

Span of Oxen Still Doing Work

(Continued from page one) One evening at dusk we went to the big laurel spring and hearing the branches crack in a tree we looked up and saw a monster long-tailed feline leap from one tree to another almost above our heads, on his tree path' as old man Ramsey and others brought up among panthers called it, but we lost no time in getting back to camp.

"Fox hunting was popular in Haveric Valley among the 'younger generation.' One of the best packs of fox hounds, headed by Prince, a noble black and tan 'American' hound, kept by Chester and Ralph Smith, sons of Albert M. Smith, the well-known dairyman, farmer and livestock expert of Turkey Valley. In the winter of 1935-36 the boys captured seventeen foxes, mostly greys, while in 1936-37 they secured six, mostly greys, all on Brush Mountain.

"Last winter they hunted very little, as one of the boys was ill, but ran down two foxes. At the Smith farm is kept King, one of the largest, handsomest and most docile Belgian stallions in Blair county, a chocolate brown with a white face. He is equally useful as a work horse and stock horse. The Smith farm of 289 acres has one of the best herds of Guernsey cattle and blooded sheep in the county.

"It was a pity when the 'Beaver Dams' were timbered off," said Chester Smith, "especially as the trees were 'butchered' in such a wasteful manner. One big oak, as thick through as a man is tall, lies in the woods rotting because it is too big to be moved. The ruffed grouse is about gone in the Beaver Dams but there some wild turkeys, a few coons, many deer and foxes. The grey fox is not much of a sporting animal as it darts up too quickly but the red always gives the hounds a good chase. The wild cats have all been trapped out and it is many years since the last bear was secured on Brush Mountain."

Driver of Death Car Held for Court

(Continued from page one) The flat, occurred on the other side of the bridge. Felix then said that he jumped in the car taking his brother-in-law, Frank Morarity, and leaving John there, at the community grounds, proceeded back to see if he could tell what had been hit.

A group of fellows along the road where the accident occurred told them some one had been hit and the pair proceeded to the hospital. At the conclusion of the inquest the jury, composed of the following six members: Warren Townsend, foreman; Charles Wood, Melvin Curtis, Muri Martin, B. C. Ehrhard and B. F. Williams, rendered the following verdict:

"Death came to the said deceased as the result of injuries sustained by being struck by an automobile Sunday, May 15, 1938, at 12:10 a. m. in North Phillipsburg, Rush Township, Centre county, Pennsylvania. Death resulting from said injuries at the Phillipsburg State Hospital Wednesday, May 18th 1938 at 3:45 p. m.

"We, the jurors, find the driver of said car guilty of contributory negligence in operation of said car. Andrew Gordish suffered a broken neck, fractured skull, brain concussion, and compound fracture of the right leg in the accident. He remained unconscious for most of the time following the accident until his death four days later. John Rice, the defendant, at a hearing Monday, before the death of Gordish, was charged with two violations of the motor vehicle code, failure to stop and render assistance, and failure to identify himself, and placed under $400 bail on each charge.

HOWARD I. O. O. F. TO HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES, SUNDAY

Liek Run Lodge, No. 311, I. O. O. F. of Howard, will hold their annual Memorial services Sunday evening, May 29 at 7:30 in the Evangelical church at Howard.

Court Refuses To Interfere

(Continued from page one) charged following company refusal to recognize the union; and to offer reinstatement to employees who struck in May, 1935.

The Black Diamond Steamship decision, issued July 21, 1937, ordered the company to cease efforts to "interfere" with self-organization of workers and to offer reinstatement and back pay to thirty-five strikers. Circuit Court of Appeals had upheld the Board in all three cases. The high court's position in the Remington-Rand case prompted Arthur O. Wharton, president of the International Association of Machinists, to say he hoped the refusal marked the "last of the Mohawks."

He referred to the so-called "Mohawk Valley formula" for opposing industrial strikes through "back to work" movements and citizens committees. The Labor Board reported the formula had been used in the Remington-Rand strike.

Wharton said in a statement that the decisions of the Board and the courts in the Remington-Rand case "have written an interesting chapter in the annals of labor justice, condemning union busting tactics such as the Mohawk Valley formula."

SPRING MILLS

Since the town improvement committee got busy, first reactions in the Beautiful Spring Mills campaign are strong in their stimulus of enthusiasm and example. There are indications that the campaign is moving along in the right direction. As a community enterprise intended to make Spring Mills a brighter and better town it is entitled to the whole-hearted co-operation of every man and woman. While the drive will continue throughout the summer, it should not be permitted to lag at the start or anytime. As through the tide of tourist travel many thousands of strangers will be drawn through this part of Pennsylvania to view its scenic attractions, such as Penn's Cave and numerous historic spots. And a year hence thousands of others coming from all states in the Union and from other countries to attend the World's Fair in New York City, will tour this section. As H. A. Corman, president of the Spring Mills Improvement Club, urges that Spring Mills must put its best foot forward to sustain its enviable reputation as a "town beautiful." As Mr. C. E. Noyes, of Williamsport, related in his address at the Civic Club meeting, that co-operation will accomplish wonders.

Miss Geraldine Brungard from Williamsport, is at present visiting her mother, Mrs. LuLu Brungard. Bright Bitner and R. E. Henry made a business trip to Lewistown last Wednesday.

