BENNER TWP.

The weather has been very nice the past week and farmers are making good use of the nice weather. Some are still husking corn. Some are cutting their summer wood.

Francis Benner and Malcolm Stover, with a bunch of boys and men from Bellefonte and Lyons town, went to the Allegheny Mountains to hunt for deer on Monday. They will go to camp on Wednesday of this week at Munson, where the boys built a camp this summer.

Visitors at the Ira Benner home this week were: George McKinley, wife and three daughters Vivian, June and Winifred, Daniel McKinley and wife, Milesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and son Wayne and daughter Hilda from Altoona, Thomas Walker and son from Fillmore.

All work around among the farmers are shut down this week. They are out to camps and searching the woods and mountains for deer.

Francis Benner autored to Lyons town on Thanksgiving Day to help Ed. Lyon and family to butcher and to partake of the Thanksgiving dinner which was thoroughly enjoyed by 30 some friends and relatives. The evening was spent by playing guitar and banjo music by Francis Benner, June Johnstonbaugh and the Davey brothers. Also many games were played.

George Shuey, Thomas Walker and Bob Walters, all butchered some fine large porkers this week.

WOODWARD

This and last week were the butchering weeks in this locality when many families laid in their supply of meat, lard, pudding and "pawm haus." Thus far the two heaviest hogs killed in this community were those of Paul Stover, dressed 621 lb. and George Stover's dressed 594 lb.

Quite a number of strange hunters landed in town on Sunday ready to start on the hunt for the fleet-footed deer on Monday. It was certainly hard for many to wait until nine o'clock before starting to hunt.

The new playground on the school project is destined to look like a pretty school location. But there is still plenty of work to be done before the ground is completely graded.

On Sunday afternoon this locality was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Annie Smith, wife of W. J. Smith. We learned that aneurysm of the heart was the cause of her demise. Mrs. Smith had a host of friends in this community where she was partly brought up when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Au-miller were located on the former Jacob Neidich farm about the year 1903. We shall certainly miss her jolly presence in days to come as well as her home where she passed away on Sunday forenoon at 11 o'clock. Funeral was held from the home on Wednesday afternoon. She leaves to mourn her husband and two sons Wesley and Paul at home, besides several brothers.

PINE GLEN

Hunting for deer in our woods have brought many hunters back joined by new ones each year. Many of them expect to bag their bucks the first of the week. The Wilson crew of Washington, Pa. is back at Robert Askey's, Sherman Askey's have day hunters from Bellefonte; Irwin Pol-mor crowd is from Philadelphia and cars are seen in different parts of the state at different places. Here's luck boys.

Many years ago, 45 to be exact Alden Dixon then a young man, decided to see more of this country, started out with that intention, later when the gold rush started at Klondike, Alaska, he wrote his parents Mr. and Mrs. Sains Dixon that he was on his way there and should he not make good he would write them. He never wrote and for years they waited. His parents died and lost track of them. This fall that same young man, older by many years came back home. He is now calling on old friends and neighbors. He will remain here for a few months will hunt some and enjoy a real vacation. Mr. Dixon is an employee of the Northern Pacific Railway and is located in Washington state and Montana at present. Mr. Dixon never married. He knows all the facts that he associated with before leaving so many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Landis and Mrs. Joseph Landis of Bellefonte, were at Watson's on Sunday. They also called on Robert Askey.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Cole and family of Moshannon were at Bur-ke's on Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. George Narehood and children were in Bellefonte Saturday.

A number of our folks attended church at Karthaus Wednesday evening. Some of them are attending the Evangelistic services at Snow Shoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reese of Pittsburgh, visited at the Emma Midlan home recently.

Miss Emma Midlan spent Thanksgiving visiting friends at Clarence.

Lucky! While on a deer hunt, Henry Klahr of Albany, N. Y., spotted a big buck. He wounded the animal and it dashed down the mountain. With the hunter following, the deer ran for five miles and dropped dead—less than 500 yards from Klahr's parked automobile.

It begins to look like democracies will have to prepare for war whether they want peace or not.
