earned by him during those periods which he would not have earned in his employment at Whitecock had continued without interruption.

3. Post notices in quarries and offices stating that the company will comply with the cease and desist orders, and maintain such notices for at least 30 consecutive days.

4. Notify the Regional Director within ten days from the date of the order (February 24) what steps the company has taken to comply with the order.

The 23 persons who are ordered to be reinstated and to be given back pay are: Anthony Alerio, Richard Alerio, Gibson Alerio, Charles Clapper, Ben Conter, Byron Dwyler, Lewis Dorman, William A. Duck, Lloyd B. Fry, Henry H. Hay, Milford Herman, Joseph Mango, Claude McClinton, John Musser, Lester Poorman, Boyd V. Rachau, Homer Saxton, John Simpson, Melvin Snare, Sam Tenilla, Earl Walte, George Zieselick and John Zieselick.

The back pay ordered to be given the 23 men begins from the dates of their discharge, September 1935 to June 1, 1936, and the period from July 28, 1937 to the date when the company offers to restore the men to their jobs.

Assuming that the men would be offered their jobs back this month they would be entitled to about 18 months pay, less whatever amounts they may have earned during those times which they would not have earned if they had been working steadily at Whitecock.

The time from June 1, 1936 to July 28, 1937, is not to be computed in figuring out back pay due men, according to the Board's order, which sets forth that the Intermediate report which recommended dismissal of the case, was filed June 1, 1936. Because of the failure of the Union to file exceptions to the Intermediate report, the case became closed, and remained so until reopened by an order of the Board on July 28, 1937.

The report says "After a hearing the Trial Examiner was misled in finding that the respondent's unfair labor practices did not affect commerce. . . . The respondent should not be required to grant back pay for the long period during which no action in the case was being taken."

Action Began in April 1936
April 6, 1936, Limestone Workers Union No. 1946, filed a charge with the National Labor Relations Board, alleging that Whitecock Quarries was engaging in unfair labor practices, holding, in substance, that during September, 1935, Whitecock discharged 23 employees for Union activities.

Whitecock filed an answer May 9, 1936, objecting to the proceedings on the ground that the complaint did not bring Whitecock within jurisdiction of the Board. A hearing in the matter was held in Bellefonte May 15 and 16 before David Harrison, Trial Examiner, Whitecock Quarries taking no part in the hearing after a motion by its counsel that the complaint be dismissed was refused.

Hearing is Adjourned
The hearing was not completed at this time, and was adjourned until June 9 for the taking of further testimony. However, on May 18, 1936, the United States Supreme Court decision in the case of Carter vs. Carter Coal Co., resulted in the Whitecock hearing being cancelled.

June 1, 1936 the Trial Examiner filed his Intermediate Report in which he found that Whitecock was engaged in unfair labor practices, but that such practices were not unfair labor practices affecting commerce, and therefore recommended that the complaint be dismissed.

Court Ruling Affects Case
July 9, 1937 after the Supreme Court rendered a decision in the Jones and Laughlin Steel case, the local Union moved to reopen the Whitecock case and to file exceptions to the Intermediate Report. The Board on July 23, 1937, granted this motion.

In the report last week the Board sets forth that it has reviewed and affirmed the rulings of the Trial Examiner on the motions made at the hearing, and that the Board has sustained the exceptions to the Intermediate Report.

The testimony of each of the 23 persons allegedly discharged for Union activities is reviewed briefly in the 14-page typewritten report.

Pennsylvania, showing all detours in force each week, is on display at the office.

Robert T. Willard, chairman of the Retail Division of the Chamber, announced that a general meeting of the division will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, March 3, at the Logan Fire Hall. Mr. Willard urges merchants and clerks to cooperate with Bellefonte Borough Council in leaving their cars at home, so shoppers in town have adequate parking space.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber will meet in the Chamber C. for exceptional service in building the Order. This is the first time that this honor was awarded any member of Penn-Centre Chapter.

It was decided at this meeting that the 15th anniversary will be celebrated and upon appointment of the various committees an announcement will appear in the near future.

