Rev. B. F. Campbell, of Weatherly, Pa., who has won a reputation as a modest, plain-speaking, gospel-preaching evangelist, and is adding to it here. The interest in the meetings is deep and wide spread, each audience having in it representatives from every known denomination in the neighborhood, and many who have no church affiliations at all. Last Sunday evening, at the eighth session of the meeting, the Methodist church, which is being used for all the evening sessions because it is the largest audience room in town, was packed. The chancel and chancel aisle were filled with chairs, and every seat was taken, leaving very many to stand in the side aisles and rear part of the room, the number present being estimated at between four hundred and four hundred and fifty. If the habit of church-going which seems to be growing in our community shall be confirmed by this meeting it will have proven itself worth while, even if no accessions to church membership follow. Former president Taft recently said: "The fifth of society will not need to be realistically exposed to public view when more of our citizens go to church and are thus led to understand their own personal responsibility. There is a great need of widespread church-going today in order to offset the evil results of an ill-advised emotionalism that seems to be sweeping throughout our land."

Albert Butler Dead.

Employed at Martha Furnace as a teamster, Albert Butler was faithfully doing his share of the world's work when he was called away with startling suddenness, in the morning of Wednesday of last week. He had made his team ready for work, eaten his breakfast, and arisen from the table when he fell to the floor dead. His body was brought here and taken to the home of his father-in-law, T. J. Moore, where funeral service was held by Rev. M. J. Snyder, Friday afternoon and interment made in Schenck cemetery. Mr. Butler was twenty-seven years of age, and his wife was Frances Moore. Two children were born to them, the first of whom died in early infancy, and the second, Thomas, remains with the heart broken young widow.

Our Bank in the Swim.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of our First National Bank of Howard, duly called and held on the seventh day of January, it was unanimously resolved to notify the Reserve Bank Organization Committee of the acceptance by the bank of the terms and provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, and of the intention of the Board to subscribe, on behalf of the bank, the capital stock of the Federal Reserve Bank to be organized in the district in which this bank will be located after the geographical limits to be served by such Federal Reserve Bank shall have been fixed by the Organization Committee.

Very Quiet.

On Jan. 5, 1914, at one p. m., in the parlors of the First Baptist church of Williamsport, Warren J. Ross and Adaline Bowes were united in marriage by the Rev. F. L. Harlens, of Turbotville. Affair private, bride's father and sister only being present. After short trip will reside in Pleasant Gap. That is an exact copy, omitting the address and signatures of a letter dated at Buffalo, Jan. 9, and received by the Howard letter Jan. 10, and wasn't it a stunner! Of course everybody in our town knew that our handsome and stately Miss Adaline Bowes, who has spent much of her time in Kentucky of late years, and Mr. W. G. Ross, an alumnus in Agriculture of The Pennsylvania State College, and Superintendent of the large and important farming interests of the new penitentiary at Pleasant Gap, were very good friends, and everybody suspected that sometime and somewhere they were going to enter matrimony, but no one would have guessed that they were going to jump over the cliff at this particular time and place. However, both parties are to be congratulated and the Howard letter joins in the heartiest way imaginable. The only criticism to be made is that "Farmer" Ross takes away one of the very finest girls we have and gives us no proper return. If he shall bring her back some of these times, to make their joint home in our town, that will pretty nearly even things up.

Bank Directors.

On Tuesday last the stockholders of the First National Bank held their annual meeting and re-elected the old Board of Directors as follows, excepting that T. A. Fletcher takes the place left vacant by the death of Wm. H. Neff. A. Weber, W. J. Kurtz, C. E. Yearick, T. A. Fletcher, J. Will Mayer, Jr., H. T. McDowell and Matthew Rogers, Jr. Messrs. Geo. M. Carter, Albert Schenck and Jacob Ritman acted as the committee of the stockholders to conduct the election. Wednesday morning the directors met and re-elected all the old officers: Abraham Weber, President; Walter J. Kurtz, vice president; Matthew Rogers, Jr., cashier; and W. R. McDowell, assistant cashier.

John T. Butler visited friends and relatives in Philipsburg last week. Miss Nettie Swartz, who has been ill for several weeks, is recovering slowly.

