IF YOUR KITE DARTS AND DIVES

... Here's What To Do

REDDY KILOWATT ALSO GIVES YOU SOME OTHER GOOD TIPS ON KITE FLYING

"Fly your kite in an open field, away from all traffic, trolley wires, electric pole and tower lines.

"Avoid kites with metal ribs. Use strong cord-no wire or tinsel twine-and keep it dry. Wet string will conduct electricity -and metal can cause a 'short' if your kite should land on wires.

"Keep a steady pull on the string. If the wind slackens, haul the kite down. Add more tail if the kite darts or dives.

"If your kite should land on wires or a pole, climbing after it or trying to knock it down with sticks and stones is dangerous The kite is sure to be worthless anyway-and you may damage wires, cutting off the electricity from many homes."
