

Over The County News

Ordinance No. 4 Centre Hall Borough, passed last Monday evening by the council refers wholly to sidewalks and provides for their construction on all streets and alleys of a width of thirty feet or more, and the repair of the same, if so ordered by the council.

It is reported that the board of county commissioners have made application for a WPA project in Potter township and Centre Hall Borough, covering the walling and otherwise improving the big cut at the bore line in the south section of Centre Hall.

Nancy, thirteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuffer Brooks, of Centre Hall, is suffering from abscessed tonsils and in addition contracted measles a few days ago. The child had not been away from the home for some time, and is not known to have contracted any one having or any one having been exposed to the disorder. Dr. Allis, of Lewistown, last Tuesday evening, used the lance on the ears, which afforded relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dutrow and the latter's brother, William H. Hoeman, are on their way to Florida, having left Centre Hall last Tuesday. They expect to tour over much of the peninsula state before returning. Although no definite time is set for their return trip, it will not be until early spring. Tuesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Edwin N. Zettie, also of Centre Hall, started on a similar trip. Both parties will use motor cars, but not trailers.

The elevation to the bench of Judge Walker is the first Democrat to have that honor since the retirement of the late Judge Ellis L. Criss, twenty-one years ago or on the first Monday in January, 1916. And in the twenty-one years five Republicans have won the judicial toga, Henry C. Quigley, January 1916, to the latter part of November 1924; Arthur C. Dale, from December, 1924, to January 1926; the late Harry Keller from January 1926 to his untimely death on March 2nd, 1927; and James C. Furst from March 1927 to the first Monday in January, 1932, when Judge Fleming took the oath of office.

Although State police have been doing sleuthing, no solution has been made of the disappearance of a turkey nobbyler and two hens from the Wilmer Grove farm, east of Centre Hall one night during last week between the hours of 8:30 and 10 o'clock, or thereafter. The officials are trying to link the turkeys with a Christmas celebration held by a sect in the coal region dated shortly after the time the bird disappeared, but it would be as difficult to convince one that the birds evaporated in thin air as to prove any of the interviewed guilty of prowling about hen roosts.

The Linden Hall school building was recently purchased from Harris township by Samuel Ross, a member of the Harris Vocational school faculty. The wooden building, in good repair, sets on an acre of level ground on a hilltop, and is admirably located for the purpose. Mr. Ross purchased it for a place of residence. At the close of the school year in June, remodeling of the structure into a modern bungalow will begin. Another Harris township school building located at Shingleton has already been converted into a residence by Mrs. William Kline, and is occupied by a Penn State professor.

The L. E. Burtges home on East Main Street, Millheim, a practically new structure, tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. George Tricker, was damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars last Wednesday night when fire broke out on the east side of the home. Due to the fact that the home was closed up tight, the fire was mostly a smoke-making affair as far as outside appearances were concerned, and was only discovered when, about 9:30, an alarm was sounded by Franklin Bosman while returning home from basketball practice at the high school. The local fire company was on the job in short order and performed a commendable job of stopping the blaze. Heavy clouds of smoke, however, permeated the home and damaged walls, furniture, curtains, etc., while the fire itself was confined to the main and living in the living room and sun parlor. Damage is estimated at several thousand dollars, which is covered by insurance.

Few tomatoes have been trained to track wild game in a manner similar to dogs, but a cat responded to the name "Tommy" reared elsewhere about the John B. Wert, Sr., home near Centre Hall, than back of the kitchen stove does the trick to perfection. The Junior Mr. Wert and "Tommy" are pals, especially during the hunting season, and when the master takes up a gun the cat is as fully conscious of what is about to take place as any trained rabbit or bird dog. Tommy will track a rabbit and if he chances to get a glimpse of the stub-tailed game he will forget all about the scent and run by sight. If the hunter fails to make a good hit, Tommy will overtake the quarry and then a battle royal follows. Tommy is a fair shooter, he never crouches and pounces on game. Neither is Tommy a game destroyer. He is always "at home," except when accompanied by a member of the Wert family to the fields or woods. It is seldom, regardless of time, that a few calls will not bring Tommy from one of numerous retreats about the Wert buildings.

MOTORISTS TRAPPED IN WRECK NEAR HOUTZDALE When Harry Berndt, 17, of Ramey 12th control of a car Sunday night on the outskirts of Houtzdale, the car lurched and ran up a six-foot embankment, shattering a telephone pole and trapping the four occupants in the wreckage as it careened and overturned.

Two other passengers, Russell Miller, 19, and Andrew Mahalko, 27, were discharged from the hospital following treatment for minor injuries.

Coal mining operations at the Twin Run Mines of the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company at Mountaintop have been abandoned due to high costs of operation. Fire city operations will be continued but the coal used will be shipped in from other points. This decision will affect coal miners many of whom reside at Beech Creek and Blanchard, and also carloads of railroad iron and other products were shipped to the plant.