Michael Shields, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with his brother, James Doolen.

Miss Beatrice Berry, of Lock Haven, is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Diehl.

Early Tuesday morning he venerable seems to be on the verge of dissolution.

Mr. K. L. Ware, of Windber, was a last week guest of Miss Gertrude Thomas.

Prof. Albert Lucas, of Moshannon, was a Sunday guest of his brother, merchant C. C. Lucas.

Mrs. August Johnson, now of Sterling Run, Cameron Co., is the guest of her friend, Mrs. Ward Schenck.

V. M. Herber, manager of a brick plant at Saxton, Pa., was a visitor with D. Allison Irvin, last week.

Mr. Benajah Reeder, of Loydsock, spent a portion of last week with his cousin, Mrs. W. H. Long and family.

Early Tuesday morning the venerable Mrs. Michael was taken suddenly ill, becoming at once unconscious. A big sled load of our young people drove up to Yarnell Friday evening and were entertained by Miss Delphia Yarnell.

Yesterday (Wednesday) morning mercury hereabouts registered from 12 to 16 degrees below zero, according to location.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schenck, with their handsome baby, are visitors with grandparents and grandma, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Schenck.

Clayton Lucas, of Milesburg, spent Saturday with H. T. McDowell, and will probably become the tenant of Mr. McD's farm next year.

Isaac R. Williams, who experienced a slight stroke of paralysis recently, is yet confined to his house, with but very slight improvement.

Mrs. Harry Marsden, Mrs. George Reigel, Miss Ada Bowes, Mrs. Arthur Youdes, Mrs. Edward Green and Miss Leotta Brouse were eastward passengers Thursday morning, on belated No. 50.

Among those who came home to Howard to spend the holiday season with their friends, and whose names did not appear in our list of the last, were the Misses Ruth and Florence Gardner.

Miss Miriam Lucas is an addition to the quite large coterie of young folk who represent Howard at the Lock Haven Normal school, having entered that institution with the beginning of the new year.

In the next term of court, Feb. 23, Ira C. Johnson will represent Howard borough on the grand jury; and on the traverse jury, first week, F. S. Dunham and John Weber will represent the borough and James Tyson the township; second week, Roland Letica and Herbert Schenck will sit for the township.

While directing some work connected with the Centre Lighting plant, last Monday morning, manager Baiser Weber was struck by a pole and thrown to the ground, breaking one of the small bones in his right wrist, and is laid up for repairs. The long continued weakness of Mr. Weber's left arm, as the result of a former illness, leaves him almost helpless for the time being. We hope he may rapidly recover.

The home of Thomas Daughenbaugh was filled with a happy family party Christmas Eve, to witness the marriage of his daughter, Miss Myra, to Mr. John Schardt, of Lock Haven. Rev. M. J. Snyder, pastor of the United Evangelical church, in which she is a member, performed the ceremony. Miss Daughenbaugh is one of our reliable girls, with a lot of executive ability, and will make their Lock Haven home a bright and happy one.

NITTANY.

The property of Mrs. S. R. Tweed is for rent. Mrs. Tweed is having sale in March and expects to join her son William, of Scottsburg, N. Y., where they will make their future home.

Miss Mayme Zerby has returned to the college again after spending some time with her parents and many friends here.

Monday was a very cold and blustery day. Mrs. H. P. Zerby was visiting friends in Bellefonte and Milesburg several days the past week.

We are glad to say that little Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, who has been quite ill with pneumonia the past week, is much better at this writing.

We are also glad to note that Eva McDowell, who was very ill with pneumonia, is getting along very nicely at this writing.

Some people get so tired going home from church that they lay down in the snow. The protracted meeting is fairly well attended for as bad as the roads are. There is one penitent and a number more are expected before the meeting closes.

UNIONVILLE.

