

SPENT HALF CENTURY IN MAIL SERVICE
INTERESTING INTERVIEW WITH VETERAN RAILROADER.
TRAVELED 2,000,000 MILES
 Has Distributed Over 50,000,000 Pieces of Mail Matter—Began Career as Brakeman in 1863—Never Met With Serious Injuries.

There is a young man in Tyrone, 70 years old who has a unique record. We refer to W. H. Borrows, a former Bellefonter, whose name is well known here. The Observer in the Altoona Tribune of recent date gives an interesting interview with the gentleman, in which he gives some interesting things about the railway mail service—its early history and development. The Observer says:

"For a little over 48 years, W. H. Borrows, of Tyrone, has been sorting and distributing mail for your Uncle Sam. All that time he has been in motion. He is 'always on the go' while working and carries this spirit of restlessness with him while off duty, for even at 70, he is full of ginger and activity. To look at him, you would not deem him a well over 95. This is due to the fact that in all his three score years and ten he has not known sickness. During his 48 years of gliding over the steel rails, he has never been unfitted for work by accidents or sickness and this in spite of the fact that he has been in four collisions and has known fifteen engineers who have gone to death on the rail, whom he traveled behind at one time or another. He has had so many narrow escapes on the road that he believes he is predestined to die some other way. Said he, facetiously: 'I guess I'll be drowned.' Then he added: 'That isn't a very easy death, either.'

"It is almost inconceivable that a man could travel on the railroad over 3,000,000 miles in a lifetime and never meet with a serious injury. He has met with accidents, but never did they unfit him for duty. During his career he has distributed over 50,000,000 pieces of mail to all corners of the earth and what a wonderful trust has been his—for those post cards, letters, papers and official documents that have gone through his hands, have brought joy and gladness to millions of people. What a field of philosophy is opened up in this thought. His hands have held for one brief instant many messages burning with love—messages which have sped across rivers, oceans and continents, and found their lodgment in responsive hearts thousands of miles away. Think of the mothers whose lives have been cheered with a message from a faraway son! Think of the happiness brought to sweethearts and lovers! We might expatiate at length in this vein, but we have other things to say now.

"So far as known, there is only one man who has spent a longer term of service as a railway mail clerk than Mr. Borrows. He is J. H. Pitney, of Eagle Bridge, N. Y., who runs on the Boston & Albany road. He beats Mr. Borrows' record by four years. Until six years ago Mr. Borrows resided at Lock Haven, where he raised a family of seven splendid children. He tells many interesting reminiscences of the early history of the Philadelphia & Erie railroad on which he secured his first position. He has been on wheels all his working life, for he began as an express messenger between Williamsport and Lock Haven in 1841.

"In 1863 he became a brakeman and in this capacity helped to unload the first stick of lumber used in the building of Renovo in 1864. He was a brakeman on the first train from Lock Haven to Erie in October, 1864, which carried the officials of the road and excursionists from Philadelphia, who were anxious to visit the new territory opened up. He has gone over the route from Lock Haven to Harrisburg with a party of officials, before the road was built. They traveled in a three-seated surrey drawn by two horses. In the party were George B. Roberts, Joseph D. Potts, Thomas Saybrook, Robert F. Harris, Charles J. Bennett and Mr. Borrows. The journey took twelve days and it was a rough ride along the Susquehanna river and through a very mountainous country. The trip occurred in June, 1843, and in August of the next year the road was completed, and Mr. Borrows was in Warren with his train when news came of the battle of Gettysburg.

"Tremendous strides have been made by the postoffice department since Mr. Borrows became an employee. He has witnessed all the important developments. Post cards were unknown when he began to distribute mail. Now the post card craze is universal and a large part of each day's mail consists of cards. The postoffice money order was introduced during his incumbency and also the registry system. During the past year was witnessed the crowning achievement of the department, in inaugurating the parcel post. We all know what a blessing this has been and the wonder is that it was so long delayed. Uncle Sam is now pocketing a profit of several millions of dollars, instead of dipping into his pocket to make up a deficit, as was the case formerly. The latest innovation is conducted economically, for few additional men have been added to handle it.

"Mr. Borrows handles all sorts of things since the introduction of the parcel post. His run is from Tyrone to Lock Haven, and State College is the most prolific parcel post town on his route. There are over 2,000 students at Penn State and their mothers, sisters and sweethearts deluge the mail with goodies, clothing, etc. A surprising number of suit cases are sent by parcel post. A few days ago these articles were transmitted to various parts of the country: A ham, three spades, bundle of sheepskins, iron casting, several suit cases, clothing, etc. Packages of clothing often break open and the public should use greater care in this respect.

