Town Has Need of 90 New Dwellings
Bellefonte's housing shortage became more acute during 1937, despite increased residential construction during the year, according to a survey made by statisticians for the subcommittee on real estate and statistics of the Central Housing Committee.
This was because of the two factors of increasing population, and progressive obsolescence of existing dwellings, the statisticians explained.
Bellefonte has an immediate need for approximately 90 new dwelling units, according to a formula worked out by these statisticians. The increase in home construction during the past two years is a healthy sign, they say, but a still greater increase will have to be registered before Bellefonte's housing shortage will be overpowered, it is claimed.
Construction of new homes in Bellefonte at the rate of approximately 60 per year for the next ten years will still leave, at the end of that time, about the same housing shortage as now exists, according to the experts. This amount of construction, in other words, will just about neutralize the two factors already mentioned, which are constantly at work on behalf of an increased housing shortage.
Between 65 and 70 new homes will have to be built in Bellefonte each year until an order to create at the end of that time a reasonable comfortable housing situation is estimated.
You never can tell how much people think of you unless they tell you.

CATHOLIC BAZAAR TO OPEN TONIGHT
Preparations are being completed for the annual pre-lenten bazaar to be given by members of St. John's Catholic Church, Bellefonte, this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 10, 11 and 12.
As announced previously, a feature of this year's entertainment at the bazaar will be a concert to be given each night by some of Bellefonte's best voices. Fancy work, cake and candy booths already have been constructed and trimmed in gay colors, lending festive appearance to the large hall over the parochial school, where the affair is to be held.
Another special feature this year is the lunch to be served each evening beginning at 6 o'clock Thursday, chili-con-carne and hot roast beef sandwiches will be the specialties on the menu. Friday, deviled crabs and other sea foods, prepared by an expert sea-food cook, will be served. Saturday, Italian spaghetti will be featured. Ice cream, cake and coffee will be served during the evenings.
The bazaar will be conducted along the same lines as other years. Many prizes, including a door prize each night will be given away. The public is invited to attend this bazaar any of all three evenings.
If we ever make enough money we are going to have a few things to say—just to ourselves.

FRICASSEE
(By Mademoiselle)
Starting off a column like this has many angles and the Centre Democrat readers will probably be interested in the twists and turns it takes as it appears (we hope) from week to week.
Now, we're all set, reach over and adjust the light. This is "Fricassee" . . . a heterogeneous collection of things loosely cemented together.
Your scribe has the name "Mademoiselle," pronounced "Mam'zel" . . . Ask Deppy Dunlap, Mack Wetzel, Linn McGinley, and some of the other boys around at the American Legion who went over the briny deep during the "war to end wars," two decades ago.
In this column, as time goes on, you'll probably read about "Doc" Kilpatrick catching the biggest fish in Spring Creek . . . or about Junior "Bill" Sieg, going to Europe on some mysterious business . . . or about the Bellefonte borough limits being extended to take in Centre College . . . and many other LITTLE things about Bellefonte and State College.
Just like writing a story, the hardest thing is to get started, but in this weekly trade, Bellefonte citizens will be the characters. We hope they like the parts we assign to them.
But sitting here hammering out this column, we just got to thinking what would happen if a big rattlesnake happened to go on a rampage and started exploring Allegheny street.
Benny Crossley would probably run for a stick and forget to come back. Harry Williams, C. H. C. court house custodian to you would probably give it a hard look and wish he were back at Scotia again. Burgess Harris would probably issue a proclamation. George Carpeneto would likely call out the fire department, the State Militia, or the district attorney. Then Professor Stock would probably turn out school to give the kiddies a chance to view the monster . . . its real end would probably come when one of the restaurants got hold of it for rattlesnake steaks . . . you know that's supposed to be a delicacy . . . but none for me, thank u . . . maybe I shouldn't have brought it up.
Flash! Did you see that nifty new derby Father Downes was wearing the other day? Like it? So did I. Wish I had one like it.
Flash! Milesburg should declare May 11th a community holiday. It will be the 90th birthday anniversary of one of its most beloved citizens who has tied more "knots" than will be found in a sailship's rigging. Orchids to Pappy Piper, the Pairing Parson!
Things I'd like to hear and see: "Doc" Hoffman singing in the bathtub . . . Charlie Casebeer playing a big bass fiddle . . . "Teddy" Hamilton giving a lecture in Einstein's theory . . . George Hazel with the nightcap on . . . but better than that is the choice of the "seen and heard" would be to see Eddie Korman in a baker's cap and gown, fixing up a nice birthday cake for Adolph Hitler.
