

Weekly English Lesson

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "I have affected a change in my business." Say, "I have effected a change in my business, but was not affected by the flood."

Words Often Misspelled

Do not say, "The child's conduct was aggravating." Say, "The child's conduct was provoking. Aggravate means to make worse."

Words Often Mispronounced

Porte-cochere. Pronounce porte-cochere, both as one and as two syllables. Accent first and last syllables.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Words Often Mispronounced

Porte-cochere. Pronounce porte-cochere, both as one and as two syllables. Accent first and last syllables.

Words Often Mispronounced

Porte-cochere. Pronounce porte-cochere, both as one and as two syllables. Accent first and last syllables.

EIGHTH GRADE ESSAY CONTEST

The following four essays were judged to be the best written by pupils of the eighth grade, Bishop Street School, Bellefonte in a recent essay competition in that class.

Ed. Note: After reading the following able contributions your editor has concluded that either the school or the pupils have come a long way since we shot paper wads and chewed gum in the eighth grade.

"My Proposition for Going to School" By EMMA HARRISON

"Thomas, Tho-mas, nearly every morning in this house seems like I must lose my grace. Thomas, for goodness sake, why is it you don't want to get up mornings?"

"Gettysburg" By MARY SWARTZ

One time last summer I visited Gettysburg. I had never been there before and had never thought much about going.

"The Sleigh Ride" By MARTHA ANN BLOOMQUIST

Never in all my life have I ever experienced such a time. My feet half frozen, my poor face all wind chaffed, and my nose redder than Santa's suit ever was or ever will be for that matter.

"Penn State Students Plan Trip of Inquiry" PENN STATE STUDENTS PLAN TRIP OF INQUIRY

The Christian Association of the Pennsylvania State College is planning trips of social inquiry, open to all students, to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg on Dec. 28.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

heads (You say, "There is but one head. Why did you say 'heads'?) Well I shall explain why. This particular motor was of the V type, which has heads on each side.

Well, as I was saying, we were putting on the heads when my first mistake came. It was tightening the wires on the distributor and I tightened one too tight, breaking off the nut. This meant a great deal of extra work, but we finally finished it. We were continuing again when my second mistake came. I was now on the spark plugs and was tightening the wires again. I broke off a plug. Other than those two mistakes, I did all right. I then looked at the clock to find I had put thirteen hours in and believe me I felt it too.

"Gettysburg" By MARY SWARTZ

One time last summer I visited Gettysburg. I had never been there before and had never thought much about going.

"The Sleigh Ride" By MARTHA ANN BLOOMQUIST

Never in all my life have I ever experienced such a time. My feet half frozen, my poor face all wind chaffed, and my nose redder than Santa's suit ever was or ever will be for that matter.

"Penn State Students Plan Trip of Inquiry" PENN STATE STUDENTS PLAN TRIP OF INQUIRY

The Christian Association of the Pennsylvania State College is planning trips of social inquiry, open to all students, to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg on Dec. 28.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

"Assembling A Motor" By DIK SHOPPE

It was a thrilling morning for me as I got up. I realized that I was for the first time, really going to help put a motor together.

Chemical Lime Officers Get $3,575

(Continued from page one)

1937 to January 7, 1938, a period of less than five weeks.

Clitting a ruling by Justice Williams in regard to the duties of a receiver and what the Court should take into consideration in determining the amount of fees to be allowed, Judge Walker quotes Justice Williams' opinion, which follows, in part:

"His duties (a receiver) is to protect and preserve, for the benefit of persons ultimately entitled to it, an estate over which the court has found it necessary to extend its care. . . . The amount of his compensation does not depend on his wealth or social standing, or the demands made upon his time by private business; nor yet upon the estimate that gentlemen who themselves in receipt of an ample income may put upon his services from the standpoint they occupy. The consideration that should be controlling with the court are the time and labor needed, not necessarily the time and labor expended, in the proper performance of his duties; imposed; the fair value of such time and labor measured by the common business standards. . . . Allowances for expenses are not a matter of course. Such bills or extravagant expenditures they should be reduced or disallowed altogether. The same is true of the employment of counsel and the expense incident to the conduct of litigation. A receiver is appointed not to plunder or dissipate an estate, but to preserve it, and in passing upon bills the question which should control their allowance is capacity and prudence in the conduct of his own business, likely to incur the same expenses or enter upon the same course of conduct? In other words, would he have paid the same salaries to his employees, surrounded himself with the same array of professional advisers at the same cost. . . . If he has been confined to his home on East Curtin street for many months because of illness. Invitations to the Trust Company dinner Tuesday night included all Bellefonte doctors, lawyers and ministers, many of whom were present. In all, counting stockholders, directors and bank employees, 104 persons partook of the delicious roast turkey dinner.