The Fish Warden.
 Quite a sensation was sprung on the citizens of our usual quiet and orderly town on last Friday when Fish Warden, J. C. Sizer, of Hunting, caused the arrest of five of our citizens on the charge of illegal fishing, to wit: J. H. Bruns, his two sons, John H. and Charley, W. Hughes Barton and Laird Morrison. They were arrested by constables W. R. Potter of the borough and J. H. Finch of the township and taken before Squire W. H. Eason where the Warden made judgment for a hearing. On the evidence of Irvin Holt and John Logue, two young boys of the town, John H. Bruns and W. Hughes Barton were found guilty and each was fined $20 and costs. Not sufficient evidence having been produced against the other three, they were discharged. It seems that all of them were innocent of any intention of violating the fish laws and the sympathy of the public with the boys, as they were ignorant of the law providing for the protection of game and fish. The manner of taking the fish was by striking on the ice which was about 4 inches thick, with a heavy wooden splat or ransing the fish which would turn on their backs and rise up against the ice when the boys would cut a hole in the ice and lift them out. According to the rumored report, Mr. Barton only caught three, 1 sucker, 1 mullet and 1 "catfish," while Bruns had about 30 or 35. The guilty ones were given till the 15th to pay their fine. It is now rumored that they will appeal to the court claiming that they did not see justice, and that they are not guilty.

Serious Accident.

Mr. Wm. Wright, who is operating a saw mill at Dix Run, under the firm name of "Centre Lumber Company" and which is under the superintendency of his son Guy, met with a serious accident on last Saturday at their mill, a mile west of town. Mr. Wright and his son got into their sleigh intending to drive down to town and on attempting to turn around the sleigh was upset. Mr. Wright made an effort to get out, one of his feet became entangled with the top rail, in falling he sustained a very serious rupture. His son brought him down home and so painfully was he injured that he had to be carried into his house.

Dr. Irwin and Russell called in and upon examination found the injuries so serious that he advised that he be taken to the Bellefonte hospital. Dr. Hayes was telephoned for and responded promptly. On examination he also advised that the injuries were less serious than reported and that he may soon be able to be with us again.

An Elopement.

One day last week Sherman Geist, aged 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Geist of Union township and Miss Lenore Holt, age 16, of Unionville, quietly slipped away, went to Cumberland, Md. and were hitched up in double harness to trot through life. Mr. Geist holds a lucrative position with the P. R. R. Co. at Pittsburg, where the happy couple will reside on their return from the south. We wish their happiness and prosperity, my children.

Mrs. Frances Ammerman is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bert Clapper, and her pretty grand daughter, at Altoona. Handsome John Askin, son-in-law of Mr. Wm. E. Turner has purchased the David Spotts property on Allegheny street from Miss Eida Spotts, the latest owner.

There will be a revival meeting commenced at Bush Hollow church on January 13th by the Free Methodist church and will be protracted indefinitely. J. W. Collins, pastor.

Wednesday morning, Jan. 14th, 14 degrees below zero in Unionville. Take in your porch swings Lew. and Lib. Lake Helen, Florida. Also and likewise Miss Marie Grist at Coronado, Florida.

Merchant James B. Stere has purchased the Leathers home on railroad street from Mr. Geo. W. Forry. Both the above properties are fine, comfortable residences and will be occupied by the purchasers.

It is very noticeable that since the order of the P. R. R. Co. abolishing free passes to the wives and families of railroad employees went into effect January 1st, that the passenger coaches are very sparsely filled.

The Hon. George W. Forry, of Clyde, Ohio, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Margaret Brugger. Judging from his handsome face, his prepossessing appearance and genial disposition he has developed into fine matrimonial timber. Set your traps, girls!

Mr. Carrie Kowan, spent Sunday with her son Charley at Bellwood. As it is reported that there is a case of smallpox at that town, we suggest that the Board of Health examine her suit case to make sure that she did not bring any germs with her for distribution.

The new school board as organized on Saturday, Jan. 10th, shows the following membership: H. I. Stere, Pres., E. A. Holderman, Sec., D. Buck, Treas., G. L. Holt and J. D. C. Hall. The town council consists of the following members: Dr. W. U. Irvin, Pres., D. Buck, W. E. Parsons, S. W. Holt, Geo. A. Heberling, Chas. R. Eckenroth and Jos. P. Stere. Now get busy boys.

BOALSBURG.