At the close of the meeting a fried oyster supper was served to those present. The Chapter wishes to extend its thanks to Mrs. Harry McElwain, Unionville, and Mrs. R. W. Dowdell, Bellefonte, for assisting the Chapter in preparing this meal. It has recently become the custom to have the mother of DeMolay assist the Chapter by helping with refreshments. There were about sixty present.

were on the last payroll prior to strike on that date or thereafter, for any losses they may suffer by reason of any refusal of their application for reinstatement, by payment to each of them respectively, of a sum equal to that which each of them would normally have earned as wages during the period from the date of any such refusal of their application to the date of offer of reinstatement, less any amount earned by each of them, respectively, during such period.

(This provision is taken to mean that persons who went on strike on or after January 15, 1937, and who now apply for reinstatement to their jobs, will be entitled to regular wages from now on if the company use any reason refuses to grant the applications. This does not mean that they will get any back pay from the time of the strike until the time they apply for reinstatement.)

3. Withdraw all recognition from the T. E. P. A. as representative of its employees for collective bargaining, and to completely dis-establish the T. E. P. A. as such representative.

4. Post notices in the plant for 30 consecutive days stating that the company will comply with the cease and desist orders, and that the T. E. P. A. is disestablished and all recognition is withdrawn from it.

The Board's order dismisses allegations in the original complaint to the effect that the Titan Company refused to bargain collectively with its employees within the meaning of the Act.

New Workers May Lose Jobs
In regard to the reinstatement of striking employees, the Board's order which sets forth that the Intermediate report which recommended dismissal of the case, was filed June 1, 1936. Because of the failure of the Union to file exceptions to the Intermediate report, the case became closed, and remained so until reopened by an order of the Board on July 28, 1937.

Launch College Building Program

of your youths are undertaken.
I believe the $5,000,000 invested in these buildings is a wise investment. I feel that you, Dr. Hetzel (Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, college president) and your associates will make use of these new facilities for the best interests of the people of the state.

The governor was handed a special spade by Dean A. R. Warnock, chairman of the ceremonies, and turned the first earth for the new buildings.

Before heading the spade to the state's chief executive officer, Dean Warnock said, "All groundbreaking ceremonies are symbolic. They are intended to offer a visible proof that the stage of blueprint planning is ended and the actual construction is beginning."

"I think you all must be aware of the problem faced by the committee on public occasions, charged with preparing a program of groundbreaking for ten building projects at once. That sort of thing does not happen every day. A crowd of this size could not be ushered into the campus with ten stops for ten sets of speeches and ten sets of spadings. The committee therefore has planned a symbolical groundbreaking ceremony indoors in this hall."

"On the platform before me are ten small containers filled with soil actually dug up from the ten building sites. In recognition of the important part that a student body takes in any educational process, ten representative students have been chosen to empty the contents of these containers into the large box which has been built into the front of this platform."

Ten students, representing the ten major additions to the campus buildings, poured earth into the large container on the stage.

U. S. Senator Joseph Guffey, representing the Federal government, said, "You are the institution in Pennsylvania to which the state must look primarily for an investment in education. We hope that it will not be far distant when it will be unnecessary to turn away young men and women of this state who are sincerely ambitious for education."

"The Federal Government is trying as never before to develop an 'unlimited citizenship'."

"We trust," he declared, "that the interest of both the Federal and State governments in higher education will never abate or lessen until the ideals of the Morrill act (a land grant which established in 1863) are accomplished."

Governor Earle, Colonel A. S. Jansway, executive director of the General State Authority; Captain Douglas Andrews, associate regional director of the Public Works Administration, and President Ralph D. Hetzel, broke ground on the stage of Recreation Hall formally to inaugurate the program.

Centre Hall Man Escapes Death by Gas dropped to the floor, where his feeble struggles to reach the door were fruitless.

