ROCKVIEW HEAD ADDRESSES CLUB

years ago crime was more or less glorified. A more serious view has come in the press and on the radio, and public opinion has come to back up the law. The stern and efficient administration and enforcement of the law through the "G-Men" has been responsible to a large extent for the changed attitude in public psychology.

A fundamental defect in the criminal Dr. Claudy said, is that he is unfaithful to himself. Every one has some definite idea of right and wrong. It is always possible to find extenuating circumstances in the life of one who has embarked upon a life of crime, but the fact remains that, before there was unfaithfulness to the community and the law the man was unfaithful to that inner light which seeks to direct to righteousness.

Before coming to the meeting of the Kiwanis Club, Dr. Claudy stated that he told one of the inmates at Rockview that he was to address a service club and would like to put to him the question as to whom he was blaming for his being in a penal institution—the judge, the community, the law or his parents. The prisoner replied that he would blame none of these, but himself only. Environment, heredity and nature have done their worst, the speaker said, to some men. They submerge, and discourage and burden; but these are the things which they had to contend with the same conditions and have overcome. One of these factors kept such a man as Abraham Lincoln down. There is something that can come to man whereby he can conquer the adverse circumstances of life.

There are 982 men in Rockview at the present time. There are some criminals not qualified to come back into the community, but those who are confirmed criminals who should never be released in society. There are others, many first offenders, who can be rehabilitated. The institution at Rockview is admirably equipped for this work in its equipment, its backing and its personnel. Every effort is made to send men out over the institution, to be better physically, mentally, emotionally, morally and to worthy employment. In the program of rehabilitation work is recognized as a very important factor. Every physically able man is required to work six days a week. It is felt that men must learn the habits of work and the wholesomeness of work if they are to return to society as useful members.

In closing his address Dr. Claudy stated that it was his firm conviction that there would never be reverence for law unless there is first a reverence for God. Looking at the things of the material world, our age has lost too largely the true perspective as to life and the long distance in the future. When men believe that a man is dead and dead all over and that there is no future life or what they ignore, they lose the moral urge to live more nobly. We have been drifting towards confusion and bewilderment and chaos because faith in God has not been burning brightly in human hearts. There was the least crime in our country when there was a keener sense of the eternal destiny of human life. When there is no reverence for God, there is reverence for nothing else. The prevention of crime and the rehabilitation of the criminal will be best served by the rebirth of reverence for God and the sense of the dignity and worth of the human soul.

Councilman Henry Broeckerhoff, a trustee of the institution at Rockview, and George Heim, of Altoona, were guests at the meeting.

PORT MATILDA MAN IS KILLED BY CAR

The afternoon. He apparently had walked along the Bald Eagle valley road for some distance and was returning to his home when the accident happened, she said.

Mr. Enslin stated he saw Mr. Osman along the highway about 200 feet ahead of the car just before the accident. Mr. Osman was seen to get out of the car and to look back in the direction from which he came, then suddenly started to cross the highway. He said Mr. Osman darted in front of the car so quickly he could not miss him. After the crash, the motorist stopped and picked up the victim, rushing him to Port Matilda. There he was found to be dead.

The left front fender and light of the car struck Mr. Osman, throwing him over the top of the car into a ditch. The scene of Sunday's tragedy was almost at the foot of the rocky mountain ledge where the body of the victim was found. R. Wilson, Port Matilda's youth warden, had himself two men here before Mr. Osman was found. Mr. Osman was the under skier who removed the body from the mountain and prepared it for burial.

The coroner's jury was composed of Joseph R. Woodring, J. S. Williams, B. P. Nicodemus, H. S. Williams and W. M. McDermott. At the trial, Matilda, and B. C. Erhard, of Philadelphia.

Was Nearly Drowned The untimely death of S. S. Osman, Sunday, recalls an event in which he was the principal figure, 27 years ago. On the night of March 2, 1910, Mr. Osman hired a horse and buggy in Bellefonte and set out to call at a Mr. Rocky's home, southeast of town, near the present airport. In the darkness, he drove along the road into Centre County's famous Phantom Lake, which was out that spring. Mr. Osman's horse was drowned, and he barely escaped a similar fate, suffering considerably from exposure.

In Court the following year Mr. Osman won a verdict of $1000 damages from Spring township. At the trial he claimed no barriers had been erected on the road to protect wayfarers, and that as a result of his immersion in the cold water, his hearing had been affected and he had contracted rheumatism. Whatever the cause, Mr. Osman's hearing had been defective since that time. Samuel S. Osman was a son of Huston H. and Anna Stevens Osman and was born at Port Matilda on Christmas Day, 1881, making his age 56 years and 1 day at the time of his death. On December 20, 1918, he was married to Mary E. Curran, with Miriam Nearhood, who survives. There are no children. He is also survived by one brother and five sisters, namely: Raymond Osman, of Trafford; Mrs. Abbie Wertz of Tyrone; Mrs. Nora Bloom, Curranville; Mrs. Gray Behers, of Trafford; Mrs. Lillian Hansen, of Curranville, and Mrs. Daisy Newman, of Johnstown. The remains were taken to the W. E. Cox & Son Funeral home at Warriors' Mark. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the home in charge of the Rev. David Sauer, of Port Matilda. Interment was made in the Gray cemetery, in Buffalo Run Valley. Mr. Osman was a lifelong resident of Port Matilda and was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. A mild-mannered, pleasant, and kindly disposed man, Mr. Osman was widely known and well liked throughout the county. He was a frequent visitor to Bellefonte where he had many friends who were shocked to learn of his tragic death.

