

Echoes From the Past

TWENTY YEARS AGO

A pen of silver foxes was started by Edward Igen, at Farmers Mills. He was using as foundation stock a pair of fine silver foxes obtained from the northwest.
C. M. Bierly, Rebersburg postmaster, submitted his resignation from that office. The premises he occupied were to be sold privately as soon as possible.
H. P. Kelley, of Snow Shoe, moved into one of the apartments above the Kelley-Won garage, of which he was part owner. Another apartment had been rented to Mr. Deckman, head baker of the City Bakery.
While shooting rats, Grant Royer, 13-year-old son of William Royer, of Altoona, formerly of Millheim, was struck in the jaw by a stray bullet. The injured boy was a nephew of Mrs. H. E. Weaver, of Centre Hill.
Robert McMullen, who had been employed at the station since leaving his position as brakeman on the Central Railroad passenger train, went to Tyrone to accept a post as brakeman on the Bald Eagle Valley branch.
Charles E. Dorworth, editor of "The Republican" was confined to bed because of an attack of influenza. In his absence Burgess Edmund Blanchard was acting as editor, and he was being assisted by the Hon. J. Thomas Mitchell.
Harry Cebhart, brakeman on the dinkey in the "Rabbit Hill" quarry of the American Lime and Stone Co. was almost instantly killed when he fell from the rear of the dinkey which was traveling in reverse, and was ground under the wheels.
Marriage licenses were issued to the following couples: Wilbur T. Morgan, Bellefonte, and Carolyn M. Schindler, Milesburg; James I. Barnes, Pottsville, and Miss Jessy C. Brown, Gettysburg; George I. Bortoff, Lock Haven, and Sarah E. Falls, Beach Creek.
Spanish influenza proved fatal to Harry Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ott, of Bellefonte, who died at South Bethlehem, where he had been undergoing training in telegraphy at Lehigh University in preparation for overseas service. His parents were with him at the time of his death.
The Superintendent of the Bellefonte Hospital expressed thanks to the following Bellefonte women who helped out at the institution during an emergency when a number of student nurses were ill: Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Brouse, Mrs. H. Crider, Miss M. Cook, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. Keller, Miss King, Miss Linn, Miss McCurdy, Miss B. Meek, Mrs. E. Morris, Mrs. Charles Morris, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Sechler, Mrs. Schloss, Mrs. J. Seibert, Miss Stover, and Miss R. Valentine.
Miss Wilma Hassinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Commodore Hassinger, of near Phillipsburg, was found bound and gagged on the front porch of the Dr. W. R. Heaton home at Phillipsburg. Miss Hassinger, who was 17 years old, said she was walking along the road near the Rush township poor farm when two men in a car stopped and forced her inside where they bound and gagged her. She became unconscious, and when she awoke, the man, she said, threw her out. She managed to work her way to the Heaton porch. She was not assaulted by the men, she said.

Sunday School Lesson

OF PARENTS AND CHILDREN. International Sunday School Lesson for November 6th, 1938.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."—Exodus 20:12.
Lesson Text: Exodus 20:12; Luke 2:46-52; John 19:26-27; Ephesians 6:1-4.
If you are a keen observer and sensitive to the moods and trends of modern life, you are already cognizant of the fact that there is something radically wrong with American home life. Contemporary American life seems to contribute to the breaking up of the old-fashioned home. Parents have, for the most part, turned over to the public school the responsibility for the mental training of their children and relinquished to the Sunday School and Church the obligation to mould the character of their children.
This is unfortunate because the home and its influence cannot be replaced by any social agency lacking the same intimate association and close affection which should exist within the family circle. Our national life would probably improve if we could increase the stability and unselfishness of our homes, which should be the controlling influence and impelling inspiration for right living and service in every life.
The family unit has for its supreme purpose the proper training and development of new lives. This involves a series of processes with each individual child, requiring approximately twenty years, and even longer, before the child is adequately prepared to attempt to assume the problems and difficulties of actual life.
The most important element which enters into such training is the emphasis devoted to religious and moral principles. Religion furnishes to the home, as it does to every part of society, the complete answer to the needs of every moment, furnishing the basis, of accepted, for a contented, happy and successful life to everyone.
The basis for a happy, contented home depends upon the relationship which exists between parents and children. The right relationship will only be possible if there is mutual respect one for the other. In the Fifth Commandment, the basis of our study for this week, children are commanded to "honour" their father

