U. S. Marine Band To Play Concert Here

Identated band will march to the Community park where Captain Taylor Branson, leader of the Marine Band, will conduct them in the popular march, "Under the Double Eagle," as the first number of the concert.

Captain Branson will be introduced to the audience by Judge Fleming. The band carries its own public address and amplifying systems for outdoor concerts.

Another unique feature of the evening program will be the appearance of D. A. Holter, Jr., as clarinet soloist. Mr. Holter will play "Somnambula." The band carries eight soloists, and most of them are expected to be heard during the evening.

Two request numbers have been received, and Captain Branson has indicated that they will be played. The numbers are: "Blue Danube," and "Liebestraum." It is expected that additional request numbers will be received as the time for the concert draws nearer.

The band will remain at the Penn Belle Hotel overnight, and early Sunday morning will go to Wheeling, West Virginia, the next stop on the present tour. They come here from White Plains, N. Y.

Tickets for the two concerts in Centre county are being sold at $1 each by members of the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, State College, and the Bellefonte High School Band, and by organizations which receive a small commission for each ticket sold.

The usual program of the Marine Band is of about two hours' duration, but the band is generous with its enclosures, and the length of the concert depends greatly upon the crowd's reception of the program.

Following is a review of the program to be given in Bellefonte, Saturday evening.

1. "Coronation Scene and Love Music" from "Boris Godounov"-Modest Petrovich Mousorgsky.
2. Clarinet Solo, "Somnambula." Theme and Variations. Soloist: E. S. Thornton.
3. "Coke Walk" from "Fourth Symphony" -Harold Donald.
4. Cornet Solo, "Showers of Gold"-Herbert Clark. Soloist: Winfred Kemp.
5. "Rhapsody in Rhumba"-David Bennett.
6. Trombone Solo, "Annie Laurie"-Arthur Pryor. Soloist: Robert Tack.
7. Overture, "Anacrem"-Luigi Cherubini.
- Intermission
8. "Prelude" to the Third Act "Loge" -Richard Wagner.
9. Xylophone Solo, "Zigeunerweisen" (Gypsy Airs)-Pablo de Sarasate. Soloist: Charles Owen.
10. Fantasy, "Park Avenue"-Matt Mainek and Frank Signorelli.
11. "Autumn" Bachanale from the Ballet "The Seasons"-Alexander Glazounov.
- "The Star Spangled Banner".

Poets' Corner

YOU DAREN'T QUIT

If you foot your little tooter
And then lay aside your horn,
There's not a soul in six short days
Will know that you are born.

The man who gathers pumpkins
Is the man who plows all day,
And the man who keeps it humming
Is the man who makes it pay.

The man who advertises
With a short and sudden jerk,
Is the man who blames the editor
Because it will not work.

The man who gets the business
Takes a long a steady pull,
And keeps the local paper
From year to year quite full.

He plans his advertising
In a careful, thoughtful way,
And keeps forever at it
Until he makes it pay.

He has faith in the future,
Can withstand a sudden shock,
For like the man in Scripture,
Builds his business on a rock.

TO THE DRIVER

If every one who drives a car
Could lie a month in bed,
With broken bones and stitched-up wounds, or fractures of the head,
And there endure the agonies that many people do,
They'd never need preach safety
any more to me or you.

If every one could stand beside the bed of some close friend,
And hear the doctor say "No hopes" before that fatal end,
And see him there unconscious,
Never knowing what took place,
The laws and rules of traffic, I am sure we'd soon embrace.

If everyone could meet the wife
And children left behind
And step into the darkened home where once the sunlight shined,
And look upon "the vacant chair"
where Daddy used to sit,
I'm sure each reckless driver would be forced to think a bit.

If everyone would realize pedestrians on the street,
Had just as much the right-of-way as those upon the seat,
And train their eyes for children who run recklessly at play,
This steady toll of human lives would drop from day to day.

If everyone would check his car
before he takes a trip,
For worn-out tires, loose steering wheels, and brakes that fail to grip,
And pay attention to his lights
while driving roads at night,
Another score of safety could be chalked up in the flight.