"An idea of the extra mail carried during the Christmas rush was cited by Mr. Borrows: The train from Tyrone to Granton usually carries about 30 sacks of mail. The day before Christmas, there were 91 sacks. The work of a railway mail clerk is very exacting and requires an amazing fund of geographical and railroad knowledge, although the demands now are not as onerous as formerly. As late as 1892, the clerks were required to make 95 per cent. on the entire state of Pennsylvania, the test consisting of 5,000 cards with 221 separations. Now the state is divided into five sections and the clerks do not dread the examinations. Prior to 1892 the clerks almost had a nervous breakdown after finishing the test prescribed. On his present run, Mr. Borrows averages about 5,000 pieces of mail each day.

The fellow who calls on his girl only every other night is only half in love!

PORT MATILDA.
 We are called upon to note the death of an aged and highly respected citizen of Port Matilda, Mrs. Lucinda Weston, widow of the late Thomas Weston, deceased, who died at her home in the above place, aged 80 years and 2 months, from heart troubles and infirmities incident to old age. She suffered long and patiently until the hour of two o'clock in the morning of January 19, 1914, when her spirit winged its way to her reward in Heaven. Mrs. Weston was a sincere Christian lady, having united with the M. E. church at the age of 15 years, being a devout Christian until the end. She leaves to mourn, four sons and two daughters, Joseph, James and William, of Galitzin, and Benson, at home; Mrs. Dr. Fugate, of Dubois, and Mrs. McFarland, of Clearfield; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crocker, long since deceased. Christian service was held in the M. E. church, Rev. Cook of the above church assisted by Rev. Wilson of the U. B. church officiating, after which her remains were taken to Black Oak cemetery where interment was made.

Mrs. Nancy Gates has returned to her home after ably caring for the sick and afflicted for several months past. Although not a graduate from the nursing school, a thorough practical knowledge with a kindly care, holds her in demand.

There is no sign of a panic in our part of the country. To the contrary, every available team is busily engaged in hauling coal bank props to the R. R. for shipment.

The ice crop was unusually good this winter in this section of the country. Those having ice houses took advantage of it and housed a large quantity.

George Harpster, Bud Robinson and George Harshbarger, of this place, who have been seriously ill for some time past, we are pleased to note are speedily recovering.

Doris Adams sold his prized little driving horse and is now in search of a heavier one for draught purposes.

R. A. Patton is convalescing for a nursery firm; he claims to have only first class fruit. Bob will talk you into a sale any how.

AXEMANN.
 Last Tuesday night about forty of Samuel Markie's friends gathered at his home to help him celebrate his birthday. All had a delightful time. Eldsworth White and wife spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Penn Cave and Farmers Mills.

Mrs. Harry Reareck and her twin babies, of Bellefonte, visited her mother, Mrs. Conaghan, at this place this week.

John Conaghan is lying very sick at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Conaghan; we all hope for his speedy recovery.

Calvin Cori and wife and Mrs. Andrew Kuhn visited friends at Shingleton on Tuesday.

A jolly sledding party from Stormstown and State College visited friends here last week. They were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Johnson, Tearson, Clyde and Clair Johnson, Miss Ella Ghaner, Mrs. Minnie Huey and son Lee, of Stormtown, and Mrs. Cyrus Johnson, of State College. All had a pleasant time.

Manuel White is ill at this writing; his many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Martin Stover helped her daughter, Mrs. David Keller move from Bellefonte to this place on Tuesday.

Bloomard Shutt has hired with John Yearick and will move from Ray White's house to the one owned by Herb. Hull, about Irish Hollow.

Fields is visiting at the home of his sons, Frank and Adolphus Fields, for some time.

Miss Viola Laufer returned home last week after spending ten days very pleasantly among relatives and friends at Jersey Shore.

E. T. Kellerman spent Sunday at home.

A series of religious meetings will be held in the M. E. church at Scotia by a team of State College students, beginning Jan. 30th, 1914 at 7 o'clock. Program as follows: Friday evening, Jan. 30, 7:30 o'clock—everybody. Saturday evening, Jan. 31—everybody. Sunday, Feb. 1, 2 p. m.—for boys under sixteen years. Sunday 3 p. m.—all men and boys over sixteen years. Sunday evening—everybody. Good music will be a pleasant feature of the meeting and a most cordial invitation is extended to all.

BRUSHVALLEY.
 Ice! Ice! Ice! The ice harvest is here so do not let it slip by without having your ice houses filled.

