

Echoes From the Past

FIFTY YEARS AGO

On Thursday night the snow flakes began to fly in such a manner as to remind one of winter, and by morning the pavements in many places were white with snow. Practically speaking, Bellefonte might be called a town, as cattle can move most always being walking on the board walks and pavements. The authorities should put up gates, or the stock might get lost. Arizona is about to operate a dam which in magnitude surpasses anything in the country. The reservoir will store 15 billion gallons of water for irrigating thousands of acres of wheat and grazing lands. The people of Bellefonte in general will be sorry to learn of Mr. Shaeffer's resignation as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. as he has made an efficient and able officer. The new glass front has been placed in position in McPherson making that room the glass is of a fine quality of plate which will show of the arrangement of goods in fine style. The tar crossing at the junction of Allegheny and Howard Streets should be replaced by a decent piece of work. The idea of having them is to avoid the mud, but in this instance it is a place to collect mud. Measures should be taken at once to remedy this evil. On Thursday morning of last week the cry of fire started the people causing almost a panic on the streets. Policeman Folk saw the smoke issuing from the southeast corner of the prison and soon the flames were seen to leap past the windows in a measure truly alarming, but by the prompt action of those who arrived on the scene, the fire was soon under control and in a short time entirely extinguished. The entire interior of the room is badly damaged and will need considerable repairing. The fire started in a box filled with rags and clothing, and is supposed to have been the work of the Sheriff's little boy who was playing with matches. However, it is fortunate that the child escaped from the burning room. The grounds around the new school house have been terraced up in first class style, making that corner one of the most pleasant places in town. The walks on Bishop Street, should receive some attention from the council as there are a few dangerous places especially after night. James Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, has been confined to his bed with this instance is the second week and is still in dangerous condition. Wild ducks can constantly be seen on the planning mill, and furnish a fine target for our marksmen. Owing to the great demand for beer, the capacity of the Reepsburg brewery is being enlarged one half. The concrete pavement in front of Crider's new building is not as solid as might be expected. The heating propensities of salt water are great, nor does it require large doses. Market is growing smaller and smaller—almost as we have no market house.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The David Meek farm in Warriors Mark township, containing 160 acres, was sold to George Clark, of near Bellefonte, for $8,000. Wayne, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mayes, of Pine Grove Mills, fell into a kettle of boiling water and severely scalded his right arm and side. His condition was not regarded as being serious. While handling a loaded revolver, Ruth McGregor, 4-year-old daughter of Robert McGregor, of Flemington, accidentally shot herself in the left arm. The weapon was owned by the child's grandmother, Mrs. Annie McGregor, who kept it on her dresser. At a ceremony performed in St. John's Catholic church, Bellefonte, Earle Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harter, of near Zion, and Miss Helen Beizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Beizer, of Reepsburg, were united in marriage by the Rev. Father William E. Downes. Charles Hoyt, of Unionville, entertained a number of friends at a wild turkey dinner—the turkey having been shot by him the month before. Other hunters who got turkeys in the same vicinity included: Clair Smith, Guy Wright, and Ed. Hall, all of Unionville. Clyde Fishburn, of Pine Grove Mills, was filling his gasoline engine and carrying a lantern at the same time with the result that the gasoline ignited and the tank exploded. The implement shed, oil tank, binder, and a lot of machinery and tools were destroyed. He saved his car by pushing it out of the mud, but before he was burned about the hands. Marriage licenses were issued to the following couples: David E. Washburn, Bellefonte, and Artie M. Keller, Madisonburg; John M. Duck and Katie T. Hoppie, Mill Hill; William M. Hoeband, Fleming, and Mary E. Sutton, Unionville; Charles Hestinger, Philadelphia, and Elizabeth Sommerville, Munson; Lawrence E. Harter and Mary H. Beizer, Bellefonte; Roland C. Young and Annie E. Barr, Boalsburg; Burt M. O'Griffin and Esther E. Waple, Philadelphia; Guy Jones, Tyrone, and Edna N. Moore, Mt. Pleasant. An early morning fire destroyed the home of Jacob Cass, well known to many near Wadler. Mr. Cass had come to this county about 40 years previously. In reporting the fire he declared that he had arisen about 2 a. m. and went to the barn to perform his usual chores. He claimed he saw a couple of men near his premises but paid no attention to them until he happened to notice a light in his house. Since he had extinguished the light in the house before going to the barn, he immediately investigated and found the structure a mass of flames. The building burned to the ground. Some persons were of the belief that the fire was destroyed by some who believed Mr. Cass' activities in the war were with his native country, Germany.

WOODWARD

A bouncing baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bobb one day last week. Mother and babe are doing fine. Mrs. Lula Johnson, who was visiting relatives and friends in the East, returned home on Tuesday by Dr. J. Benner on last Tuesday by Grayhound and bound for Detroit, Michigan. Mrs. Johnson's father, Joe Condo, deceased, was formerly a native of this locality and so was his wife, Agnes Motz, also deceased. S. M. Eisenhut and Clyde Pierce of this place joined Eugene Stover, of Aaronsburg, and undertaker, G. G. Neff of Millheim. They left on Sunday to make a bear hunt in Potter county for a few days. The heavy rains over the weekend made it unpleasant to work on the new school project and for a few farmers who still have some corn to husk and fodder to put in the barn. On Sunday forenoon a beautiful dedicatory service was held in the Evangelical church by Rev. H. A. Houseal, the pastor dedicating the new Sunday School and church song book entitled "Triumphal Service Songs."

As the weeks pass on since election is over, the people are just awakening to the fact what a chance they missed by not voting yes on the first four proposed amendments to the Constitution. Especially is this true of the proposed amendment No. 2-9, the graded tax amendment. The people at least most of them, did not take time to study this one. As it is now can a two thousand investment for example at 5% the people of our Commonwealth seemed to think it wiser to pay a $16 State tax instead of a $2 one reckoning 2% on the income as was suggested in the papers. Higher tax rates were to be put on larger investments whereby the wealthier class of investors would pay the higher tax, and could they not afford to do it better than the person of small income? They sure could.

JACKSONVILLE

Church services on Sunday, Nov. 21, are as follows: Sunday School 9:30 and C. E. 6:45, topic for discussion "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," with Mrs. E. R. Bartley as leader. Communion services on Sunday provide something a little more than usual on which we can greatly commend, the attendance was good while seventeen members of the Catechetical class and one of profession and five by letter were added to the church roll and six baptisms were administered, now it is the duty of our older professed church members to so live that we will be a safe guide and true example for these beginners to follow and fervently praying with sincere prayers that others too may follow before it is too late. A new Bulletin Board has been purchased and erected in front of the Emanuel Reformed church and will be dedicated on Sunday morning, Nov. 28 at 10:30. On Friday and Saturday Nov. 12 and 13, eleven members of Marion Grange, namely: Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. George Weight, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Harter, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Bartley, Miss Eleanor Weight, and Messrs. Fulfill Ghastly Vow When his two sons recovered from typhoid at Delhi, India, a father, as a means of expressing his thanksgiving, vowed they would crawl on their hands and knees to Hardwar, 300 miles from their home. He reached the end of his grim pilgrimage alone however, his two sons having died on the road during the two months' trip. Everybody has a plan for the improvement of other people but too few of us have any plan for our own development.
