other local meetings and social events. Admission for adults will be 75 cents, including tax, while tickets for all persons under 18 years of age will be 25 cents, including tax.

In addition to the McCaslin-Matocovich bout, the committee announces the following card for the evening.

John Hill, 120 pounds, of Lock Haven, vs. Joe Dutton, 124, of Flemington. Both these boys have been seen in other Centre County bouts in recent months, and both are experienced boxers.

Bill Bressler, weighing 118, of the Lock Haven Teachers College, will meet Harris Evans, also 118, of Fairfordville. These two scrappers are little known in Centre County, but come here with an impressive string of victories in other Central Pennsylvania meets.

Joe Buzzell, 126, of the Lock Haven Teachers College, will meet Jimmie Bradley, 122 pounds, of Lock Haven. This pair, according to reports, has a little grudge to settle Tuesday night, and plenty of action is anticipated.

Snow Shoe W. C. T. U. to Meet A regular meeting of the Snow Shoe Union of the W. C. T. U. will be held at 7:30 o'clock on Monday evening, March 29, at the home of Mrs. R. C. Dershen, in Snow Shoe.

UNIQUE PROGRAM AT CLUB MEETING

Miss Long was freed when her bail bond for $1,500 was reposted. Judge James began his long charge at the opening of Thursday afternoon's session.

Edith Long was indicted on three charges by the commonwealth as a result of an automobile accident which happened on the state highway near Greenwood on the early morning of February 20.

First, Mrs. Isadore Claster, attired in a bright-hued costume of an Italian peasant, read a paper on Italy. She told of Mussolini's activities in the European controversies.

Second, Mrs. E. W. Moyer, dressed as a German Frau, told of Herr Hitler's autocratic rule and his development of a powerful war machine.

Third, Mrs. Arthur Dale, dressed in the costume of a Russian peasant, told of the differences in the government of Russia under the Romanoffs and the new Soviet Union.

Fourth, Mrs. Robert Beach, costumed as a Spanish Senora, told of the terror and chaos in Spain today, and the dreadful class hatred such a destructive revolution is bound to engender.

Fifth, Miss Betty Lockington, wearing the costume of a French peasant, from the province of Brittany, spoke of the social and economic conditions existing in France under the "People's Front" or Labor Party headed by the socialist, Leon Blum.

Sixth, Mrs. John Love, wearing a Quaker costume, the lovely silken bonnet of which she removed before speaking (as was the old Quaker custom) talked of England's policies. England it seems holds the key to European Peace and despite her feverish armament activities desires to maintain peace at home and abroad.

In concluding this International Program, Mrs. John Henry Auvinen, dressed in a bright-hued, gala, costume of a Finnish peasant from the province of Paatsmaki, sang a number of folk songs of Finland in her native Finnish tongue.

Denny as their favorite dance maestro. During his long engagement at the Waldorf, Jack Denny and his band were heard on many coast-to-coast radio network commercial programs over both the NBC and CBS radio net works.

Next came a long engagement at the French Casino in New York where Clifford Fisher's "Folies Bergere" show was making their first American appearance. Again the Jack Denny orchestra scored a triumph.

When Jack Denny brings his famous orchestra to Hecla Park dance devotees will hear and see the same great band that has enjoyed national popularity for the past five years and are rising to new heights of musical stardom.

The jury returned at 2:10 o'clock. At 4:37 o'clock it returned to the courtroom for additional instruction. Speaking for the jury, Foreman McDowell asked Judge James, "If the defendant is found guilty on the charge of driving while intoxicated, does it necessarily follow that she is found guilty on the charges of aggravated assault and battery?"
