

Over The County News

E. R. Shreckengast, of Millheim, who has been housed up for over a week with a sinus infection, was taken to the Lewistown hospital last Tuesday afternoon. He is in a serious condition, suffering great pain.

Paul Hackman, tenant on the Adam Reish farm at Centre Mills, was taken to the Lock Haven hospital the latter part of last week where he submitted to an operation for the removal of his appendix. Last reports are that he is improving nicely.

Dayton Lansberry, tenant on the Spicher homestead west of Old Fort, opened spring farm work in this section of Penns Valley when he began plowing during last week. The temperature during this plowing spurt rose to sixty-four degrees, extremely high for mid-February.

One of the Lewistown physicians and surgeons is quoted as having said a large number of persons who came to Lewistown hospital with ear trouble, necessitating the puncturing of the drums, and other treatment, come from Penns Valley than from all other localities. It would appear there must be some definite reason for this malady being so general here, and that an effort should be made to discover it. Probably reporting of the condition to the State Health Department might result in an investigation. The patients receiving hospital treatment are only a portion—relatively small portion—of all afflicted.

WOODWARD

Mrs. Laiah Boob is still under the doctor's care.

It is rumored that the next time the voters go to the polls it will be in the basement of the P. O. S. of a hall for this spring primary election.

The following persons are housed in on account of the mumps: Mrs. Lida Wagner, Carl Motz, Jr., Trille Boverock, Bernice Orndorf, Earl Vonada, Jr., Jean Eisenhuth and her mother, Gaybelle, Carl Doris, Johnnie and Guy Brindie. Most of the above are on a fair way to recovery.

Warren Martin, who has been ill of anemia for some time, has improved somewhat.

We're certainly having some cold winter days at the close of February. On Monday morning the mercury registered six degrees above zero at 6 o'clock and 4 degrees at 7 o'clock. It was the coldest morning of February. On January 18 and 20 the mercury stood at 4 degrees above, and on December 9 and 10 of 1937, it was 2 degrees above in the morning at about 6 o'clock.

The Washington's Birthday exercises held in the Evangelical church on Tuesday evening of last week were very well attended. A very interesting program was rendered consisting of instrumental by the East Centre County Junior Band, and the East Penns Valley High school orchestra; a few recitations, a dialogue, and an outstanding address on the Character of George Washington. One of the members of the P. O. S. of A. Lodge stated it was the best address he heard since he was a member of the order and that was many years ago.

Well, the get-together meeting in the basement of the P. O. S. of A. hall was very much enjoyed by all. The Woodward Evangelical Ladies Aid society served a splendid supper. All seemed to be well pleased with the refreshments.

Carls Riffner, who had a severe attack of the grippe and also mumps for a week or more, is slowly recovering.

Evelyn, a married sister of Stevard Eisenhuth, of Millifenburg, is conducting the household duties for Mrs. Eisenhuth during her illness.

So She Ett Her Onion Sandwich

me. She didn't have any grub in the house so we'd go out to lunch. "I knew a good place down the street, but she sez: 'No, I eat at the 'reel'. Wasn't much of a dump. We got lunch for two. She paid 30 cents. Wanted me to stay over. Didn't have enough room, but got me one across the street. A hall bedroom, had to use a shoe-horn to get in. She paid 50 cents for it. "Next day went to her cinema. Great big bank building. Inside just like a stable. Row of stalls down each side. When she opened the door you should have seen it. In every stall a feller stood up, like a bunch of mules pricking up their ears. "She introduced me around. Then out to lunch. On the street, she stopped a feller selling Bermuda onions, you know, big white round ones. She said hello and bought two. Took me into a hole in thuh wall ordered dry bread, sliced onions on it and washed it down with tea—15 cents for both. "Society's eyes narrowed into slits as he mused. "I asked her what she was worth, and she sez she didn't know, but maybe if she had to cash very thing in she could raise $100,000,000. "Yep! I think she was the most interesting woman I ever met."

