

Jones, Mundy Accorded Warm Welcome

(Continued from Page 1) error I will see that labor continues to be treated with full justice. "I consider labor a part of our social order. It is an element of the social order just as agriculture and industry are elements of the social order. If the people of Pennsylvania are to live happily together and be enabled to earn sufficient livelihood to maintain their families in decency every element of the social order must be treated with equality and with special favors to none."

Rippman makes her home at the Baum apartments.

Dr. Mundy spoke briefly at the welcoming here before the group departed for Blair county where they were scheduled for several appearances that night. En route to Tyrone the motorcade stopped at the Diamond in Port Matilda to meet a group of citizens from the western part of the county.

PROESI URGES PREPAREDNESS AT BROOKS-DOLL BANQUET

(Continued from page one) various reasons why the Legion should insist at all times upon the United States being prepared for war. He paid a tribute to the Gold Star mothers of the World War, declaring they are the "real warriors" of our country. Toastmaster Walter H. Laird Curran introduced El-County Commander Mills, of Clearfield; Walter S. Zahniser, Commander of Brooks-Doll Post; Mrs. Krumrine, of State College, district auxiliary president; Mrs. Edward L. Miller, president of the Bellefonte auxiliary; Mrs. Harry Hile and Mrs. George White, Gold Star mothers, and Judge Ivan Walker, of Bellefonte, who spoke briefly on preparedness as a means of avoiding war.

MONUMENT

The Senior Student League of Many Nations, under the supervision of Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Patterson, will present a service in the Blanchard Church of Christ on Friday evening, April 8 at 7:30 o'clock. People of the Monument and Orviston churches are sponsoring their coming here, but because these two churches are too small to accommodate the crowds, the meeting has been changed to Blanchard. Members of this league are representatives of the Practical Bible Training school, Blightman, N. Y. Everyone is welcome to attend the service and we assure you that a real treat is in store for you. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bechdel and daughter Betty, of Howard, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Eiters on Sunday afternoon. The scarlet fever patients are slowly improving. No new cases have developed as yet.
