ACCIDENTS MAR MEMORIAL SEASON

guard fence. The accident happened about 2:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon about 3 miles north of Reedsville on Route 322. No one was injured and damage to the car was estimated at about $50.

Two persons sustained minor injuries at the intersection of Main and Penn Streets in Millheim about 3:10 o'clock Saturday afternoon when cars operated by Mrs. Emma Hettinger, of Spring Mills, and Lawrence J. Wolf, also of Spring Mills, collided. Mrs. Hettinger, a recent bride, was traveling toward Woodward, and Mr. Wolf was proceeding in the opposite direction. Confusion at the traffic light in Millheim resulted in the mishap.

Rosella Hettinger, a passenger in the Hettinger machine, sustained abrasions of the left leg and Violet Wolfe, a passenger in the other car, suffered lacerations of the forehead above the left eye. Damage to the Hettinger car was placed at $20, and to the Wolf roadster, $35.

An attempt by the driver of a car to pass another machine, while the other machine was attempting to pass a third machine, brought grief to a motorist about 2 miles west of Snow Shoe on Route 53, at 1:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The road was wide enough for only two cars to pass.

Joseph E. Barnyak, of Moshannon, was driving a coupe and is reported to have attempted to pass a machine driven by John F. Musser, of Snow Shoe while Musser was in the act of attempting to pass a car in front of him. Barnyak's machine ran off the road and struck a telephone pole. No one was injured. Damage to the Barnyak coupe was placed at $125. The Musser car was undamaged.

Damage was almost negligible in a mishap occurring at the entrance to a cemetery about one-half mile west of Millheim on Route 45, at 11:40 o'clock Sunday morning, when a coach driven by J. J. Bron, of Antes Fort, was struck by another car as Mr. Bron made a left turn from the highway to enter the cemetery. The other car, which had been following the Bron machine, was driven by Wilford Hartzell, of Knox, Clairon County. Bron slowed down to make the turn, but is reported to have failed to signal his intentions. Just as he attempted to make the turn, Hartzell tried to pass and the collision resulted. No one was injured, and total damage to the two cars was approximately $15. Bron was arrested on charges of failure to give the proper signal, and Hartzell was arrested on a reckless driving charge.

REGISTRATION DAYS SET BY COMMISSION

his franchise is to be registered under the terms of the new Permanent Registration Act recently passed by the Legislature. On the precinct registration dates fixed by the county commission, registrars will sit at the regular polling places from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m., and if any voter fails to register on one of the three days, his only recourse is to apply at the Commissioners' offices.

In regard to registration the County Commission yesterday reported that registrations can be made only at the polling places, or Commissioners' offices. In other words, the registrars are not permitted to visit homes, or to register voters anywhere except at the polling places.

No voter can be registered unless he appears personally before the registrar at the polling place, or Commissioners' offices. This means that one member of the family is not permitted to go to the polling place and register the entire family, or any other person but himself. Persons who are ill or incapacitated may be taken to the polls in cars, and the registrars will be permitted to register them outside the polling places, but those who are unable to get to the polling places or to the Commissioners' offices have no recourse under the act, and can not be registered until they are able to appear personally before the registrars.

When it is taken into consideration that there are more than 26,000 voters in the county, and that every one of them must be registered at least 30 days before the primaries next September in order for them to be entitled to vote, the importance of registering becomes apparent. The law is definite in barring all persons from voting who have not registered under the new act.

The Commissioners have ordered the necessary supplies and equipment for the new registration and they expect to be equipped by next week to register voters at their offices. Action is to be taken soon on the appointment of the two registrars for each election precinct in the county. These registrars will be called into the Commissioners' offices before the first registration day June 18, and will be issued detailed instructions as to their duties.

MARDI GRAS BY GIRL, SCOUTS OPENS TOMORROW

Proceeds will be turned over to the underprivileged children's committee for use in sending children to health camps this summer.

A bean guessing contest, with an expensive indirect lighting table lamp as the prize, opened in four Bellefonte stores last week. The winner will be announced at the Mardi Gras at 9 o'clock Saturday night and the person making the winning guess must be present to receive the award. A radio also is to be given away.

Diversion at the Mardi Gras will include bingo, penny pitching, wild animals, side shows and fortune telling. Booths labeled "Kisses for Sale," and "For Men Only," will attract the men, while a fish pond, in which every angler catches something, will attract all comers. Siamese twins, a singing dog and a fat lady will be on exhibition.

Refreshments will include extra-fine hot dogs with all the trimmings, soft drinks, ice cream and cake. Peasant aprons and other novelties will be on sale.

We are willing to admit that the modern scientist is ahead of us.