Health and Beauty

"I WAS BLIND," NO. 2. People who become blind late in life do not often learn the Braille system of reading. The government sends many of these "talking books." These books are very much on the order of the phonograph. Many poems, stories and novels are recorded. "The American Foundation for the Blind through its various distributing agencies has made it possible for 17,000 blind people in our nation to have a talking book, which is exchanged when read."
Harold Bleakley applied himself with great assiduity to obtaining an education, but somehow he hoped, prayed and believed that he would see again, some day. He could tell when it was light, and that was very precious to him. One day he received a letter from the specialist who cared for him at the time of the accident, inviting him to call at his office. The boy lost no time in accepting the invitation. The doctor thought that he had good news for him. "Harold," said the physician, "for years I have been searching for a man who might possibly give you your sight. It requires a surgeon of the highest skill or you may lose what sight you have. I didn't know whether such a man existed. That is, I didn't know until I went to New York recently. Now I know he does, and I think he can give you your sight."
Harold got the name and address of the surgeon and left the office, out of which he had gone years before, filled with black despair, now buoyant with hope. His father thoroughly investigated the standing of the New York surgeon and found that he rated among the best in the world. In February Harold was taken to see the great doctor, who said that he believed he could give him up to 90 per cent of his sight.
The blind boy was so impressed with the confident, quiet manner of the doctor, that he decided to place

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa: I am a girl fourteen years old. My mother won't let me date. She thinks I am too young. I go to my friend's house and a boy 18 years old comes to see me.
My mother has found that I go there and date and she won't let me go there anymore. What do you think I should do?
BROWN EYES.
Alabama.
So my advice to your mother is to let your dates come to see you in your own home. And my advice to you is to go with boys nearer your age.
Have a talk with your mother and get her to read this letter. Try to make her realize that association with the other sex is only normal with girls and boys and that she is doing you real harm by refusing you this harmless companionship.
Yours, LOUISA.
In the same envelope with the above letter was one from a girl signed "Worried."
You said in your letter, "Worried," that the boy had asked you to take a trip last year just for a day, but that he hasn't paid you any attention since. You did not make it clear whether you went on the trip or not. The way you acted on the trip or your refusal to go could have caused him to stop his attentions. On the other hand he may not have cared particularly for you at the time, but just wanted a nice girl to go along.
I would not take him so seriously if I were you. If he cares for you he will let you know it, but don't run after him or it will scare him off for all time.
LOUISA.
Answers to Modern Etiquette
1. Never. If a bride does not consider the gifts, and the thoughtfulness expressed, worth her time and effort to write personal notes of appreciation, it seems a shame that the donors devoted any time and money to her.
2. Yes. An experienced hostess will notice which guests are a little slow in eating, and will so manage her "bites" that she will keep eating as long as her guests.
3. She mails the letter of introduction, whether it is addressed to a man or a woman.
4. No; it is not only poor taste, but one often regrets doing so. One should be very cautious about discussing intimate or personal affairs even with close friends.
5. Yes; whispering and giggling have no place in good society. Anything that shows a lack of courtesy toward others is rude.
6. If the affair is an evening dance, she should wear an evening gown; at a tea, an afternoon frock is suitable.
7. Walk on a few steps and wait for your friend.
8. He should telegraph his host and hostess immediately, and stating that he will arrive on the next train.
9. No; if the hostess has a butler, he announces each guest's name, but a waitress does not announce names.
10. The usual custom is to wear the wedding ring first with the engagement ring above it.
11. Not unless the girl has become ill, or for other reasons requires assistance.
12. They are given in honor of new neighbors, engaged couples, or to "warm" a new house; and usually for a house-guest from another city.
A long, long talk is sometimes followed by a long, long silence and they might mean the same thing.
Advice to Important People: Read about the lives and achievements of those who lived before you.

Answers to Modern Etiquette

HOW DO YOU DO IT? There is one best oven temperature for "setting" pie crust. Do you know it?
LOOK IN THESE BAGS FOR NEW IMPROVED PASTRY METHOD—PLUS A FLOUR THAT GUARANTEES THE FINEST PIE CRUST YOU EVER TASTED!
In simple foods—bread, biscuits, pies, plain cakes—the goodness all comes from flour! It costs only 1/4c more per recipe to use Pillsbury's Best Flour than to use the cheapest flour.
PILLSBURY'S BEST FLOUR
Classified ads are thirty.

Modern Etiquette

- 1. When a great many wedding gifts have been received, wouldn't it be all right to send engraved cards of thanks?
2. Should a hostess keep eating as long as her guests do?
3. How should a woman present a letter of introduction?
4. Is it good taste to discuss intimate or personal affairs with acquaintances?
5. Is it rude to whisper?
6. What should a girl's mother wear at the daughter's coming-out party?
7. When talking with a friend and this friend stops to talk for a minute with an acquaintance that you do not know, what should you do?
8. What should a guest do when he misses the train which he was supposed to take, to attend a house party?
9. Is it proper for a waitress to announce the guests as they arrive at a luncheon party?
10. Which ring should be placed on the finger first, the wedding ring or the engagement ring?
11. Should a man take a girl's arm when he walks across the dance floor?
12. When are afternoon teas without dancing given?
Answers at bottom of column.

