

Former Resident Turns the Pages

"My interest as shown here comes from gratitude. I had a cow-lick in front, so Beck parted by hair on the right side and reached it—no more touled hair. And now, close to 70 (very close) my dome is thatched with hair of different color than at the time Beck helped and advised me.

"I left Bellefonte in the spring of 1884. I know the world in general, the U. S. particularly well. But you are living in a town with a fine history. Men and women of finest fibre, names as old as the oldest, came from there—Curtin, Blanchard, Hoy, Burnside, Cook, Rankin—say, I could write many, many more names of those real folk who helped no little to make this nation the world's best to live in.

"And R. A. Beck, eccentric, admittedly so; but always a friendly man and usually laughing. A barber, sure—a man in his prime who gave good service when he had a trade, and a good family man. Peace be with him.

"Quin Mills was another good barber, whose father taught him the trade. Bet Quin is proud of the musical Mills Brothers of Ohio. But Brack Powell could beat Quin at marbles.

"I'd like to meet Colonel Shoemaker of Altoona. I like what he writes for you. Ever hear of Dabbie McNeil? Col. Robt. McFarlane, Dr. Geo. F. Harris, Dr. Dorworth, Dr. R. L. Dart, George Gress and his coon-hunting hounds, Jim Deer, a good bill poster?

"Bet you never purchased at Guggenheims; ate at Anderson's of Blackford's; Joe Coeley and Sam Dawson made good ice cream. Ever buy a smoke at Blind Charley Rine's? I was taught the letters of the alphabet from the sign of F. Potts Green Pharmacy, and Sechler's Grocery in the early 70's.

"I like Bellefonte, and a good memory is fun. David M. Lieb, Cal Meyer, Bella Rankin, Sallie A. Meek (an aunt of Peter's—maybe her postmaster now), sister of P. Gray Meek, were educators. James P. Hughes of the Academy, with his genial smile and long white beard, is another pleasant memory. He purchased "Putty" Harris in his time for nothing more than chesnut "Checker Board" during school hours. The Rev. J. P. thought we were too young, and he was right—I quit.

"I wonder if there's still a curb marker in front of the Court House on Saturday. I like to see the Fishermen's Paradise. We think there is much to look at here in California. I often see Pennsylvania license on cars. I stop them and talk to them, and frequently they are astonished at my knowledge of their home State. I've been in sixty-five of the counties off and on, and more than once. Doubt if I will ever return, as the old "Capt." has arranged for a military funeral at the Presidio. I'll rest one-eight of a mile from the water and right at the Golden Gate.

"This letter has been fun. Read it and then consign it to the waste basket. But go easy on the old timers who were just folks; no matter their ideas so long as they were not harmful. I have no relatives in Centre County, so if you want to take a poke at me go ahead—you'll not lose any subscribers by doing so.

"Come with its 7 hills—Bellefonte with 11. (I'm a former Bunker Hillite). Add that to your grand water, with the Paradise or Fishermen, and let your Chamber of Commerce tell the world. You have a job here to sell the world about Hecla Park. But the growth of your population doesn't show, to me, sales. You have quality—you need quantity. Well, that's not my problem—with a newspaper, it's yours.

"I like Bellefonte, but I live, vote and will be buried in San Francisco. "With best wishes.

"CAPT."

Grand Jury Scores Jail As Unfit

Mills; Edith Meyer, State College; Dorothy Nicodemus, Port Matilda; May M. Runkle, State College, and Bernice R. Smith, Spring Mills.

The full report of the Grand Jury in regard to the inspection of County property follows:

"We have visited and inspected the County buildings and find that the jail building is in good condition with the exception of the roof which should be repaired or a new roof installed. The cornice around the entire building should be repaired and painted and the porch and walk on the south side of the building is in very bad condition. We recommend a new porch and walk, also two new screen doors on the front of the building and one on the south side; two new swivel chairs in the Sheriff's office are needed; toilets should be replaced and kept clean.

"The members of the Grand Jury realize that finances are a deterrent to the building of a new jail. Neither is it our intent to suggest luxuries for County prisoners, but as so many of our Grand Jurors have done before, we wish to go on record as reporting that the Centre County jail is outmoded, outdated, and not properly fitted to be used as a house of detention for prisoners. The atmosphere is extremely bad. We recommend that the jail be landscaped, which can be done without expense to the county.

"The Court House we find in very good condition, especially on the outside. New lighting in the Prothonotary's office and the Judge's chambers should be installed throughout the building.

"We recommend that new comfortable chairs and ventilating fan be installed in the Grand Jury room.

"Further, the screen door in the Judge's chambers should be rescreened and a new latch and door-pull be installed on same.

"Finally, we, the Grand Jury, wish to thank the Court and attendants for their courtesies shown us, and wish the Court and District Attorney a successful term of office."

NINE BILLS NOT TRUE

Of the nine not true bills found by the Grand Jury, the costs in five of them were placed upon the individual prisoners. In the other three the costs were placed on the county.

The not true bills follow: In two counts against Joseph Cowher, of Sandy Ridge, charging assault and battery, the costs were placed on the prosecutors, Mat Renwick and Raymond Foreman. In a counter suit in which Raymond Foreman of Sandy Ridge, was charged with assault and battery, the costs were placed on the prosecutor, Joseph Cowher.

When the Grand Jury returned a not true bill against G. M. Gamble, on a charge of assault and battery, they placed the costs on the prosecutor, Blair Markle.

The prosecutor is directed to pay the costs in the case of Andy Domick, of Oescola Mills, charged with malicious mischief.

