John Dutrow, on the Spayd farm, nine and ten acres to potatoes, using 145 bushels of seed. Another potato grower, Ralph Homan, planted over eight acres, and Ernest Homan reports an acreage of five acres.

The Millheim Inn, purchased some weeks ago by Ralph Brandt, will continue under the proprietorship of L. "Mitch" Sulouff, who took over the hostelry from A. J. Crozier. Mr. Brandt, having rented his property, will remain at his present location in the Spigelnier building.

Walter H. Weaver, of Millheim, employed last summer by the U. S. Geological Survey, has again entered upon duties similar to those in which he was formerly engaged. He is in the Middleburg area now, having departed for the Snyder county metropolis on Sunday.

Earl Ross, is laying the foundation for a tile silo at his farm along the Earlstown-Bear Run road. Since acquiring the farm Mr. Ross has made a number of important improvements. Mr. and Mrs. Ross have a son and daughter taking courses at Penn State, indicating their belief in higher education.

The west side of Grange Park has been secured for a landing field for the pickup of mail from Centre Hall and vicinity on May 19, the Thursday of National Air-Mail Week. Special air mail stamps may be secured at the local post office from the 14th to the 21st inst. The free use of a portion of the park for a landing field is much appreciated.

The widening of the bridge on Route 322, Seven Mountains, over the stream flowing out of Cox's Valley has been completed. The bridge extensions were made to conform with the four-lane program adopted by the State Highway Department. For that important thoroughfare over Seven Mountains, the widening of the road is being continued at other sections by WPA workers.

Prothonotary Bond C. White recently added greatly to the appearance of the lawn in front of the Centre County hospital when he contributed and planted six evergreen trees, three at each of the two front corners of the property. Prothonotary White's contribution will be appreciated more each year as the evergreens grow. Just as the town now appreciate the work of Edward J. Teaman of Reynolds Avenue 35 years ago when he planted the attractive evergreens which have added greatly to the beauty of Bellefonte's Big Spring.

The annual promotion exercises for the Millheim Grade School, held last Thursday evening in the Municipal Theatre, were well attended by parents and patrons and the musical program much enjoyed. The children sang their group numbers very well and Wm. N. Ducl, instructor and director, deserves commendation for the work he is doing. Cash awards were made to deserving members of the eighth grade, who will enter the East Penna Valley High School next term, as follows: Art, Evelyn Esenhauer, presented by Mrs. E. R. Shreckengast; Mathematics, John Brown, presented by S. M. Breen; English, James Harmon, presented by G. G. Neff; All-Around student, Esther Brown, presented by A. H. Stover.

Four girls and their manager invaded State College, last Wednesday, and proceeded on a house to house canvass for the sale of women's undies. State College sluths placed them under arrest and three of the party were fined $50 and costs by Burgess Wilbur F. Letzell for operating without a sales permit. Not having sufficient cash in hand to settle the manager's Chrysler sedan was held as security until the cash is forthcoming.

Harry Toner, of Logan street, Bellefonte, was arrested last Saturday by Chief of Police Harry Dukeman and committed to the Centre County jail in default of $500 bail bond following a hearing before Judge Harold D. Cowher, on Monday morning on charges of forgery. At the hearing it was alleged that Toner forged the name of John Reed to a check which he drew on himself in the sum of $22.50 and had the instrument cashed in a local store last July. After cashing the check Toner was said to have left with a circus and did not return to Bellefonte until 10 days ago when he was apprehended by Chief Dukeman. He will be held until the next term of court.

A chorus of thirty-eight colored ladies from Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., traveling in a chartered bus, were stranded at Centre Hall, Saturday night, evening when they chartered a Greyhound line through the Greyhound line's agent, R. S. Brooks, to take them to Kingston, where they were called for a concert in the afternoon. To fill the engagement a quartet was sent there in a car traveling with the bus. The quartet also filled the engagement in the evening at Wilkes-Barre. Seven hundred mile run was made in fourteen hours, covering the road from Charlotte, N. C., to Centre Hall. The run was made by a mechanic employed by the Queen City Coach Company who went to Centre Hall with parts to repair the bus which broke down on its way to Wilkes-Barre.

