

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa— I have a problem and the cause of it has been my desire to appear sensible all the married years of my life.

It is much better to let each other know just how you feel about things than to harbor ill or hurt feelings for years.

Dear Louisa: My daughter has been engaged to a young man, who has studied medicine for five years.

I think you will do a very wise thing to give this young couple a helping hand until they get started.

Each day 14 Pennsylvanians die of tuberculosis. Seems like a heavy toll for one disease.

I fear it is too late now to do much about your situation, Mrs. P. You know a person and her feelings are taken at her own valuation.

Lamp Cards The cord of the floor lamp can be kept off the floor by using hair pins as cleats for holding the cord. Stick the points of the pins into the crevice between the wall and the base-board.

Books The dust on books should be removed with a feather or brush. Using a cloth will remove the grit and cause shabby looking bindings.

Canned Meats There will be no waste when canned meats are removed from the cans if the cans are placed in hot water for a few minutes.

TATE FREED IN MOOSE ROBBERY AS COURT ENDS

(Continued from page one) and who would have been released within a year, was sentenced to serve from 2 to 4 years for escaping from Rockview, and received an additional 5 to 10 year sentence for the larceny of the car.

Jordan, who had been sentenced from Fayette County to 1 to 2 years for breaking and entering, and who was sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary, was sentenced to serve an additional 1 to 2 years for escaping, and also was given 5 to 10 years for the larceny of the car.

Before sentence was passed, Jordan, in a statement to the Court, declared his nerves had been so bad he didn't know what he was doing. He said he has a wife and three children to support, and that his elderly mother is ill. Since the death of a young son, last June, the prisoner declared that "he has not been in his right mind."

The two men left Rockview about 6 o'clock last Monday evening, driving away in Mrs. Fulton's car, which was found Tuesday night abandoned on the road between Tyrone and Altoona, near the Waas farm. The gasoline tank of the machine was empty, and the car had been driven from 20 to 30 miles, it was so damaged and was returned to its owner.

The men were taken into custody by State Motor Police as they walked along the railroad tracks about 3 miles west of Cresson last Thursday morning.

According to a statement made in court by Officer H. R. Johnson, assistant to Deputy Warden C. C. Rhoads, Jordan had been entrusted with the delivery of cars from the garage to various places on the prison farm. He was instructed to take Mrs. Fulton's car to the residence and accompanied by Cresson, and out for that destination. When he failed to appear in a reasonable time, a checkup revealed the escape.

Charged with a violation of the vehicle code, Kenneth F. Mayes, of Lemont, was discharged by Judge M. Ward Fleming after a trial without jury. Mayes was arrested Nov. 26, 1936 near State College. Merle Stangel, a member of the junior class at the Pennsylvania State College, entered a plea of non contendere to a charge of drunken driving, preferred against him by Officer Martin L. Kauffman of the State College borough police.

Officer Kauffman declared that about 2 o'clock on the morning of October 30, Stangel drove a car along Allen Street, State College, and in parking the machine drove two wheels up on the sidewalk, leaving the machine there as he got out. The youth was taken before Dr. Dale after an examination issued a certificate of intoxication.

Judge Fleming declared that he had learned that Stangel is a worthy youth, and placed him on probation for one year upon payment of the costs. The Court further stipulated that the defendant be given all the time he wants to work on the job.

A sealed verdict brought in Friday morning following the trial of Anthony Podalicki of Rush township, charged with violations of the liquor law, found him guilty on two counts and not guilty on two others. Podalicki was found guilty of distilling and selling without the proper label and permitting dancing, but was found not guilty of having liquor on his premises and failing to keep proper records.

Dr. H. E. Drexel of Johnstown, arrested near Axe Mann in August for reckless driving, was found guilty after a trial without jury. Dr. Drexel was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and the costs.

COURT TO HEAR TESTIMONY IN COLLEGE CASE

The matter was brought to a head when County Treasurer Brookes, acting upon reports supplied by college township officials, listed 9 college-owned farms in College township as being among properties to be sold November 4, 1937 for non-payment of taxes. Judge Fleming issued a temporary injunction on November 3, prohibiting the sale of the tracts in question, and setting the time for the hearing on the injunction for this morning.

In their complaint, the Pennsylvania State College sets forth that the College is an agency of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is purely public in nature, and is not subject to tax laws. The institution denies that if the present course is pursued by the college, the college annually will be compelled to pay taxes on the properties, and will have to rely on their ability to recover the same from the defendants.

At the hearing today the college will ask that the defendants be restrained from selling the properties for non-payment of taxes; that they be restrained from collecting taxes assessed for 1936 and 1937; and that they be restrained from assessing taxes on properties now held, or held in the future in College township, by the College.

The nine tracts which had been listed for sale early this month by County Treasurer Brookes, but which were not sold after the Court is issued the temporary injunction, are as follows, together with the taxes, interests and costs accrued against each property:

Johnsonbaugh, William, $ 43.40
Christ, Dr. 143.90
Thompson, Henry 282.50
Thompson, William 282.00
Thompson, Moses, Est. 131.34
Thompson, Moses, Est. 148.81
Brennon, Robert 81.90
Thompson, Hiram 143.83
Hoy, Dr. Land 55.91

The College is represented in the matter by E. K. Hostetter, assistant to the president, John G. Love, Esq., of Bellefonte is counsel for the institution.

LETTER REVEALS THAT LAW HAS NO MERCY

Last summer he underwent a painful operation at the Phillipsburg State Hospital and spent weeks in bed. After he was discharged from the hospital, he was forced to wear a heavy plaster cast for weeks.

