

2 DIE IN PHILPSBURG TRAGEDY

Jealous Suitor Shoots Sweetheart and Self

Irene Johnson, 35-Year-Old Divorcee, Killed in Mother's Apartment by Walter Rolley—Victim's Life Had Been Threatened Before

Death struck twice in rapid succession at Philipsburg Saturday afternoon bringing horror and sorrow.

With the statement: "I'll kill her," Walter Rolley, 40, of Chester Hill, fulfilled his threat when he shot and killed Irene Johnson, 35, his comely blonde sweetheart, in the Louis Binberg Apartments, Front Street, about 3:30 Saturday afternoon and then committed suicide.

Three empty shells and a .38 calibre Colt revolver lying two feet from Rolley's body were evidence of the murder and suicide—two bullets for Irene Johnson and one for himself. Miss Johnson was shot in the stomach and the right forehead and one bullet, through the right temple, spelled death for Rolley.

The double tragedy was discovered by Robert Bessley, who roomed in the apartment rented by Harry Allison, step-father of Irene Johnson. Bessley finished his work at the Pioneer Tea Room and on returning to the apartment noticed Allison's dog was acting

Anybody Have a Ghost They Want To Be Rid Of?

If you have a haunted house, you might call on Hickman Whittington of Benton, Ill., to get rid of the ghost.

The 68-year-old farmer and coal miner hasn't tried it yet, but he advertised in a Belleville, Ill., newspaper:

"Anyone having house that is haunted or 'pested' so that no one can live in it, let me know. I will redeem it. It will cost you nothing. Write to Hickman Whittington, Benton, Ill."

Whittington said he had found a Biblical text that will drive out any ghost that ever moaned or rattled a chain. He will put it to a test as soon as he receives an answer to his advertisement.

He said he would enter the haunted house alone and sit there in darkness until the ghost arrived. Then he would recite the Biblical text, driving the ghost from the place at once.

ALABAMAN INJURED ON IST COASTING EXPEDITION

Charles Boeh, of Alabama, had never coasted before last Thursday night, and his first experience in that popular sport landed him in the hospital.

Charlie arrived in Pleasant Gap last Thursday to take a course in flying instruction from Pilot Henry Noll. That evening he accepted an invitation to go coasting—a novel form of entertainment for the Southerner.

He and Irvin Shoemaker were on a sled speeding down the hill near the Ray Noll residence when the sled struck a tree, throwing both men some distance. The Alabamian sustained severe lacerations and bruises about the face and head, while Shoemaker received injuries about the chest and shoulder.

Both victims were brought to the Centre County Hospital for x-ray examinations and treatment, and both are reported to be recovering slowly.

Centre Countians during the coming week have an opportunity to share in cash prizes being offered by the publicity committee of the Bellegrove Chamber of Commerce in connection with the descriptive folder being prepared to advertise the county's scenic and historic attractions.

A cash award of $5.00 is being offered for the best slogan submitted for use on the folder as well as in other advertising by the Chamber of Commerce. Pennsylvania's slogan is "Pennsylvania Has Everything." Centre County's slogan must be brief, easy to remember, and above all, must immediately arouse interest. A few moments of thought on your part may bring the winning slogan.

A series of cash awards, consisting of a $5.00 first prize, a $3.00 second prize, and a $2.00 third prize is being offered for the best photographs of scenic or historic views taken in Centre County. From photos submitted in this contest, the Chamber of Commerce expects to select nearly a score for use in the advertising folder, while other photos may be reserved for future use.

The Publicity Committee, composed of Jesse H. Caum, chairman; Dr. E. H. Adams, W. J. Emerick, Paul Hartsock and S. H. Poorman, is now engaged in arranging final details of the advertising folder, and will give the citizens of the county an opportunity to share in the selection of a slogan and in the choice of illustrations to appear in the circular.

The slogan and photo contest will end at midnight, Friday, February 3.

Slogans must be submitted in writing, and must bear the name of the submitter.