If everyone who drives a car would heed the danger signs,
Placed by the highway engineers
who also marked the lines,
To keep the traffic in the lane
and give it proper space,
The accidents we read about could not have taken place.

And last, if he who takes the wheel
would say a little prayer,
And keep in mind those in the car
depend upon his care,
And make a vow and pledge himself to never take a chance,
The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance.

Civil Docket Is Cleared In Day

resulted from fires caused by sparks from locomotives.

Two other cases were settled after Justice Tolson had heard them had been sworn in. These cases were separate actions instituted by Clara M. Tylben and Grace Shilling against Joseph Gardner, trading and doing business as the Lycoming Ash and Garbage Company.

When two other cases were continued, only one matter remained for trial. In this action James H. Schreck and Maud Schreck brought suit against M. L. Claster & Sons, Inc., for damages resulting in a motor accident near the D. A. Grove farm.

The plaintiffs sought $120.50 for damages to their car, and $50 additional for depreciation of the machine through the accident. The jury in the matter allowed the claim for $120.50, but denied the depreciation claim.

If the Pennsylvania Railroad cases had not been settled it is probable the September Civil Court would have been in session all this week and possibly part of next week, court attaches declared as it was, the session lasted one day.

U. B. Conference Assigns Pastors

J. H. Weaver, returned to Port Matilda.

The Rev. W. B. Tobias was assigned to the Runville charge to succeed the Rev. F. Miller, who was transferred to Middleburg.

With his re-appointment to Bellefonte, the Rev. Mr. Householder enters upon his ninth year of service in the Bellefonte church. During his pastorate the church has taken many strides forward, not only in membership and church activities, but also in additions and improvements to the church property.

At Sunday night's services which concluded the 1938 annual session the Rev. Kenneth T. Barnett, of Puncutsawney, graduate of the Bunketrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, was ordained by the Rev. Grant D. Batdorf, of Harrisburg, bishop of the eastern states of the area.

There is a constant struggle between man and insects for world supremacy. Usually the stages in this war are confined to the food supply, but sometimes millions of human lives are involved. In medieval times cities and towns were decimated by the "Black Plague" the causative disease germs of which are spread by insects. It is believed that as much as one-quarter of the population of Europe was wiped out in some years by the plague, according to the American Petroleum Institute in Rockefeller Center.

There are something more than 2,000,000 kinds of insects in the world, and the total weight of all the insects is estimated to be greater than the weight of all the animal kingdom, including human beings.

In the perennial battle between man and insects, oil is becoming an important weapon. Oil is being extensively used in swamps to prevent the growth of mosquitoes, the base of human happiness in many sections. The larvae of mosquitoes live in water, but need air to breathe. A thin film of oil on the surface of the water prevents their breathing, and they suffocate.

DISEASE OF HORSES CHECKED BY NEW VACCINE

Because of an epidemic of sleeping sickness among livestock this year, some 500,000 horses in the United States and Canada have been immunized by a new vaccine from virus grown in chick embryos. It is reported from the office of the Lederle Laboratories in Rockefeller Center.

During the peak of the epidemic more than 45,000 doses of the chick vaccine were shipped daily from the laboratories to Chicago, San Francisco, Kansas City, Boston, and Minneapolis. The vaccine is shipped in wooden boxes with paper and cord padding.

Chick vaccine, the result of a long series of experiments by doctors of the Lederle Laboratories, is said to have a $10,000 fold higher immunizing value than earlier vaccines.

Merchant Takes Own Life

B. F. Kanisher, 70-year-old Alleghenia merchant, died Thursday in the Bloomsburg Hospital from a bullet wound in his head. An emergency operation was performed in an attempt to stop a cerebral hemorrhage. A daughter, Lucy, said she found her father in a warehouse near their home. A pistol lay nearby.

Howard Couple Wedded 58 Years

of Howard, were united in marriage on September 23, 1880 by the Rev. M. S. Blair, pastor of the Church of Christ. The bride was a daughter of Reuben and Leah Long Lucas of Howard, while Mr. Confer, a native of Beech Creek, was a son of James and Kathryn T. Vexler Confer. Both the bride's and bridegroom's fathers were veterans of the Civil War. Mr. Confer's father having died in an army hospital in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Confer was sent to a soldiers' orphans' school where he received his early education. He then went to Howard where he made his home for some years with the late Dr. L. R. Hensley. For twenty years he served as letter carrier at Howard, and for a long period of time was agent for various newspapers in that community.