The county is to pay the costs in the following not true bills: Mrs. Margaret Moore, State College, obstructing legal process; John Rice, Philipsburg, involuntary manslaughter; and Clyde Peden, Spring Mills, violation of vehicle code.

JURY RETURNS 22 TRUE BILLS

Following is a list of true bills found by the Jury: Sterling Snyder, Millheim, F. & B. Joe Toner, Bellefonte, A. & B. Allen Quick, Moshannon, A. & B. Hugh Butler, Howard, A. & B. Harry Toner, Bellefonte, forgery. H. M. Spengler, Johnstown, fraudulent conversion (3 indictments).

John Rice, Philipsburg, hit-run driving. Blair M. Mann, Howard, hit-run driving.

Clyde Corman, State College, drunken driving. E. R. Nale, State College, drunken driving. Ruth E. Carson, Philadelphia, V. V. C.

men and women and travel editors at various times during the past year.

The Chamber, with its full time secretary, Karl E. Kusse, has sponsored numerous sales days for merchants of Bellefonte and vicinity, such as the Lucky Days. Sale this week-end, in an effort to increase the volume of retail sales in the community. In view of the present economic conditions, these efforts have proved successful.

Since the silk mill in Bellefonte shut down, throwing more than 100 employes out of work, the Chamber has worked hard in compiling and interviewing a list of prospects who might take over the plant and resume operations.

In addition to these activities the Chamber has assisted in every project for the benefit of the community, such as the annual welfare drive this year during which Secretary Kusse devoted most of his time to work in connection with the drive, saving the Welfare Fund $500.

Judge Walker Disposes of Guilty Pleas

her way home Davis followed her and asked to be permitted to carry her package. She refused and when Davis continued walking with her she turned around to return to the business area of town. At an alley, she said, Davis pulled her into a barn and there assaulted her, attempting to commit rape. Two Millheim men, hearing the scuffle in the barn, rescued her, she added.

When asked by the Court if he had anything to say, Davis replied in the negative. Judge Walker then announced that sentence will not be passed until after the youth undergo an examination. He will remain in jail until after the examination has been completed.

W. W. Bickett, of Bellefonte, charged with failure to stop after a car he was driving was involved in an accident in Snow Shoe late on the night of June 12, was sentenced to the costs of prosecution and a fine of $50.

According to State Motor Police officer R. E. Bailey, the prosecutor in the case, a car which Bickett later was learned to have been driving, collided with a machine owned by Wilson W. Thomas, of Snow Shoe. The Biggs drove on the patrolman stated, but in the collision one of the license tags was torn from the machine and was found at the scene of the crash.

The license was found to have been the property of the Smith Motor Company, State College, and further investigation revealed that the tags were in the custody of Mr. Bickett, the owner of that company. The patrolman added that the damaged car was found in the S. H. Poorman garage, South Water Street, Bellefonte, and that Bickett had stored it there about 6 a. m. the morning after the crash.

On his own behalf Mr. Bickett stated that the accident happened in a heavy rainstorm and that he thought the crash was of minor consequence and didn't bother to stop. He added that he has paid Mr. Wilson for damages to his car.

A plea that he robbed an intoxicated relative of $30 to save him from being robbed by three men who failed to flee a Spring Mills man of responsibility, Monday morning. The defendant was Russell Lingle, who pleaded guilty to a charge of taking $30 in cash from the pocket of Robert Lingle, also of Spring Mills, while the latter man slept in his car in Spring Mills Saturday night. August 12.

Lingle claimed his victim, a second cousin of his father's, was intoxicated and asleep. He said he was afraid someone would "roll" him for his money, so he took it. He claimed he gave it back—but it was shown the money wasn't returned until Lingle was arrested. Consequently he was sentenced to pay the costs and serve 30 days in the County jail.

Robert Shurt, of near Bellefonte, entered a plea of guilty to driving a car while under the influence of alcohol, and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and serve 30 days in the County jail.

Sheriff Harry V. Keefer, in a statement to the Court, said he was driving to Howard on August 20, when, upon nearing the McCoy dam north of Bellefonte, he found a string of ten or twelve cars halted on the road. He drove along the berm to the front of the line and found Shurt creaking his car. He got the car going and the car began to move when it stalled again. Keefer said Shurt's actions indicated he was intoxicated, and the Sheriff notified the State Motor Police, in Bellefonte, answered the call arrested Shurt and had him examined in the office of a physician, who pronounced him intoxicated.

Howard Franz, aged 19, Paul Shrimmel, 18, and Paul McMonigal, 22, all of West Decatur, Clearfield County, pleading guilty to the theft of bread, cakes, and rolls valued at $4.75 from a Hagerty Baking Co. truck at Philipsburg, August 21, were placed on probation and upon making good the value of the stolen goods. Further sentence was suspended.

None of the men had ever been in criminal trouble before.

Andy Levonick and Andy Kiskin, of the Philipsburg area, appeared in court on pleas of guilty to charges of stealing copper wire, valued at about $150, from a property owned by John Dugan, of Rush township. The theft happened on June 24.

According to a report made by Ralph F. Means, of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, he was investigating a robbery of mine wire in Cooper township, Clearfield county, when he located five bales of copper wire in a Cresson junk yard. He traced the wire to an Altoona junk dealer, and there obtained the name of Levonick, who was arrested. He implicated Kiskin in the Rush township theft, which was not connected with the robbery the officer was originally investigating.

It was the first offense for both men, and they were placed under probation for 3 years, upon payment of the costs and making restitution of the value of the wire. They had already paid $50 on the restitution account, it was reported in court.

The animal crossed the highway in front of their automobile, they said, bounded up an embankment, turned and snarled and then disappeared in the woods. They said it was about five feet long.