Weekly English Lesson

Words Often Misused. Do not say, "I have every confidence in his integrity." Say, "I have complete (or implicit) confidence in his integrity."
Do not say, "I am not sure as that will help." Say, "I am not sure whether that will help."
Do not say, "If I were him." Say, "If I were he."
It is a possessive pronoun. It's a contraction of it is. Write, "This country and its population are the things which it's necessary to consider."
Do not say, "It is better than a week since I talked with him." Say, "It is more than a week."
Raise is a transitive verb and takes an object; rise is an intransitive verb and does not. "The sun rises in the east."
Words Often Mispronounced. Radiator. Pronounce first a as in ray, not as in add.
Falcon. Pronounce fal-kun, or fakun, a as in all.
Galaxy. Pronounce gal-ak-si, both a's as in at, second a unstressed.
On. Pronounce the o as in of, not as in or.
Hydraulic. Pronounce hi-dra-lik, first i as in high, a as in all (not as o in oil), second i as in lick, accent second syllable.
Pette. Pronounce pe-tet, first e as in her, second e as in tea, accent last syllable.
Words Often Misspelled. Lightning. (a flash of light); lightning (relieving of weight). Prefix, one f; suffix, two f's. Possession; four s's. Molasses; one l, three a's. Descent (going down); distinguish from decent and discent. Occurred; two c's and two r's.
Word Study. "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson: "CONTROVERT"; to oppose with argument; also, to refuse to accept as a doctrine. "It is not our task either to advocate or controvert socialism."—H. G. Wells.
RAPTURE; emotional ecstasy. "She listened with speechless rapture."
APATHY; lack of feeling or emotion; indifference. (Pronounce ap-ath-i, first a as in at, accent first syllable.) "The apathy of the people to these political events was evident."
CALLOUS; hardened in sensibility, feeling, etc. (Pronounce kal-us, a as in at.) "To one that is not callous, a state of debt is a state of positive misery."—Bridges.
PROCLIVITY; natural disposition or tendency. "The boy had a proclivity to sea-."
AMBIGUITY; doubtfulness in meaning; "Truth requires plain words; she rejects all ambiguities and reserves."
New Airship About Ready. Delivery of the largest non-rigid airship ever built in the United States is expected sometime this month. The craft is under construction at the Goodyear plant in Akron. It will carry a crew of eight, has a gas capacity of 400,000 cubic feet and a cruising range of sixty hours at an average speed of fifty knots. It will be used in coastal patrol service.
Careful writers rarely make spectacular successes.

PORT MATILDA

R. F. D. NO. 1. Mrs. A. J. Collett spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. James Rorabaugh of Tyrone.
E. R. Beckwith spent Saturday in Tyrone.
On Tuesday evening, Oct. 25th, a Halloween party was held at the Orange Hall. Games were played and many prizes given. Delicious refreshments were served consisting of gingerbread, sandwiches and coffee. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Woomer, Mrs. Gertrude Woomer, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kerin, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Friday, Mr. and Mrs. David Mingle, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lehner, Mrs. Lawrence Way, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Enrich, John Friday, Christopher Friday, Bernard Kerin, Miss Minnie Friday, Mrs. John Reese, Miss Betty Dayton, Miss Mary Alice Stine, Miss Myrtle Miller, Miss Marguerite Kerin.
Miss Harriet Snyder was a Tyrone shopper on Saturday.
Mrs. Harold Calahan and son Robert of Pittsburgh, is visiting with her mother.
Mrs. Veronica Urban is visiting friends in Pittsburgh.
Everyone is quite busy husking corn these days.
Many people from around here attended the Democratic Rally at Port Matilda on Wednesday evening, Nov. 2nd.
Mrs. Frank Walk and Mrs. Willis Walk were Tyrone shoppers on Wednesday.
Mrs. M. A. Kerin and daughter spent Wednesday shopping in Altoona.
Mrs. Edward Adamitz of State College spent Sunday with her mother Mrs. V. Urban.
Mrs. T. P. Cowher is on the sick list. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Long and family of Tyrone spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kerin.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson of Unionville spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Beckwith.
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Deshong of Conneville spent a few days with her brother George Weaver.
Betty Jane Dayton, Mary Alice Stine, Sue Morray and Marguerite Kerin attended a Halloween party on Friday night.
Mrs. Charles Hollabaugh is able to be around again.
On Saturday evening, Mrs. W. W. Wyland gave a birthday surprise party in honor of her husband. The evening was spent in playing 500. At a late hour an oyster supper was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Christian Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans, Miss Hattie Snyder, Archie Snyder and Mrs. Elmella Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wyland.
Careful writers rarely make spectacular successes.