The Y. W. C. A. was well attended at the home of Miss Bertha Korman on Sunday evening.

Philip Shook wears an extra broad smile; it's a boy.

Paul Wert and sister, Mrs. John Brungard, left this place last week for Maple Park, Ill.

Since Paul is gone some one looks very lonesome.

Robert Campbell, proprietor of Penn Cave, was unfortunate in losing one of his horses; one of its back legs was kicked off by another horse that stood beside it in the stable.

Protracted meeting is still in progress in Madisonburg at this writing.

Decker Bros. are running their saw mill at full blast.

Beck & Co. are hulling cloverseed through this vicinity.

Emmett Raeban had a stroke of paralysis last week. He is some better at this writing.

FOR WIDOWED MOTHERS.
 So much state legislation of a haphazard, hit-or-miss character, is put through with a rush in the turmoil of partisan politics, that New York State has declined to act off-handed, but instead, has appointed a non-partisan commission to investigate the subject of home assistance for widows with dependent children, and to recommend a model law providing for such relief.

The commission is studying the laws of other states and will frame a bill that will embody their best features. Even in our own state there is some doubt as to the constitutionality of the act and no doubt it would be wise to go slowly and like our sister states, study the laws of other states and pick out the best features, whereby a widowed mother, is enabled to keep intact her home for her children and raise them to a healthy citizenship, rather than separate the family and send them to charitable institutions. Eighteen states, during the past two years have adopted such legislation. On the first of last October seven widowed mothers of Mercer Co., N. J., received pension grants, the allowances being from $14 to $30 a month.

Our own State Legislature appropriated $200,000 and the allotment is on a basis of population.

Not many counties, so far, have accepted their portion, as they must contribute like amount, and the commissioners feel they have not the money to appropriate for this cause, although a good one.

The question is, are taxpayers willing to pay more, besides their poor tax, to help this cause along? Or should everybody pay a little, taxpayers or not, to help on a good cause, and not let it come off of a few people? I think, if the latter, the commissioners would be more willing to undertake it.

For Frost Bites and Chapped Skin.
 For frost bitten ears, fingers and toes, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, there is nothing to equal Bucklen's Arnica salve. Stops the pain at once and heals quickly. In every home there should be a box handy all the time. Best remedy for all skin diseases, itching eczema, tetter, piles, etc. 25c. All druggists or by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co. Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Adv. Jan.

Make This and Try It for Coughs
 This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiccol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

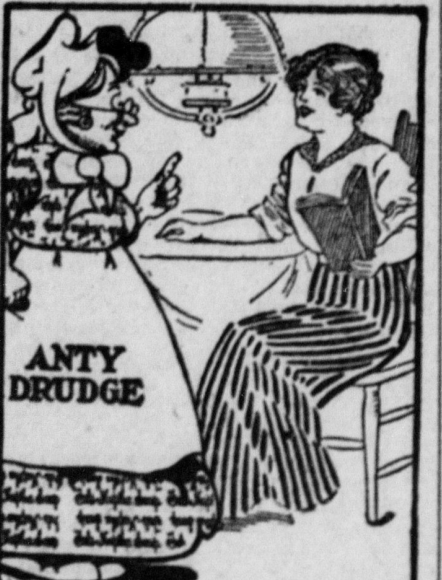

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the real, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Electrified Chickens.
 Chickens incubated by electricity in the last scientific experiment in the poultry line. Tremendous precocity, we are told, is thus engendered in the small feathered fry. Under this treatment they develop in a third of the time occupied by their old fashioned brothers and sisters. They peck violently at every substance within reach and sparks fly from their beaks.

We have not yet heard how the meat of these electrified prodigies will affect the human stomach hardly enough to tackle it. It may be all right. It was a wise man who ventured on a raw oyster, but think how wonderfully he added to the sum of human happiness! Possibly electrical chicken will be the greatest delicacy on the menu for 1914.

ANTY DRUDGE
 Mrs. Goodense—"Nellie's just been telling me of some lectures on housekeeping she's gone to. They tell her how to make all kinds of fancy desserts and salads that are no use to her at all, but they don't teach her a sensible thing like using Fels-Naptha Soap or anything of that sort. A waste of time, I call it."

Anty Drudge—"Well, you can teach her about Fels-Naptha Soap at home. She can see how fine it does your work for you and learning about the other won't hurt her."

Fels-Naptha Soap in cool or lukewarm water will get your clothes on the line in half the time with less than half the trouble if you will use it next washday, and your clothes will not have to be hard-rubbed nor boiled, either.
