RUNS FOR 300 YEARS A big grandfather clock made at Ballinacorney, Ireland, more than 300 years ago, was buried several times during warfare brewed in Erin. Each time it was dug up and ran smoothly afterward. Finally, in 1763, it was brought to America. It passed from one generation to another until now it is owned by Mrs. D. J. Browning, 82-year-old Lakeland, Pa., woman. The clock still keeps good time and records the days of the month as well as the hours and minutes. It runs by old-fashioned weights and has to be wound only once a week.