Carl Bressler is sporting a new car. Mrs. Bright Bitner returned from an extended visit to Philadelphia. The entertainment given in the Municipal building on Wednesday evening by Jim and Jane, radio stars, was largely attended and was a decided success. The entertainment was sponsored by the Baseball Club.

Miss William H. Smith has been on the sick list for several days. Messrs. Lester Condo and Roy Bartley made a business trip to Philadelphia last Thursday. Constable James Zerby transacted business at the County Seat on Monday.

Mr. Charles F. Bariges who is located at Cumberland, Md., spent last Sunday at his parental home. Mr. O. T. Corman, who has been on the sick list for several months, has recovered some and is now able to be out some.

Robert Kennelley was taken to the Centre County Hospital for treatment and observation. He returned home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lums, of Milesburg, and Charles Burrill, of Gregg Township, were visiting at the Anna Bell Hettinger home last Sunday.

Miss Pearl Langie, of Millheim, spent last Sunday with her friend, Miss Rosella Hettinger.

AUTO RACING ON SPORTS MENU AT LEWISTOWN

Flying the banner of the contest board of the American Automobile Association and sponsored by Hankinson Speedways, automobile racing will be featured on the sports menu in Lewistown on Memorial Day, Monday, May 30, when more than a score of the nation's best dirt track drivers will compete in a six event, 199 lap program on the fair grounds track.

Never has there been a greater field of daredevil knights of the throttle assembled for a speed classic as Hankinson has listed for the first spring meet at Lewistown, according to Joe Dawson of Philadelphia. AAA zone supervisor and former American Speedway champion in modern speed juggernauts that are valued at thousands of dollars will be such stellar performers as Bobbie Sall of Paterson, N. J., Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick, Tony Willman of Milwaukee, Tommy Hinnerhaus of Reading, Frank Moore of Silver Springs, Md., Eddie Skinner of Takoma Park, Md., Chuck Tabor of Orange, N. J., Mike Bailey of New Brunswick, Doc Keim of Allentown, Al Cusick, Tommie Tomlinson, Bill Fox, Walt Buckman, Frank Reynolds and Charlie Breslin of Philadelphia, Bill Meinke of York, Bert Ross of Trenton, the Tadlock brothers of Norfolk, Gus Zarka of Doylestown and more than a dozen others who have been reliable campaigners on the big time circuits for several years.

Where Fish Really Climb Ladders

"The fish that have appeared have passed with no difficulty and no evident delay in finding the fishway entrances."

In case the ladders should not work for some of the more timid salmon, the dam also has a system of fish elevators. They work much like the locks at the Panama canal.

The fish swim into water at the bottom of a shaft and when there are enough "passengers" a gate closes behind them. Water then flows into the shaft until it reaches the level of the water behind the dam, when a gate is opened and the fish are supposed to swim out.

And they do. A rising wooden booster, gently toward the reservoir, slowly eases out of the shaft and the water is then lowered for the next load.

Report Only One Accident Damage estimated at about $60 resulted from the only accident reported during the week-end to the State Motor Police at Pleasant Gap. The mishap occurred at a blind intersection at Oak Hill Saturday night when cars driven by Leroy H. Klinger, of near State College, and Henry Dinkle, of Boalsburg, collided. No one was injured.

SEASON TO OPEN AT LAKEMONT PARK THEATRE

The theatre at Lakemont Park, Altoona, will open for the summer season on Monday, May 30 with a well known Dramatic Stock company. The Manhattan Players Guild presents the Miller Players Dramatic Stock company in a series of last popular Broadway stage plays.

The opening attraction for Memorial Day evening and the entire week of May 30th will be Gertrude Tokongy's great American play "Three Cornered Moon." Miss Gertrude Tokongy looked deeply into life when she wrote "Three Cornered Moon" and the plaudits of the audiences have testified that she saw truly and wrote magnificently.

There are some plays that entertain us but which leaves us with the feeling that they could not really happen—that they are concocted for our pleasure and have no basis of reality. But "Three Cornered Moon" makes us feel that it not only could happen but is happening every day in the year. To miss "Three Cornered Moon" will be to miss one of the best stage plays you have ever seen.

Lakemont Park Theatre has been completely renovated and redecorated into one of the finest outdoor park theatres in the country. The Miller Players will offer a new stage play each week starting Monday, May 30, and there will be a season of 14 weeks of Dramatic Stock stage attractions at Lakemont Park Theatre, which is good news for all playgoers in Central Pennsylvania. The entire cast of Miller players is composed of superlative Broadway stage players, which assures real presentation of plays for the season. The Lakemont Park Theatre management announces that the attraction for the week of June 4 will be "Yes, My Darling Daughter."

TO OPEN PUBLIC SALES PLACE AT CENTRE HALL

The Sheffield milk plant located near the Centre Hall railroad station, recently purchased by Sidney Risley, is now being improved with a view of establishing a permanent place for holding sales of personal property of all description.

The interior of the large structure will be rearranged to accommodate horses, cattle, sheep, and swine, and also farm implements, machinery, and all kinds of other personal property. Seats for customers, elevated to give a perfect view, also will be provided.

The location and surroundings are ideal. There is ample water and electricity available. The idea, it is understood, is to develop a community sales place such as are becoming popular in many localities less favorably situated.