Attendants at the wedding 58 years ago were Mrs. Confer's cousins, Miss Nan Lucas, of Howard, who is still living, and Oscar Miles, of Milesburg, now deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Confer were the parents of six daughters, five of whom are still living and one son, namely: Mrs. John Shay, of Renovo; Mrs. D. L. Welsh, Mrs. Joseph DeLong and Miss Effrieda Confer, of Howard and Mrs. D. M. Waite and Ward Confer, of Tyrone. A daughter, Mrs. Harry Randall, of Portland, Maine, passed away in 1917. There are 11 grandchildren.

Mr. Confer observed his 80th birthday on Monday of this week, while his wife is 78 years old. Both are unusually active for their years, and both are in good health. To them on their anniversary go the best wishes of a host of friends throughout the county for many more years of health and happiness together.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Reset Flower Plants

If your lily-of-the-valley plants flowered rather sparsely this year, it may have been due to overcrowding. The plants should be reset in September, a good time for resetting. After digging the old bed, the larger pipes of roots may be reset 2 or 3 inches apart and just under the surface.

Improve Pastures

Fall is the most desirable time for applying lime and phosphate fertilizer to pastures, according to Penn State agronomists. About six months' advantage is gained by this practice. Grasses grow new root systems in the fall and early spring.

Use Clean Litter

Clean eggs and the sanitation of the poultry flock depend upon the use of clean litter in the laying house. Penn State poultrymen recommend a deep bed of dry, broken litter. An additional light covering can be put over the old litter as needed. Straw is the best material to use.

Make Lawn Repairs

Repair and fertilizing of the lawn can be done best at this time if lime is needed. 75 pounds of ground limestone to 1,000 square feet is the normal application. Experiments at the Pennsylvania State College show that a high phosphorus complete fertilizer with at least 60 per cent of the nitrogen in organic form is best.

Transplant Evergreens

Evergreens can be transplanted or set out when the tips of the branches have stopped growing or become mature. Penn State ornamental horticulturists explain:

Plant Cover Crops

Rye is a good cover crop to plant in the home or commercial garden as soon as the vegetables are removed. Rye can be planted in the fall. It is an excellent substitute where rye is not available.

HOW WORD "STRAW" BECAME PART OF IVORD STRAWBERRY

The origin of "straw" in strawberry isn't known for certain. The word is from the Anglo-Saxon "strew." The dictionary suggests that strawberries were probably so named because the runner resemble straws. Another source regards the word "strawberry" referring to the straying habits of the runners in reproducing new plants.

It is customary to cover strawberry beds with straw to keep down the weeds, fertilize the soil and prevent the earth from galling the berries. The circumstance is responsible for the name, according to some authorities. A more picturesque theory holds that the name alludes to the old custom of stringing them on market days for so much a straw.

To Choose Beauty Queen

The freshman beauty queen of the Pennsylvania State College, selected by the Penn State Collegian, student newspaper, will be crowned at the annual Collegian dance, which opens the fall social season on Oct. 7.

Home-Coming Service

The annual Home-Coming services in the Egg Hill Evangelical church will be held on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. R. A. Babcock, pastor of the Rebersburg Evangelical church, will preach the sermon.

At the age of 77 Mrs. J. C. Leske, of Woodruff, S. C., has completed her 350th quilt—a record of 50 bed covers annually for the last seven years. The quilts are of intricate design. Mrs. Leske has given each of her eight children and all of her grandchildren enough to outfit their homes and donated 50 more to charity.

Any person who talks glibly about how easy it is to control habit has never tried to break a bad habit.

State To Pay Medical Bills

retary Arthur W. Howe announced arrangements with physicians and dentists' association representatives which will permit a relief recipient to call on the doctor of his own choice with little or no red tape.