Mayor Gives 'Shoot to Kill' Order in War Against Dogs

"Shoot to kill!" Mayor Hardman P. Harris yesterday announced that Bellegrove police will be given this terse order tonight in a final effort to rid Bellegrove its roving packs of dogs.

In an interview with newspapermen yesterday afternoon the Mayor declared that Council has passed laws to regulate dogs; that a dog pound was established and that a dog catcher was employed—but that all these measures have failed to keep dogs from running at large as they please, making the days and nights hideous with their barking, growling and yapping, and turning expensive shrubbery and gardens into shambles with their depredations.

So, beginning tomorrow morning, Borough police who find they are unable to catch dogs found running at large, are to be authorized to shoot the animals. The order is to affect licensed and unlicensed dogs alike, the Mayor said.

The new corporation owes its being to the fact that the charter of the former corporation was believed to be faulty, and subject to unknown perils in the event the

Walker Files 1st Formal Opinion

Judge Covers Three Points in Ruling on Four Charged With Hunting Violations

The first formal opinion filed by Judge Ivan Walker was placed on record this week in the Prothonotary's office in the matter of the Commonwealth vs. Howard Miller, Ray Miller, Theodore Tyson and Robert Robenolt.

The four men were charged with a violation of the game laws and were taken before Justice of the Peace Harry A. Rossman for hearings.

Squire Rossman held them under $500 bail each for court. Their attorneys then filed a petition for a writ of certiorari with the Court of Quarter Sessions, in an effort to have the higher court review the records of the case.

Judge Walker apparently found the case in an added legal condition. In the first place, he ruled, the violation with which the men were charged was a summary conviction matter, and should have Arrangements are under way for the annual Father and Son banquet to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday, February 25, during the annual event, which is sponsored by the National Council of the "Y" as Father and Son week.

The committee in charge this year consists of Horace J. Hartman, chairman; E. E. Widdowson, E. N. Vars, Albert Osman, and secretary L. C. Higman. This year the committee is following a new plan in that only local talent will be used on the program, details of which will be announced later.

All persons interested are asked to bear the date in mind and make reservations early as the Annual Father and Son banquet has become an event which taxes the capacity of the "Y" to the limit.

Purnell Elected To Head Group

Bellegrove Sportsmen to Ask Game Commission For Larger Game Allocation

George I. Purnell was elected president of the Bellegrove Sportsmen's Association at a meeting of that organization in the Court House, Tuesday night. Mr. Purnell succeeds S. H. Poorman as head of the local group.

Other officers named to serve during 1938 were as follows: vice-president, S. H. Poorman; secretary, Hassell Lase, and treasurer, Robert Thompson. Lase and Thompson were re-elected to their respective positions.

Milford Cox, chairman of the game referee committee, reported that during 1937 the local sportsmen's association had established four game refuges in the Bellegrove area: one near Yarnell, one near Mt. Eagle, and two on the outskirts of Bellegrove. Several dozen rabbits were liberated in the refuges, it was reported, and it is generally believed that within a few years each refuge will be the source of a steady supply of game for local nimrods.

The treasurer reported a balance in the treasury of $103.84, and bills totaling less than $20 were approved for payment.

Lengthy discussions of various problems of interest to sportsmen led to the adoption of several recommendations and resolutions. The meeting went on record as being opposed to a proposed increase in the fishing license fee. Suggest-

Audit Results In Refund of County Fees

More Than $1500 Due From Prothonotary's and Recorder's Offices

FEES OF REGISTER ARE NOT EXCESSIVE

State Law Requires Refund of Half Fees Over $3000 Limit

Centre County is to get a refund of $1,527.79 from two county offices, it became known here yesterday when S. H. Hoy, appointed county auditor by Judge Ivan Walker to audit the accounts of the Register of Wills, the Prothonotary, and the Recorder, filed his report.

A state law provides that where County officers receive in excess of $3,000 annually, one half of the excess fees shall be returned to the county.