All his life he wanted to go hunting like other boys. After the cast was removed, he managed to get a job and buy himself a license and a gun. On the first day that he went out hunting an experienced hunter, he saw a white. As he was returning home, he heard the crackle of twigs and saw something move in the brush and shot, but upon investigation he found that he had wounded the dog of another hunter.

He was taken to a Justice of the Peace. He was fined $25 for destruction of property. He was fined $10 because he was bested by the routine of the court and burst out the fact that he thought it was a squirrel at which he was shooting. Four dollars additional cost was added making a total of $39. Of course he could not pay the fine and was imprisoned. His physician has submitted a signed statement to the Centre County Board of Trustees confirming the fact that his health might be seriously undermined by the confinement in jail. Efforts to have him released have proved futile.

Officials who were contacted said, "I can do nothing. You will have to see somebody else."

Squirrels must be protected, but human values often mean little. A seventeen-year-old boy must be confined in the Centre County jail for thirty-nine days and associate with bums, drunks, petty thieves, syphilitics, etc., but squirrels must be protected.

There is a possibility that if a job can be secured for the boy by which he will be able to pay his fine, he might be released.

The boy is not a criminal. He is not "bad." Your son or your neighbor's son who likes the outdoors, who likes to hunt, and is only seventeen years old or thereabout could very easily commit the same crime, but let us hope that if it is your boy or your neighbor's boy, he will be able to pay his fine and get out of jail.

BORO SECURES ROAD ROLLER

(Continued from page one) The rental rate is $300 monthly, and the purchase price $2,500. It was decided to rent the machine with the understanding that, if it proves satisfactory, the amount of the rent shall apply on the purchase price.

Plans were submitted for the building to house the new booster pumping station on Wilson Street. The building will be 12 feet square, and will be located about 60 feet from the Wilson Street. It will be a concrete block construction with a concrete roof, and will rise about 6 feet above the ground. Two or three sides of the building will be banked with earth to prevent extreme changes of temperature in the structure.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, which had been asked by Council to repair the crossing near the Brewer coal yard, in a letter to Council reported that under an agreement the crossing is maintained by the coal yard. Mr. Brewer is to be notified by Council to make the needed repairs.

At the last meeting of Council, the secretary was instructed to ascertain from the WPA headquarters at DuBois whether arrangements could be made to have WPA workers in Bellefonte work on local projects in order of being assigned to projects in other Centre County towns and communities, while waiting for work sent to Bellefonte to work on this town's projects. The WPA office replied to the request, but evidently misunderstood the point on which the complaint was made, for the reply centered on an explanation of what persons are eligible for WPA work.

The Water Committee reported installation of a new fire plug at the corner of Allegheny and High Streets, and noted collections totalling $795.18.

The Finance Committee reported as follows: Borough Department: Balance, $15,377.57, and bills, $504.49. Water Department: balance, $3,143.05, and bills $973.28.

The balance in the sinking fund was reported to be $4030.10. Upon motion of the Finance Committee, the borough department repaid $5,000 borrowed from the water department, and the water department agreed to recall $5,000 of notes held by individuals. Notes held by non-residents of Bellefonte are to be called first.

Upon recommendation of the Finance Committee, Council unanimously approved the payment of $250 to Machine Gun Troop, 103rd Cavalry. Council some months ago agreed to contribute the amount to the troop when funds became available.

Bids for four new tires and tubes for the Logan's Studebaker truck were opened and of four bids submitted. Council accepted the lowest figure. The amount of the bid was $124.18, and W. F. Keastner store on West Bishop Street was the successful bidder.

The Fire and Police committee reported that the sirens at the corners of Allegheny and Howard, and Allegheny and Bishop Streets, have been overhauled and placed in first class repair. The committee was given power to act in the matter of removing three badly decayed trees on East Bishop Street.

The Market Committee reported collections totalling $8.50 from dealers at the curb market. Councilman Brockhoff submitted a report on the borough WPA sewing project, in which it was revealed that the workers shipped a total of 564 garments last month.

UNION TO OPEN COUNTY DRIVE

(Continued from page one) districts in Pennsylvania, especially in Altoona, Punxsutawney and Clearfield. It is necessary that all wage earners belong to a legitimate labor organization through which you can enjoy shorter hours, higher living wage and better working conditions. When you do so, you are joining the movement of millions of American workers. An effective union cooperates with the employer in turning out products worthy of the union label. Join the local union of your craft and affiliate with the Central Labor Union.

The Central Labor Union of Centre County expects to start an organization drive in Centre County in a beautiful place to live and work in, but it has been the last and hardest place in Pennsylvania to see the benefits in legitimate labor organization. We realize the fight that is before us, but we intend to fight to a finish until Centre County comes under the union banner 100 per cent.

Remember this slogan: United we stand, divided we fall. So watch work for organized labor the world over. When you belong to any bona-fide organization and paying dues, it is an investment.

MILESBURG PAIR WED 63 YEARS

During the past three weeks Mr. Peters has been confined to bed much of the time because of rheumatism. Mr. Peters is in fair health, considering her age. Her night completely failed about 11 years ago.

After their marriage in Milesburg on November 23, 1874, Mr. and Mrs. Peters went to housekeeping in Unionville, where Mr. Peters conducted a blacksmith shop for two decades. They then moved to Milesburg, which has been their home ever since.

The elderly couple are among the oldest members of the Baptist church at Milesburg, and at various times Mr. Peters has served in every official capacity in the church. He also has served terms as Overseer of the Poor of Unionville; School Director of Boggs township, and as a member of the election board in the West Precinct of Boggs township.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters have five living children, namely: Charles Peters, Lewistown; Harry Peters, Milesburg; Edward Peters and Mrs. W. S. Walker, Bellefonte; and Mrs. H. W. Rabert, Snow Shoe.
