INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE VISITOR HERE

Unannounced and unheralded, Frank P. Thompson, who wants the Republican voters to remember that he, too, is a candidate for the nomination of Governor, paid Bellefonte a visit last Thursday. Candidate Thompson, who styles himself a liberal-minded independent Republican, confined his campaign activities here to a few personal contacts, including the newspaper office. He has an interesting personality. He recalls that in the Republican primary election of 1936, he carried forty-seven counties and polled 353,096 votes against the organization candidate, for State Treasurer. It went down in history as a peculiar phenomenon.

Thompson says that James is the product of two forces, the Philadelphia organization and a Philadelphia newspaper. "As for the former Governor," says Thompson, referring to Pinchot, "he is known, well known, almost too well known. His slogan should be, 'Don't say, 'No' again, say 'Yes' again. Pinchot. That is a fatal weakness in a man who wants to run as a Republican in a Republican primary."

CAMBRIA COUNTY FAIR TO FEATURE CONTESTS

One of the principal features of the Cambria County Fair which opens at Ebensburg Monday, September 5th, and continues throughout the week will be horse and mule pulling contests. The purpose of the contest will be to demonstrate the value of type, soundness and proper breeding in the selection of horses and mules intended for draft work, and also to ascertain the proper method of training and conditioning horses and mules. Prizes amounting to several hundred dollars will be offered to the winning animals in the classes of more than 3000 pounds per pair and under 1000 pounds.

FOREST FIRE RAGES AT MONUMENT RUN

Forty-five men were called out Saturday evening by Forest Ranger Kenneth B. Miller, of Beach Creek, to fight a stubborn forest fire. They worked all night and had the fire under control by Sunday morning but it was necessary to patrol the area and rake the burning embers most of the day.

PATTON MAN INJURED WHEN HE TOUCHES HI-POWER LINE

Way Fink and his family, of Patton, arrived at their summer cottage at New Millport last Thursday. In the evening their newly installed electric lights went out. Fink climbed a nearby power pole in an effort to determine what the trouble was.

This road is not a part of the Federal Highway System.

The greenhouse is open for business, and Mr. Peters expects to be at his regular duties in the near future. Last Sunday was Mother's Day but not every child knew it.

Walk, Mike Olenocki, Morris L. Houser, Wilbur H. Selfridge.

LOCAL HOSPITAL OPEN TO VISITORS THIS AFTERNOON

An impressive program has been arranged for the observance of National Hospital Day at the Centre County Hospital, Bellefonte, this Thursday afternoon.

A tree-planting ceremony on the hospital front lawn will begin at 2 o'clock with a brief introductory message by J. Thompson Henry, president of the hospital board. The invocation will be given by the Rev. John B. Mays, pastor of the Evangelical church, while Dr. Enoch H. Adams, chief of staff at the hospital, will be the principal speaker.

Ground will be broken for the planting of a tree in memory of Matthew Foley, founder of National Hospital Day, by Ivan Walker, Judge of the Courts of Centre County. The tree, an elm, has been secured for the occasion from the Rockyview nurseries, through Henry A. Broeckerhoff, a member of the board.

The hospital will be open for public inspection from 2 to 4 p. m. and nurses will be on duty to guide visitors through the institution. During this period a tea will be held on the first floor with Mrs. E. H. Adams, Mrs. Roy Wilkinson, Mrs. Mary M. Fauble and Mrs. Samuel Treasler, pouring. At the same time a group of musicians under the direction of Mrs. Louis Schad, violinist, will present a recital.

COMMUNITY DAY AT CAMP BARRE, MAY 22

Community Day is to be held at the Girl Scout Camp at Barre on Sunday, May 22, and not on May 20 as previously announced. In case of rain the event will be held on Sunday May 29. A square and round dance will be held at the Camp on Wednesday evening, June 25.

Although the camp is quite difficult for a stranger to locate, no trouble should be encountered if the following route is taken: Route 46 to Pine Grove Mills; Turn left onto Route 545 in Pine Grove Mills, cross Tussey mountain and take first improved road to right to Neff's Mills. In that village turn right and follow Route 305 through Petersburg. One mile beyond Petersburg avoid left turn and cross overhead railroad bridge. Keep straight ahead on improved road for two miles and turn right at Camp Barre sign. Follow signs to camp.