Coleville Man Exonerated A Coleville resident was exonerated of blame in a fatal accident at Burnham about 10:45 o'clock Saturday night in which Charles Bowman, 61, of Pa. k. view, near Burnham, was almost instantly killed.

The Coleville man is William Rote, aged 42, of Harry O. Rote, also of Coleville, whose car struck Bowman, inflicting injuries consisting of a fractured neck, crushed chest and fractured right leg. Mifflin County Coroner Ralph Barchus took charge of the body pending an investigation, but announced later that no inquest would be held. He issued a certificate of accidental death.

Rote, driver of the ill-fated machine, was asked to post $500 bail following the accident for investigation of the crash, but was released from his bail when Coroner Barchus decided no inquest would be necessary.

Rote, accompanied by his wife and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, of Coleville, and the Rotes' children, Lillian, aged 11, and James, aged 9 were driving in the direction of Bellefonte.

Patrolman A. W. Koenigs said that in his investigation he learned that Bowman had come out of a near-by restaurant where he had been denied a drink and started across the road when he was struck. Rote stopped and took the man to the hospital.

Bowman is survived by one son, Harold, 14, who resided with his father.

Two Girls Killed by Truck Death struck suddenly into two West Decatur homes Saturday evening and left in its wake the broken bodies of two fifteen-year-old girls, victims on the record of this section's rocketing total of highway accidents.

Miss Kathryn Henrietta Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Emma Snyder, of 418 West College Avenue, State College, will become the bride of James Burton Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartman, of East Lozan Street, Bellefonte, at a ceremony to be performed at 2:30 o'clock Saturday January 1, at the Methodist Episcopal church Bellefonte. A grand surprise awaits you New Year's Eve at the Hoffbrau, Bishop Street, Bellefonte.

Bellefonte Man Injured Skidding on the Buffalo Run Valley road while enroute to Bellefonte about 11:30 o'clock Christmas night, a car driven by Edward C. Reish, of East Bishop Street, Bellefonte, left the road about 2 miles west of Bellefonte, and ran over a 5-foot embankment.

Reish, who was alone in the car at the time sustained a severe laceration of the nose and suffered from shock. He was admitted to the Centre County Hospital for treatment. His car was not badly damaged.

Two Hurt Near Woodward John H. Best, of Mill Hall, R. D. 1, sustained chest injuries and a possible fracture of the skull, and W. J. McClintock, of Salona, a passenger in Best's car, sustained lacerations about the left ear at 1:30 o'clock last Friday afternoon when the Chevrolet coupe in which they were riding skidded off the icy highway a short distance east of Woodward, and crashed into a tree.

The injured men were taken to the W. F. Booth home in Woodward, and from there were brought to the Centre County Hospital, where both responded readily to treatment. The car, owned by Best, was damaged to the extent of about $75.

Collide At Intersection Damage totaling about $110, resulting to two cars about 6:45 o'clock Friday evening when they collided at the Boalsburg intersection after skidding on the icy highway. The machines, a Chevrolet coupe driven by Isaac Abramson, of State College, and a Ford coupe driven by Paul R. McCauslin, of Grove City, were traveling in opposite directions at the time. No one was injured. Damage to the Abramson car was placed at $75, and to the McCauslin car at $35.

Four Cars Pile Up A four-car collision on route 220 about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, brought injuries to two persons and total damage of about $370. The accident was directly attributed to the icy condition of the road.

A Chevrolet coupe driven by David Christman, of Julian, and a truck driven by Cordis Robinson, of Howard, were traveling east on the highway, and a Ford sedan driven by Clark Byron, of Tyrone, and a Dodge truck driven by George Perdake, of Philadelphia, were proceeding in the opposite direction. As the two sets of cars approached each other, the Robinson truck went into a skid, and the other machines piled against it.

C. M. McCann, of Tyrone, sustained a laceration of the chin, and Cordis Robinson, of Howard, suffered a laceration of the forehead. Damage to the cars involved was estimated as follows: to the Robinson truck, $150; to the Byron sedan, $200, and to the Perdake truck, none.

Car Upsets While Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker were enroute to their home in Bellefonte from Pine Grove Mills where they had attended the funeral of A. Stine Walker, Friday afternoon, their sedan skidded off the icy road and overturned near the Harry McCracken farm west of Pine Grove Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Walker and their little daughter, who were in the machine at the time, escaped injury but suffered to some extent from shock.

Dec. 30, 1937. A question, if you please. Are you aware that defective eyes (eyes with errors of vision) are strained without any reading, sewing or other near work? That is an important fact that should be more widely known. Defective eyes cannot properly focus light. They always ATTEMPT to do so. This effort strains the eye. Consistently the above.

with industrial plants and industries in all parts of the county. S. K. Hostetler, assistant to President Hezel, in charge of business and finance, a need that insurance on building and contents would cover the financial loss, but Dr. Hezel declared that the biggest problem the college faces immediately is finding space in which to accommodate the several hundred students who attended classes at the Chemistry Annex each day. He added that the building program which will begin next month will eventually help the situation, but no immediate aid is available from the source. Classes are scheduled to resume at the college next week after Christmas vacation.

The Chemistry Annex was built about 1906 as a temporary structure, but as the college increased in size and the need for classrooms grew, the building became a permanent feature on the campus.

Vocational guidance is a new field for the labor of educational experts. Recently, if we are not mistaken, the city of Chicago reorganized its schools so that eight per cent of the courses were in this comparatively new field.
