Mr. Huey's contention that he was under no duty to keep records is met by the fact that its was he who formerly established that no legal audits had been made. The court continues with the statement that from the testimony taken there is no dispute as to the facts. The appellant, Mr. Huey, it is set forth, was given full opwere conceded by the appellee. The status of the accounts affecting the tax collector and appellant are summarized in the opinion as follows: School tax due from 1929

1935, inclusive Road tax due from 1929 to 1935, inclusive

Poor tax due from 1929 to 1935, inclusive The above figures are confirmed by the court and the appeal is dismissed. That the case is not closed is indicated by the fact that the