According to Mr. Hoy's report, Register John L. Wetzel did not clear $3,000 last year, and consequently his office does not owe the county a refund.

The office of Prothonotary Bond C. White cleared $5,885.86, or an excess of $2,985.86 over the stipulated amount. As a result, half the excess, or $1,492.93 is to be returned to the County coffers.

Similarly the office of Recorder Leamer R. Woodring showed a net profit of $3,069.72 for 1937, or $69.72 more than the official is permitted to retain. Half that amount, likewise, will revert to the County, bringing the total refund to more than $1,500.

Mr. Hoy's report shows the following expenditures for salaries in the three offices: in the Register's office, $2,177.67; in the Prothonotary's office, $3,600 and in the Recorder's office, $2,115. These salaries together with other expenses of the offices are deducted before the refund computation is made. The complete report, filed by Mr. Hoy in the various offices appears under the legal advertisements in this issue of The Centre Democrat.

An older sister setting ready to wash the supper dishes, had partly filled the dishpan with boiling water from the tea kettle. While the dishpan was on the kitchen table, young David climbed upon a chair and reached the pan, pulling the contents down over him. He was severely scalded.

He was taken to the hospital Wednesday in a serious condition and died at six o'clock Thursday morning.

January Thunder Storm Has Weather Sages in Quandary

Centre County's weather sages had a new problem on their hands Tuesday in trying to determine the significance of a severe electrical storm which visited most of the county early that morning.

Brilliant flashes of lightning, rolling peals of thunder, and wind and rain combined to make the freak January thunderstorm a severe one. Bellegrove, State College, Boalsburg, Lemont, Snow Shoe and other communities in the county were visited by the storm, which resulted in some damage to trees and electric power lines.

Lightning struck a tree on the Hazel & Co. farm near Boalsburg and wind damaged several service lines to private homes.

The question which so far has had most of the county's weather prophets in a quandary is whether the storm presages warm weather or whether it means we really are to have some severe winter weather. Only time will bring the answer, and by then the Groundhog will have so confused the weathermen that no one will be able to say for sure whether lightning in January brings warm or cold weather.

Stock Outlines Needs of Schools

Tells Women's Club Vocational, Shop, and Health Training Should be Improved

The needs of the Bellegrove Public Schools are many. Thus implied J. C. Stock, supervising principal of the Bellegrove Schools, who spoke before 109 Bellegrove Women's Club members and their guests at the regular meeting held Monday at the Presbyterian Chapel.

Mr. Stock vividly outlined the history of education as to program and advancement.

The purpose of school days is to "face in cold storage, knowledge which shall be used in future life—to develop the ability to create and perfect individual interests."

However, the rather alarming condition of inadequate accommodation of the steadily increasing enrollment, deserves attention.

While the system of education provides for two types of vocational education, namely: Home Economics and a Commercial Department, Mr. Stock stressed the need of "detached" salesmanship training, vocational agriculture, metal and machine shop practice, as well as a more thorough health and physical education program.

A Junior High School which "provides training for the transitional period from childhood to adolescence" would be a most welcome change in the present school system.

While the Bellegrove Public Schools have advanced with the modern requirements and needs of the pupils, we feel sure the public will give the future the attention it deserves.

A social hour followed at which time the refreshment committee served.

'Big Apple' to Feature Birthday Ball, Friday

Many persons who attend Bellegrove's Birthday Ball for the President at Hecla Park Friday night of this week will have their first opportunity to dance "The Big Apple," for it is the first time that the popular new dance has been scheduled to feature a local ball.

"The Big Apple" at Hecla tomorrow will be led by a local man who recently came from the heart of The Big Apple country, so that all the latest variations and innovations of the fad will be reproduced. Hoy Houck and his Orchestra, of Bellegrove, who are rapidly winning state-wide recognition for their musical ability, will furnish music for this feature as well as for the regular program of round dancing.

The informality suggested by the newest style in dancing is being carried out in all preparations for the Birthday Ball here, Cecil Walker, chairman of the local celebration, announced yesterday.
