He returned from the hospital last Tuesday, and on Friday went back for the first of a series of follow-up examinations he will have to undergo for a time. Although the bandages have been removed, Mr. Grove is able only to distinguish light and dark with the eye, but full vision is expected to return as soon as he has completely recovered from a severe cold he contracted early last week. Until then he is spending most of his time at home.

H. S. LINN INTERESTED IN OLD BENNER HOME
Henry S. Linn, of North Allegheny Street, in a letter to the editor of The Philadelphia Inquirer, published last Wednesday, again calls attention to the ravages of time and vandalism to the old Benner homestead along Spring Creek, and asks whether the State can do anything to preserve the historic landmark.
Mr. Linn's letter to the editor is reprinted herewith:
'To the Editor of The Inquirer:
'Last autumn when hunters were in the old mansion house of General Philip Benner at Rock Iron Works, Centre County, the roof look fire and was burned. The stone walls, big timbers and part of the spiral staircase are still in good condition.
'Call at our store and cool off in front of a Westinghouse Fan. DeHaas Electric Co., Bellefonte, Pa.