PINE GLEN

Beginning this Sunday, March 6th the church services will be at 6:15 instead of 7:30. This hour is for the month of March only. Please note the change and arrange for the time, 6:15, every Sunday evening. Sunday school, 10:30 a. m. A number of our people are attending Bible study every Wednesday evening at the parsonage at Karthaus. You can join them any Wednesday evening. Mrs. R. L. Schmoke was called to Altoona Tuesday evening. Her father, Clayton Ranley, died very suddenly at his home there. The Ranley family is well known here. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from his home. Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover visited in Phillipsburg on Monday. Willard, Robert, Clyde and Gladys Hoover and Mary Lou Burkley were Phillipsburg callers on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simcox and Mrs. Agnes Mulson, of Fairmount; Mr. and Mrs. Linford Michaels, of Keewardin; Mr. and Mrs. George Mann and daughter Peg, and Mrs. Margaret Palmer, of Phillipsburg; Mrs. H. G. Lewis, Jessie and Calvin Lewis, June Palmer and John Hodge, of Karthaus, were entertained on Sunday at Irvin Palmer's and Mary Cousin's. Mrs. Leona Hoover has been discharged from the Phillipsburg hospital and is now under the care of the home doctor. Mrs. Blair Holt entertained the younger set at a play party on Monday evening. The occasion was to celebrate James Holt's birthday. A jolly time was reported and lots of good wishes left for Holt. Mrs. James Hodge entertained at a surprise party Thursday evening in honor of their son, Phillip's fourteenth birthday. A good time was reported after delicious refreshments were served. The crowd departed leaving best wishes for lots of returns of such occasions.

CARS IN COLLISION NEAR SCOOTAC SATURDAY NIGHT

The cars of Glen Heverly of Howard and A. C. McKinney of Mill Hill were in a collision on Route 120 near Scootac Saturday night. P. V. D. Brennan of the motor police reported that Heverly attempted to turn left and then swung back into line again. McKinney started to pass on the right, and the car overturned several times and was badly damaged, but no one was injured.

Pigeets Town

Walking through the streets of Marquand, Mo., carrying a sign "Marquand unfair to God," the Rev. Noel Bremer, who conducted evangelistic services in a beer tavern for three weeks, is picketing the town.

POMONA GRANGE NEWS

The first of the series of Neighbor Night meetings of this year, held with Victor Grange at Boalsburg, last week, proved to be outstanding in attendance, interest and co-operation. All granges participating made every effort to do their part in promoting the general theme, emblem, color scheme and farm subject as planned for the evening.

By count, two hundred thirty persons were present, representing fifteen of our eighteen subordinate granges. It is this fine manifestation of the spirit of co-operation that well repays all who labor to prepare for these meetings. Keep it up, grangers, and our county will become the center in deed as well as in name.

The greatest of all books tells us, "Without a vision the people perish," so we can go "forward in grange precepts and ideals" by actively adopting the principles of this Book. It was on the basis of this Book that our organization was originally founded. Co-operation, kindness, love, enthusiasm and all of their kind are "bombrangs"—they return to the sender.

The master of Victor grange, the host at this meeting, is E. G. Wasson of State College. This grange appropriately decorated their hall in the color scheme of red with the emblem of heart predominating and presented each person with a valentine as a souvenir of the evening. We hope all grangers will try to keep these souvenirs, as they attend these meetings, for they will serve as a pleasant reminder of the hospitality of our people as well as of the thoughts of the evening. The members of this grange are to be congratulated on their very successful completion of this large crowd, by doing so we feel they ably illustrated our farm subject of "Management."

Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles, heart shaped cookies and coffee.

The Howard grange officers presented a good setting drill using as the altar hymn, "In My Heart, There Rings a Melody," and each officer wore a red paper heart on the left wrist, or what made clear that the emblem of "heart" as carried out through the entire evening was not to illustrate the idea of the valentine season, alone. It was used as a message of the theme AMBITION as we realize our heart and its desire very necessary in forming and fulfilling our ambition, be what it may.

The opening and closing of the grange was conducted in a business-like manner worthy of these officers and we appreciate this good example on our opening night. The secretary of Howard grange is Samuel H. Pletcher of Howard.