Mrs. Emma Stuart left for Pittsburg Saturday where she will stay till May with her sons, David, Reuben and George.

Miss Alice Magoffin closed her home Monday and went to Bellefonte to stay six weeks.

Mrs. Minerva Tennis and two children, of Sinking Valley, were visitors at the Edward Riley home the past week.

George Fisher and family and Mrs. Amanda Fisher expects to move into their new home this week.

The Odd Fellows held their annual banquet Wednesday evening. Quite a number of invitations have been sent out.

Joseph Hettlinger entertained at his home Saturday quite a number of his old friends and comrades.

Quite a number of friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Meyers took them by surprise Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Meyers' birthday.

John Stover, of Altoona, spent Friday all Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stover.

The play entitled "A Tale of a Hat" was given in the Boal hall Saturday evening to a full house.

Correction in Sale Date.

An error in the sale notice of Jacob O. Confer, of near Howard, in last week's paper made it read January 20th, when it should have been February 20th. Mr. Confer had nice, new blue printing at his office and no doubt will have a successful sale. The time has also been changed to 10 a. m. instead of noon, as announced last week.

HUBLERSBURG.

Rev. Wolfinger, from Philadelphia, will preach in the Reformed church here on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and at Howard in the evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. G. F. Hoy visited one day last week with Mrs. J. D. Miller in Bellefonte. We have had zero weather for the last couple days.

Mrs. L. E. Swartz and Mrs. E. L. Markle visited with friends at Bellefonte one day the past week.

The calthumpians were around here last week and serenaded in honor of Roy Glossner and wife from Johnstown.

Rev. Hoover, wife and little daughter left for a short vacation to their parent's home.

The Thaddeus Stevens Literary Society will give a public program on Friday evening, the 23rd of January.

Mrs. E. L. Markle spent several days the past week with her brother, Irvin Bierly, of near Bellefonte.

The children, both young and old, are all enjoying themselves by sliding down the town hill.

Mr. Irvin Bierly and son, from near Bellefonte, spent over Sunday with Mrs. E. L. Markle.

The Local Institute of Bellefonte borough and Walker, Benner and Spring townships was held in the W. T. H. S. building at Hublersburg last Saturday and was well attended by the progressive teachers and patrons. The institute was presided over by Prof. B. F. Swartz as chairman. All the topics on the program were discussed both pro and con by patrons and teachers. Among whom were Prof. Spenser, of Clintonville High School; Malcolm Emerick and Miss Vera Allison, of Nittany; Prof. Welk, of Science department, Bellefonte High School; Prof. Bartlett, of Pleasant Gap; L. E. Swartz and W. H. Minnich of this place. Other features of the entertainment were a song by Marqueta Guiser and a recitation by Miss Estelle Weaver. The attendance was about two hundred. All the seating room was taken up.

GATESBURG.

Well, well, the old scribe is still on the job, since the weather man has furnished such fine sleighing.

Miss Goldy Gates is still on the sick list.

William Gates has left our little village and gone to Halfmoon to spend the winter with his father-in-law.

Four of our boys left for the Laurel mountains to spend the winter, but soon returned. Walter said the smallest log he carried had nine hundred board feet in it. How about it, Dick?

Lester Rider, of Washington, D. C., is visiting Geo. E. Rider of this place.

Walter Gates is suffering from a very bad cut, caused by a pump handle.

Roy is very happy, as Laura said yes.

Mike Dressler has started business in his new blacksmith shop.

A sledding party from Bald Eagle spent Saturday evening at the home of G. E. Rider. Music was furnished by Miss Cora Huntsman, of Tyrone, after which an oyster supper was enjoyed by all. The following composed the party: Hazel Garland, Blanch Norman, Edna Decker, Daisy Bloombaugh, Cora Huntsman, Daisy Nearhoof, Mildred Nearhoof, Clara Irvin, Ruth Splitter, Ruth Burns, Pearl Abbit, Florence Coxan, Phoebe Smith, Bill Tanier, Troy Burns, Eddie Burns, Raymond Burns, Will Vonada, Comie Woieslagie, Calvin Norman, Ben Lutz.