About 10 o'clock Mr. Durst's stepson, aged 16 and 13 years, having occasion to enter the garage, found him on the floor. He was conscious but was unable to help himself. They carried him home and a Centre Hall physician summoned immediately found him to be suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Under treatment Mr. Durst recovered slowly, but had not regained his full strength until late Saturday evening.

Exhaust of another gasoline engine used to operate the regular spraying machine in the garage, is spraying outdoors to prevent such an occurrence. The extra compressor for whitewashing purposes, attached to the motor of a truck, is a portable outfit and no provisions were made for carrying away the exhaust from the truck.

Mr. Durst later explained that he intended to operate the truck motor indoors only long enough to make necessary adjustments to the compressor outfit, and did not believe gas produced in the short time he expected to be working inside would pollute the air of the garage.

Police Unit to Leave Bellefonte

North Allegheny Street, Bellefonte. Captain C. J. McRae, present commanding officer of Troop I, in Bellefonte, will have charge of Troop D, with headquarters at Williamsport. It is reported, while Captain G. H. Keller, formerly of Bellefonte, will be in charge of an entire squadron, for the northeastern part of the State. Headquarters will be at Wyoming.

The traffic patrol and criminal investigation units, formerly separate state departments, have been joined in actual practice for the first time since the merger of the old state police and highway patrol was ordered by the 1937 legislature.

According to reports, the number of troop headquarters in the state were increased from 11 to 18, while sub-stations were reduced from more than 100 to 86, and four squadron divisions were established on a basis of geography and population.

Dr. Hetzel pointed out there is growing dissatisfaction with the present name among undergraduates, teachers and alumni. The Governor asked Dr. Hetzel to determine the sentiment of the collegiate body on the change. If there is real demand for a new name, the Governor said, he will confer jointly to that end with Dr. Hetzel and Dr. Thomas S. Gates, president of Penn.

President Hetzel Explained Need for Ten New Buildings, Declaring It Has Been Necessary to "Refuse Admission" to Four or Five Times as Many Students Who Desire to Enter the Upper Classes as We are Able to Receive.

The new buildings will increase the capacity of the institution fifty per cent.

Within a few minutes after ground was broken by the governor and other officials representing the commonwealth, the federal government and the college, the ceremonies were over.

The program closed with Penn State's traditional "Alma Mater."

Following a tour of the campus, the Governor and his official party who had expected to be guests at a boxing meet between Penn State and the University of Pittsburgh, found their time limited and could not be present.

The Governor arrived in Bellefonte by airplane Saturday morning and went to State College by car. There he went directly to the Nittany Lion Inn where he was accorded full military honors by the department of military science and tactics and the Pershing Rifles, student military organization. He then met with student leaders.

Governor Earle and his party were guests of the College board of trustees and President Hetzel at a luncheon preceding the ceremonies in Recreation Hall. No speeches were made at the luncheon.

Promptly at 1:45 Governor Earle, President Hetzel, Captain Andrew, Colonel Jansway, Senator Guffey, and State Senator Edward J. Thompson were escorted to the platform of Recreation Hall as the program went on the air. Dean Warnock introduced President Hetzel, who greeted the audience in the name of the college and the board of trustees, after which he introduced Colonel Jansway, Captain Andrews, and Senator Thompson. After this President Hetzel presented Governor Earle and U. S. Senator Guffey, Hon. John W. Decker, Centre county's representative in the General Assembly, and many other local and state dignitaries were seated on the platform.

Dr. Hetzel pointed out there is growing dissatisfaction with the present name among undergraduates, teachers and alumni. The Governor asked Dr. Hetzel to determine the sentiment of the collegiate body on the change. If there is real demand for a new name, the Governor said, he will confer jointly to that end with Dr. Hetzel and Dr. Thomas S. Gates, president of Penn.

Members of the former Highway patrol and the state police will continue for the most part in their respective lines of work. Foots ascertained.

However, criminal investigation officers, when not required for actual cases, may be used in patrolling the highway.

"We expect to have 600 police cars, about evenly divided between the state 'ghost' cars and conventional black machines, patrolling the highways by the beginning of the tourist season," said the commissioner.
