Fire Razes Barn On McCoy Farm (Continued from page one)

work they were aided by the fact an open field, and booster lines were used effectively in quenching stray sparks.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Although the structure was wired for electricity, service had been cut off at the house and no current had gone into the barn since January 28 when the Meckley family moved onto the farm. Everything was in order when members of the family completed their evening chores about 6:30 o'clock Saturday.

In addition to the total destruction of the barn, the loss includes 4 milch cows, 12 young cattle, 500 bushels of corn, a half-ton of chop, 32 tons straw, harness, fertilizer, seed, a small amount of hay, and some implements. Mr. Meckley carried no insurance on his goods, but Mr. McCoy had some insurance on the barn.

Until they reached safety, the survivors lived on hot water and peanuts, the lieutenant asserted.

At the conclusion of his furlough the officer will report to San Francisco for further duty.

By trade Mr. Howley was a grocer, having served his apprenticeship in the Jared Harper and Paul Sheffer stores. Later he conducted his own business in the Lyon building on South Allegheny street, and also had a store on West Bishop street in a building where the present Cadillac garage is now located.

He became a borough police officer about the time of the World War and served in that capacity until his retirement. During the term the late David Forney as postmaster. Howley served as the assistant postmaster. He served two four-year terms as overseer of the poor in Bellefonte, was a faithful and active member of the Undine Fire Company and the Knights of Columbus, and was a lifelong member of St. John's Catholic church.

Mr. Howley was a son of a sister and Catherine Keen Howley, both of native of Ireland, and was born at Beech Creek on March 13, 1864.

He was united in marriage with Lilla Heverly, who survives with two daughters, Mrs. Paul Mallory, of East Aurora, Pa., and Miss Ruth Howley at home; a sister, Miss Ella Howley, Bellefonte, and two grandchildren, Paul Mallory, Jr., and Mrs. T. W. Bittner, both of East Aurora.

Requiem Mass will be held at St. John's Catholic church at 10 o'clock Friday morning, with John Rev. Father William E. Downey officiating. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

As near as we can judge the perfect government would have no taxes.

Legal Action Brings Drop In Back Taxes

borough solicitor for collection, and results from this action have been most satisfactory, the committee reported.

A check-up of the water tax charged against the Hill garage apartment, and double house on East Bishop Street, as a result of a complaint filed recently by Mr. Hill, revealed that the garage and apartment were being charged for water department figures, and that the double house has been billed at $1.80 less than the rate it should carry. Future bills are to carry the higher rate, the committee indicated.

Council entered into a discussion regarding the proposed payment of $250 to James R. Hughes, former headmaster of the Bellefonte Academy for sewer and water line constructed by him from East Bishop street to the Hughes swimming pool early in the 1920's. As a result of the discussion Council turned the problem over to the borough solicitor, who will be asked to decide the status of persons beyond the borough line on Bishop Street who are connected on the borough sewer and water systems.

The Finance Committee reported as follows: Borough department: balance, $163.96, and bills $582.21; Water department: balance $3,903.92, and bills $245.24.

The fire and police committee reported that during the past two weeks 11 cars have been tagged for violation of the two-hour parking ordinance and that one peddling license was issued.

The sanitary committee submitted an ordinance regulating the issuance of sewer tap permits. This ordinance did not meet the approval of Council and was referred to the solicitor for corrections.

Council also considered an ordinance providing for a $25 charge for a sewer tap to any single house or apartment. If a house designed for one family later is remodeled to accommodate several separate living apartments Council would charge $30 additional for servicing each additional apartment, even though all apartments in the building were served through a single sewer tap. It is desired to have the new regulation retro-active to apply to homes and buildings which have been remodeled in the past to accommodate more families than were originally intended.

Street signs are to be erected at all street intersections of the borough. The signs, made of aluminum, have been repaired, and the committee reported that with the aid of NYA labor they could be installed at a total cost to the Borough of about $10.

Dominic Dunsmuir asked Council for permission to rent a portion of the Phoenix Mill property, where he would like to establish a plant for the manufacture of concrete blocks. He would build a structure 16 by 20 feet in size and of such nature and historic location in the future. Council decided to take no action until Mr. Dunklebarber had an opportunity to submit plans of his proposed set-up together with other information regarding his suggested plan.

was united in marriage with Catherine Kover, who survives with two daughters, Mrs. Lilla M. Magee and Mrs. H. O. Alexander, both of Wrenn, N. J. He was the last member of his immediate family.

A year after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Huyett moved to Centre Hall where Mr. Huyett began the career which raised him to a position of prominence in Centre county. Engaging in the lumber business with the late Andrew J. McNitt, of Bellefonte, Mr. Huyett for many years was recognized as one of the most successful and able lumbermen in the county. Since retiring from that occupation about 15 years ago Mr. Huyett has devoted most of his time to the management of several farms, although he never actively engaged in farming.

He served on the board of trustees of the State Industrial School at Huntingdon until several months ago when he submitted his resignation from that post. At various times he served on the board of trustees of Susquehanna University, as a director of the former Penn Valley Banking Company at Centre Hall, and as a member of the Centre Hall Borough Council.

Mr. Huyett was a member of the Masonic lodge at Centre Hall, the Consistory at Williamsport, and the Jaffa Shrine of Altoona, in addition to being a member of the Bellefonte Elks lodge. A faithful and active member of the Centre Hall Lutheran church, he held a number of church offices during his lifetime, and held the position of honorary elder in the congregation.

Politically Mr. Huyett was a staunch and loyal member of the Democratic party and of recent years had taken an active part in the councils of his party's leaders. Although he did not run for office he was a lover of nature and spent much of his leisure time in the woods.

Mr. Huyett was a familiar figure in most towns and villages of Centre county, having become widely known during his career as a lumberman. During the hey-day of the McNitt-Huyett Lumber Company, the firm maintained principal offices in Bellefonte, in the Decker building on North Spring street. The partner, Mr. McNitt, disappeared under mysterious circumstances