The entertainment program included music during the dinner by Mrs. Robert Walker, pianist, and Mrs. Louis Schlad and Herman McClure, violinist; with address by Albert Kennedy Roosevelt, Pittsburgh humorist and radio entertainer, and W. E. Brown, trust officer of the Clearfield Trust Company and member of the Clearfield County Bar. Earl S. Orr, introduced Mr. Harrison Walker as toastmaster for the evening, which followed with Robb brought greetings to the guests from his father, N. E. Robb, who although unable to be present, shared in part of the program through the courtesy of the hotel management who delivered a dinner to his home.

Mr. Brown outlined the duties of a trust officer in a banking house, and gave a most comprehensive review of the manner in which estates are settled. He illustrated how income tax is collected, and how property to be held in trust, should be reviewed about every five years to determine whether or not they still express the maker's wishes. A will should not be considered as a person's "last act," but should be made in the light of any other ordinary business transaction.

The speaker advised that a competent attorney be employed to draw wills, instead of having the maker word it himself, or engage a justice of the peace or notary public to draw the will. The extra cost of an attorney's fee, Mr. Brown declared, is trifling when compared with the losses that estates often suffer through poorly drawn wills.

Turning to life insurance, Mr. Brown declared that Trust Banks offer a form of life insurance service unobtainable elsewhere. The amount of the proceeds payable upon death of the insured, the insurance is either paid in a lump sum, or in regular monthly payments to the beneficiary.

If paid in a lump sum, the money is often poorly invested during the stress of readjustment after the death of the insured. In the family, he said, it is paid in monthly installments, there is no way for the beneficiary to obtain extra funds for emergency expenses, such as hospital and medical bills.

Banks offer an extra service on insurance. The insured names the bank as beneficiary and arranges for regular monthly payments to the beneficiary. Instead of adhering rigidly to the monthly installments, however, the bank is given the power to grant additional payments to tide the beneficiary through emergencies. Mr. Brown explained that trust officers do not consider the purchase of fur coats and such luxuries as "emergencies," but point out that often cases arise when extra money for medical care may add years of life and health to the beneficiary. The cost of such services is surprisingly low, Mr. Brown stated.

Trust Company Elects Officers (Continued from page one)

der, Francis H. Crawford, W. J. Emrick and K. E. McClellan and John S. Tompkins, all of Bellefonte; J. Thompson Henry, of Marlin, and J. H. Turner, of Julian.

The stockholders gave a vote of confidence to the directors, officers and employees of the bank for their fine service during the year, and all actions of the board of directors were approved. The directors were: N. E. Robb, president, and directors, in a mark of tribute sent flowers to N. E. Robb, president, who has been confined to his home on East Curtin street for many months because of illness.

Invitations to the Trust Company dinner Tuesday night included all Bellefonte doctors, lawyers and ministers, many of whom were present. In all, counting stockholders, directors and bank employees, 104 persons partook of the delicious roast turkey dinner.

The entertainment program included music during the dinner by Mrs. Robert Walker, pianist, and Mrs. Louis Schlad and Herman McClure, violinist; with address by Albert Kennedy Roosevelt, Pittsburgh humorist and radio entertainer, and W. E. Brown, trust officer of the Clearfield Trust Company and member of the Clearfield County Bar. Earl S. Orr, introduced Mr. Harrison Walker as toastmaster for the evening, which followed with Robb brought greetings to the guests from his father, N. E. Robb, who although unable to be present, shared in part of the program through the courtesy of the hotel management who delivered a dinner to his home.

Mr. Brown outlined the duties of a trust officer in a banking house, and gave a most comprehensive review of the manner in which estates are settled. He illustrated how income tax is collected, and how property to be held in trust, should be reviewed about every five years to determine whether or not they still express the maker's wishes. A will should not be considered as a person's "last act," but should be made in the light of any other ordinary business transaction.