SEE AND KNOW PENNSYLVANIA

James Buchanan

Do you know that James Buchanan was the only Pennsylvanian elected President of the United States?

Buchanan was born in 1791 a short distance west of Mercersburg. A monument and memorial forest mark his birthplace. The house in which he was born was removed to Chambersburg.

Before and after he was President of the United States his home was in Lancaster. It was known as "Wheatland," and it was recently taken over by the Buchanan Foundation for the Preservation of Wheatland. The home is situated on Marietta Avenue and is open to visitors. It was here that 85 years ago Buchanan, as the Democratic nominee for President, conducted the first front porch campaign for the presidency.

Buchanan's brilliant career saw him State Senator, Secretary of State, Ambassador to St. Petersburg and London, and America's fifteenth Chief Executive. He spent his declining years at Wheatland with his niece, Harriet Lane Johnston, who was rated as one of the loveliest mistresses the White House has ever known.

A very attractive folder on Buchanan's home is available for free distribution upon request to the Pennsylvania Scenic and Historic Commission, 9 N. Front Street, Harrisburg, Pa.

Bear Meadows

Do you know that a regular botanist's paradise is located in Centre County?

A quagmire of 350 acres, known as Bear Meadows, is situated southeast of Boalsburg, which is located on Route 422, nine miles west of Porters Mills or four miles east of State College. Anyone interested in nature study will find this a most interesting place to visit.

Primeval Forest

Do you know that a typical primeval forest is located in Huntingdon County?

It is Detweiler Run, a State Forest Monument, situated north of Greenwood Furnace. To reach this interesting spot from Route 322 at Reedsville, follow Route 76 to Bellefonte and then Route 305 to Greenwood Furnace. Another way is to leave State College on Route 45 and follow Route 545 from Pine Grove Mills to McAlevy's Port and from there east on Route 305.

Here one finds dense undergrowth of conifers, rhododendrons, and hardwoods; white pines and hemlocks. It was here that the wolves in Pennsylvania made their last stand.

State Flower

Do you know that the mountain laurel is Pennsylvania's State flower?

Laurel time in the Pocono region each year attracts thousands of people. Beginning about June 15 and continuing for a period of about two weeks, the hills and valleys of the Poconos are bedecked with lavish displays of pink-tinted laurel. This year there will be no crowning of a Laurel Queen; instead, there will be a dozen or more special events at various vacation centers in the Poconos during the laurel blossoming season. The Monroe County Chamber of Commerce, Stroudsburg, Pa., shall answer inquiries concerning these events.

Practically every section of Pennsylvania where there are forest areas has its stand of laurel. Following the season in the Poconos, these blooms appear in lavish display in Cook Forest. Many miles of motor and hiking trails have been marked for the benefit of motorists leaving Brookville, Jefferson County.

Wayside Areas

Do you know that Pennsylvania has 16 wayside areas for the accommodation of tourists?

These spots are situated along or close to major highways or improved roads. They offer picnic facilities, with open fire places, firewood, pure spring water, tables and benches, covered pavilions, and in some instances, swimming pools. A complete list of these wayside areas will be found in a new 128-page booklet, "Pennsylvania has Everything," and on the 1937 scenic and historic map, where county and highway locations are plainly designated. These two pieces of literature will be distributed free by the Pennsylvania Scenic and Historic Commission, 9 N. Front Street, Harrisburg, Pa.

Historic Philadelphia

Do you know that Philadelphia will be a Mecca for tourists from all over the United States during 1937?

While America is observing the 150th Anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States, the following landmarks in the Quaker City are of interest to the average citizen:

Independence Hall, 8th and Chestnut Streets. Here the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States were signed. Here, too, reposes the Liberty Bell. It is open to visitors from 8:45 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. every day, including Sunday.

Congress Hall, northwest corner of Independence Square, between 5th and 8th and Chestnut and Walnut Streets. The first Continental Congress of the United States met in this building. It was here that Washington was inaugurated for his second term. It was the seat of Congress from December 6, 1790, until 1800. It is open to visitors from 8:45 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. every day except Sunday.

Carpenter's Hall, between 3rd and 4th Streets, at head of small court running south from Chestnut Street. It was the meeting place of the first Continental Congress. It is open to visitors from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., except Sunday.

Turkish Rolls

Work 1/2 cup of almond paste into 1 cup of boiled water, cooled to a lukewarm temperature. Add 2 tablespoons of butter, 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, 1 cake of compressed yeast, mixed in 1/2 cup of lukewarm water and between 3 to 4 cups of sifted flour. Mix it together thoroughly and knead to a smooth dough. The dough should be soft as can be shaped. Let stand to double its bulk; divide into oval rolls; when again light, brush over with milk and bake in a hot oven.
