Millheim Sunday school arranged to have one of the church bells ring at 12:30 each day, which was to be the signal for everyone within hearing of the bell to offer silent prayer for the early termination of the World War. Every male person was requested to stop and remove his hat while the bell was ringing. Ward Weiser was delegated to ring the bell each day.

A group of about 25 young men at Clarence, who apparently amused themselves by being "tough" were rounded up by State Police after they had staged a kind of riot at Clarence. When a Police officer ordered the men to disperse and they refused to comply, the officer fired a shot into the ground.

Spill from the bullet flew up and destroyed an eye of one of the alleged rioters.

A total of $118.50 was cleared for the benefit of the Belgians at a concert held in the high school building by the Harmonic Club, of the Epworth League, of this place, which was given at the home of Mrs. Bickel. The group were: Sally Fitzgerald and Alice Waite, first violins; Louise Carpeneto and Mary Beizer, second violin; Julia Waite, Grace Crawford and Della Beizer, mandolins; Bertha Deltrich, piano, and Ida Brandman, drums and bells.

Fally Straub, of Mill Hill, was fatally injured Sunday morning while riding his bicycle near Millheim. He collided with an automobile owned and driven by J. S. Ginter, of Tyrone, who was enroute to Lock Haven. Straub was going down hill at a terrific speed when he lost control of his cycle and crashed into the side of the car. The man was about 30 years old and died a short time after the accident at the Lock Haven hospital.

Echoes From the Past

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Humes Block Destroyed by Fire—Loss $50,000 to $60,000.

At a little past 5 a. m. on Monday morning the alarm of fire was given and the fire department responded promptly. Flames and a dense volume of smoke were seen issuing from the roof of the Humes block on Allegheny street. The fire was at once located on the third story of the building. How it caught is not known but there seems to be little doubt of its incendiary origin. The building had two roofs, the inner or original roof being of tar while the outer or new roof was shingle. The fire had worked its way to the tar roof and between the two was a mass of flame almost impossible at the outset to be reached by firemen. By the time the flames had eaten through the outer roof the ceiling of the upper story began to fall and the floors above story became a mass of flames. Fire walls, built half way up the third story between several of the store rooms and it was hoped that the flames could be confined within the walls, but since the fire spread along under the roof it wasn't long until the entire building was involved. Sparks and pieces of burning wood and paper flew in all directions over town and nothing but the water-soaked condition of roofs from recent rains prevented a widespread conflagration. At 8:25 a. m. the front walls of the Humes building fell into the street with a mighty crash, almost burying a number of persons in the ruins. The coffee grinder and a C. T. U. was soon on hand and many a weak stomach was toned up by the warm beverage. Following are the losses as nearly as can be determined at this time: Bank building, $15,000; Humes block, $27,000; A. C. Moyer & Bros. grocery, $3,500; John Harberger's grocery, $3,500; Woodring's stationery store, $2,250; W. W. Moyer's dry goods store, $4,000, and the Co-operative store, $1,000. The building was occupied as follows: Beck's barber shop fronting on High street; Cumo's cigar store on Allegheny between the bank and the Post Office; Moyer grocery; Woodring's stationery; Harper grocery; Moyer dry goods; and Co-operative store. Also J. C. Harper's law office on the second floor and the Sons of Veterans and Republican club rooms on the third floor. The building block was to be rebuilt immediately.

Notes on the Fire: Charles Chambers, a member of the Logan Fire Company, had his leg injured by the falling timbers at the Humes block fire while he was engaged in fighting the blaze. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. set out an elegant breakfast for the firemen at the residence of Mrs. William Humes.

The report of the purchase of the Humes block ground by a syndicate is a little premature, since nothing has been definitely decided. Mr. Humes will hardly rebuild, but someone else will. The First National Bank is open for business in the brick building on Allegheny street a few doors below Beaver & Geppert's office. They expect to be doing business in a new building on the corner within three months. Work on the building will begin as soon as losses have been adjusted.

Postmaster Dobbins moved the post office into the new Bush Art.

A marriage license was issued to William Howard Marshall, of Mars, Pa., and Sara Luetta Womer, of State College.

Edward Owens departed for Cleveland, Ohio, to assist in bringing to Bellefonte another lot of Ford cars for the Beatty Motor Company.