Port Matilda grange presented the program which was planned to arouse interest in "pencil farming" as a very needed part of Management, the farm subject listed. Knowing the facts and figures of any business is certainly necessary to make that business a success. Yes, farming is a business and one to be proud of so why should we not conduct it as such. We doubt if very many of our Centre County farmers actually know from which crop they are receiving the most profit, or what method is bringing the most return. There is a good farm account book to be procured from our county agriculture office, well worth the 40c invested. We urge you to stop guessing and start some form of bookkeeping on your farm now.

Following is the program of the evening:

Theme: Ambition (Desire). Farm Subject: Management or Self-Help. "Seeking the Lost—Grange Chorus Scripture references and Grange Purposes—Mrs. Shively, G. L. Pink, Dorsey Cronister.

"Figures Don't Lie".....A Play G. E. Ardery, Vera Ardery, John Henry, Mahlon Walker, Blair Pink.

"Self-Help by Co-operation" Demonstration—B. H. Williams, Mrs. B. H. Woodring, Phoebe Cronister.

Timely Reminders—"Cow Facts and Figures".....Anna Harstock

"Because he Joined the Grange" Action Song—Audrey Williams, Mary Pringle, Dorsey Cronister.

"And this is February—Mays Harpster.

Tableaux—Lincoln: Merle Pink, John McKamey, Lecturer.

Valentine—John Henry, Audrey Williams.

Washington—G. E. Ardery, Roxy Knarr.

"A Vision of the Past"—Grange Chorus with solo by Harry Woodring.

"Victory Tableau"—closing Number: "A hint to the wise is sufficient."

A farm account book serves to show where the biggest dollars grow. If you'd have no debts to pay, feed your cows alfalfa hay; Many a dairy dollar's lost through ignorance of feeding cost.

The dairy cow that you think best may be the poorest when you test. If you want good times restored—keep no cows that pay no board. Dairy profits may be greater, if you test your separator;

A separator that needs repair wastes more cream than you can spare. Now YOU tell us some.

Yes, this was a great beginning. May we work together as faithfully for our next meeting which is scheduled with Bald Eagle grange, Friday evening, March 4th. Springs Mills grange has charge of the program and Victor grange fill the officers chairs and conduct the business of the evening.

GRANGE PEP SONG
How are we grangers to find success thru all the year?
How are we going to make our grange admired both far and near?
How shall we meet each problem that may come to test and veer?
This be our motto forever:

GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS TRY LIMERICK WRITING

The following limericks were composed by students in the English class of the 7th grade of the Bishop street school, Bellefonte, of which Miss Priscilla W. Young is teacher.

I once knew a lady named Lizzie
Whose hair was all black and frizzle;
She walked to the lane,
And found she had a pain,
And it made her terribly dizzy.
—Wanda Gill.

I once knew a lady named Lizzie
Who walked as if she were dizzy;
She once wandered far,
And fell into some tar,
That good old baby Lizzie,
—June Baylett.

I once knew a lady named Lizzie,
She was always cranky and busy,
She worked early and late,
To rest she did hate,
And now she is goofy and dizzy.
—Lois Hartman.

I once knew a lady named Lizzie,
She was short, fat, dark, and quite dizzy;
When she walked down the street,
Her knees wouldn't meet,
So they called her bow-legged Lizzie.
—Emma Harrison.

Our Gertrude is mighty but small,
She lives in a house with a hall;
One night in her sleep,
She once froze her feet,
And now she won't sleep at all.
—Emma Harrison.

I once knew a lady named Lizzie,
And when she got sick she was dizzy;
But when she got well,
She wanted to give a yell.

TO ALL Sisters

You'll be proud to entertain your friends when there's an I.E.S. approved lamp in the room. I make it give such good light that everyone admires your choice. Your willing servant, Reddy Kilowatt.

AN I. E. S. APPROVED LAMP THAT'S Unusually Convenient

SWING the light around wherever you want it—over a bridge table, for instance, or over your sewing or reading. The "double arm" of the I. E. S. lamp pictured here is built for just that purpose—to put the light where you can use it to best advantage.

Mighty good light, too. White light free of shadows—light that makes everything clearer and easier to see. Walk all around the lamp, look at it from any direction—there's no glare.

Stop at a dealers' store. Get an I. E. S. lamp—for eye-rest, sight-protection and room-cheeriness. Costs little!