Forty eight grade pupils of the East Penna Valley School District took their high school entrance examination recently. Thirty-six of the children successfully passed the test and will become freshmen at the East Penna Valley high school next fall. They are: Aaronburg school—Ruth Stover, Randall Kern, Jean Wance, John Best, Mahlon Strayer, Harold Baur, Ralph D. J. Stover, Paul Ream, Donald Musser, Malvin Vonada, Coburn Musser, Lewis Rearek, Josephine Stine, Charles Wingard, Aileen Hazel, Winifred Musie, Frances Gilbert, Marian Slack, Ruth Malone, Andrea Monteth, Ralph Altier, Edwin Auman, Helen Wolff, Guy Auman, Millheim School—Burdette, James Harmon, Evelyn Esenhauer, Richard Hoserman, John Brown, Nanette Neff, Lawrence Tate, Robert Corman James Stover, Woodward School—Ray Guisette, Rosella Stover, Loise School—Minnie Gill.

Shortly after eight o'clock Friday evening a fire was reported at the Geiss Wagner farm, on the cross-roads between Miffler Hill school house and Tusserynank school house on Route 322. The Centre Hall pumper, fully equipped and manned, reached the scene early to discover there was nothing to do—there was no fire. The alarm was the result of the family car taking fire as it was about to be moved into the garage. The car was standing dangerously near the farm barn and under some circumstances might have become a great menace. The flames were finally partially extinguished and the machine moved by man power to a place of safety. The incident calls to mind the fact that twenty-five years ago the barn on the farm was then struck by lightning and totally destroyed. A new barn was built by Mr. Wagner and it is the structure that was in danger of destruction had the car fire caused an explosion.

PLEASANT GAP FIREMEN CONDUCT DRIVE FOR FUNDS
The Pleasant Gap Fire Company is conducting a community drive in Pleasant Gap area for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to purchase a pumper.

The company is handicapped at the present time for lack of equipment, the only motorized apparatus now on hand being a truck, which is not specially equipped or designed for use in fighting fires. The drive is in full swing this week and will be continued until all residents of the area have been contacted.

HOW TO SLEEP SOUND
Make this 4 day test. Your 25c back if not pleased. A common cause of disturbed sleep is bladder irritation due to functional kidney disorders. # Confesses Slaying Former Bellefonte Man, Years Ago to Mayer's mother's home where Bassett was to receive a certified check in payment of the car.

Mrs. Winters, for some reason or other, was suspicious of "Mr. Clark," and when her brother failed to return home next day she immediately notified all Washington police authorities, Naval officers, the Seattle American Legion and Chamber of Commerce. As a result of his prompt action Mayer and his mother were apprehended a few days later while driving in Bassett's car.

MOTHER CONFESSED FIRST
Mayer's confession this week came after Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, 73, Mayer's mother, had confessed that she and her son killed Bassett. Mayer is serving a life term as an habitual criminal while his mother was to be released next week after serving the minimum of eight years sentence for grand larceny. The two were sent to prison in connection with their possession of Bassett's car. They were not charged with murder because the body was not found.

SLAIN WITH HAMMER
Mayer, told Warren J. M. McCauley of the State Prison, that he had slain Bassett with a hammer. He said that he would plead guilty to a murder charge.

The warden said that Mayer's confession corroborated the story told by Mrs. Smith.

"I'm making this confession to take some of the pressure off my mother," Mayer told Warden McCauley.

The warden reminded the convict that his mother also accused him of four other slayings which were committed in Montana.

"I wouldn't give a damn if I pleaded guilty to the whole works," Mayer said.

SIGNS AGREEMENT
In the presence of the warden and his secretary, P. E. Mahoney, Mayer signed this statement:

"After a discussion with Warden J. M. McCauley and after seriously considering the situation, I have decided to plead guilty to the murder of my mother."

Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

We might as well succumb to the urge of spring and all the good things that come with it. The springtime means asparagus, peas, mushrooms, strawberries, carrots, etc. They are all tonic and should be served frequently during the spring.

Spring Casserole
Cook 8 small new potatoes, 8 baby carrots 1 small cauliflower, broken in small pieces, 1 cup fresh peas, 2 cups of hot medium cream sauce add 1 package of Old English cream cheese, stir until smooth. Place vegetables in casserole, pour sauce over them and place under broiler just long enough to delicately brown the cheese sauce. Garnish with parsley.

Leek Appetizers
Soak large leeks in cold water to remove sand, split and cook in boiling water. Chill and top with a highly seasoned paste of sardines.

Fried Green Tomatoes
Slice green tomatoes 1/2 inch thick Dip in seasoned corn meal and saute in hot shortening until brown on both sides.

Spinach a New Way
2 eggs
2 cups rolled shortening
4 tablespoons shortening
2 cups milk
2 cups cooked spinach
Beat the eggs, add the milk, crackers and spinach. Stir in melted shortening and bake 1 hour in a slow oven.

Green Peas and Mushrooms
1/2 lb. mushrooms
2 lbs. peas
4 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
Shell peas. Melt shortening and add mushrooms and saute for a few minutes. Add peas, salt, pepper and water, cover and cook slowly until tender—about 25 minutes.

Stuffed Lettuce Salad
Select a large hard head of lettuce and trim away the outer leaves. Cut a slit from the bottom so it will stand evenly. With a sharp knife cut a circle as deep as possible all around the top. Remove as much of the inner part as you can. Shred it very fine, then mix with an equal part of diced beets, a few tiny shreds of onions and half a green pepper with French dressing. Fill the lettuce head with this; when serving cut in pie fashion and pass dressing with the salad.

Frozen Tomato Cream Salad
6 medium sized tomatoes
1 cup water
1/4 cup well seasoned mayonnaise
1 cup stiffly beaten cream
Asparagus tips and green peas
1 endive or lettuce
Cook together 6 tomatoes and 1 cup of water, one small onion, one blade of mace, three cloves and a sprig of parsley. Press through a sieve, rubbing as much pulp as possible and season rather highly with salt and pepper. When cold combine with the salad dressing and cream, turn into a refrigerator tray and freeze, stirring two or three times during the first hour of freezing. Or turn into a mold and seal and pack in equal parts of ice and salt. Unmold onto endive or lettuce. Garnish with asparagus tips and peas which have been marinated in a little French dressing.

Meat and Vegetable Loaf
Round steak
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup celery
1 cup onions
1 cup carrots
1 egg
Trim and grind the steak. Add bread crumbs, moistened celery, carrots, onions, cup fine and egg. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly and put into a greased pan, sprinkle with flour and bit of butter. Add enough water to keep from burning on the bottom. Bake until nicely brown.

Buttered Beets and Celery
1 cup cooked beets
1/2 teaspoon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Outside stalks of celery
1/2 cup water
Cut beets in quarters and put in a sauce pan with butter, vinegar and sugar. Heat until ready to serve. Cut outside stalks of celery in 1/4 inch pieces and boil until tender. Drain and season with 1 tablespoon of butter. Pile in center of vegetable dish. Surround with beets.

Rainbow Casserole
2 large boiled potatoes
3 hard boiled eggs
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup boiled carrots
1/2 cup finely chopped olives
1 pint sour cream
Arrange a layer of the potatoes thinly sliced in a medium sized baking dish and over them pour some of the cream. Add a layer of sliced crosswise, 1/4 inch thick, one layer of peas and one of carrots, also sliced; cover the top with the olives and the last of the cream. Bake in an oven 400 degrees for 30 minutes. This is an excellent dish for the meatless meal.

Fatal Prank
Thinking to play a prank on fellow boarders, an Italian miner at Melbourne, Australia, decided to slip alight into the wine a woman boarder's house keeper and another miner were drinking. By mistake he used poison. When they collapsed, the man realized his mistake and, overcome by remorse, tried to commit suicide. It is thought, they all will recover.

PENN STATE STUDENTS OFFERED NEW COURSE

Students at the Pennsylvania State College next year will be taught how to budget their own funds to best advantage in a course offered by George F. Mich, associate professor of economics.

Personal financial problems will be attacked intelligently in the course, Dr. C. W. Hasek, head of the department of economics at Penn State, said.

"We intend to make the course very practical," he continued. "Topics of budgeting, savings and deposit accounts, credit and time buying, and insurance and annuities will be considered thoroughly."

The course will tie up with consideration of consumer problems as they are presented in other courses taught at the College.

The new course was arranged by Dr. Hasek to meet a growing demand for instruction in ways of handling personal financial problems.

Investments will occupy a considerable portion of the time devoted to the new course. Pensions and trust funds and real estate and security investments will be studied.

Several new courses will be offered by the department of economics by the next academic year. They include commercial banking; retailing; monopolistic competition; public utilities, their valuation, methods of regulation and rate setting, and the public control of business seen from a legal point of view.

"NO ENGLISH SPOKEN" AT A FRENCH INSTITUTE

The "no English spoken" sign will be used in two of the dormitory buildings at the Pennsylvania State College this summer. The buildings will house the Institute of French Education during the annual summer session of the institute which begins this year on Tuesday, July 5.

The purpose of the institute is to give its students an opportunity to achieve fluency in spoken French while continuing this academic work in language and literature. Adequate courses of university standard are provided. All of the various social activities expected of a well-organized community are conducted in French.

The "no English spoken" rule is the basis of the pedagogic structure of the institute. Within the walls of the buildings set aside for the use of the institute the rule must be strictly observed.

Regis Michaud, professor of French literature at the University of Illinois, will be the visiting professor this year. Three visiting lecturers will be provided. The instructional staff will include 12 persons.
