

ACCEPT $107,096 FOR FIRE LOSS

SCHOOL BOARD TO RECEIVE 91.5% OF TOTAL INSURANCE

Effect Settlement of $91,000 on Building; $16,096 on Equipment

BOARD WILL NOT PAY FOR LOST CLOTHING

Stack, Sollenberger Praised for Efficient Work Since School Fire

The Bellefonte School Board at a special meeting last afternoon, unanimously accepted offers by insurance companies for damages resulting from the fire at the high school building, February 13, George Hazel, president of the Board, presided at the session.

The Board agreed to accept $91,000 in settlement for damage to the building, which was insured for $100,000, and $16,096 to cover damage to equipment, which was insured at $17,000.

The building was insured for approximately 80 per cent of its real value of $125,000. The $91,000 settlement represents 91 per cent of insurance carried. The settlement on equipment represents 94.6 per cent of the total insurance carried. Considering both items together, the School District will receive slightly more than 91.5 per cent of the insured value of the damaged school property.

Members of the Board, meeting at the office of Supervising Principal Earl K. Stock in the Spring street building, expressed themselves as well pleased with the settlement. Several members declared they had not anticipated recovering more than $10,000 at best. The total settlement of $107,096 is a most equitable one.

School Directors Hear Prominent Speakers

Judge Ivan Walker, Dr. Paul L. Cressman, director of the Bureau of Inspection, Harrisburg, and Herbert J. Stockton, president of the State School Directors' Association, were the principal speakers at the 32nd annual convention of the Centre County Directors' Association, at the Court House last Thursday. F. Glenn Rogers, County Superintendent of Schools, also spoke briefly. More than 100 directors were present.

Devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. L. E. Kline, of Howard, were followed by a reading of the minutes by R. D. Shoemaker, secretary of the organization. George Hazel, of Bellefonte, was re-elected auditor to assist auditors appointed by the county teachers in going over the annual institute accounts. Officers of the association are as follows: George L. Newman, Milesburg, president; Samuel Z. Miller, Philipsburg, vice president; Thomas G. Stolz, Howard, vice president; R. D. Shoemaker, State College, secretary; G. H. McCormick, Spring Mills, R. D. treasurer; Rev. Howard L. Wink, Harris township, delegate to state convention.

Nail Could Jail Commissioners—But Door Stays Closed

Let's suppose, for purposes of argument, that the Centre County Court House caught fire some evening when a mass meeting was being held in the Court Room.

Let's suppose that as fear-maddened people dashed down the front stairs and arrived at the front door, several were hurt or killed in the rush to get outdoors. Continuing the supposition, it would be found that for some reason or other only one of the front double doors would open, although the door that failed was fitted with a safety bar designed to release the locks and permit the door to swing outward as soon as the bar was pushed. It's a good device, that safety bar. Even an armless person can open the door by just bumping against it.

But let's continue the supposition. An investigation of the Court House fire would be held and if investigators were diligent in their search, newspapers would carry headlines telling of the arrest of the County Commissioners, their chief clerk and the Court House janitor, on charges of tampering with safety devices.

For the investigation would reveal that a large nail has been driven into the mechanism of the safety bar on the door, effectively preventing the safety device from operating.

The nail, according to reports, was driven in place some time ago. It seemed that people were always opening the wrong door upon leaving the Commissioners' nice Court House, to the vast annoyance of those dignitaries. P. S. If you hurry you may still be able to see the nail jammed in the safety bar machinery just above where the door knob would be if the door had a knob.

7 Cows Produce 10 Calves in 10 Days On the Shook Farm

A remarkable record of bovine fecundity has been established on the fertile 120-acre dairy farm of C. D. Shook, of Spring Mills, R. D.

During the past ten days seven cows in Mr. Shook's herd of 47 purebred Ayrshires have given birth to a total of ten calves. Among the ten new arrivals are three sets of twins; one set born to a 15-year-old cow; another set born to her 12-year-old daughter, and another set to her 7-year-old granddaughter.

The grandmother and the daughter each bore a bull and a heifer calf. The granddaughter changed the score by showing up one morning with two bull calves. Twins seem to run in the strain, for the cow identified in the above paragraph as the daughter has had four sets of twins in the past eight years.

The "head men" around the Shook farm are two bulls purchased some time ago from the Sycamore Farms, near Philadelphia, well known breeders of high-quality Ayrshires.

County Home Worker Is Painfully Injured

Asbury T. Fletcher, aged about 49, of Howard, a carpenter employed on the construction of the Centre County Poor Home, East Howard street, was painfully injured in an accident while at work, Monday afternoon.

Mr. Fletcher was carrying a plank along a narrow runway when he fell, the plank striking him on the back. The injured man was removed to the Centre County Hospital where an x-ray examination revealed that ligaments in the back had been torn. After the examination he was permitted to return home, where he is reported to be resting as comfortably as can be expected under the circumstances.

DREAM ROAD IS DESCRIBED

J. E. Kaufman, professor of Highway Engineering at Penn State, spoke at the meeting of the Bellefonte Kiwanis Club on Tuesday on the new road being built between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, and variously termed the "All-Weather," the "Dream Highway" and other names.

This highway, the speaker stated, is the first built to go through the mountains instead of over them. It will be a four-lane road, split into two parts with at least a ten-foot strip between, to take care of the opposing lines of traffic. There will be about seven miles of tunnels in the one hundred sixty mile stretch of road and they will be the last word in engineering. Those tunnels were built originally for the proposed South Penn railroad and are fine examples of good engineering. They will be lighted, ventilated, will have fire fighting apparatus and telephone facilities.

This new highway will have a maximum grade of 3 per cent. There will be few curves and there will be at least one thousand feet vision around curves. All the best roadwork was built originally for the proposed South Penn railroad and are fine examples of good engineering. They will be lighted, ventilated, will have fire fighting apparatus and telephone facilities.

Driver Held After Fatal Motor Crash

Coroner's Jury Finds West Decatur Man Guilty of Negligence

CONFLICTING REPORTS LEAD TO DECISION

Mrs. Amanda Stone Victim of Car-Truck Accident Near Port Matilda

Samuel Parsons, West Decatur, was found guilty of contributory negligence in the death of Mrs. Amanda Stone, Clearfield, R. D., by a coroner's jury which met in Philipsburg Monday night to probe the fatal accident which scored Centre county's eighth highway fatality.

The jury's decision was reached after testimony of five witnesses was heard. Allegedly contradictory statements given to the state motor police and the statement Parsons gave the jury as well as the circumstances of the accident which happened on the Port Matilda mountain road Friday night when the car he was driving struck a truck, led to the jury's decision.

Parsons told the jury he and Mrs. Stone, who was riding in the front seat with Parsons at the time of the crash, had left State College Friday afternoon between 4 and 4:30 o'clock and stopped at Port Matilda for refreshments at a garage. According to Parsons they left Port Matilda around 6 o'clock and (Continued on Page Eight)

H. C. YEAGER VIEWS BELLEFONTE AS IT WAS IN THE GAY NINETIES

In a vivid picture of Bellefonte as it was fifty years ago, Harry C. Yeager, of North Spring street, prominent local merchant, verbally stripped a half century of time from this community and showed members of the Retail Division of the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce what life here was like in the '90s.

Mr. Yeager was the principal speaker at the Retail Division's monthly dinner and meeting at the American Legion home Tuesday night. Earl E. Kuse, secretary of the Chamber, acted as presiding officer, and conducted an election in which Ward Fisher was named treasurer of the group to succeed Charles Miller, who recently resigned when he was transferred to Barneboro, Robert Woodruff, chairman of a committee arranging for an Easter Fashion Show, March 21, 22 and 23, reported upon plans completed to date, and S. D. Rhine-smith, Commander of the American Legion, outlined plans for a mammoth Flag Day celebration here on June 14.