The bill clarifying the responsibility for medical care which was the subject of a number of court disputes after the new assistance program was put into effect was signed last week by Gov. George H. Earle.

The disputes arose after both the state and county commissioners contended no provision of the assistance laws permitted them to provide medical care.

Under the new set-up a relief recipient will go to call the doctor of his choice and merely advise him he is receiving state aid. The physician or dentist in turn will send his bill to the department of assistance and the transaction will clear through county relief offices.

Centre Hall Man Injured in Crash

received a possible fracture of the skull, an injury to one eye, a facial wound and lacerations about the face. His condition is reported as being "fair" at the Centre County Hospital.

Caldwell escaped with a few bruises while his companion Laird Showers, of Bellefonte, received a badly bruised ankle. Neither of them required medical treatment.

The only other mishap reported in this area during the weekend happened at the Nittany Village intersection, near State College, about 8 o'clock Sunday night when a sedan driven by James H. Meas, of West Decatur, and a small truck driven by Warren Calvert, of State College, collided. One of the cars was driving onto the highway from a side road at the time. No one was injured, but damage to the sedan was estimated at $60 and to the truck, $20.

Private S. Calton of the State Motor Police, Pleasant Gap, investigated both accidents.

Radio Waves Used To Hear River

Radio waves were put to a novel use recently when the last rivet in the steel framework of the Radio Corporation of America's exhibit building at the New York World's Fair was heated by radio waves.

The rivet was suspended in a concentrated field of radio waves and, in little more than a minute, it was white-hot.

According to a statement made from the Rockefeller Center offices of the organization, this method may not be looked upon now as a practical application for the construction industry, but at the same time it is indicative of the many potential uses of radio and electronics.

Boys' Arm Almost Severed

His left arm almost severed when struck by an automobile, Herbert Yingling, Jr., 11, of Altoona, was admitted to Altoona hospital in a semi-conscious condition Monday afternoon, being named president.

Other club officers are: James Morrison, Jr., secretary, and Joseph Forster, treasurer. The membership of the board of directors is: Max Wetzel, Aaron Leitell, Hugh M. Quigley, Russell Witmer and Joseph Forster.

Brooks Doll Post went on record as favoring the development of a site at the Phoenix Mill, Bellefonte, as a community playground and swimming pool.

Training School For Potato Inspectors

The third of a series of training schools for potato inspectors will be held at Evan D. Lewis' farm, Westmont, Johnstown, R. D. 5, Cambria county, Wednesday, September 21st, 1938, by the Pennsylvania Co-operative Potato Growers Association.

D. M. James of the Bureau of Markets, will be in charge of instructions and will be assisted by L. T. Denniston of Potato Interests, State Department of Agriculture.

The school is open to the general public and it is hoped that potato growers will attend this school to acquaint themselves with the grades of potatoes and improved market methods.

Members of the school who pass the test, will be qualified to inspect potatoes for any organization, packer, or farm group, desiring such service.

It is expected that this school will attract prospective inspectors, packers and growers from Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Centre, Clearfield, Indiana, Jefferson, Somerset and Westmoreland counties.

Rhinesmith Made Head of Legion

second vice commander. Other officers elected were: adjutant, James Morrison, Jr., Bellefonte; finance officer, Joseph Forster, Bellefonte; chaplain, M. J. Laird Curtin, of Curtin; historian, Francis Crawford, Bellefonte; sergeants-at-arms, Ralph Eyer and John Derstine, both of Bellefonte, and trustees, R. T. Willard, Fred Marshall, and Aaron Leitell, Forster and Crawford were re-elected, having served in the same offices last year.

Installation of officers will be a feature of the next bi-county Legion meeting to be held at Houtzdale on Wednesday, October 19.

Following the Post meeting the organization meeting of the Post club was held with Malcolm Wetzel, of Milesburg, being named president. Other club officers are: James Morrison, Jr., secretary, and Joseph Forster, treasurer. The membership of the board of directors is: Max Wetzel, Aaron Leitell, Hugh M. Quigley, Russell Witmer and Joseph Forster.

Brooks Doll Post went on record as favoring the development of a site at the Phoenix Mill, Bellefonte, as a community playground and swimming pool.