The speaker advised that a competent attorney be employed to draw wills, instead of having the maker word it himself, or engage a justice of the peace or notary public to draw the will. The extra cost of an attorney's fee, Mr. Brown declared, is trifling when compared with the losses that estates often suffer through poorly drawn wills.

Turning to life insurance, Mr. Brown declared that Trust Banks offer a form of life insurance service unobtainable elsewhere. The amount of the proceeds payable upon death of the insured, the insurance is either paid in a lump sum, or in regular monthly payments to the beneficiary.

If paid in a lump sum, the money is often poorly invested during the stress of readjustment after the death of the insured. In the family, he said, it is paid in monthly installments, there is no way for the beneficiary to obtain extra funds for emergency expenses, such as hospital and medical bills.

Banks offer an extra service on insurance. The insured names the bank as beneficiary and arranges for regular monthly payments to the beneficiary. Instead of adhering rigidly to the monthly installments, however, the bank is given the power to grant additional payments to tide the beneficiary through emergencies. Mr. Brown explained that trust officers do not consider the purchase of fur coats and such luxuries as "emergencies," but point out that often cases arise when extra money for medical care may add years of life and health to the beneficiary. The cost of such services is surprisingly low, Mr. Brown stated.

Invitations to the Trust Company dinner Tuesday night included all Bellefonte doctors, lawyers and ministers, many of whom were present. In all, counting stockholders, directors and bank employees, 104 persons partook of the delicious roast turkey dinner.

The entertainment program included music during the dinner by Mrs. Robert Walker, pianist, and Mrs. Louis Schlad and Herman McClure, violinist; with address by Albert Kennedy Roosevelt, Pittsburgh humorist and radio entertainer, and W. E. Brown, trust officer of the Clearfield Trust Company and member of the Clearfield County Bar. Earl S. Orr, introduced Mr. Harrison Walker as toastmaster for the evening, which followed with Robb brought greetings to the guests from his father, N. E. Robb, who although unable to be present, shared in part of the program through the courtesy of the hotel management who delivered a dinner to his home.

Mr. Brown outlined the duties of a trust officer in a banking house, and gave a most comprehensive review of the manner in which estates are settled. He illustrated how income tax is collected, and how property to be held in trust, should be reviewed about every five years to determine whether or not they still express the maker's wishes. A will should not be considered as a person's "last act," but should be made in the light of any other ordinary business transaction.

The speaker advised that a competent attorney be employed to draw wills, instead of having the maker word it himself, or engage a justice of the peace or notary public to draw the will. The extra cost of an attorney's fee, Mr. Brown declared, is trifling when compared with the losses that estates often suffer through poorly drawn wills.

Turning to life insurance, Mr. Brown declared that Trust Banks offer a form of life insurance service unobtainable elsewhere. The amount of the proceeds payable upon death of the insured, the insurance is either paid in a lump sum, or in regular monthly payments to the beneficiary.

If paid in a lump sum, the money is often poorly invested during the stress of readjustment after the death of the insured. In the family, he said, it is paid in monthly installments, there is no way for the beneficiary to obtain extra funds for emergency expenses, such as hospital and medical bills.

Banks offer an extra service on insurance. The insured names the bank as beneficiary and arranges for regular monthly payments to the beneficiary. Instead of adhering rigidly to the monthly installments, however, the bank is given the power to grant additional payments to tide the beneficiary through emergencies. Mr. Brown explained that trust officers do not consider the purchase of fur coats and such luxuries as "emergencies," but point out that often cases arise when extra money for medical care may add years of life and health to the beneficiary. The cost of such services is surprisingly low, Mr. Brown stated.

Invitations to the Trust Company dinner Tuesday night included all Bellefonte doctors, lawyers and ministers, many of whom were present. In all, counting stockholders, directors and bank employees, 104 persons partook of the delicious roast turkey dinner.

The entertainment program included music during the dinner by Mrs. Robert Walker, pianist, and Mrs. Louis Schlad and Herman McClure, violinist; with address by Albert Kennedy Roosevelt, Pittsburgh humorist and radio entertainer, and W. E. Brown, trust officer of the Clearfield Trust Company and member of the Clearfield County Bar. Earl S. Orr, introduced Mr. Harrison Walker as toastmaster for the evening, which followed with Robb brought greetings to the guests from his father, N. E. Robb, who although unable to be present, shared in part of the program through the courtesy of the hotel management who delivered a dinner to his home.