There are few persons in the world who form opinions without consideration of financial consequences.

SCOUT EXPERT ADVISES CARE IN CHOOSING CAMP

The local committee of the Barre Girl Scout Camp Association is calling attention to the fact that Camp Barre exceeds the minimum requirements of an approved Scout Camp, both in its safety and program advantages which are to be offered to the members of the association.

Miss Hazel K. Allen, president of the American Camping Association and director of the Girl Scout National Camps, Edith Macy, and Andree at Briardell Manor, New York, welcomed the following questions in a recent interview. What should parents look for in selecting a camp for their children? What should children get from camp in addition to the fun of living out-of-doors and sharing interesting and varied activities with children their own age?

"Summer camps are more and more recognized as avenues through which real education may reach children," she explained. "They offer an opportunity for social living and an abundantly rich environment. Partly because the camp has the child 24 hours a day, and partly because they are not bound by tradition as are the schools, they have an even better chance than the latter to do a really educational job. Camps today are directing their activities so that the personality of the child will be developed. Since Girl Scouts believe in self-government, it is the aim of camp elsewhere, to help each child do her share in planning the day's work and play. If a program is so set that on a certain day at a certain time a girl shall do this or that, the whole purpose of camp life is defeated. Personality is not built by such a program, but is achieved when the 'self' is engaged in some enterprise which, springing from personal initiative, is a real test of purpose, skill and ability to see a thing through to the end."

An excellent test, according to Miss Allen, is to watch whether the child continues after she leaves camp to do those things she learned while there.

Parents are also advised to know the camp in their locality. The Barre Association has arranged for parents and friends to get acquainted with the new camp on May 22nd, at the formal opening; June 25 at the benefit dance; and during July when the Scouts in camp for the first season July 3rd to 17th, will have charge of the Dedication program on July 16th.

Camping is an important phase of the Scout program in developing the reliance and initiative of youth. The girls of 1912, the first Girl Scouts in the United States, had a troop camp on Tybee Island, near Savannah, Georgia. The safety requirements in Scout camping have been so well enforced that there have never been any major accidents or serious illness among the campers. The set-up of the Girl Scout camp is based on a system of small units in which the girls with their trained leaders plan activities, think up projects, prepare meals, share games and chores, and join other all groups occasionally for campfire.

The traditions of a camp are made during the first season and local Scouts are anxiously awaiting the release of the camp folder and registration blanks early this month. With camping days just around the corner, Girl Scouts who have been saving toward summer vacations count their pennies and do a little checking on personal and troop bank accounts. These girls want to be sure they will be "among those present" this year at their new camp.

Mrs. Henry Robb, camp director, who has had a wide variety of experience in training and types of Scout work, is well known to many Scouters in this vicinity. These Scouts are enthusiastically recommending her to the Scouts and their parents.

Many other staff members will be announced in a release in the near future and experienced campers from the temporary camp sites where Barre was held may expect to meet many old friends.

Grange To Attend Church

Howard Grange will go to the Evangelical church at Howard in a body, Sunday, May 15, for special services to be conducted by the Rev. A. E. Fleck, newly appointed pastor of the Howard Methodist Episcopal church. Special music has been arranged for the service and a full turnout of Grange members is hoped for.

WHY YOU SHOULD CUT DOWN WEEDS THIS TIME OF YEAR

Hay fever is caused by the pollen of grasses and weeds which pollinate every year around this time. These pollen grains are microscopic powdery, yellow particles which are blown about by the millions and fill the eyes, nose and mouth of everyone who breathes them in.

Normal people are unaffected by the pollen grains but the allergic person, specifically sensitive to the individual type of pollen, is promptly affected and has hay fever. Therefore, all communities should cut down weeds and grass in their lots and neglected areas regularly. Although this procedure can not completely eradicate the cause, it does tend to lessen it.

We doubt if either Hitler or Mussolini really told the other what he thought.