Mr. Yeager began his career in the shoe business on May 30, 1889 when the late A. C. Mingle sent him and offered him a job. After a brief review of the shoe business of those days in comparison with present day conditions, Mr. Yeager launched into a description of old Bellefonte, as a pedestrian might have seen it.

The last house on East Bishop street, he said, was the one now occupied by M. E. Rumberger, about half-way up the hill. The O. A. Kline property was then "in the country," as were Humes woods, the Hughes athletic field and the Community athletic field.

Thomas Speaks at Father-Son Fete

Says Big League Teams Need Outstanding Players Who "Live Right"

Ira Thomas, for 32 years baseball player, coach and scout, and for many years Connie Mack's assistant in big league baseball speaking before more than 250 Bellefonte "dads" and their sons at the annual Father and Son banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, declared that the greatest need of big league baseball today is outstanding players who "live right."

Thomas declared that scores of minor league baseball players would be championship material if they gave themselves a chance by abstaining from tobacco, alcohol and other bad habits which warp their abilities and finally lead to their destruction. He exhorted the youngsters in the audience to lead clean lives, adding that by doing so they have two strikes on those who begin their lives handicapped by vicious habits.

Thomas was introduced to the audience by toastmaster Harry Taylor. His address was full of interesting baseball anecdotes, many (Continued on page four)

Construction Under Way at Sewage Plant

Construction at the site of Bellefonte's sewage disposal plant, on the upper end of the old Fair Grounds, north of town, is now well under way.

A large clam shell shovel is digging foundations, and drainage ditches and pumps have been installed to clear surface water from the tract. The earth being taken from the foundations is being piled in a bank around the site to serve as a protective dike in times of floods. The foundations have been staked out and buildings to house tools and offices have been erected.

A fire on the third floor of the Basil Frank home on the John T. McCormick farm, west of the College golf course, State College, was extinguished by members of the Alpha Fire Company about midnight Tuesday night before much damage resulted.

Socialized Medicine Is Seen As Menace

"Socialized Medicine" was the subject of a talk given by Dr. LeRoy Locke, well known Bellefonte surgeon and member of the Centre County Medical Society, before members of the Rotary Club here on Monday.

Dr. Locke spoke in opposition to measures introduced at Harrisburg and Washington which would tend to socialize the practice of medicine through various forms of sickness insurance. Most of the cost of such insurance would come from the pockets of the working man and his employer. The cost of administering such a program, he added, would amount to more than the salaries of the physicians and surgeons. (Continued on page four)

He was rendered unconscious by the fall, but soon regained consciousness. While his injuries are not of a serious nature they have been causing the family and friends some concern because Dr. Kirk has not been in good health in recent months and because he is past 83 years of age.

Society Votes Change of Name

County Historical Group Acts to Effect Restoration of Benner Mansion

Changing the name of the organization to the Centre County Historical Society, and appointment of a committee to work for the restoration of the old General Benner homestead along Spring creek featured a meeting of the Inn Historical Society at the Library building Friday afternoon.

Although the change of name was not definitely completed at the meeting, the fifty or more persons present unanimously passed a motion authorizing the board of directors to effect the change, which is a more or less compulsory order upon the board.

Great interest in the preservation of the Benner mansion was evidenced at the gathering, and as a result of a lengthy discussion George R. Meek, president, named the following committee to urge State legislators to sponsor a bill providing for the transfer of the Benner Home and approximately 20 acres of ground from the State Welfare Department to the Pennsylvania Historical Society: Philip Wron, chairman; Clarence Hamilton, Jack H. Yeager and Paul M. Dubbs, all of Bellefonte, and Prof. T. I. Mairs, of State College.

Because of the economy program of the James administration, it was declared that there is virtually no hope of securing an appropriation for the restoration of the mansion at this time. However, a bill calling (Continued on page four)