Mr. Brown outlined the duties of a trust officer in a banking house, and gave a most comprehensive review of the manner in which estates are settled. He illustrated how income tax is collected, and how property to be held in trust, should be reviewed about every five years to determine whether or not they still express the maker's wishes. A will should not be considered as a person's "last act," but should be made in the light of any other ordinary business transaction.

The speaker advised that a competent attorney be employed to draw wills, instead of having the maker word it himself, or engage a justice of the peace or notary public to draw the will. The extra cost of an attorney's fee, Mr. Brown declared, is trifling when compared with the losses that estates often suffer through poorly drawn wills.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

(Continued from page one)

Protecting Wall Paper Very often the wall paper becomes wet and soiled by contact with the cloth employed when washing or polishing woodwork. To eliminate this, procure a sheet of tin a foot or more in length, and hold it against the wall close to the baseboard or wood casing, moving it along as the work progresses.

Shoe-Stained Stockings When washing light-colored stockings, that have become stained from shoes, add a tablespoon of borax to the water and see how quickly the stains wash out.

Whipped Cream Substitute Grate one apple, add two or three tablespoons of sugar and one egg white, then beat until light, and you will have an excellent substitute for whipped cream.

Skin Treatment A good treatment to use once a week for the skin is as follows: Mix with the yolk of an egg one tablespoon of skin tonic, applying to the face and allowing to dry. Then apply the beaten white of the egg over this. Allow to dry and rinse off. This will eradicate the small wrinkles and refine the texture of the skin.

Oil on Wall Paper Oil marks on wall paper can be removed by applying a paste made of cold water and pipe clay. Leaving it on over night, and brushing it off in the morning.

When Making Cocoa To prevent cocoa from lumping, when making, mix a little sugar with it before pouring on the hot water or milk. A pinch of salt added greatly improves the flavor.

Blackened Ceiling If the ceiling above a gas jet becomes blackened, apply a layer of starch and water so it will be a piece of clean flannel. After it has dried, brush off lightly and no marks will remain.

Rusted Curtain Pins When the curtain pins have become rusted, allow them to lie for a few minutes in a bowl of water, to which ammonia has been added. Then take them out and rub with a dry cloth, and they will be as good as new.

Good for the Hands Immediately after dishwashing, rub little lemon juice well into the hands to keep them soft and white.

Restoring Flannels Flannels that have been badly washed, and are hard and shrunken, can be restored to their former softness by soaking them in gasoline for a few hours. Then wash in soft soap suds as usual. Rinse in clear water of the same temperature.

Stitching Heavy Materials When stitching canvas or duck, it will not be so hard on your sewing machine if you first rub soap along the place to be stitched.

Birthday Ball Plans Announced (Continued from page one)

January 31, in the Gregg Township Vocational school auditorium. Music will be furnished by Paul Lyons & Co. All Star Orchestra, of Sunbury, and the program will include a floor show by local and other talent. Provisions will be made for playing cards.

Centre Hall's birthday party will be held Thursday night, January 26, at the Centre Hall-Peter Township High school building. Round and square dancing will be in order with a special orchestra being provided for the square dances. Admission will be fifty cents per person.

Phillipsburg and State College also are planning birthday parties, but the details have not been announced at this time.

Fifty per cent of the funds taken in at each of the parties will remain in the local communities for the establishment of Infantile Paralysis groups to go into instant action in the event of an outbreak of the malady. The other fifty per cent will be turned in to the National Foundation.

Local chairmen are asked to urge residents of their respective communities to add to the Mary of Dimes which will again pour into the National Foundation to aid in carrying on its program of prevention and research in infantile paralysis. Individuals, groups and families are asked to collect dimes, wrap them carefully, and mail them to Washington. The proper address is: President Franklin D. Roosevelt, The White House, Washington, D. C.

BLACK MOSHANNON CAMP MEMBERS HURT IN CRASH

Three Black Moshannon Works camp members were injured recently in Phillipsburg borough on East Presquidde street when the car in which they were riding crashed into the stone wall surrounding the Scott estate.

Floored through the windshield onto the road, Maurice Houderl was unconscious when picked up and rushed to the Phillipsburg State Hospital. He suffered facial lacerations and severe head injuries.

Two other passengers in the car at the time of the mishap, Sylvester Adams and James Smith, were sitting in the car dazed by the force of the impact when a passing car drove over the accident. Adams was found to be suffering from a broken arm and a contusion of the chest. He was treated by a physician.

The accident happened as the car was traveling back towards the camp.

What has become of the old-fashioned citizens who, when they wanted something for the good of the community, reached down in their pockets and paid for it?

What large city newspapers do not know about the farm problem is about all there is to the proposition.

CHURCHES

(Continued from page one)

Advent Sunday. Sunday School morning 9:30, Kenneth Lucas supt., preaching at 11 o'clock. Our Bible Study is becoming more interesting, come join us and help increase the interest. C. C. Shuey, Pastor.

Dir. Ron Baptist Sunday School Sunday morning 9:30, Elmer Richard Supt., followed by Class Meeting; Christian Endeavor at 7:30. Bible study will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Hogenkamp this Friday evening at 7:30. Come join us and enjoy the benefit. C. C. Shuey, pastor.

Rebersburg Evangelical Royal A. Babcock, pastor. Sunday school, K. Brown, Supt., 9 a. m. Pioneer Day observance, 10 a. m. Sermon: "A Debt of Honor." Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, Madisonburg-Sunday school, Pioneer Day observance, 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, Paradise-Sunday school, George Wingard, Supt., 9:30 a. m.

Methodist Episcopal, Bellefonte Rev. H. Willis Hartsock, pastor. Church school at 9:30 a. m., C. C. Shuey, superintendent. Morning worship with sermon by the pastor at 10:45. Subject: "Enough and to Spare." Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. Evening worship and sermon at 7:30. Subject: "The Pilgrim's Tread." Junior League Wednesday evening at 6:30. Prayer meeting at 7:30. Subject: "Spiritual Hunger and Satisfaction."

Bonsburg Lutheran Bonsburg-Sunday school at 9:30; Preparatory and Holy Communion service, 10:30; C. E. at 6:30. Leader, Z. Wert. Discussion, Mr. Bleich. Subject: "Book Study." Class No. 5 will meet Friday evening at 7:30 at home of Betty Ross. Live wire class meets Thursday evening at 7:30, at Ted Thomas' home. Shiloh-Sunday school at 9:30. Pleasant Gap-Sunday school at 9:30; Vespers and sermon at 7:30. C. E. at 6:30. L. J. Kaufman, pastor.

Presbyterian, Port Matilda Services Sunday, January 22nd: Bible school, 10 a. m.; morning worship, 11 a. m. Unionville-Evening worship, 7:30 p. m. Theme: "Salvation by Faith Alone." An interesting discussion of a fundamental doctrine. The Monday evening Bible Study class, Unionville, will meet at the home of Mrs. James B. Stere at 7:30, January 23rd. Subject for treatment: "The Ongoing Kingdom Age in Relation to Previous Dispensations." Howard E. Oakwood, minister.

United Brethren, Bellefonte G. E. Householder, pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., John R. Shope, Supt. Preaching at 10:45 and 7:30 by the pastor. Morning subject: "When Faith Sees Christ." Evening subject: "Christ in the Old Testament." Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. for groups of all ages. Prayer and Bible study Wednesday evening at 7:30. Choir rehearsal Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Bellefonte Banjo Band will be present and play selections at the Sunday evening services. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

HEALTH

Water, water, everywhere—in the human body. It is in the blood, the lymph and other liquids of the body and in the tissues.

Because it is an almost universal solvent, water is a valuable vehicle for distributing digested food to the cells of the body. It is also used for collecting waste products and transferring them in the body to the organs of elimination. The water content of the body is subject to great changes. Through the lungs, the skin, and the kidneys water is lost continually in amounts that vary with conditions of life.

This loss affects the blood, directly, but is probably made good by calling on the store of water in the tissues. To restore the body to normal we drink large quantities of water. The control of this regulation is affected through the sense of thirst. What causes this sensation known as thirst? It is some nervous apparatus, no doubt. When the water content of the body falls below a certain amount, nerves are stimulated to restore the sensation of thirst.

That this sensation arises in the pharynx, or mouth, is indicated. Local drying in this region of the mouth, either from dry or salty food, or dry and dusty air produces thirst which may be appeased by moistening the mouth with a small amount of water—not enough to relieve a genuine need of the body.

It is interesting to note that while in certain diseases there is a general loss of appetite and desire for food, there is no loss of the sense of thirst. Even in hydrophobia the sufferer experiences the sensations of thirst, although unable to drink.

