PHILIPSBURG MAN LEARNS HE'S NOT U. S. CITIZEN. George H. Lupton, aged 66, of Philipsburg, who has been voting and paying taxes there for many years, learned recently that he is not a citizen of the United States of America. The discovery was quite a shock to him, for when he arrived in Philipsburg from England with his father 52 years ago, the elder Mr. Lupton became a U. S. citizen and it was understood his under-aged children automatically became citizens. Last fall when he went to vote, Mr. Lupton learned that he'd have to take out papers in his own right. "I could have done it years ago, but didn't think it was necessary," he commented. Last week he took steps to begin the naturalization process which will require two years to complete.

44-Hour Week Unconstitutional

which permeates our State and Federal Constitutions alike. Justice Drew said in today's decision. "Regardless of exigencies which at times arise or how trying our economic or social conditions become, the power and duties imposed by the Constitution upon the legislative branch of our Government remain steadfast and neither the urgency of the necessity to hand nor the gravity of the situation allow the Legislature to abdicate, transfer or delegate its authority or duty to another branch of the Government."

MUST BE LIMITED. The opinion said that the Legislature may leave to administrative officers the determination whether the facts exist to which the law is itself restricted, but in all such cases the Legislature must surround such authority with definite limitations.

Justice Drew also wrote that the act attempted to "hand over to Federal authority—whether Congress executive commission, or other agency not yet appearing—plenary powers of a legislative nature working hours in Pennsylvania."

Of the section which provided that any changes made in the schedule of hours "shall conform to the schedule established by any Federal regulatory body," the Court said: "There is no escape from the conclusion that this language is mandatory. The result would be, if the proviso is effective, that whenever a Federal regulatory body establishes a schedule of hours for any industry, the Department of Labor and Industry is bound to adopt such schedule of hours for that industry. This would, of course, introduce an equality in the requirement for hours of labor in Pennsylvania."

"There is no pretense that the Federal schedule will be limited by any standard. A more sweeping abdication of power and duty would be difficult to imagine."

LIQUOR TAX DECISION LOST. The Commonwealth lost in the Supreme Court Friday its tax of 42 a gallon on liquor stored in Pennsylvania when national prohibition was repealed.

The high court declared the law by virtually confiscating property, violated the State and Federal Constitution. About ten million dollars assessed against distilleries was at stake but much of it had not been collected. In its decision the Supreme Court made no reference to recovery of money already paid into the State Treasury.

Passed during the last administration of Gifford Pinchot, the money was to have been used for relief.

The decision was in the cases of Overholt and Company and Joseph S. Finch and Company.

OIL PROBE RULED OUT. The creation of a commission to investigate Pennsylvania's lubricating oil and gasoline business was ruled unconstitutional Friday by the Supreme Court.

The opinion, written by Justice George W. Moxey, sustained the Dauphin County court, which last April 20 held that a joint legislative resolution was the wrong way to legalize such a commission and retained State fiscal officers from approving or paying expenses of the five men board.

The commission, headed by Judge Ralph H. Smith, of Pittsburgh, was created by the 1937 Legislature and given a $50,000 appropriation. Hearings were held in several localities. William T. Litke of the firm of Fleming and Litke, Bellefonte, is attorney for the Commission, and Sen. E. Thompson, of Philadelphia, is a member of the investigating body.

George W. Scudder, Philadelphia oil man, and the Heine Motors Company, attacked the legislation in separate suits and won in the lower court.

The State appealed the Dauphin County ruling.

Justice Moxey's opinion held that the Constitution requires that any appropriations must be approved by bill and added: "This joint resolution was not a bill and its adoption by the Legislature and approval by the Governor did not make it a law."

The Court said it was unnecessary to discuss other invalidities alleged.

WOODWARD

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moxz and daughter, Joan, of Buffalo, N. Y., were weekend visitors at the E. W. Moxz home.

Miss Bessie Plank in company with her brother, Howard Plank and his children, June, and Junior were comfortably entertained over the weekend at the home of Mr. Plank's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kreamer. Junior will continue his visit for a few weeks while his sister Gladys, who had spent several weeks at the Kreamer home returned with her father to her home in Camp Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kitzer of Pottsville, Pa., spent their Fourth of July vacation at the home of his sister, Carrie Fultz. While here Mr. Kitzer and his sister made a trip to Nittany Valley to visit their brother, Samuel Kitzer a short visit.

The members of the East Centre County Junior Band of this locality joined the remainder of the organization at Millheim and there journeyed to Williamsport where they formed a part of the large parade on Monday. A second division of the above named band and directed by Jacob Barjes, a brother of Prof. Paul Barjes formed a part of the parade at the Sequi-Centennial at Millheim also on Monday. Harold Ard took the first division of the East Centre County Junior Band by School Bus to Williamsport on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Orndorf were arrivals in town early on last Saturday morning to spend their Fourth of July vacation with their son Paul, in their summer home.

Robert and William Boyle of Long Island, N. Y., will spend a week's vacation at the E. P. Orndorf home. They arrived in town last Saturday. Quite a number of folks from a distance were entertained at the J. B. Ard home over the weekend.

A number of folks in town heard the program from Gettysburg where President Roosevelt dedicated a new monument that day.

The Hairy John's Park was crowded with cars along route 45 from the Woodward Gun Club eastward to the foot of the mountain along said route, Sunday afternoon, in order to listen to a program put on by Jimmie and Janie of Williamsport radio fans. Not for quite a while did we see such heavy traffic on this route as on Sunday. It certainly does seem the people of our country do try their level best to disobey God's holy day. Fire crackers had to be put off on Sunday too, and that right here in town. It only goes to show what kind of training is given by some parents in their respective homes. Now understand, we didn't say all homes, but the trouble in innocent ones are usually drawn in the net.

PLEASANT VALLEY

Miss LeVera Ennhizer who has been on the sick list for sometime is now good as this writing. But we wish her a speedy recovery.