The woman's committee on the Third Liberty Bond reported $8,950 in Centre Hall and $2,350 in Potter township, a total of $11,300, making a very fair percentage of the whole amount purchased, which was $37,000.

Joseph Ceder, who had been promoted to Ensign of Naval Engineers, spent the week-end in Bellefonte before going to Annapolis, Md., to take instructions in naval engineering. He is expected to return to Philadelphia as instructor at the Vine street wharf.

Millheim Sunday school arranged to have one of the church bells ring at 12:30 each day, which was to be the signal for everyone within hearing of the bell to offer silent prayer for the early termination of the World War. Every male person was requested to stop and remove his hat while the bell was ringing. Ward Weiser was delegated to ring the bell each day.

William, son of the Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Schmidt, a first lieutenant in the Reserve Officers' Training school at Cornell was spending a brief vacation here before going to Pittsburgh to enter the employ of the Westinghouse Company.

Fire that originated from a pile of brush a young man reading at the foot of Centre Hall mountain was burning spread to the forest and burned its way over the top of the mountain. It was only through the efforts of Forest Ranger Hoover and a crew of 20 men that trees on state lands were saved from destruction.

At the primary election in Centre county 2590 Republicans and 1167 Democratic votes were cast. Sprout, who won the Republican nomination for Governor, polled 1656 votes in the county, while Bonniwell, who was the successful Democratic candidate for Governor, got 461 votes in this county. Joseph F. Guffey, who was Bonniwell's opponent, polled 906 county votes.

Mr. George Stewart, a stone mason at Pleasant Gap, met with trouble when a piece of steel from a drill struck his eye, causing much pain.

Mr. John Bradley who was so unfortunate as to have his eye cut with a piece of flying stone some two weeks ago, is improving rapidly and there is some hope that the sight may be saved.

We are indebted to Hon. John Blair Linn for a volume of the Annual of Buffalo Valley, of which interesting work Mr. Linn is the author. Buffalo Valley is one of the most beautiful valleys it has been the pleasure to look upon and its soil is as rich in historical incident as any valley in the state.

One of the most severe thunder storms of the season visited this section of the county on Monday afternoon, about 3:30 o'clock. The wind blew a gale and signs, limbs of trees and debris was flying through the streets. The storm lasted only about twenty minutes but did lots of harm in that time. Quite a number of rigs from town and country were in the streets at the time a storm broke and all were thoroughly drenched.

We have been informed that A. C. Moyer & Bro. will start a grocery store in one of Brockerhoff's rooms on Bishop street as soon as they can get the room in shape for occupancy. The Democratic State convention elected Hon. Jno. H. Orvis and Asbury Lee delegates to St. Louis from this district. No better selection could have been made. T. Reynolds has become the owner of one of the finest grand pianos in town. D. W. Woodring is temporarily located in the office of the late James McManus.

The puddlers at the Bellefonte Iron and Nail Company works, after a strike of six weeks' duration, went to work Tuesday morning. The millers and others who have been in enforced idleness during the strike as well as the puddlers may congratulate themselves on the settlement of the difficulty. The strike was a failure as most strikes are, and the men and the company have lost valuable time and considerable money. Business in all branches in town was more or less affected by the suspension of work.

On Saturday morning a picnic party composed of Neff Weaver, Mr. Lee, Charles Wetzel, Louis Wetzel, Charles Garas, Sine Hoy, Jacob Fishburn, Mart Keller, J. B. Kunz, Maggie Purey, Ida and Sue Koch, Minnie and Emma Hoy, Katie and Emma Miller, Alka Keller and Emma Henderson, most of them residing in the Axemann vicinity, went to Penn's Cave, although the day was not what it might have been. They made the return trip over the mountain that night with rain streaming into their carriages.

Once in a while comes a "natural" like this! Pontiac's the Answer! EVERY DECADE or so, some manufacturer produces a "natural"—a feature so good that all others adopt it, because the public just won't do without it. Safety Shift is such a feature, as next year's cars will prove. So why penalize yourself in resale value—why deprive yourself of driving thrills right now? Get a Pontiac with Safety Shift and get everything you want at a price you can easily pay. Incidentally, the big, eye-stopping Pontiac's the answer for economy, too—owners say "18 to 24 miles per gallon!" ONLY LOW-PRICED