To be deprived of water for a long period brings pain and suffering and possibly mental disturbances. One of life's little ironies is to shipwreck a sailor on a raft in midocean—to permit him first to go mad and then to die from lack of drinking water.

DO YOU KNOW Next to air, water is the most necessary principle of life. Water forms about 70 per cent of the entire body weight. While most of it is taken into the body from without, it is also formed within the body by chemical action in the tissues.

Medical definitions: ARTERY—tubus which convey blood from the heart to all parts of the body. It was formerly believed that the arteries contained air, hence the word is derived from the Greek "aer," meaning "air," and "tereo" meaning "to keep."

Townsend Meeting There will be a Townsend meeting in the Court House, Saturday, Jan. 21st at 7 p. m. Everybody is invited.

News: make the mistake of pronouncing a small job something unless you mean to make the gift.

CHURCHES

(Continued from page one)

Advent Sunday. Sunday School morning 9:30, Kenneth Lucas supt., preaching at 11 o'clock. Our Bible Study is becoming more interesting, come join us and help increase the interest. C. C. Shuey, Pastor.

Dir. Ron Baptist Sunday School Sunday morning 9:30, Elmer Richard Supt., followed by Class Meeting; Christian Endeavor at 7:30. Bible study will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Hogenkamp this Friday evening at 7:30. Come join us and enjoy the benefit. C. C. Shuey, pastor.

Rebersburg Evangelical Royal A. Babcock, pastor. Sunday school, K. Brown, Supt., 9 a. m. Pioneer Day observance, 10 a. m. Sermon: "A Debt of Honor." Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, Madisonburg-Sunday school, Pioneer Day observance, 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, Paradise-Sunday school, George Wingard, Supt., 9:30 a. m.

Methodist Episcopal, Bellefonte Rev. H. Willis Hartsock, pastor. Church school at 9:30 a. m., C. C. Shuey, superintendent. Morning worship with sermon by the pastor at 10:45. Subject: "Enough and to Spare." Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. Evening worship and sermon at 7:30. Subject: "The Pilgrim's Tread." Junior League Wednesday evening at 6:30. Prayer meeting at 7:30. Subject: "Spiritual Hunger and Satisfaction."

Bonsburg Lutheran Bonsburg-Sunday school at 9:30; Preparatory and Holy Communion service, 10:30; C. E. at 6:30. Leader, Z. Wert. Discussion, Mr. Bleich. Subject: "Book Study." Class No. 5 will meet Friday evening at 7:30 at home of Betty Ross. Live wire class meets Thursday evening at 7:30, at Ted Thomas' home. Shiloh-Sunday school at 9:30. Pleasant Gap-Sunday school at 9:30; Vespers and sermon at 7:30. C. E. at 6:30. L. J. Kaufman, pastor.

Presbyterian, Port Matilda Services Sunday, January 22nd: Bible school, 10 a. m.; morning worship, 11 a. m. Unionville-Evening worship, 7:30 p. m. Theme: "Salvation by Faith Alone." An interesting discussion of a fundamental doctrine. The Monday evening Bible Study class, Unionville, will meet at the home of Mrs. James B. Stere at 7:30, January 23rd. Subject for treatment: "The Ongoing Kingdom Age in Relation to Previous Dispensations." Howard E. Oakwood, minister.

United Brethren, Bellefonte G. E. Householder, pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., John R. Shope, Supt. Preaching at 10:45 and 7:30 by the pastor. Morning subject: "When Faith Sees Christ." Evening subject: "Christ in the Old Testament." Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. for groups of all ages. Prayer and Bible study Wednesday evening at 7:30. Choir rehearsal Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Bellefonte Banjo Band will be present and play selections at the Sunday evening services. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

HEALTH

Water, water, everywhere—in the human body. It is in the blood, the lymph and other liquids of the body and in the tissues.

Because it is an almost universal solvent, water is a valuable vehicle for distributing digested food to the cells of the body. It is also used for collecting waste products and transferring them in the body to the organs of elimination. The water content of the body is subject to great changes. Through the lungs, the skin, and the kidneys water is lost continually in amounts that vary with conditions of life.

This loss affects the blood, directly, but is probably made good by calling on the store of water in the tissues. To restore the body to normal we drink large quantities of water. The control of this regulation is affected through the sense of thirst. What causes this sensation known as thirst? It is some nervous apparatus,