Most Widely Read Magazine

That's The American Weekly, America's outstanding magazine, printed in color and distributed every Sunday as part of the Baltimore Sunday American. On sale at all newsstands.
The capitalistic system is very important to the men who have large salaries without much work.
Dial 4021 Specializing in Surgery 22 Years Practical Experience DR. A. A. DONAHOE VETERINARIAN Dog & Cat Hospital Gen. Practice 123 North Barnard Street STATE COLLEGE

666 COLDS

relieves Fever And Headaches Liquid, Tablets, Headaches Salve, Nosedrops due to colds Try "Rub-My-Tiss" - a Wonderful Liniment.
Does Bladder Irritation WAKE YOU UP? Its not normal. Its nature warning "Danger Ahead." Your 25c bottle of this 4-day test does not help nature flush excess acid and other wastes from the kidneys. Excess acids can cause the irritation resulting in getting up nights, frequent or scanty flow, burning, backache or leg pains. Just say "Rub-My-Tiss" to any drugist. Locally at Parrish's Drug Store.
FREE PROOF Thousands of other people—by word-of-mouth recommendation—seem to have found complete relief through this new discovery. So far as the painful part of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuritis, lameness of muscles, bones and joints is concerned, you may forget it with the first application of MUSCLE-RUB. Relief actually comes in 7 to 10 minutes. Chronic cases and those unusually severe will, of course, require continued treatment for a while, but isn't it wonderful that the relief you seek is now so easily obtained? We urge only that you make this test. MUSCLE-RUB is now obtainable at any drug store. Buy it today. Use one-half the bottle, and if you are not amazed and delighted with the results, return the remaining half to your drugist, and he will refund your money. The price is $1.00 for large, family size. Get a Bottle of Muscle-Rub Today PARRISH'S DRUG STORE

Rheumatism Pain

Needless . . . Relief in 7 to 10 minutes. When a man has rheumatism so badly that it is downright agony even to move, and then he seems suddenly to regain complete freedom from pain, the chances are that he has learned the secret of MUSCLE-RUB. Thousands of other people—by word-of-mouth recommendation—seem to have found complete relief through this new discovery. So far as the painful part of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuritis, lameness of muscles, bones and joints is concerned, you may forget it with the first application of MUSCLE-RUB. Relief actually comes in 7 to 10 minutes. Chronic cases and those unusually severe will, of course, require continued treatment for a while, but isn't it wonderful that the relief you seek is now so easily obtained? We urge only that you make this test. MUSCLE-RUB is now obtainable at any drug store. Buy it today. Use one-half the bottle, and if you are not amazed and delighted with the results, return the remaining half to your drugist, and he will refund your money. The price is $1.00 for large, family size. Get a Bottle of Muscle-Rub Today PARRISH'S DRUG STORE

DON'T BE FOOLED BY A FAKE! STUDY THESE PICTURES
EXPLANATION OF PHOTOGRAPHS
1 Top Reproduction of Photo and statement which appeared in the Phila. Inquirer October 23, 1938.
2 Center Reproduction of same Photo and the statement which appeared in LIFE Magazine—Issue dated October 17, 1938.
3 Bottom Reproduction of an old souvenir Post Card—Original Picture taken in 1903. Note: Identical picture as above.
The three pictures shown are identical. LIFE (center photo No. 2) says, "James is NOT in the photograph." Moe Annenberg's Phila. Inquirer (top photo No. 1) put an arrow in the same photograph and said it pointed to "Little Arthur."
The old post card (bottom photo No. 3) shows that the Colliery was in Shamokin, Northumberland County and not Luzerne County where James has always lived.
The boy in photo No. 1, to whom the arrow points, is NOT Arthur James, but is Assemblyman Joseph P. Bradley of Shamokin who exposed the "Bogus Breaker Boy." Bradley's statement follows:
"that picture was taken in 1903 in the screen room of the Bear Valley Colliery of the Philadelphia and Reading R. R. I remember the picture. I remember the two boys in front of me. The one to the left is "Targy," from Bear Valley and Jerry Foley of Coal Township is working next to him. And I remember the slute boss "Hop" Beany who is standing in the picture. I was 14 years old when the picture was taken. I worked there two years and I never heard of Arthur James. He never worked there, or even near there."
Is the man who would tolerate such faking worthy of the trust of the highest office in Pennsylvania?
On November 8 give your answer to this man who is trying to fool the voters of Pennsylvania.
Vote Straight DEMOCRATIC
DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE